22-32-109.9. Licensed personnel - submittal of fingerprints. (1) (a) When any school district finds good cause to believe that any licensed personnel employed by such school district has been convicted of any felony or misdemeanor, other than a misdemeanor traffic offense or traffic infraction, subsequent to such employment, such school district shall require such person to submit a complete set of his or her fingerprints taken by a qualified law enforcement agency. Said fingerprints shall be submitted within twenty days of receipt of written notification from the school district.

(b) For purposes of this subsection (1), a person is deemed to be convicted of committing a felony or misdemeanor if such person has been convicted under the laws of any other state, the United States, or any territory subject to the jurisdiction of the United States of an unlawful act which, if committed within this state, would be a felony or misdemeanor.

(c) For purposes of this subsection (1), "convicted" means a conviction by a jury or by a court and shall also include the forfeiture of any bail, bond, or other security deposited to secure appearance by a person charged with a felony or misdemeanor, the payment of a fine, a plea of nolo contendere, and the imposition of a deferred or suspended sentence by the court.

(2) Any school district to which fingerprints are submitted pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall forward such fingerprints to the Colorado bureau of investigation for the purpose of conducting a state and national fingerprint-based criminal history record check utilizing the records of the Colorado bureau of investigation and the federal bureau of investigation.

(3) All costs arising from the taking of fingerprints and from any fingerprint processing performed by the Colorado bureau of investigation pursuant to the provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall be borne by school districts. School districts shall not charge licensed personnel any fees for the direct and indirect costs of such school district for fingerprint processing performed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (1) of this section.

22-32-110. Board of education - specific powers. (1) In addition to any other power granted to a board of education of a school district by law, each board of education of a school district shall have the following specific powers, to be exercised in its judgment:

(a) To take and hold in the name of the district so much real and personal property located within or outside the territorial limits of the district as may be reasonably necessary for any purpose authorized by law;

(b) To purchase on such terms, including but not limited to installment purchase plans, as the board sees fit and necessary or to lease or rent, with or without an option to purchase, undeveloped or improved real property located within or outside the territorial limits of the district or equipment on such terms as the board sees fit for use as school sites, buildings, or structures, or for any school purpose authorized by law; to determine the location of each school site, building, or structure; and to construct, erect, repair, alter, and remodel buildings and structures;

(c) To provide furniture, equipment, library books, and everything needed to carry out the education program;

(d) To construct, purchase, or remodel teacherages for the employees, or any classification thereof, of the district;

(e) To sell and convey district property which may not be needed within the foreseeable future for any purpose authorized by law, upon such terms and conditions as it may approve; and to lease any such property, pending sale thereof, under an agreement of lease, with or without an option to purchase the same. No finding that the property may not be needed within the foreseeable future shall be necessary if the property is sold and conveyed to a state agency or political subdivision of this state or if the board anticipates that the district will become the tenant of the property under a lease, with or without an option to purchase.

(f) To rent or lease district property not needed for its purposes for terms not exceeding ten years, or in the case of unimproved real property leased to a lessee that is a charter school as defined in section 22-30.5-403 (3), for a term not exceeding thirty years, or in the case of a charter school using debt financing, for a term not exceeding the term of the debt financing, subject to all land use and building and zoning plans, codes, resolutions, and regulations, and to permit the use of district property by community organizations upon such terms and conditions as it may approve. No finding that the property is not needed for the district's purposes shall be necessary if the board anticipates that the district will become the subtenant of the property under a sublease, and under such circumstances the term of the lease may exceed ten years but may not exceed fifty years.

(g) To employ a chief executive officer to administer the affairs and the programs of the district, pursuant to a contract;

(h) To discharge or otherwise terminate the employment of any personnel. A board of a district of innovation, as defined in section 22-32.5-103 (2), may delegate the power specified in this paragraph (h) to an innovation school, as defined in section 22-32.5-103 (3), or to a school in an innovation school zone, as defined in section 22-32.5-103 (4).

(i) To reimburse employees of the district for expenses incurred in the performance of their duties either within or without the territorial limits of the district;

(j) To procure group life, health, or accident insurance covering employees of the district pursuant to section 10-7-203, C.R.S.;

(k) To adopt written policies, rules, and regulations, not inconsistent with law, that may relate to the efficiency, in-service training, professional growth, safety, official conduct, and welfare of the employees, or any classification thereof, of the district. The practices of employment, promotion, and dismissal shall be unaffected by the employee's religion, creed, color, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, racial or ethnic background, national origin, ancestry, or participation in community affairs.

(l) To determine which schools of the district shall be operated and maintained;

(m) To fix the attendance boundaries of each school in the district;

(n) To provide for the necessary expenses of the board in the exercise of its powers and the performance of its duties; to maintain membership in established school board organizations; and to reimburse a board member for necessary expenses incurred by him in the performance of his official duties, whether within or without the territorial limits of the district;

(o) To provide textbooks to all school-age pupils enrolled in the public schools. The use of such textbooks may be provided free of charge or for a reasonable rental fee for the use of some or all of the textbooks. The rental fee shall be based solely on the purchase price and normal life expectancy of each book rented.

(p) To require pupils enrolled in the public schools of the district to possess suitable supplies;

(q) To procure supplies and equipment required to carry on the musical, dramatic, athletic, and equivalent programs of the district;

(r) To exclude from each school and school library any books, magazines, papers, or other publications which, in the judgment of the board, are of immoral or pernicious nature;

(s) To procure such insurance coverage on the building, structures, and equipment owned by the district, or in which the district has an insurable interest, as may, in the judgment of the board, be adequate from time to time;

(t) To procure such casualty insurance coverage on the personal property owned by the district, or in which the district has an insurable interest, as may, in the judgment of the board, be adequate from time to time;

(u) To procure public liability insurance covering the school district and the directors and employees thereof;

(v) To procure liability and property damage insurance on school vehicles, as defined in section 42-1-102 (88.5), C.R.S., and to procure accident insurance covering the medical expenses incurred by any pupil who is injured while being furnished transportation by the school district pursuant to section 22-32-113, including injury received in the course of entering or alighting from any school vehicle or other means of transportation furnished by the school district;

(w) To contract for the transportation of pupils enrolled in the public schools of the district and to require any such contractor operating a bus or motor vehicle for such purpose to procure liability and property damage insurance on such bus or motor vehicle and pay all premiums for such insurance, without the right of contribution from the school district to the insurer;

(x) To elect to have moneys belonging to the school district withdrawn from the custody of the county treasurer and paid over to the treasurer of the board in the manner provided by law;

(y) To accept gifts, donations, or grants of any kind made to the district and to expend or use said gifts, donations, or grants in accordance with the conditions prescribed by the donor; but no gift, donation, or grant shall be accepted by the board if subject to any condition contrary to law;

(z) To cause a census to be taken of all persons resident within the district who have not attained the age of twenty-one years, or any age group thereof, whenever determined by the board, notwithstanding any census theretofore or thereafter required to be taken by the state board of education;

(aa) To authorize the use of facsimile signatures on teacher contracts, bonds, and bond coupons by appropriate resolution;

(bb) Repealed.

(cc) To provide, in the discretion of the local board, out of federal grants made available specifically for this purpose, special educational services and arrangements, such as dual enrollment, educational radio and television, and mobile educational services, for the benefit of educationally deprived children in the district who attend nonpublic schools, without the requirement of full-time public school attendance and without discrimination on the ground of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin;

(dd) To provide, in the discretion of the local board, out of federal grants made available specifically for this purpose, library resources which, for the purposes of this title, means books, periodicals, documents, magnetic tapes, films, phonograph records, and other related library materials and printed and published instructional materials for the use and benefit of all children in the district and the use of teachers to benefit all children in the district, both in the public and nonpublic schools, without charge and without discrimination on the ground of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin;

(ee) To employ on a voluntary or paid basis teachers' aides and other auxiliary, nonlicensed personnel to assist licensed personnel in the provision of services related to instruction or supervision of children and to provide compensation for such services rendered from any funds available for such purpose, notwithstanding the provisions of sections 22-63-201 and 22-63-402;

(ff) and (gg) Repealed.

(hh) To enter into installment purchase contracts or shared-savings contracts or otherwise incur indebtedness under section 29-12.5-103, C.R.S., to finance energy conservation and energy saving measures and enter into contracts for an analysis and recommendations pertaining to such measures under section 29-12.5-102, C.R.S.;

(ii) To enter into contracts and to receive federal matching funds for moneys spent in providing student health services pursuant to section 25.5-5-301 (6) or 25.5-5-318, C.R.S.;

(jj) To require the replacement of damaged textbooks or library resources or the return of loaned textbooks or library resources by withholding the diploma, transcript, or grades of any student who fails to return or replace any such textbooks or library resources at the completion of any semester or school year. The school district shall make a reasonable effort to obtain payment for lost or damaged textbooks or library resources. If the school district determines that a student is unable to pay, the school district may obtain payment through other methods, including but not limited to payment plans or service within the school in which the student is enrolled. The school district may also refuse to allow any student who completes graduation or continuation requirements to participate in any graduation or continuation ceremony if the student has failed to return or replace any such textbooks or library resources prior to the date of the graduation or continuation ceremony.

(kk) To authorize the use of electronic records or signatures and adopt rules, standards, policies, and procedures for use of electronic records or signatures pursuant to article 71.3 of title 24, C.R.S.;

(ll) (I) Repealed.

(II) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2005, p. 433, § 5, effective April 29, 2005.)

(mm) To adopt a resolution, as provided in section 13-1-127 (7), C.R.S., authorizing one or more employees of the school district to represent the school district in judicial proceedings brought to enforce the “School Attendance Law of 1963”, article 33 of this title.

(2) to (4) Repealed.

(5) No board of education shall enter into an agreement with any group, association, or organization representing employees of the district which commits revenues raised or received pursuant to article 54 of this title for a period of time in excess of one year unless such agreement includes a provision which allows for the reopening of the portion of the agreement relating to salaries and benefits.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Law reviews. For note, “Power of School Boards to Discontinue Schools”, see 5 Rocky Mt. L. Rev. 210 (1933). For comment, “Cary v.

Board of Education: Academic Freedom at the High School Level", see 57 Den. L.J. 197 (1980).

Annotator's note. Since § 22-32-110 is similar to repealed § 123-10-21, CRS 53, as amended, § 123-10-21, CRS 53, and CSA, C. 146, § 89, and laws antecedent thereto, relevant cases construing those provisions have been included in the annotations to this section.

This section is only declaratory of the constitutional powers of the board of education, to which the general assembly could not add, nor from which it could not subtract. People ex rel. Vallimar v. Stanley, 81 Colo. 276, 255 P. 610 (1927).

The court-made doctrine of governmental immunity of school districts is overruled. As to all other causes of action the ruling shall be prospective and shall be effective only as to causes of action arising after June 30, 1972. Flournoy v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 174 Colo. 110, 482 P.2d 966 (1971).

Board members held not liable when acting within discretion and in good faith. Where members of board of education turned over bonds to a bond company that failed to make payment, they are not liable since the duty, whether a trust duty, or otherwise, is still a public, governmental, duty to be performed within the discretion of the board, in good faith, as an agency of the state, and when so acting it did so in a purely political or sovereign capacity. Lemon v. Girardot, 100 Colo. 45, 65 P.2d 1427 (1937).

The title to district property is in the district, and its board of education holds the property and administers it for the benefit of the district. Gorrell v. Bevans, 66 Colo. 67, 179 P. 337 (1919).

No authority to condemn extraterritorial property. Although the authority to condemn extraterritorial property may be implied in an express grant of power, no such implication arises where the general assembly has specifically prohibited a school district from condemning extraterritorial property. Clear Creek Sch. Dist. RE-1 v. Holmes, 628 P.2d 154 (Colo. App. 1981).

For previous power of board of education to admit transfer students from other districts, see Sch. Dist. No. 16 v. Union High Sch. No. 1, 60 Colo. 292, 152 P. 1149 (1915); Duncan v. People ex rel. Moser, 89 Colo. 149, 299 P. 1060 (1931); Simonson v. Sch. Dist. No. 14, 127 Colo. 575, 258 P.2d 1128 (1953).

Administrative hearing officer did not err in declining to make findings as to petitioner's asserted defense under this section in teacher disciplinary proceeding where there were no allegations that teacher was acting to discipline any of the students involved in the proceeding. Knowles v. Bd. of Educ., 857 P.2d 553 (Colo. App. 1993).

Subsection (5) does not encompass contract provisions concerning negotiations upon mutual consent because all contracts may be reopened upon mutual consent. Denver Classroom Teachers Ass'n v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 911 P.2d 690 (Colo. App. 1995).

In order to further the legislative intent behind subsection (5), contractual provisions allowing for annual negotiations must do more than simply provide for the reopening of negotiations during some agreed upon period each year. Rather, the negotiation provision must have the flexibility to allow for adjustments in the agreement based on "changes in the funds available to, or needs of, the district." These "changes" are those produced by the budget adoption process at the state and local level, which process is, generally, outside of the control of either party to these kinds of collective bargaining agreements. DAEOP v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 972 P.2d 1047 (Colo. App. 1998).

A restriction on the requirements necessary to satisfy subsection (5) is inconsistent with the legislative intent of the statutory scheme regarding school financing, to wit: to ensure that the state and the individual school districts maintain fiscal integrity and that they, in effect, not write a check in one year that they cannot cash in a subsequent year. Consequently, contractual negotiation provisions which do not provide the flexibility envisioned by the general assembly, with respect to compensation and benefits, fail to promote the object of the law and, therefore, do not satisfy subsection (5). DAEOP v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 972 P.2d 1047 (Colo. App. 1998).

A provision requiring school district to initiate negotiations regarding salaries and benefits before being apprised of any changes in its available funds cannot comply with the requirements of subsection (5). However, language specifying that the agreement will be subject to negotiation as to compensation and benefits if changes are the result of a "legal budget adoption process" is consistent with the school finance act. DAEOP v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 972 P.2d 1047 (Colo. App. 1998).

Based upon relevant statutes respecting school district budgeting and matters of salaries, wages, and benefits, any provision of a multi-year collective bargaining agreement is void as against public policy and, therefore, unenforceable, if it limits any party to such agreement from requesting in good faith to reopen negotiations concerning issues of compensation and benefits within a reasonable period after that party becomes aware of the need therefor as a consequence of the legal budget adoption process at either the state or local level. However, the limitations set forth in such provisions remain enforceable as to issues subject to negotiation other than compensation and benefits. DAEOP v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 972 P.2d 1047 (Colo. App. 1998).

Here, school district's initiation of negotiations regarding salaries was permissible pursuant to the language of the collective bargaining agreement read in pari materia with relevant statutes. In refusing the school district's reasonable request to reopen negotiations, DAEOP waived its right to negotiate, and must abide by school district's determination of salaries for the 1993-94 school year. DAEOP v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 972 P.2d 1047 (Colo. App. 1998).

Subsection (5) does not create an illusory class of one and does have a rational basis under the state constitution, article V, section 25. Denver Classroom Teachers Ass'n v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 911 P.2d 690 (Colo. App. 1995).

Applied in Mountain States Legal Found. v. Denver Sch. Dist. No. 1, 459 F. Supp. 357 (D. Colo. 1978); Blair v. Lovett, 196 Colo. 118, 582 P.2d 668 (1978); Williams v. East Otero Sch. Dist. R-1, 749 P.2d 472 (Colo. App. 1987).

II. MAINTENANCE OF SCHOOLS.

The board of education of a school district is clothed with the "power" and is charged with the "duty" to determine just which schools shall be maintained and operated within the district. Hawkins v. Cline, 161 Colo. 141, 420 P.2d 400 (1966).

Approval of residents of a district is unnecessary. Before closing a school the board need not obtain or even seek to obtain the approval of the residents of the "old" school district, notwithstanding any reference thereto in the plan of organization. Hawkins v. Cline, 161 Colo. 141, 420 P.2d 400 (1966).

III. EXPENDITURES.

No power to make expenditures relating to proposed constitutional amendment. This section does not empower a board of education of a school board to make expenditures in support of the opposition to a proposed constitutional amendment. Campbell v. Joint Dist. 28-J, 704 F.2d 501 (10th Cir. 1983).

School district may charge to broadcast its athletic events. There is no reason why a school district, even though supported by public tax funds, should not charge reasonable fees to broadcast any or all of its athletic events. Colo. High Sch. Activities Ass'n v. Uncompahgre Broad. Co., 134 Colo. 131, 300 P.2d 968 (1956).

Broadcasting fee must be used for educational purpose. It makes no difference how a fee charged by a school district to broadcast athletic events is computed nor is it of any concern how a district may dispose of such a fee once collected so long as the money is spent for a legitimate public educational purpose. Colo. High Sch. Activities Ass'n v. Uncompahgre Broad. Co., 134 Colo. 131, 300 P.2d 968 (1956).

Plaintiffs held to lack standing to enjoin school district from honoring contracts and charging fees to broadcast athletic events. Colo. High Sch. Activities Ass'n v. Uncompahgre Broad. Co., 134 Colo. 131, 300 P.2d 968 (1956).

Declaratory judgments or actions in the nature of quo warranto are the approved methods of challenging the expenditure of public school funds. Colo. High Sch. Activities Ass'n v. Uncompahgre Broad. Co., 134 Colo. 131, 300 P.2d 968 (1956).

IV. EMPLOYMENT OF PERSONNEL.

Subsection (1)(h) does not constitute a grant of absolute authority to boards of education. The authority granted is subject to, and must be exercised in accordance with, the more specific statutes respecting teacher terminations, including the later-adopted amendments to § 22-63-302. Heimer v. Bd. of Educ., Adams County, 895 P.2d 152 (Colo. App. 1994), rev'd on other grounds, 919 P.2d 786 (Colo. 1996).

School boards are not required to adopt employment termination procedures, but, if they choose to do so, the promulgation of such procedures constitutes an authorized exercise of the powers granted to school boards. Adams Cty. Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Dickey, 791 P.2d 688 (Colo. 1990).

Employee handbook. Where a school has withdrawn an employee handbook, the ability of employees discharged in violation of the handbook while the handbook was in force is not affected. Adams Cty. Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Dickey, 791 P.2d 688 (Colo. 1990).

Board could be found to have delegated its authority by relying "heavily" on administrators' personnel recommendations and by failing adequately to investigate teacher's allegation that principal's negative recommendation was based on principal's motive to retaliate against teacher for constitutionally protected conduct. Watson v. Eagle County Sch. District RE-50, 797 P.2d 768 (Colo. App. 1990).

School boards cannot delegate power to make decisions relative to employment, retention, or dismissal of teachers. Willis v. Widefield Sch. Dist. No. 3, 43 Colo. App. 197, 603 P.2d 962 (1979).

Consideration of administrative evaluation not unlawful delegation. Merely because a school board considers evaluations made by administrative personnel as one factor in determining whether to renew the contracts of nontenured teachers, this is not an unlawful delegation of power pertinent to employment, as the ultimate decision remains with the board. Willis v. Widefield Sch. Dist. No. 3, 43 Colo. App. 197, 603 P.2d 962 (1979).

A school board's participation in collective bargaining is not per se an unlawful delega- tion of its authority. Littleton Educ. Ass'n v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist., 191 Colo. 411, 553 P.2d 793 (1976).

Board did not improperly delegate authority by entering collective bargaining agreement. Language of a collective bargaining agreement between a school district and a teachers' association which provides that the district give prior consideration to currently employed teachers within the district applying for openings within the district was, in effect, a statement of policy to be followed by the board when filling vacancies or staffing new schools, and since the board was not bound or obligated by the terms of the agreement, it did not surrender or delegate its authority or decision-making power to the teachers' association. Rockey v. Sch. Dist. No. 11, 32 Colo. App. 203, 508 P.2d 796 (1973).

Collective bargaining agreements between a county school board and a local education association which did not provide for binding arbitration of unresolved disputes and which gave board power to make final decision on all unresolved issues, without further negotiation, was not invalid as an unlawful delegation of authority. Littleton Educ. Ass'n v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist., 191 Colo. 411, 553 P.2d 793 (1976).

Subsection (4)(c) creates an exception to the general rule stated in § 22-63-203 granting school boards discretion in not renewing probationary teachers' contracts. While a school board has great discretion in choosing whether to renew a probationary teacher's contract, subsection (4)(c) prohibits the school board from basing its renewal decision on any actions taken by the probationary teacher in good faith and in compliance with the school district's discipline code. McIntosh v. Bd. of

Educ. of Sch. Dist. No. 1, 999 P.2d 224 (Colo. App. 2000).

Trial court erred in determining de novo the facts underlying a dismissal decision. The immunity granted school district employees in subsection (4)(c) does not divest a school board of its discretion to determine whether an employee's conduct was in good faith and in compliance with the school district's disciplinary code and so whether it warrants dismissal. Widder v. Durango Sch. Dist. No. 9-R, 60 P.3d 741 (Colo. App. 2002) (decided under law in effect prior to the 2000 repeal and relocation to § 22-32-109.1), aff'd in part and rev'd in part on other grounds, 85 P.3d 518 (Colo. 2004).

Plaintiff not entitled to mandamus relief. Absent circumstances indicating that an employee was not provided an opportunity for an evidentiary hearing regarding termination, the more appropriate procedure is to seek review of the board's decision to terminate pursuant to C.R.C.P. 106 (a)(4). Widder v. Durango Sch. Dist. No. 9-R, 60 P.3d 741 (Colo. App. 2002) (decided under law in effect prior to the 2000 repeal and relocation to § 22-32-109.1), aff'd, 85 P.3d 518 (Colo. 2004).

V. TEXTBOOKS.

No intent to furnish books free to all students. It was not the intent of the framers of the state constitution that school districts furnish books free to all students. Marshall v. Sch. Dist. Re-3, 191 Colo. 451, 553 P.2d 784 (1976).

There would be no need for the discretionary authority of the board of education to provide free use of textbooks if the constitution contained a mandate for school districts to furnish books free to all students. Marshall v. Sch. Dist. Re-3, 191 Colo. 451, 553 P.2d 784 (1976).

22-32-110.6. Board of education - specific powers - “No Child Left Behind Act of 2001”. (1) Effective July 1, 2005, a school district board of education may adopt a resolution stating its intent to decline one or more of the federal funding sources of the “Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965”, as reauthorized and amended in the “No Child Left Behind Act of 2001”, 20 U.S.C. sec. 6301 et seq., and thereby be exempt from the requirements of said federal act that accompany the declined funding sources and are identified by said federal act as available for exemption. The resolution shall remain in place until rescinded by the school district board of education.

(2) If a school district chooses to adopt a resolution to decline federal funding sources as provided in this section, the school district’s action in declining federal funds and thereby being exempt from specified federal requirements shall not affect the school district’s accreditation category, and the department of education and the state board of education shall not impose any form of sanction on the school district for its action in declining federal funds and in not complying with the federal requirements from which it is exempt.

22-32-110.7. Board of education - specific powers - drug testing. (1) The general assembly recognizes that the safety issues which face schools have changed in the recent past. The general assembly finds the safety of school children should be a priority of the state. The general assembly further finds the use of illegal drugs by employees of school districts who hold safety-sensitive positions could endanger the lives and safety of school children. The general assembly therefore authorizes school districts to create school safety programs, which may include drug testing of all personnel who apply for, transfer to, or are promoted to safety-sensitive positions. The program may also include drug testing of personnel in safety-sensitive positions if there is probable cause to believe the person is using illegal drugs.

(2) For each collective bargaining agreement entered into on or after April 16, 2001, with a union representing personnel in safety-sensitive positions, the collective bargaining agreement shall include drug testing policies for personnel who occupy safety-sensitive positions.

(3) Implementation of this section shall be within existing appropriations.

(4) For the purposes of this section, “safety-sensitive positions” means positions in which a single mistake can create imminent threat of serious harm to students or teachers.

22-32-111. Power of eminent domain. A school district has the power to take by eminent domain so much real property as the board of education of the district may deem necessary for any school purpose authorized by law, but the power of eminent domain shall not be exercised to acquire any real property located outside the territorial limits of the school district. The procedure for the exercise of eminent domain as authorized by this section shall be as prescribed by article 1 of title 38, C.R.S., but without regard to the municipal corporation and purposes specified in said article.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 22-32-111 is similar to repealed CSA, C. 146, § 74, and laws antecedent thereto, relevant cases construing those provisions have been included in the annotations to this section.

Condemnation of extraterritorial property prohibited. Although the authority to condemn extraterritorial property may be implied in an express grant of power, no such implication arises where the general assembly has specifically prohibited a school district from condemning extraterritorial property. Clear Creek Sch. Dist. RE-1 v. Holmes, 628 P.2d 154 (Colo. App. 1981).

Prohibition held constitutional. A school district may not invoke the constitutional provision concerning the power of eminent domain, § 14 of art. II, Colo. Const., to preclude the application of this section. Clear Creek Sch. Dist. RE-1 v. Holmes, 628 P.2d 154 (Colo. App. 1981).

22-32-112. Oil and gas leases. (1) A board of education of a school district has the power to lease any real property or any interest therein owned by the district for oil and gas exploration, development, and production purposes, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed and contracted by the board in the exercise of its best judgment as the board deems to be for the best interests of the district. Any lease of oil and gas rights shall be for a term not to exceed ten years and as long thereafter as oil or gas is produced, and shall provide for a royalty of not less than twelve and one-half percent of all oil and gas produced, saved, and sold, or the gross production value thereof, which royalty may be reduced proportionately under appropriate provision in the lease if the interest in the school district is less than a full interest in the land or oil and gas rights in the land described in the lease. Whenever in the opinion of the board of education, and because of the size, shape, or current use of any tract of land owned by the district, the best interests of the district so require, any lease of such tract may provide that no drilling shall be conducted on the land covered thereby, in which case such lease shall be for a term not to exceed ten years and so long thereafter as the district may share in royalties payable on account of production of oil or gas from lands adjacent to such tract so leased.

(2) Whenever deemed by the board of education of a school district to be in the best interests of the district, it may enter into a unit agreement providing for the pooling, unitization, or consolidation of acreage covered by any oil and gas lease executed by the district with other acreage for oil and gas exploration, development, and production purposes, and providing for the apportionment or allocation of royalties among the separate tracts of land included in the unit or pooling agreement on an acreage or other equitable basis, and may change, by such agreement, with the consent of the lessee under the lease, any or all of the provisions of any lease issued by the district, including the term of years for which the lease was originally granted, in order to conform such lease to the terms and provisions of the unit or pooling agreement and to facilitate the efficient and economic production of oil and gas from the lands subject to such agreement.

(3) The leasing of school district real property or any interest therein under the provisions of this section shall not be deemed to be a sale of such school property.

(4) All leases of oil and gas or rights therein and all unit agreements relating to or dealing with oil and gas and containing provisions similar to those set forth in this section affecting school district lands heretofore made or entered into by any school district are hereby confirmed, validated, and declared to be legal and valid in all respects.

22-32-113. Transportation of pupils - when. (1) The board of education of a school district may furnish transportation:

(a) To and from public schools of the district for any reasonable classification of resident pupils enrolled in the schools of the district;

(b) To and from public schools located in an adjacent state for any reasonable classification of resident pupils who have not completed the twelfth grade, but only if the district of attendance is one to which the district of residence of such pupils is authorized to pay tuition for the attendance of such pupils;

(c) To and from public schools for any reasonable classification of pupils enrolled in the schools of the district who are resident of any other school district, if the district of residence is adjacent to the district of attendance, and if the board or other governing body of the district of residence shall consent to such transportation;

(d) To and from any school-sponsored activity, or for any emergency, for any reasonable classification of resident pupils enrolled in the schools of the district, whether said activity or emergency be within or without the territorial limits of the district, and whether or not occurring during school hours.

(1.5) The general assembly recognizes that section 2 of article IX of the state constitution requires the establishment and maintenance of a thorough and uniform system of free public schools and requires school districts to maintain such public schools. The general assembly finds and declares, however, that the provision by school districts of transportation for pupils is not required by the constitution as a part of a thorough and uniform system of free public schools and that any school district which provides transportation may pay the costs incurred in doing so through any means authorized by the general assembly pursuant to this title.

(2) A board may determine the points at which pupils shall be received and delivered and the routes of transportation pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(3) If it is impractical, as determined by the board, to furnish transportation to and from school for any resident pupil enrolled or eligible to be enrolled in the schools of the district pursuant to subsection (1) (a), (1) (b), or (1) (c) of this section, the board may pay the cost, or any portion thereof, of room and board for the pupil to reside at a point near a school of the district of residence, or a school of a district to which the district of residence is authorized to pay tuition.

(4) A board may reimburse a parent or guardian for the expenses incurred by such parent or guardian in furnishing transportation to and from a public school or designated school vehicle stop for his or her child or children and for other pupils enrolled in the schools of the district; but the board may not reimburse any person for transportation furnished to a pupil resident in another school district without the consent of the board or other governing body of the district of residence. The amount and payment of such expenses shall be as determined by the board paying such expenses.

(5) (a) The board of education of a school district that furnishes transportation to pupils pursuant to the provisions of this section may impose and collect a fee for the payment of excess transportation costs pursuant to a fee schedule adopted by a resolution of the board of education of the district.

(a.5) Prior to adopting a resolution to collect a transportation fee pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (5), a school district board of education shall hold a public meeting to solicit and consider recommendations from, at a minimum, the school district accountability committee, or its equivalent within the school district, and from teachers, parents, and students, including but not limited to any statewide or local organization that represents parents, teachers, and students within the school district. The recommendations shall pertain both to the question of whether to impose the transportation fee and to the proposed fee schedule. The school district board of education shall provide public notice of the meeting at least thirty days prior to the meeting. At a meeting held subsequent to the meeting at which the school district board of education receives comments and recommendations, the district board may adopt a resolution to impose a transportation fee pursuant to this subsection (5). The school district board of education shall specifically take into account the recommendations received from the school district accountability committee, or its equivalent, and teachers, parents, and students when making the final determination of whether to impose a transportation fee pursuant to this subsection (5).

(a.6) In imposing a transportation fee on pupils pursuant to this subsection (5), the school district shall ensure that only those pupils who use the transportation services are required to pay the fee.

(a.7) A school district shall deposit any revenues received from the imposition of a fee pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (5) in the transportation fund of the district created in section 22-45-103 (1) (f).

(a.9) If a school district that imposes a transportation fee pursuant to this subsection (5) chooses to impose the transportation fee on students enrolled in charter schools of the school district, the school district, prior to imposing the transportation fee, shall consult with the parents of the students enrolled in the charter schools of the school district. If the school district chooses to include charter school students in the transportation fee, the school district shall ensure that the full amount of the transportation fee collected from students enrolled in charter schools is used to offset the costs of providing transportation services for charter school students.

(b) For the purposes of this subsection (5), "excess transportation costs" means the current operating expenditures for pupil transportation, as defined in section 22-51-102 (1), minus any reimbursement entitlement, as defined in section 22-51-102 (4). The calculation of excess transportation costs shall be based upon amounts expended and amounts received for the twelve-month period ending on June 30 prior to the adoption of the fee schedule.

(c) If a school district imposes a fee for the transportation of pupils, the district shall waive the fee for any pupil who is eligible for a reduced-cost meal or free meal pursuant to the "National School Lunch Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 1751 et seq.

22-32-115. Tuition for resident school-age children. (1) A board of education of a school district may pay tuition for any school-age child resident in the district who has not completed the twelfth grade to attend a school operated by another school district, whether said school is located within or without the county, when the board of the district of residence determines for any reason whatsoever that it would be to the educational advantage or general welfare or convenience of said child to attend such school operated by another school district.

(2) (a) The tuition, to be paid as authorized by subsection (1) of this section, shall not exceed one hundred twenty percent of the current per pupil general fund cost in the school district of attendance during the preceding school year.

(b) (I) A board of education of a district shall permit any child, the parents or guardian of whom are residents of the state but are not residents of the district, to attend school in the district pursuant to the provisions of section 22-36-101, and the parents or guardian of such child shall not be required to pay tuition. If the child permitted to attend school in the district pursuant to the provisions of section 22-36-101 is a child with a disability, the school district of residence shall be responsible for paying any tuition for educating the child in accordance with the provisions of section 22-20-109 (4). Nothing in this paragraph (b) shall be construed as creating an obligation on the part of the school district of residence or the school district of attendance to provide transportation at public expense for any such child to and from the school of attendance. The board of education of any school district may permit any child, the parents or guardian of whom are not residents of the state, to attend school in the school district and may require the parents or guardian of the child to pay tuition on behalf of the child.

(II) A board of education of a school district shall permit an elementary school-age child to attend an elementary school operated by such school district if the provisions of section 22-32-116 (2) are applicable.

(3) The authority of a board of education to pay tuition for a child pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall include authority to pay tuition for a child to attend a public school of a school district situate in an adjacent state when the district of residence of the child is situate adjacent to the other state and the geographic conditions or distances are such that it would be impracticable for the child to attend the schools of his district. In the case of tuition paid to a school district of an adjacent state, the limitations of subsection (2) (a) of this section shall not be applicable.

(4) (a) A district of residence shall not be liable for the tuition of any school-age child except pursuant to a written agreement with the district of attendance. A copy of any written agreement between the district of residence and the district of attendance shall be furnished to the parent or guardian of a child covered by the agreement, and such parent or guardian shall not be liable for such part of the tuition, if any, not paid to the district of attendance by the district of residence of such child; except that such parent or guardian may be liable for the payment of such part of the tuition if such parent or guardian is not a resident of the state.

(b) The written agreement between the school district of residence and the school district of attendance regarding a nonresident child who is attending an elementary school in a school district other than the school district of residence pursuant to the provisions of section 22-32-116 (2) may not contain any requirement for the payment of tuition. The school district of residence and the parent or guardian of a child attending school pursuant to section 22-32-116 (2) are not liable for any tuition for the attendance of the child in the school district of attendance.

22-32-116. Exclusion of nonresidents - exception. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 22-36-101, and except as otherwise provided for homeless children pursuant to section 22-1-102, any pupil who is enrolled as a resident student shall be entitled to complete the semester or other term for credit if such pupil becomes a nonresident, or, if such pupil becomes a nonresident while enrolled in the twelfth grade, such pupil shall be entitled to finish that school year as a resident.

(2) (a) The provisions of this subsection (2) are only applicable to elementary school-age children.

(b) If a pupil is enrolled in an elementary school and becomes a nonresident subsequent to the time of enrollment or becomes a nonresident during the time period between school years, the school district shall allow the pupil to remain enrolled in or to reenroll in said elementary school subject to the following requirements:

(I) The pupil was included in the most recent October pupil enrollment count taken by the school district and has been continuously enrolled in the elementary school since the date the count was taken;

(II) The parent or guardian of the pupil has made a written request to the principal of the elementary school asking for the pupil to remain enrolled in or to reenroll in the school; and

(III) The request has been approved by the principal of the elementary school following a finding that space exists in the school to accommodate the pupil.

(c) If the pupil's request is made and approved pursuant to this subsection (2), the school district shall permit the pupil to remain enrolled in or to reenroll in the requested elementary school. The school district of residence and the school district of attendance shall enter into a written agreement concerning the pupil as provided in section 22-32-115 (4).

(d) If the pupil that has received permission to reenroll in an elementary school pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (2) does not do so by the pupil enrollment count in October, the school district is no longer required to permit such reenrollment.

(e) Nothing in this subsection (2) may be construed as creating an obligation on the part of the school district of residence or the school district of attendance to provide transportation at public expense for any such pupil to and from the school of attendance.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 22-32-116 is similar to repealed CSA, C. 146, § 89, and laws antecedent thereto, relevant cases construing those provisions have also been included in the annotations to this section.

The terms "domicile" and "residence" are not synonymous in this and other statutes setting forth residence requirements entitling children to school privileges. Cline v. Knight, 111 Colo. 8, 137 P.2d 680 (1943).

Child placed in home is resident of district where home is located. Where a father places his minor son with a family with the sole purpose of giving him a home with desirable influences and surroundings, and with no special reference to school privileges, the boy's resident for school purposes is in the district where such home is located, regardless of the fact that his father resides in another district. Fangman v. Moyers, 90 Colo. 308, 8 P.2d 762 (1932).

Where child was born and always lived in Denver and had never resided with her father or in the district wherein he resides, and the surrounding facts were that she never would, the child's "residence" for school purposes was in Denver where she lived with her aunt and she must be permitted to attend the public schools therein tuition free. Cline v. Knight, 111 Colo. 8, 137 P.2d 680 (1943).

The statute is unambiguous in that there is no right to "reenroll" for the following school year for a child who became a nonresident during the school year and remained enrolled during the school year. Bradshaw v. Cherry Creek Sch. Dist. No. 5, 98 P.3d 886 (Colo. App. 2003).

22-32-116.5. Extracurricular and interscholastic activities. (1) (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, each school district and each public school, subject to the requirements of this section, shall allow any student enrolled in a school or participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program to participate on an equal basis in any activity offered by the school district or the public school that is not offered at the student's school of attendance or through the student's nonpublic home-based educational program. A school district or school shall not adopt or agree to be bound by any rule or policy of any organization or association that would prohibit any participation allowed by this section. Each nonpublic school may allow a student to participate in a particular activity offered by the nonpublic school, at the nonpublic school's discretion.

(b) Any student may participate in an activity through any amateur association or league of which the school or school district is not a member, and such participation shall not prevent the student from participating or affect the student's eligibility to participate in the same activity at any school, subject to the limitations specified in this section. Prior to participating in any activity through such an amateur association or league, the student shall obtain the express written permission of the principal of the school at which the student participates in the activity, which permission shall be granted if:

(I) The student's class attendance is not compromised; and

(II) The student is in good academic standing under the school's activities policy applicable to all students.

(c) No school or school district that receives funds under article 54 of this title shall belong to any organization or association nor enforce any rule of a coach or principal that would prohibit a student's participation in any school or interscholastic school activity based upon the student's participation in lawful activities during out-of-school hours and off of school property.

(2) (a) A student may participate in activities only at the student's school of attendance or through the student's nonpublic home-based educational program, whichever is applicable, unless the school of attendance or nonpublic home-based educational program does not offer an activity in which the student wishes to participate.

(b) If a student's school of attendance or nonpublic home-based educational program does not offer an activity in which the student wishes to participate, the student may participate in the activity at another public school in the student's school district of attendance or in the student's school district of residence. If the activity is not offered at any public school in the school district of attendance or the school district of residence, the student may participate in the activity at a public school in a school district that is contiguous to the student's school district of residence or at the nearest public school that has the facilities for and offers the activity, even if the public school is not in a contiguous school district.

(c) If an activity is not offered at the student's school of attendance and the student chooses to participate in the activity at a public school in a contiguous school district, the school district in which the student chooses to participate, as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), shall choose the public school at which the student shall participate. In choosing a public school, the school district shall choose the public school that offers the greatest number of activities in which the student wishes to participate.

(d) A student may participate in activities at more than one school of participation during the same school year only if the original school of participation does not offer an activity in which the student wishes to participate.

(3) (a) If a student's school of attendance does not offer a particular activity, the student may choose to participate in the activity at a nonpublic school. The nonpublic school has discretion whether to allow the student to participate in an activity at the nonpublic school.

(b) A student may participate at a nonpublic school located in the student's school district of attendance or school district of residence. If the activity is not offered at a school in the student's school district of attendance or school district of residence, the student may apply to participate in the activity at a nonpublic school in a school district contiguous to the student's school district of residence.

(c) In choosing whether to participate in activities at a public or nonpublic school, the student shall choose the school of participation that offers the greatest number of activities in which the student wishes to participate. The limitation on the number of schools of participation specified in paragraph (d) of subsection (2) of this section applies regardless of whether the student participates in activities at a public or nonpublic school.

(4) (a) To participate in an activity at the school of attendance, a student shall meet all of the requirements imposed by the school of attendance.

(b) To participate in an activity at a school of participation, a student shall:

(I) If the student is participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program, comply with all laws governing said programs;

(II) Comply with all eligibility requirements imposed by the school of participation;

(III) Comply with the same responsibilities and standards of behavior, including related classroom and practice requirements, as are imposed on other students participating in the activity at the school of participation.

(5) A student who has not met all eligibility requirements for or who would have become ineligible to participate in activities at a school cannot gain or regain eligibility by applying to participate in activities at another school pursuant to this section. A student shall pay any penalty assessed against the student at the student's school of attendance or school of participation before the student may regain eligibility at the school of attendance or school of participation or become eligible to participate in any activity at another school.

(5.5) For each athletic activity offered, a school district may:

(a) For a team athletic activity, reserve for students enrolled in the district of the school of participation up to twice the number of starting positions on a team at each level of competition;

(b) For an individual athletic activity, reserve for students enrolled in the district of the school of participation up to one-half the total number of team members at each level of competition.

(6) (a) A school may charge any student participating in an activity a participation fee as a prerequisite to participation. The fee amount that a school of participation charges a nonenrolled student shall not exceed one hundred fifty percent of the fee amount the school of participation would charge an enrolled student to participate in the activity.

(b) If any fee is collected pursuant to this section for participation in an activity, the fee shall be used to fund the particular activity for which it is charged and shall not be expended for any other purpose.

(c) In addition to the fees allowed under paragraph (a) of this subsection (6), a school may charge a nonenrolled student participating in postseason competition in an individual athletic activity the actual cost of that postseason participation if the school is sponsoring only nonenrolled students in the postseason competition.

(7) For purposes of article 54 of this title, no student who participates in an activity in a school district other than the student's school district of attendance shall be included in the pupil enrollment of the school district where the student participates.

(8) The provisions of this section are intended to allow students to participate on an equal basis in extracurricular and interscholastic activities who would otherwise be denied the opportunity to do so and are not intended to sanction or encourage the recruitment of students for participation in such activities by schools or school districts.

(9) If a student transfers enrollment to another school without an accompanying change of domicile by the student's parent or legal guardian, the student's eligibility to participate in activities at the new school of attendance shall be determined under the rules of participation adopted by the school district in which the new school of attendance is located.

(9.5) (a) Notwithstanding any rule adopted or agreed to by any public school or school district, any student who is sanctioned or is found by the school, school district, or any organization or association to which the school or school district belongs to be ineligible to participate in any activity for any reason, except unsportsmanlike conduct or ejection from an activity, may appeal the sanction or finding. The appeal may be made through the applicable process at the school, any league to which the school or school district belongs, or any other organization to which the school or school district belongs.

(b) A student who has completed the appeal process described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (9.5) may file a petition or complaint with a group of sitting or retired judges or other group of neutral arbitrators approved by the school, school district, or any organization or association to which the school or school district belongs. In rendering his or her decision, the judge or arbitrator shall consider whether any rule was properly applied to the student and whether a waiver of any rule should be granted. A final decision shall be rendered by the judge or arbitrator no later than thirty days after the filing of the petition or complaint and shall be binding on the student, the school, the school district, and any association or organization to which the school or school district belongs. Any cost associated with a judge or arbitrator shall be charged equally to the student and any association or organization to which the school or school district belong.

(c) This subsection (9.5) shall not apply to any coach's team rules that are uniformly applicable to all team members; except that no coach may adopt a rule that is contrary to any provision of this section.

A board may also require each nonindigent pupil to make a reasonable loss or damage deposit to cover nonacademic equipment. Summer schools - continuation, evening, and community education programs. (1) During that period of the calendar year not embraced within the regular school term, a board of education may provide and conduct courses in subject matters normally included in the regular school program or in demand by the pupils of the district, may fix and collect a charge for attendance at such courses in an amount not to exceed the per capita cost of the operation thereof, and may give regular school credit for satisfactory completion by students of such courses, in the discretion of the board. Such courses or programs not conducted during the regular school term shall not for any purpose, other than school credit, be considered part of the regular school program.

(2) (a) A board of education may establish and maintain continuation programs, part-time programs, evening programs, vocational programs, programs for aliens, and other opportunity programs and may pay for such programs out of the moneys of the school district or charge a fee or tuition. A board may also establish and maintain open-air schools, playgrounds, and museums and may pay for the same out of moneys of the school district.

(b) In addition to the authority granted to a board of education in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), a board may establish and maintain community education programs in cooperation with any unit of local government, quasi-governmental agency, institution of higher education, or civic organization and may pay for such programs by a fee or tuition charged or out of moneys of the school district. Attendance in community education programs shall not be considered in computing pupil enrollment under article 54 of this title and articles 8 and 60 of title 23, C.R.S.

(c) For the purposes of this subsection (2), a "community education program" may be defined as a program which, while not interfering with the regular school program, may offer a composite of services to the citizens of its service area, including, but not limited to, year-round use of the facilities and personnel of the school for off-hours educational, cultural, recreational, and social enrichment activities for children, youth, and adults; family education and counseling, civic affairs meetings, and discussions; counseling for teenagers; community organization activities; senior citizen activities; cooperation with other social agencies and groups in improving community life; and other similar activities which provide educational, social, cultural, and recreational programs for children, youth, and adults. As used in this paragraph (c):

(I) "Senior citizen" means a person sixty years of age or older and includes the spouse of a senior citizen.

(II) "Senior citizen activity" includes, but is not limited to:

(A) Provision for the serving to senior citizens of the meals regularly served to students at regular mealtimes and at a price not to exceed the adult cost of the meal as determined by the board of education of the school district;

(B) Senior citizen volunteer programs in which senior citizens may assist in any or all aspects of school operation;

(C) Utilization of school facilities for senior citizens' social, educational, cultural, and recreational purposes.

(d) Repealed.

(3) Any charge, fee, or tuition collected pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be used to fund the program for which the charge, fee, or tuition was collected and shall not be expended for any other purpose.

22-32-118.5. Intervention strategies - students at risk of dropping out - legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds that research shows there are certain behaviors such as truancy, low academic achievement, and misbehavior that results in suspension or expulsion that, when exhibited by a student, are clear indications that the student is at increased risk of dropping out of school before graduation. These behaviors are often noticeable as early as grades six through nine and, even at this relatively early stage of a student's academic career, are accurate predictors of whether the student will graduate or drop out of high school. The general assembly further finds that interventions with students who demonstrate these behaviors in these middle grades can be very successful in enabling the student to refocus his or her efforts, improve in academic achievement, and successfully graduate from high school. Therefore, it is the intent of the general assembly that school districts and public schools focus attention on the data collected for students in these middle grades, identify students who require interventions, and provide the appropriate interventions to assist students in graduating from high school.

(2) (a) Each school district board of education shall consider adopting procedures by which the schools of the school district, including charter schools, that include any of grades six through nine shall review the relevant data for students in those grades and identify students who are demonstrating behaviors that indicate the student is at greater risk of dropping out of school. The behaviors may include, but need not be limited to, low academic achievement, truancy, insubordinate behavior, and disengagement.

(b) The procedures may specify that, after a school identifies a student as being at increased risk of dropping out of school, the school shall provide appropriate interventions that are designed to assist the student in improving his or her academic performance and behavior and in increasing his or her overall level of engagement in school. Interventions may include, but need not be limited to, counseling, tutoring, parent engagement, and developmental education services.

(c) If a school district board of education adopts procedures pursuant to this subsection (2), the school district shall notify a student's parents as soon as possible after the school district identifies the student as being at greater risk of dropping out of school. The school district shall provide to the student's parents a description of the interventions that the school district intends to implement for the student, if any. The parent may approve or reject the described interventions. If the parent rejects the interventions, the school district shall not implement the interventions. The parent may terminate the interventions at any time after the school district begins providing the interventions.

(d) A parent may contact the school district in which his or her student is enrolled to request interventions pursuant to this subsection (2) if the parent determines that the student is at greater risk of dropping out of school.

Kindergartens. (1) A board of education shall establish and maintain kindergartens in connection with the schools of its district for the instruction of children one year prior to the year in which such children would be eligible for admission to the first grade. Said board may prescribe courses of training, study, and discipline and rules and regulations governing such kindergarten programs. Said kindergartens shall be a part of the public school system, and the cost of establishing and maintaining them may be paid from the general school fund.

22-32-119.5. Full-day kindergarten - legislative declaration - phase-in plan - report. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(I) Rigorous research proves that full-day kindergarten is an effective way of improving a child's academic performance;

(II) Research shows that children who have academic success are less likely to drop out of school and more likely to graduate from high school and enter an institution of higher education, leading them to higher-paying jobs that provide for a strong economy in the state;

(III) Studies show that full-day kindergarten programs address achievement gap issues and promote student achievement;

(IV) All children in Colorado deserve the chance to attend a full day of kindergarten, as the benefits of full-day kindergarten continue throughout a child's educational experience and set the tone for future academic success.

(b) The general assembly further finds and declares that while the benefits of full-day kindergarten programs are evident, the general assembly may be unable to provide funding to allow every eligible child in the state to attend a full day of kindergarten. As a result, determining an approach to phase in full-day kindergarten programs is the first step toward potentially offering full-day kindergarten programs statewide. The development of a plan by each local board of education to phase in a full-day kindergarten program at the district level is essential to ensure that the appropriate mechanisms are in place to support and maintain high-quality, full-day kindergarten programs in Colorado.

(2) Each local board of education shall develop a plan to potentially phase in a full-day kindergarten program in the school district to be funded with state or local moneys provided specifically for such program. In developing the plan, each local board shall consider the following:

(a) Available space in existing school district facilities for a full-day kindergarten program;

(b) The need and cost of new school district facilities necessary to offer a full-day kindergarten program, including but not limited to, the cost associated with construction, acquisition, reconfiguration, or renovation of new or existing facilities;

(c) A method to identify the children who would most benefit from attending a full day of kindergarten, including but not limited to:

(I) Children who lack overall learning readiness due to significant family risk factors, who are in need of language development, or who are receiving services from the department of human services pursuant to article 5 of title 26, C.R.S., as neglected or dependent children;

(II) Children who are currently enrolled in the Colorado preschool program;

(III) Children who are eligible for free or reduced lunch; and

(IV) Children who are enrolling in an elementary school that is required to implement a priority improvement or turnaround plan pursuant to section 22-11-405 or 22-11-406, respectively, or is subject to restructuring pursuant to section 22-11-210;

(d) Professional development and staffing needs;

(e) A method to prioritize the children to be served by a full-day kindergarten program if state and local funding for the program is insufficient to allow every eligible child in the school district to attend a full day of kindergarten;

(f) A plan for parent and community outreach and enrollment processes; and

(g) The anticipated enrollment in a full-day kindergarten program, including the percentage of eligible children in the school district that will choose to enroll in the program.

(3) Each local board of education shall submit its plan to phase in a full-day kindergarten program to the department of education on or before February 1, 2008. Any school district that has developed a full-day kindergarten plan within the five years prior to May 9, 2007, may submit the previously developed plan to the department in lieu of developing a plan pursuant to this section.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to:

(a) Require a child to attend a full day of kindergarten;

(b) Prohibit a school district from offering a half-day kindergarten program; or

(c) Require a local board of education to implement the school district's plan to phase in a full-day kindergarten program without state funding for the program.

22-32-120. Food services - facilities - school food authorities - rules. (1) (a) A board of education may establish, maintain, equip, and operate a food-service facility, and expend the moneys of the district therefor, for pupils enrolled in the public schools of the district, for persons participating in or attending a school-sponsored activity, and for the employees of the district. Any such food-service facility shall be deemed to be an integral part of the program of the district and shall be maintained, operated, and governed in the same manner as the schools of the district.

(b) A school food authority may establish, maintain, equip, and operate a food-service facility for pupils enrolled in a district charter school or institute charter school that contracts with the school food authority, for persons participating in or attending a district charter school-sponsored or institute charter school-sponsored activity, and for the employees of a district charter school or institute charter school that contracts with the school food authority.

(2) All food shall be sold by a food-service facility as nearly as practicable on a nonprofit basis, but a school food authority may sell food at lower than cost and may provide food free of charge to those pupils entitled thereto pursuant to the provisions of the federal “National School Lunch Act”, 42 U.S.C. sec. 1751 et seq. Capital outlay and rental costs shall not be included in computing the cost of the meals served.

(3) Upon the written request from a parent or guardian of a school-age pupil enrolled in a school, such pupil shall not be required to participate in a food-service program or remain on the school premises during the lunch period.

(4) If a district charter school requests in writing that the school district of the district charter school provide food services pursuant to a contract with the district charter school that includes terms specified by the district charter school, the school district board of education may attempt to negotiate the terms of the contract with the district charter school. If the school district board of education and the district charter school attempt to negotiate contract terms that are mutually satisfactory, and the negotiations fail to produce such mutually satisfactory terms, the school district board of education shall:

(a) Agree to provide food services to the district charter school according to the terms requested by the district charter school; or

(b) Allow the district charter school to transfer the maintenance, supervision, and operation of the district charter school’s food-service facility from the district to a school food authority.

(5) (a) Using the timeline and procedures established by rules promulgated by the state board of education pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (7) of this section, a district charter school or an institute charter school may apply to the department of education for authorization as a school food authority.

(b) Using the timeline, standards, and procedures established by rules promulgated by the state board of education pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection (7) of this section, the department of education shall grant or deny authorization as a school food authority to a district charter school or an institute charter school that applies for the authorization pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (5).

(6) (a) On and after May 4, 2009, a district charter school or an institute charter school may submit a written request to the department of education for provisional authorization as a school food authority.

(b) On and after May 4, 2009, the commissioner of education or his or her designee may grant or deny provisional authorization as a school food authority to a district charter school or institute charter school that submits a written request for such authorization to the department of education.

(c) (I) Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (c), if the commissioner of education or his or her designee grants provisional authorization to a district charter school or an institute charter school as a school food authority pursuant to this subsection (6), the department of education shall review the provisional authorization and, using the standards established by rules promulgated by the state board of education pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection (7) of this section, grant or deny authorization as a school food authority to the district charter school or institute charter school.

(II) Before granting authorization as a school food authority to a district charter school or an institute charter school that was granted provisional authorization as a school food authority pursuant to this subsection (6), the department of education shall ensure that the district charter school or institute charter school has completed one full fiscal year of operation as a school food authority under the provisional authorization granted pursuant to this subsection (6), that the district charter school or institute charter school has submitted its governmental audit required pursuant to section 22-30.5-112 (7) to the department, and that the district charter school or institute charter school has successfully complied with the requirements of the “National School Lunch Act”, 42 U.S.C. sec. 1751 et seq., as determined by the department’s compliance review evaluation process and has taken any necessary corrective actions identified by the department. The department shall grant or deny authorization as a school food authority to a district charter school or institute charter school within forty-five days after the school has satisfied the requirements of this subparagraph (II).

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection (6) to the contrary, the commissioner of education or his or her designee shall not grant provisional authorization as a school food authority to more than six applicant district charter schools or institute charter schools.

(e) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2010, (HB 10-1013), ch. 399, p. 1900, § 9, effective June 10, 2010.)

(7) On or before October 1, 2009, the state board of education shall promulgate rules establishing:

(a) A timeline and procedures by which a district charter school or an institute charter school may apply to the department of education for authorization as a school food authority; and

(b) A timeline, standards, and procedures for the department of education to use in granting or denying authorization as a school food authority to a district charter school or an institute charter school. The standards shall include, at a minimum, the following requirements:

(I) The district charter school or institute charter school shall serve at least a minimum number of children, specified by rule, who are enrolled in the district charter school or institute charter school;

(II) The district charter school or institute charter school shall demonstrate its sound financial status to the satisfaction of the department of education;

(III) The district charter school or institute charter school shall demonstrate, to the satisfaction of the department of education, its capacity to operate a food service program;

(IV) The district charter school or institute charter school shall include in its application a statement of its willingness to contract, to the extent practicable, with other district charter schools and institute charter schools to provide a food service program; and

(V) The department of education shall not grant authorization as a school food authority to more than ten applicant district charter schools or institute charter schools until July 1, 2016, including any district charter schools or institute charter schools that have been granted provisional authorization pursuant to subsection (6) of this section.

22-32-121. 22-32-122. Contract services, equipment, and supplies. (1) A school district may contract with another district, with the governing body of a state college or university, with the tribal corporation of an Indian tribe or nation, with a federal agency or officer, with a county, city, or city and county, or with a natural person, body corporate, or association for the performance of a service, including an educational service, an activity, or an undertaking that a school may be authorized by law to perform or undertake.

(2) Each school district board of education may review and revise the policies and procedures adopted by the board pursuant to section 22-32-109 (1) (b) and may choose to require competitive bidding on contracts for professional services, other than contracts for instructional services. A policy adopted pursuant to this subsection (2) may:

(a) Require that the school district personnel, prior to recommending that the board of education enter into a contract pursuant to this section, examine the costs and benefits of contracting for the service, activity, or undertaking rather than performing the service, activity, or undertaking using school district personnel and that the recommendation specify the conclusions of the cost-benefit analysis and their rationale;

(b) Require the school district personnel to implement a bidding process for contracts entered into pursuant to this section; and

(c) Establish criteria for recommending a contractor to the board of education.

(3) (a) A contract entered into pursuant to this section shall set forth fully the purposes, powers, rights, obligations, and responsibilities, financial or otherwise, of the parties so contracting and shall require the service, including educational service, activity, or undertaking to be of comparable quality and meet the same requirements and standards that would apply if performed by the school district.

(b) A contract executed pursuant to this section may include, among other things, the purchase, outright or by installment sale, or rental or lease, with or without an option to purchase, of necessary building facilities, equipment, supplies, and employee services.

(c) Any state or federal financial assistance that would accrue to a contracting school district, if the district were to perform the contracted service, including educational service, activity, or undertaking individually, shall, if the state board of education finds the contracted service, including educational service, activity, or undertaking is of comparable quality and meets the same requirements and standards that would apply if performed by a school district, be apportioned by the state board of education on the basis of the contractual obligations and paid separately to each contracting school district in the manner prescribed by law.

(4) (a) A contract executed pursuant to this section that includes services performed for a public school shall include a provision requiring a criminal background check for any person providing services under the contract, including any subcontractor or other agent of the contracting entity, if the person provides direct services to students, including but not limited to transportation, instruction, or food services. The criminal background check shall, at a minimum, meet the requirements of section 22-32-109.7 and any other requirements of the school district that executes the contract. The contracting entity is responsible for any costs associated with the background check. A contractor need not provide the results of the background check with the submission of the bid but shall make the background check results available upon request of the school board in compliance with the provisions of section 24-72-305.3, C.R.S.

(b) The background check described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) is required only for those persons who have regular, but not incidental, contact with students at least once a month.

(c) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) do not apply to a faculty member from an institution of higher education who contracts to teach for a school district and who has undergone a background check that meets the requirements of section 22-32-109.7 and any other requirements of the school district with which the faculty member contracts.

(5) Nothing in this section authorizes a school district to expend proceeds from the sale of general obligation or revenue bonds issued by the school district to procure or erect a school or other building beyond the territorial limits of the district except in accordance with the provisions of section 22-32-109 (1) (v).

22-32-123. Penalty. Any officer or employee who refuses to perform a duty required by law when specifically directed to perform such duty by the board of education is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

22-32-124. Building codes - zoning - planning - fees - rules - definitions.
(1) (a) Prior to the acquisition of land or any contracting for the purchase thereof, the board of education of the school district in which the land is located shall consult with and advise in writing the planning commission, or governing body if no planning commission exists, that has jurisdiction over the territory in which the site is proposed to be located in order that the proposed site shall conform to the adopted plan of the community insofar as is feasible. In addition, the board of education shall submit a site development plan for review and comment to the planning commission or governing body prior to construction of any structure or building. The planning commission or governing body may request a public hearing before the board of education relating to the proposed site location or site development plan. The board of education shall thereafter promptly schedule the hearing, publish at least one notice in advance of the hearing, and provide written notice of the hearing to the requesting planning commission or governing body.

(b) Prior to the acquisition of land for school building sites or construction of any buildings thereon, the board of education of the school district in which the land is located also shall consult with the Colorado geological survey regarding potential swelling soil, mine subsidence, and other geologic hazards and to determine the geologic suitability of the site for its proposed use.

(c) All buildings and structures shall be constructed in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division of fire prevention and control in the department of public safety, referred to in this section as the "division".

(d) Nothing in this subsection (1) shall be construed to limit the authority of a board of education to finally determine the location of the public schools of the school district and construct necessary buildings and structures.

(1.5) (a) Prior to contracting for a facility, a charter school shall advise in writing the planning commission, or governing body if no planning commission exists, which has jurisdiction over the territory in which the site is proposed to be located. The relevant planning commission or governing body may request the charter school to submit a site development plan for the proposed facility, but must issue such request, if any, within ten days after receiving the written advisement. If requested by the relevant planning commission or governing body, the charter school, acting on behalf of its sponsoring school board, shall submit such a site development plan. The relevant planning commission or governing body may review and comment on such plan to the governing body of the charter school, but must do so, if at all, within thirty days after receiving such plan. The relevant planning commission or governing body, if not satisfied with the response to such comments, may request a hearing before the board of education regarding such plan. Such hearing shall be held, if at all, within thirty days after the request of the relevant planning commission or governing body. The charter school then may proceed with its site development plan unless prohibited from doing so by school board resolution.

(b) An institute charter school authorized pursuant to part 5 of article 30.5 of this title shall proceed pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (1.5). Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1.5) to the contrary, the relevant planning commission or governing body may request a hearing before the state board of education. The institute charter school then may proceed with its site development plan unless prohibited from doing so by the state board of education.

(2) (a) (I) (A) This subsection (2) shall apply to building or structure construction. Except as specified in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (a), the division shall conduct the necessary plan reviews, issue building permits, cause the necessary inspections to be performed, perform final inspections, and issue certificates of occupancy to assure that a building or structure constructed pursuant to subsection (1) or (1.5) of this section has been constructed in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division and that the school district or charter school, whichever is appropriate, has complied with the provisions of paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section. Pursuant to this sub-subparagraph (A), the division may contract with third-party inspectors that are certified in accordance with section 24-33.5-1213.5, C.R.S., to perform inspections. The affected board of education, state charter school institute, or charter school may hire and compensate third-party inspectors under contract with the division or hire and compensate other third-party inspectors that are certified in accordance with section 24-33.5-1213.5, C.R.S., to perform inspections. If the board of education, state charter school institute, or charter school is unable to obtain a third-party inspector and no building department has been prequalified, the division shall perform the required inspections. If a third-party inspector is used, the division shall require a sufficient number of third-party inspection reports to be submitted by the inspector to the division based upon the scope of the project to ensure quality inspections are performed. Except as specified in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (I), the third-party inspector shall attest that inspections are complete and all violations are corrected before the board of education, state charter school institute, or charter school is issued a certificate of occupancy. Inspection records shall be retained by the third-party inspector for two years after the certificate of occupancy is issued. If the division finds that inspections are not completed satisfactorily, as determined by rule of the division, or that all violations are not corrected, the division shall take enforcement action against the appropriate board of education, state charter school institute, or charter school pursuant to section 24-33.5-1213, C.R.S.

(B) If inspections are not completed and a building requires immediate occupancy, and if the board of education, state charter school institute, or charter school has passed the appropriate inspections that indicate there are no life safety issues, the division may issue a temporary certificate of occupancy. The temporary certificate of occupancy shall expire ninety days after the date of occupancy. If no renewal of the temporary certificate of occupancy is issued or a permanent certificate of occupancy is not issued, the building shall be vacated upon expiration of the temporary certificate. The division shall enforce this sub-subparagraph (B) pursuant to section 24-33.5-1213, C.R.S.

(II) Pursuant to a memorandum of understanding between the appropriate building department and the division, the division may prequalify an appropriate building department to conduct the necessary plan reviews, issue building permits, conduct inspections, issue certificates of occupancy, and issue temporary certificates of occupancy pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a), to ensure that a building or structure constructed pursuant to subsection (1) or (1.5) of this section has been constructed in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division, and take enforcement action. Nothing in the memorandum of understanding shall be construed to allow the building department to take enforcement action other than in relation to the building and fire codes adopted by the division. An appropriate building department shall meet certification requirements established by the division pursuant to section 24-33.5-1213.5, C.R.S., prior to prequalification. An affected board of education, state charter school institute, or charter school may, at its own discretion, opt to use a prequalified building department that has entered into a memorandum of understanding with the division as the delegated authority. If a building department conducts an inspection, the building department shall retain the inspection records for two years after the final certificate of occupancy is issued. The fees charged by the building department shall cover actual, reasonable, and necessary costs. For purposes of this section, "appropriate building department" means the building department of a county, town, city, or city and county and includes a building department within a fire department.

(III) The division shall cause copies of the building plans to be sent to the appropriate fire department for review of fire safety issues. The fire department shall review the building plans, determine whether the building or structure is in compliance with the fire code adopted by the director of the division, and respond to the division within twenty business days; except that the fire department may request an extension of this time from the director of the division on the basis of the complexity of the building plans.

(IV) If the fire department declines to perform the plan review or any subsequent inspection, or if no certified fire inspector is available, the division shall perform the plan review or inspection. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires, "certified fire inspector" has the same meaning as set forth in section 24-33.5-1202 (2.5), C.R.S.

(V) If the building or structure is in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division, and if the appropriate fire department or the division certifies that the building or structure is in compliance with the fire code adopted by the director of the division, the division or the appropriate building department shall issue the necessary certificate of occupancy prior to use of the building or structure by the school district or by the institute charter school. The division is authorized to charge a fee to cover the actual, reasonable, and necessary costs of the inspections of buildings and structures. The amount of the fee shall be determined by the director of the division by rule, on the basis of the direct cost of providing the service.

(VI) If the division authorizes building code inspections by a third-party inspector pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) or authorizes building code plan reviews and inspections by an appropriate building department pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (a), the plan reviews and inspections shall be in lieu of any plan reviews and inspections made by the division; except that this subsection (2) shall not be construed to relieve the division of the responsibility to ensure that the plan reviews and inspections are conducted if the third-party inspector or appropriate building department does not conduct the plan reviews and inspections. Nothing in this subsection (2) shall be construed to require a county, town, city, city and county, or fire department to conduct building code plan reviews and inspections.

(b) (I) If the division conducts the necessary plan reviews and causes the necessary inspections to be performed to determine that a building or structure constructed pursuant to subsection (1) or (1.5) of this section has been constructed in conformity with the building and fire codes adopted by the director of the division, the division shall charge fees as established by rule of the director of the division. The fees shall cover the actual, reasonable, and necessary expenses of the division. The director of the division by rule or as otherwise provided by law may increase or reduce the amount of the fees as necessary to cover actual, reasonable, and necessary costs of the division. Any fees collected by the division pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the public school construction and inspection cash fund created in section 24-33.5-1207.7, C.R.S.

(II) Any moneys remaining as of December 31, 2009, in the public safety inspection fund created pursuant to section 8-1-151, C.R.S., from fees collected by the division of oil and public safety in the department of labor and employment pursuant to this paragraph (b) as it existed prior to January 1, 2010, shall be transferred to the public school construction and inspection cash fund created in section 24-33.5-1207.7, C.R.S.

(c) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2009, (HB 09-1151), ch. 230, p. 1045, § 1, effective January 1, 2010.)

(d) The inspecting entity shall cooperate with the affected board of education or the state charter school institute in carrying out the duties of this section.

(e) If the inspecting entity and the board of education or the state charter school institute disagree on the interpretation of the codes or standards adopted by the division, the division shall set a date for a hearing as soon as practicable before the board of appeals in accordance with section 24-33.5-1213.7, C.R.S., and the rules adopted by the director of the division pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(f) The rules authorized by this subsection (2) shall be adopted in accordance with article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(g) School buildings shall be maintained in accordance with the fire code adopted by the director of the division pursuant to section 24-33.5-1203.5, C.R.S.

22-32-127. Leases or installment purchases for periods exceeding one year.

(1) (a) Whenever the term of an installment purchase agreement or a lease agreement with an option to purchase, including but not limited to any sublease-purchase agreement entered into by a school district pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) (c), under which a school district becomes entitled to the use of undeveloped or improved real property or equipment for a school site, building, or structure is greater than one year, the obligation to make payments under the agreement shall constitute an indebtedness of the district.

(b) Under any installment purchase agreement or under any lease or rental agreement, with or without the option to purchase, or similar agreement pursuant to which the subject real or personal property is used by the school district for school district purposes, title shall be considered to have passed to the school district at the time of execution of the agreement for purposes of determining liability for or exemption from property taxation.

(2) No board of education shall enter into an installment purchase agreement of the type which constitutes an indebtedness unless such agreement shall be first approved as provided in this section by a majority of the registered electors of the district voting at an election held pursuant to this section. The board of education may submit to the registered electors of the district the question of entering into such an agreement at any general election, regular biennial school election, or special election called for the purpose. The secretary of the board of education shall give notice of an election to be held pursuant to this section in essentially the same manner and for the same length of time as is required by law for a notice of election of school directors. Such notice shall contain, to the extent applicable, the information required for a notice of election of school directors and in addition shall contain a statement of the maximum term of the proposed agreement, the maximum and periodic amounts of payments for which the district would be obligated, and the purpose of the agreement.

(3) The manner and place of conducting elections held pursuant to this section, and all other election procedures relating thereto, shall be as provided by law for the approval of contracting a bonded indebtedness of the district.

(4) The principal amount of any indebtedness incurred by a school district by means of installment purchase or lease-purchase or sublease-purchase agreements having terms of more than one year shall be subject to the limitation imposed by law on the amount of bonded indebtedness that may be incurred by a school district.

(6) The provisions of this section shall have no application to any installment purchase agreement or lease agreement with option to purchase, even though the term thereof may be greater than one year, where the school district's obligation to make payments under such installment purchase agreement or lease agreement with option to purchase is limited to its capital reserve fund, its general fund, or both and is expressly subject to the making of annual appropriations therefor in accordance with law.

(7) The provisions of this section shall have no application to any installment purchase agreement or lease agreement with an option to purchase in which such payments are made from the capital reserve fund following approval in an election as provided for in section 22-45-103 (1) (c).

22-32-134.5. Healthy beverages policy required. (1) On or before July 1, 2009, each school district board of education shall adopt and implement a policy that prohibits, except as described in subsection (2) of this section, the sale of beverages to students from any source, including but not limited to:

- (a) School cafeterias;
- (b) Vending machines;
- (c) School stores; and
- (d) Fund-raising activities conducted on school campuses.

(2) (a) On or before November 15, 2008, the state board of education shall promulgate rules describing beverages that school districts and schools may permit to be sold to students. Each beverage described by the rules shall satisfy minimum nutritional standards for beverages, which standards are science-based and established by a national organization that:

(I) Establishes and promotes minimum nutritional standards for beverages served to students in schools; and

(II) Has set forth a memorandum of understanding between various interested entities, including representatives of the beverage industry, which memorandum of understanding sets forth guidelines for policies concerning beverages that school districts and schools may permit to be sold to students.

(b) On or before November 15, 2008, the state board of education shall promulgate rules describing specific events occurring outside of the regular and extended school day, including but not limited to extracurricular competitions and performances, at which a school district or school may permit to be sold to students beverages other than the beverages described by the rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2).

22-32-135. Financial literacy curriculum. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:

(a) Life skills such as the ability to formulate a household budget, balance a checking account, read and understand the terms and conditions of a credit card, and otherwise manage personal finances are critical to a person’s success in today’s economy;

(b) In February and March of 2000, in a survey of high school seniors designed to test their knowledge of personal finance basics, the students answered only fifty-one and nine tenths percent of the questions correctly, receiving a failing grade;

(c) Many students graduate from high school without having learned crucial personal financial management skills, although many have already obtained their first credit cards;

(d) Recent studies of consumer finances by the federal reserve board show that, at the end of the third quarter of 1999, household debt in the United States totaled over six trillion three hundred billion dollars. Almost one trillion four hundred billion dollars of this debt was consumer credit debt, while four trillion four hundred billion dollars consisted of mortgage debt.

(e) With the recent growth in consumer debt and the apparently low level of education and understanding with regard to personal finances, it is imperative that the public schools of the state provide students with a thorough, high-quality curriculum of financial literacy to enable students to understand and master personal finance skills, including, at a minimum, managing bank accounts, household budgeting, understanding and managing personal debt, and managing personal savings and investment.

(2) As used in this section, "financial literacy" means knowledge of personal finances that is sufficient to enable a person to manage savings, investment, and checking accounts, to design and maintain a household budget, to manage personal debt, to understand consumer credit and finance, to manage personal credit options, and to understand and select among short-term and long-term investment options.

(3) Each school district board of education is strongly encouraged to adopt as part of its district curriculum courses pertaining to financial literacy to be taught in grade-appropriate courses at the elementary, middle, junior high, and high school grade levels. When selecting mathematics and economics textbooks, each school district is strongly encouraged to select those texts that include substantive provisions on personal finance, including personal budgeting, credit, debt management, and similar personal finance topics.

(4) Each school district board of education is further encouraged to adopt successful completion of a course in financial literacy as a graduation requirement.

22-32-136. Children's nutrition - healthful alternatives - information - facilities - local wellness policy - competitive foods. (1) The general assembly hereby recognizes that:

(a) Overweight children and youth and obesity among children and youth are major public health threats, and being overweight is now the most common medical condition of childhood. An estimated nine million young people in the United States are considered overweight. In Colorado, obesity in the adult population has more than doubled since 1991. Childhood obesity is related to the development of a number of preventable chronic childhood diseases such as type 2 diabetes and hypertension, and overweight children are likely to become overweight adults with increased risk of developing high cholesterol, heart disease, stroke, osteoporosis, gallbladder disease, arthritis, and endometrial, breast, prostate, and colon cancers.

(b) Schools can play a major role in reducing the number of overweight and obese children and youth. Schools are places where students can gain the knowledge, motivation, and skills needed for lifelong physical activity and lifelong healthy eating habits and are also places for students to practice healthy eating habits.

(c) Meeting a student's basic nutritional and fitness needs will increase a student's cognitive energy to learn and achieve, and, as a result, the overall educational process will be more effective.

(2) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Competitive food" means any food or beverage available to students that is separate from the school district's nonprofit, federally reimbursed food service program and is provided by a school-approved organization or a school-approved outside vendor.

(b) "School day" means one hour prior to the start of the first class period to one half hour after the end of the last class period; except that, for schools not offering school breakfast, "school day" means one half hour before the first class period to one half hour after the end of the last class period.

(3) On or before July 1, 2006, each school district board of education is encouraged to adopt policies ensuring that:

(a) Every student has access to healthful food choices in appropriate portion sizes throughout the school day. At a minimum, this includes the provision of:

(1) Healthful meals in the school cafeteria made available to students with an adequate time to eat;

(II) Healthful beverages sold to students on school campuses, pursuant to section 22-32-134.5; and

(III) Healthful items for fundraisers, classroom parties, and rewards in the schools.

(b) (I) Every student and his or her parent or legal guardian has access to information concerning the nutritional content of:

(A) Food and beverages sold by or available from the school's food service department at breakfast and lunch and throughout the school day; and

(B) Competitive food sold or available anywhere on school district property on a recurring basis during the school day.

(II) The information described in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) may be made available by placing the information on the school district web site or printing the information on the menus sent home with students or by posting the information in a visible place in each school building.

(c) Every student has access to fresh fruits and vegetables at appropriate times during the school day. Whenever practical, school districts shall work to acquire fresh produce from Colorado sources.

(d) Every student has access to age-appropriate and culturally sensitive instruction designed to teach lifelong healthy eating habits and a healthy level of physical activity.

(e) Every student has access to a school facility with a sufficient number of functioning water fountains in accordance with local building codes, or other means which provide him or her with sufficient water.

(f) Every student has access to age-appropriate daily physical activity.

(4) Each school district board of education is encouraged to establish rules specifying the time and place at which competitive foods may be sold on school property in order to encourage the selection of healthful food choices by students.

(5) On or before July 1, 2006, each school district board of education is encouraged to adopt a local wellness policy as provided for in the federal "Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Act of 2004", Public Law 108-265, which provides, in part, that, not later than the first day of the school year beginning after June 30, 2006, each school district participating in a program authorized by the Richard B. Russell national school lunch act, 42 U.S.C. 1751 et seq., or the children's nutrition act of 1966, 42 U.S.C. 1771 et seq., shall establish a local school wellness policy for schools under the local educational agency that, at a minimum:

(a) Includes goals for nutrition education, physical activity, and other school-based activities that are designed to promote student wellness in a manner that the school district determines is appropriate;

(b) Includes nutrition guidelines selected by the local school district for all foods available on each school campus during the school day with objectives of promoting student health and reducing childhood obesity and overweight and type 2 diabetes;

(c) Provides an assurance that guidelines for reimbursable school meals shall not be less restrictive than regulations and guidance issued by the secretary of agriculture pursuant to subsections (a) and (b) of section 10 of the Child Nutrition Act, 42 U.S.C. sec. 1779, and sections 9 (f) (1) and 17 (a) of the Richard B. Russell national school lunch act, 42 U.S.C. secs. 1758 (f) (1) and 1766 (a), as those regulations and guidance apply to schools;

(d) Establishes a plan for measuring implementation of the local wellness policy, including designation of one or more persons within the school district or at each school, as appropriate, charged with operational responsibility for ensuring that the school meets the local wellness policy; and

(e) Involves parents, representative of the school food authority, the school board and school administrators, and the public, in the development of the school wellness policy.

(5.5) On or before October 1, 2008, each school district board of education is encouraged to expand its local wellness policy adopted pursuant to subsection (5) of this section to include goals for:

(a) Increasing the availability of courses in physical education, including but not limited to, for a school district that enrolls more than one thousand five hundred students, establishing the goal of ensuring that all physical education classes offered by the school district are taught by persons who are licensed and endorsed pursuant to article 60.5 of this title to teach physical education;

- (b) Increasing classes in health education;
- (c) Providing health services;
- (d) Providing nutrition services;
- (e) Providing increased access to mental health counseling and services;
- (f) Developing and maintaining a healthy school environment in each of the schools of the school district;
- (g) Increasing the level of family and community involvement in developing and maintaining an emphasis on healthy lifestyles and choices to enable students to retain healthy behaviors throughout their lives.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the sale or distribution of any food or beverage item through periodic fundraisers by a student, teacher, or school group when the item is for sale after completion of the school day.

22-32-136.3. Children's nutrition - no trans fats in school foods - definitions - rules.

(1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Extended school day" means the school day, plus any additional time that a student spends on school grounds before or after the school day for the purpose of participating in a school-sanctioned extracurricular activity or child care program.

(b) "Industrially produced trans fat" means vegetable shortening, margarine, or any type of partially hydrogenated vegetable oil that contains more than zero grams of trans fat per serving as labeled.

(c) "Public school" means a school of a school district, a district charter school, or a board of cooperative services.

(d) "School day" has the same meaning as set forth in section 22-32-136.

(2) On and after September 1, 2013, a public school shall not:

(a) Make available to a student any food or beverage that contains any amount of industrially produced trans fat; or

(b) Use a food that contains any industrially produced trans fat in the preparation of a food item or beverage that is intended for consumption by a student.

(3) The prohibition described in subsection (2) of this section applies to all food and beverages made available to a student on school grounds during each school day and extended school day, including but not limited to a food or beverage item made available to a student in a school cafeteria, school store, vending machine, or other food service entity existing upon school grounds.

(4) The prohibition described in subsection (2) of this section does not apply to:

(a) Any food or beverage that is made available to a student as part of a meal program of the United States department of agriculture;

(b) Any food or beverage that is made available to a student as part of a fundraising effort conducted by one or more students, teachers, or parents; or

(c) Any food or beverage that is donated to the school to be given to a student for consumption off of school premises and not during the school day.

(5) The state board of education may promulgate such rules as are necessary for the administration of this section.

Source: L. 2012: Entire section added, (SB 12-068), ch. 256, p. 1302, § 2, effective August 8.

22-32-136.5. Children's wellness - physical activity requirement - legislative declaration. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds that:

(I) Healthy children are more likely to be engaged learners, they do better in school, they have improved attendance, and they are less likely to have behavioral problems inside and outside of the classroom;

(II) Many studies have documented the link between the mind and body and the effect of movement on cognition and stimulated blood flow and oxygen to a child's brain;

(III) Studies also show that physical activity improves students' ability to focus and decreases the symptoms of attention deficit disorder and related conditions;

(IV) Children who engage in physical activity as part of the learning environment are healthier and process information better;

(V) The growing trend of childhood obesity is also beginning to affect the country's military preparedness. Recent reports show that, nationally, approximately one-third of all potential military recruits are ineligible to join because they are overweight and out of shape;

(VI) School is the only place that many children are exposed to physical activity;

(VII) According to the 2009 child health survey conducted by the department of public health and environment, one in four Colorado children are overweight or obese, and only fifty-three and five tenths percent of children meet daily physical activity recommendations; and

(VIII) Between 2003 and 2007, Colorado's child obesity national ranking dropped from third leanest in the country to twenty-third, and the number of obese children in Colorado ten to seventeen years of age increased from forty-eight thousand to seventy-two thousand.

(b) Therefore, the general assembly declares that, by supporting physical activity in public schools, Colorado will ensure that all children have access to activities that build their bodies and their brains and support their abilities to think, react, create, and learn.

(2) For purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise requires, "physical activity" may include, but need not be limited to:

(a) Exercise programs;

(b) Fitness breaks;

(c) Recess;

(d) Field trips that include physical activity;

(e) Classroom activities that include physical activity; and

(f) Physical education classes.

(3) (a) Each school district board of education shall adopt a physical activity policy that incorporates into the schedule of each student attending an elementary school the opportunity for the student to engage in:

(I) A minimum of six hundred minutes of physical activity per month if the classes at the school meet five days per week and the student attends school for a full day;

(II) A minimum of three hundred minutes of physical activity per month if the classes at the school meet five days per week and the student attends school for a half day;

(III) A minimum of thirty minutes of physical activity per day if the classes at the school meet fewer than five days per week and the student attends school for a full day; and

(IV) A minimum of fifteen minutes of physical activity per day if the classes at the school meet fewer than five days per week and the student attends school for a half day.

(b) The physical activity policy may include an exception for any month that includes a planned or unplanned full-day or half-day school closure.

(c) Each school district board of education shall implement the physical activity policy beginning with the 2011-12 school year.

(d) Each school district board of education may require the person or committee in each school designated to ensure that the school complies with the local wellness policy, as described in section 22-32-136, or the school district accountability committee and school accountability committees created pursuant to article 11 of this title to review and advise the school district or an individual school regarding the school district's or the individual school's physical activity policy and compliance with this section.

(e) The expectation that a school district adopt a policy concerning physical activity pursuant to this section is not intended to dictate instruction in the classroom.

(f) A school that, prior to January 1, 2011, provides more than the minimum minutes specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) shall not decrease the amount of physical activity as a result of the policy specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (3); except that the school may decrease its required minutes of physical activity in response to budgetary constraints, so long as the school complies with the requirements specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (3).

(g) A school shall not substitute noninstructional physical activity for standards-based physical education instruction.

Community service and service-learning. Each school district shall consider and, if the school district board of education deems it appropriate, adopt a policy to encourage students to engage in community service or service-learning and to recognize students' contributions to their communities through community service or service-learning. Pursuant to the policy, a student who successfully meets the community service or service-learning program goals, as specified in the policy, may earn recognition in the manner described in the policy. The policy should specify the manner in which recognition of service may be reflected on a student's diploma or transcript as an indication of the student's commitment to service within the community.

"Student in out-of-home placement" shall also include a child or youth who transfers enrollment as a result of being returned to his or her home at the conclusion of out-of-home placement.

(2) (a) Each school district and the state charter school institute, created pursuant to section 22-30.5-503, shall designate an employee of the school district or the institute to act as the child welfare education liaison for the district or for state charter schools. In lieu of designating an employee, a school district or the state charter school institute may contract with an individual to act as the child welfare education liaison. (IV) Participating in any interagency collaboration teams or threat-assessment teams centered on students, which teams the school district may develop or on which teams the school district may be invited to participate; and

(V) Providing to the department of education, the department of human services, and the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, the information required pursuant to sections 22-2-139 and 26-1-138, C.R.S.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), a board of cooperative services created pursuant to article 5 of this title may designate an employee of the board to act as the child welfare education liaison for the school districts that are members of the board of cooperative services. A child welfare education liaison employed by a board of cooperative services shall have the duties specified in this subsection (2) and shall perform them on behalf of the school districts that are members of the board of cooperative services.

(3) (a) If a student in out-of-home placement is enrolled in one school and transfers enrollment to another school either in the same school district or in another school district or to another type of school, the sending school district or school shall transfer the student's education information and records to the receiving school within five school days after receiving a transfer request from the county department that has legal custody of the student.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, without having to obtain a court order, the county department that has legal custody of a student in out-of-home placement may request that the school district or school in which the student was enrolled release the student's education information and records to an employee of the county department for the sole purpose of transferring the education information and records to the student's new school. The school district or school may comply with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) by complying with the county department's request within five school days after receiving the request.

(c) A school district or school shall not delay the transfer of the education information and records of a student in out-of-home placement for any reason, including but not limited to the existence of any unpaid fines or fees that the student may have outstanding at the school from which the student is transferring.

(d) If a school district or school receives a transfer request pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) or a request for release of records pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (3) and the request involves a student who is receiving special education services pursuant to an individualized education program, the school district or school shall notify the special education director for the school district or school of the request as soon as possible following receipt of the request.

(4) (a) Notwithstanding any provision of law, other than paragraph (b) of this subsection (4), to the contrary, if a student who is in out-of-home placement is either newly placed within a school district or school or required to change schools due to a change in placement, the school district or school shall enroll the student in school within five school days after receiving the student's education information and records, regardless of whether:

(I) The school district or school has received the student's certificate of immunization;

(II) The student can comply with any requirements pertaining to the use of school uniforms or other clothing restrictions; or

(III) The student can comply with any other preenrollment restrictions or requirements imposed by the school district or school.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) shall not be construed to prohibit a school district or school from denying enrollment to a student in out-of-home placement based on the circumstances specified in section 22-33-106 (2) and (3); except that the school district or school:

(I) May deny enrollment based on the student having been expelled from a school district in the preceding twelve months as provided in section 22-33-106 (3) (c) only if the student was expelled for having drugs or weapons at school or for being a danger to self or others; and

(II) May not deny enrollment based on failure to comply with the provisions of part 9 of article 4 of title 25, C.R.S., as provided in section 22-33-106 (3) (e).

(c) If a school district or school enrolls a student in out-of-home placement without receiving the student's certificate of immunization, the school district or school shall notify the student's legal guardian that, unless the school district or school receives the student's certificate of immunization or a written authorization for administration of immunizations within fourteen days after the student enrolls, the school district or school shall suspend the student until such time as the school district or school receives the certificate of immunization or the authorization.

(5) When a student in out-of-home placement transfers from one school to another school, the sending school shall certify to the receiving school or school district the course work that the student has fully or partially completed while enrolled at the school. The receiving school or school district shall accept the student's certified course work and the course work certified by previous schools in which the student was enrolled, as reflected in the student's records, as if it had been completed at the receiving school. The receiving school or school district shall apply all of the student's certified course work toward completion of the student's requirements for graduating from the grade level in which the student is enrolled at the receiving school or school district or for graduation from the receiving school or school district if the student is enrolled in twelfth grade. The receiving school or school district may award elective credit for any portion of the student's certified course work that is not aligned with the curriculum of the receiving school or school district.

(6) A student in out-of-home placement shall receive an excused absence from the school district or school in which the student is enrolled for any time the student is out of school due to a required court appearance or participation in court-ordered activities, including but not limited to family visitation or therapy. The social worker who is assigned to the student shall verify to the school district or school each instance in which the student is out of school for a court appearance or for participation in a court-ordered activity.

(7) A school district or school in which a student in out-of-home placement is enrolled shall waive all fees that would otherwise be assessed against the student, including but not limited to any general fees, fees for books, fees for lab work, fees for participation in in-school or extracurricular activities, and fees for before-school or after-school programs. The school district or school shall not limit the opportunity of a student in out-of-home placement to participate in in-school and extracurricular activities and before-school and after-school programs due to waiver of the participation fees.

22-32-141. Student awaiting trial as adult - educational services. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) “Federal IDEA act” means the federal “Individuals with Disabilities Education Act”, 20 U.S.C. 1400 et seq., and the federal regulations for implementing said act regarding the provision of special education and related services to students with disabilities.

(b) “Juvenile” means a person:

(I) Against whom criminal charges are directly filed in district court pursuant to section 19-2-517, C.R.S., or for whom criminal charges are transferred to district court pursuant to section 19-2-518, C.R.S.;

(II) Who is under eighteen years of age at the time the offense is committed; and

(III) Who is less than twenty-one years of age.

(c) “Pupil enrollment count day” has the same meaning as set forth in section 22-54-103 (10.5).

(2) (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (c) to (g) of this subsection (2), if a juvenile is held in a jail or other facility for the detention of adult offenders pending criminal proceedings as an adult, the school district in which the jail or facility is located shall provide educational services for the juvenile upon request of the official in charge of the jail or facility, or his or her designee, pursuant to section 19-2-508 (4) (b.5), C.R.S. A school district may provide educational services directly using one or more of its employees or may ensure that educational services are provided through a board of cooperative services, an administrative unit, or otherwise through contract with a person or entity.

(b) In addition to meeting the requirements specified in this section, for each juvenile in a jail or facility who is a student with disabilities, the school district shall comply with any applicable provisions of the federal IDEA act.

(c) A school district is not required to provide educational services pursuant to this section to a juvenile if the juvenile has already graduated from high school or if the juvenile received a general education development certificate, unless otherwise required by the federal IDEA act.

(d) A school district is not required to provide educational services pursuant to this section to a juvenile for more than four hours per week or during periods of the school year when students enrolled in the school district are not required to attend school, except as may otherwise be required by the federal IDEA act.

(e) If a school district or the official in charge of the jail or facility determines as provided in section 19-2-508 (4) (b.5) (II), C.R.S., that an appropriate and safe environment for school district employees or contractors is not available in which to provide educational services to a specific juvenile, the school district is exempt from the requirement of providing educational services to the juvenile until such time as both the school district and the official in charge of the jail or facility determine that an appropriate and safe environment for school district employees or contractors is available. If the school district will not be providing educational services to a juvenile because of the lack of an appropriate and safe environment for school district employees or contractors, the official in charge of the jail or facility shall notify the juvenile, his or her parent or legal guardian, the juvenile's defense attorney, and the court having jurisdiction over the juvenile's case.

(f) If a juvenile is violent toward or physically injures the school district employee or contractor who is providing educational services to the juvenile pursuant to this section, the school district shall not require the employee or contractor to continue providing educational services to the juvenile, and the school district may choose to cease providing educational services to the juvenile, unless otherwise required by the federal IDEA act. If a school district ceases to provide educational services to a juvenile pursuant to this paragraph (f), the school district shall notify the official in charge of the jail or facility, and the official shall notify the juvenile, the juvenile's parent or legal guardian, the juvenile's defense attorney, and the court having jurisdiction over the juvenile's case.

(g) If a juvenile refuses to accept or participate in educational services, including special education services, a school district shall not be required to provide educational services pursuant to this section. The official in charge of the jail or facility in which the juvenile is held shall offer, at least weekly, to arrange educational services for a juvenile who previously refused educational services. The school district shall be required to provide educational services pursuant to this section upon acceptance by the juvenile.

(3) (a) Each school district in which a jail or other facility for the detention of adult offenders is located shall designate a school district employee to act as the contact person for the jail or facility, which employee may be the child welfare education liaison designated pursuant to section 22-32-138 (2). The school district shall provide to the jail or facility the employee's name and contact information.

(b) Following a request for educational services pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the designated employee shall determine whether the juvenile was held in a juvenile detention facility prior to transfer to the jail or facility and, if so, shall contact the juvenile detention facility to request the transfer of any educational or other information the juvenile facility may have concerning the juvenile. The designated employee shall ensure that the juvenile receives educational services pursuant to this section so long as the juvenile is held in the jail or facility, unless the designated employee determines that the juvenile meets the conditions specified in paragraph (c) of subsection (2) of this section, or the school district is exempt as provided in paragraph (e) or (f) of subsection (2) of this section, or the juvenile refuses services as provided in paragraph (g) of subsection (2) of this section.

(4) (a) In any budget year in which a school district is providing educational services to a juvenile pursuant to this section on the pupil enrollment count day of said budget year, the school district may include the juvenile in its pupil enrollment, as defined in section 22-54-103 (10), for purposes of determining the school district's total program funding under the "Public School Finance Act of 1994", article 54 of this title.

(b) If the school district begins providing educational services pursuant to this section after the pupil enrollment count day, the school district may seek reimbursement for the costs incurred pursuant to this section from the school district or charter school that included said juvenile in its pupil enrollment for the applicable budget year. Any amount received as reimbursement may not exceed the reimbursing school district's or charter school's per pupil revenue for the applicable budget year, prorated for the period of time that the receiving school district provides educational services pursuant to this section.

(c) If a juvenile who receives educational services pursuant to this section was not included in the pupil enrollment for the state for a budget year in which a school district provides educational services for the juvenile, the school district may seek reimbursement from the department of education for the costs incurred pursuant to this section. Any amount received as reimbursement may not exceed the state average per pupil revenue for the applicable budget year, prorated for the period that the receiving school district provides educational services pursuant to this section. The department of education shall pay reimbursement pursuant to this paragraph (c) from moneys appropriated to the department for said purpose.

(d) (I) In addition to any moneys received pursuant to paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection (4), a school district that provides educational services pursuant to this section shall receive from the department of education an amount equal to the daily rate established pursuant to section 22-54-129 for educational services provided by approved facility schools, multiplied by the number of days, excluding Saturdays and Sundays, that the juvenile is held in a jail or facility, so long as the juvenile is receiving at least four hours of educational services per week.

(II) On or before the fifteenth day of each month in which a juvenile is held in a jail or facility, the official in charge of the jail or facility in which a juvenile is held, or his or her designee, shall report to the department of education in a manner to be determined by the department, the actual number of juveniles who received educational services at the jail or facility during the prior calendar month to whom the school district provided educational services at the jail or facility. The department of education may accept amended monthly reports from the jail or facility prior to making the distribution of funding for the applicable month pursuant to subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (d).

(III) On or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month in which a jail or facility reported the number of juveniles who received educational services at the jail or facility, the department of education shall pay the school district that provided the educational services the appropriate amount based on the daily rate established for approved facility schools pursuant to section 22-54-129 and the number of juveniles who received educational services.

(IV) In each applicable budget year, the general assembly shall appropriate to the department of education the amount required to reimburse school districts pursuant to this paragraph (d) for educational services provided pursuant to this section. In any year in which the amount appropriated is insufficient to fully reimburse school districts pursuant to this section, the department of education may prorate the payments made pursuant to this paragraph (d).

(V) Notwithstanding any provision of this paragraph (d) to the contrary, a school district shall not receive reimbursement pursuant to this paragraph (d) for any period during which the school district was not providing educational services due to the circumstances described in any of paragraphs (c) to (g) of subsection (2) of this section. The official in charge of the jail or facility, or his or her designee, shall note any such period in the report submitted to the department of education pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (d), and the department shall reduce the amount of reimbursement to the school district accordingly.

(e) In addition to any moneys received pursuant to paragraph (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this subsection (4), a school district or administrative unit that provides special education services pursuant to this section to a juvenile who has an individualized education program pursuant to section 22-20-108 may seek excess costs tuition from the juvenile's administrative unit of residence as provided in section 22-20-109.

22-32-142. Parent involvement - policy - communications - incentives. (1) Each school district board of education is encouraged to adopt a district policy for increasing and supporting parent involvement in the public schools of the school district. In adopting the policy, the board of education may take into account, but need not be limited to, the best practices and strategies identified pursuant to section 22-7-304 by the Colorado state advisory council for parent involvement in education and the national standards for family-school partnerships, as defined in section 22-7-302 (5). The board of education is encouraged to work with the parent members of the district accountability committee in creating, adopting, and implementing the policy.

(2) If the state board of education, pursuant to section 22-11-210, determines that a school of the school district is required to adopt and implement a school improvement plan as described in section 22-11-404, a school priority improvement plan as described in section 22-11-405, or a school turnaround plan as described in section 22-11-406, the school district, within thirty days after receiving the initial notice of the determination or, if the determination is appealed, the final notice of the determination, shall notify the parents of the students enrolled in the school of the required plan and the issues identified by the department of education as giving rise to the need for the required plan. The notice shall also include the timeline for developing and adopting the required plan and the date, time, and location of a public hearing held by the school principal or the district board of education, whichever is responsible for adopting the plan, to review the required plan prior to final adoption. At the public hearing, the school principal or the district board of education shall also review the school's progress in implementing its plan for the preceding year and in improving its performance. The date of the public hearing shall be at least thirty days after the date on which the school district provides the written notice.

(3) Each school district board of education may solicit and accept public or private gifts, grants, or donations to implement all or a portion of the parent involvement programs implemented under a policy adopted pursuant to this section.

22-32-143. Local fiscal impact summaries. (1) If a bill is introduced before the general assembly that imposes upon a school district, school district board of education, or board of cooperative services any new mandate or increase in the level of service for an existing mandate beyond the existing level of service required by law, other than for the repurposing of existing time or resources, each school district, school district board of education, or board of cooperative services that is affected by the new mandate or increase shall have seven days after the date of the bill's introduction to prepare and submit to the director of research of the legislative council of the general assembly, or his or her designee, a brief summary of the fiscal impact of the new mandate or increase upon the budget of the school district or school district board of education.

(2) If the director of research of the legislative council of the general assembly, or his or her designee, prepares an analysis of the fiscal impact of an introduced bill that imposes upon a school district, school district board of education, or board of cooperative services a new mandate or increase in the level of service for an existing state mandate beyond the existing level of service required by law, other than for the repurposing of existing time or resources, and a school district, school district board of education, or board of cooperative services that will be affected by the bill submits to the director of research of the legislative council of the general assembly, or his or her designee, a brief summary of the fiscal impact of the new mandate or increase upon the budget of the school district, school district board of education, or board of cooperative services, then the director of research of the legislative council, or his or her designee, shall include the brief summary with his or her analysis.

(a) Conflicts and offenses arising during the school day interrupt learning, threaten school safety, and often lead to suspensions, expulsions, and an increase in the likelihood of a student dropping out of school;

(b) Students who drop out of high school face diminished job opportunities, lower lifetime earnings, and increased unemployment and more often require public assistance. They are more likely to participate in criminal activity, resulting in higher incarceration rates, and they face much greater challenges to becoming productive, contributing members of their communities.

(c) School conflicts can result in offenses that violate school rules and local laws and damage relationships among members of the school and surrounding community;

(d) Restorative justice, which requires the offender to accept responsibility and accountability for his or her actions, teaches conflict resolution, repairs the harm from the offense, reduces classroom disruptions, suspensions, expulsions, and consequent dropouts, promotes school safety, and enables victims, offenders, and community members to rebuild the community and restore relationships; and

(e) The general assembly has a vital interest in reducing classroom disruptions, suspensions, expulsions, and dropout rates and in assisting victims, reducing referrals to the justice system, and building safer, more cohesive school communities to promote learning.

(2) (a) Therefore, the general assembly supports and encourages the use of restorative justice as a school's first consideration to remediate offenses such as interpersonal conflicts, bullying, verbal and physical conflicts, theft, damage to property, class disruption, harassment and internet harassment, and attendance issues.

(b) The general assembly encourages each school district to implement training and education in the principles and practices of restorative justice to ensure that capable personnel and resources are available to successfully facilitate all steps of the restorative justice process.

(3) For purposes of this section, "restorative justice" means practices that emphasize repairing the harm to the victim and the school community caused by a student's misconduct. Restorative justice practices may include victim-initiated victim-offender conferences attended voluntarily by the victim, a victim advocate, the offender, school members, and supporters of the victim and the offender, which program provides an opportunity for the offender to accept responsibility for the harm caused to those affected by the act and to participate in setting consequences to repair the harm. Consequences recommended by the participants may include, but need not be limited to, apologies, community service, restitution, restoration, and counseling. The selected consequences shall be incorporated into an agreement that sets time limits for completion of the consequences and is signed by all participants.

(4) Each school district is encouraged to develop and utilize restorative justice practices that are part of the disciplinary program of each school in the district.

22-32-145. Native American language and culture instruction - general credit. A school district board of education may adopt a policy to grant general education or world language credit for the successful completion of native American language course work for languages of federally recognized tribes. A person instructing a native American language course shall meet the requirements set forth in section 22-60.5-111 (15).

(2) If a school resource officer or other law enforcement officer acting in his or her official capacity on school grounds, in a school vehicle, or at a school activity or sanctioned event issues a summons, ticket, or other notice requiring the appearance of a student of the school in court or at a police station for investigation relating to an offense allegedly committed on school grounds, in a school vehicle, or at a school activity or sanctioned event, the officer shall notify the principal of the school or his or her designee of the issuance of the summons, ticket, or other notice within ten days after the issuance of the summons, ticket, or other notice.

(3) A school resource officer shall be familiar with the provisions of the conduct and discipline code of the school to which he or she is assigned.

(4) Commencing August 1, 2013, and continuing each August 1 thereafter, each law enforcement agency employing or contracting with any law enforcement officer who is acting or has acted in his or her official capacity on school grounds, in a school vehicle, or at a school activity or sanctioned event shall report to the division of criminal justice created in section 24-33.5-502, C.R.S., in aggregate form without personal identifying information, data about the cases handled by the agency on school grounds, in a school vehicle, or at a school activity or sanctioned event. Each such report shall include, at a minimum, the following information relating to the preceding twelve months:

(a) The number of students investigated by the officer for delinquent offenses, including the number of students investigated for each type of delinquent offense for which the officer investigated at least one student;

(b) The number of students arrested by the officer, including the offense for which each such arrest was made;

(c) The number of summonses or tickets issued by the officer to students; and

(d) The age, gender, school, and race or ethnicity of each student whom the officer arrested or to whom the officer issued a summons, ticket, or other notice requiring the appearance of the student in court or at a police station for investigation relating to an offense allegedly committed on school grounds, in a school vehicle, or at a school activity or sanctioned event.

22-32.5-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:

(a) The constitutional provisions regarding the public education system direct the general assembly to establish a thorough and uniform statewide system of public education, but they also recognize the importance of preserving local flexibility by granting to each school district board of education the control of instruction in the schools of the school district;

(b) The constitution’s requirement that each school district board of education is responsible for controlling the instruction in its schools is based on the belief that the delivery of educational services must be tailored to the specific population of students they are intended to serve and that the parents of those students should have great opportunity for input regarding the educational services their children receive;

(c) In tailoring the delivery of educational services, it is also important that the persons delivering those services, the principal of the public school and the faculty employed at that school, have the maximum degree of flexibility possible to determine the most effective and efficient manner in which to meet their students’ needs;

(d) To further the goals of high-quality public education throughout the state, therefore, each school district board of education should have the authority to grant public schools of the school district the maximum degree of flexibility possible to meet the needs of individual students and the communities in which they live; and

(e) While the ultimate responsibility for controlling the instruction in public schools continues to lie with the school district board of education of each public school, each school district board of education is strongly encouraged to delegate to each public school a high degree of autonomy in implementing curriculum, making personnel decisions, organizing the school day, determining the most effective use of resources, and generally organizing the delivery of high-quality educational services, thereby empowering each public school to tailor its services most effectively and efficiently to meet the needs of the population of students it serves.

(2) The general assembly therefore finds that it is in the best interests of the people of Colorado to enact the “Innovation Schools Act of 2008” to achieve the following purposes:

(a) To grant to Colorado’s school districts and public schools greater ability to meet the educational needs of a diverse and constantly changing student population;

(b) To encourage intentionally diverse approaches to learning and education within individual school districts;

(c) To improve educational performance through greater individual school autonomy and managerial flexibility;

(d) To encourage school districts, where appropriate, to create and manage a portfolio of schools that meet a variety of education needs, including identifying elementary, middle or junior high, and high schools to collectively operate as a vertically integrated innovation zone of schools;

(e) To encourage innovation in education by providing local school communities and principals with greater control over levels of staffing, personnel selection and evaluation, scheduling, and educational programming with the goal of achieving improved student achievement;

(f) To encourage school districts and public schools to find new ways to allocate resources, including through implementation of specialized school budgets, for the benefit of the students they serve; and

(d) If a local school board, in collaboration with the innovation school or the public schools included in the innovation school zone, revises the innovation plan as provided in section 22-32.5-110 and the revisions include changes to the identified provisions of the collective bargaining agreement that need to be waived to implement the innovations that are included in the innovation plan, the local school board shall seek such additional waivers or revision or revocation of the existing waivers of provisions of the collective bargaining agreement as are necessary to implement the revised innovation plan. Any changes to waivers, or additional waivers, of the identified provisions of the collective bargaining agreement shall be subject to approval in the same manner as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subsection (1) for the initial approval of waivers of provisions of the collective bargaining agreement.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (d) of this subsection (1), waiver of identified provisions of a collective bargaining agreement for an innovation school or the public schools within an innovation school zone pursuant to this subsection (1) shall continue so long as the innovation school remains an innovation school or a public school remains a part of the innovation school zone. A waiver approved pursuant to this subsection (1) shall continue to apply to any substantially similar provision that is included in a new or renewed collective bargaining agreement for the schools of the district of innovation.

(2) A district of innovation shall not be required to seek a waiver by an innovation school or a public school in an innovation school zone of any provision of the collective bargaining agreement. Each district of innovation shall include in its innovation plan a statement as to whether it will seek a waiver by an innovation school or the public schools included in an innovation school zone of any of the provisions of the collective bargaining agreement.

(3) A person who is a member of the collective bargaining unit and is employed by an innovation school or by a school included in an innovation school zone may request a transfer to another public school of the district of innovation. - (b) For so long as the child remains homeless, the school district in which the child's school of origin is located; except that a child who, subsequent to becoming homeless, becomes permanently housed in the same school year may be deemed to reside in the school district of the school of origin, but only for the remainder of the school year.

(3) Best interests of a homeless child. In determining the best interests of a homeless child for purposes of subsection (2) of this section, the school districts described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (2) of this section shall:

(a) To the extent feasible and except when it is against the wishes of the homeless child's parent or legal guardian or against the wishes of an unaccompanied homeless child, keep the homeless child in the homeless child's school of origin;

(b) Provide a written explanation, including a statement regarding the right to appeal pursuant to subsection (4) of this section, to the parent or legal guardian of the homeless child, if the school districts send the homeless child to a school other than the child's school of origin or to a school other than the school requested by the parent or legal guardian;

(c) In the case of an unaccompanied homeless child, assure that the homeless child liaison designated by one of the school districts pursuant to subsection (7) of this section assists in the placement or enrollment decisions, considers the school preference of the unaccompanied homeless child, and provides notice of the right to appeal pursuant to subsection (4) of this section to the unaccompanied homeless child.

(4) Disputes. (a) If a homeless child's parent or legal guardian or an unaccompanied homeless child disagrees with the decision of the school districts pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the homeless child shall be immediately enrolled in the school selected by the homeless child's parent or legal guardian or, in the case of an unaccompanied homeless child, by the child, pending resolution of the dispute through the appeal process created by the department of education pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (4).

(b) Consistent with federal requirements, the department of education shall create an appeal process for a parent or legal guardian of a homeless child or an unaccompanied homeless child to pursue if the parent or legal guardian or the unaccompanied homeless child disagrees with the decision of the school districts pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

(5) Enrollment. (a) The school selected for a homeless child pursuant to this section shall immediately enroll the homeless child, even if the child lacks records normally required prior to enrollment.

(b) The enrolling school shall immediately contact the school last attended by the homeless child to obtain any records necessary for enrollment.

(c) If the homeless child's immunizations are incomplete or if the homeless child's immunization records are unavailable, the enrolling school shall arrange for such immunizations as may be necessary.

(6) Transportation. (a) If it is determined pursuant to subsection (2) of this section that the best interest of a homeless child is to continue his or her education at the school of origin and the homeless child presently seeks shelter or is located in another school district, and the homeless child's parent or legal guardian or the homeless child liaison, on behalf of an unaccompanied homeless child, requests transportation to and from school, the school district where the homeless child presently seeks shelter or is located and the school district in which the school of origin is located shall agree upon a method to apportion cost and responsibility for the transportation of the homeless child to the school district where the homeless child is attending, or, in the alternative, each school district shall share equally in the cost and responsibility for transportation.

(b) If a homeless child continues to reside in the school district in which the school of origin is located, such school district, upon request of the homeless child's parent or legal guardian or upon request of the homeless child liaison, on behalf of an unaccompanied homeless child, shall arrange or provide for transportation of the homeless child to and from school.

(7) Liaison. The board of education of each school district in the state shall designate one or more of the employees of the school district to act as a homeless child liaison. The homeless child liaison shall facilitate a homeless child's access to and success in school. The homeless child liaison shall also assist in the mediation of any disputes concerning school enrollment, assist in making arrangements for transportation of the homeless child to and from school, assist in requesting school and immunization records, and assist any unaccompanied homeless child in making enrollment decisions. On or before the pupil enrollment count day, the homeless child liaison in each school district shall report to the department of education the number of homeless children enrolled in the school district.

(8) Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "School of origin" means the school a child attended at the time the child became homeless, or, if the child became homeless during a period that he or she was not attending school, the last school the child attended prior to becoming homeless.

(b) "Unaccompanied homeless child" means a child who meets the requirements of section 22-1-102.5 who is not in the physical custody of a parent or legal guardian.

22-33-104. Compulsory school attendance. (1) (a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) of this section, every child who has attained the age of six years on or before August 1 of each year and is under the age of seventeen years, except as provided by this section, shall attend public school for at least the following number of hours during each school year:

(I) One thousand fifty-six hours if a secondary school pupil;

(II) Nine hundred sixty-eight hours if an elementary school pupil in a grade other than kindergarten;

(III) Nine hundred hours if a full-day kindergarten pupil; or

(IV) Four hundred fifty hours if a half-day kindergarten pupil.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), a school or schools shall not be in session for fewer than one hundred sixty days without the specific prior approval of the commissioner of education.

(c) A student who participates in an on-line program or on-line school pursuant to the provisions of article 30.7 of this title shall be deemed to attend school in accordance with the requirements of this subsection (1).

(d) Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to require a child who begins attending preschool or kindergarten at five or six years of age to advance to first grade in the following school year. A parent of a child who began attending preschool or kindergarten at five or six years of age may notify the child's school of the parent's wish that the child not advance to first grade in the following school year, and a school that receives such notice shall not advance the child to first grade in the following school year.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to a child:

(a) Who is temporarily ill or injured or whose absence is approved by the administrator of the school of attendance;

(b) Who is enrolled for a minimum of one hundred seventy-two days in an independent or parochial school which provides a basic academic education. "Basic academic education" for the purpose of this article means the sequential program of instruction provided by an independent or parochial school. Such program shall include, but not be limited to, communication skills of reading, writing, and speaking, mathematics, history, civics, literature, and science.

(c) Who is absent for an extended period due to physical, mental, or emotional disability;

(d) Who has been suspended, expelled, or denied admission in accordance with the provisions of this article; except that, when a pupil is expelled for the remainder of the school year, the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is responsible for seeing that either the provisions of subsection (1) of this section are complied with during the period of expulsion from the school district or that the pupil meets the conditions for exemption specified in paragraph (b) or (i) of this subsection (2);

(e) To whom a current age and school certificate or work permit has been issued pursuant to the "Colorado Youth Employment Opportunity Act of 1971", article 12 of title 8, C.R.S.;

(f) Who is in the custody of a court or law enforcement authorities;

(g) Who is pursuing a work-study program under the supervision of a public school;

(h) Who has graduated from the twelfth grade;

(i) Who is being instructed at home;

(I) By a teacher licensed pursuant to article 60.5 or 61 of this title; or

(II) Under a nonpublic home-based educational program pursuant to section 22-33-104.5.

(III) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2003, p. 2131, § 24, effective May 22, 2003.)

(j) Who is enrolled in a school where the state board of education has approved a lesser number of days.

(3) Unless within one of the exceptions listed in subsection (2) of this section, a child who is deaf or blind, and who has attained the age of six years and is under the age of seventeen, shall attend, for at least one hundred seventy-two days during the school year, a school which provides suitable specialized instruction. The provisions of this subsection (3) shall not apply to a child if the Colorado school for the deaf and the blind refuses him admission and it is impractical to arrange for attendance at a special education class, as provided in article 20 of this title, within daily commuting distance of the child's home. If any school providing instruction for deaf or blind children offers fewer than the necessary one hundred seventy-two days of instruction, the school shall file with the school district in which it is located a report showing the number of days classes were held and the names and ages of the children enrolled.

(4) (a) The board of education shall adopt a written policy setting forth the district's attendance requirements. Said policy shall provide for excused absences, including those listed as exclusions from compulsory school attendance in accordance with subsection (2) of this section. An attendance policy developed pursuant to this section may include appropriate penalties for nonattendance due to unexcused absence.

(b) The attendance policy adopted pursuant to this subsection (4) shall specify the maximum number of unexcused absences a child may incur before the attorney for the school district, the attendance officer, or the local board of education may initiate judicial proceedings pursuant to section 22-33-108. Calculation of the number of unexcused absences a child has incurred includes all unexcused absences occurring during any calendar year or during any school year.

(c) On or before January 1, 2009, the state board shall adopt rules establishing a standardized calculation for counting unexcused absences of students, including the circumstance in which a student is absent for part of a school day, and the format for reporting the information to the department pursuant to section 22-33-107.

(5) (a) The general assembly hereby declares that two of the most important factors in ensuring a child's educational development are parental involvement and parental responsibility. The general assembly further declares that it is the obligation of every parent to ensure that every child under such parent's care and supervision receives adequate education and training. Therefore, every parent of a child who has attained the age of six years on or before August 1 of each year and is under the age of seventeen years shall ensure that such child attends the public school in which such child is enrolled in compliance with this section.

(b) Parents whose children are enrolled in an independent or parochial school or a non-public home-based educational program pursuant to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section shall be exempt from the requirements of this subsection (5).

List of exclusions from compulsory attendance not exhaustive. Although this section specifically enumerates several circumstances which, if proven, render the compulsory attendance law inapplicable, this list of justifications is not exhaustive. Placing burden on child to show absences excused is not unfair. It is not manifestly unfair to place on the child the burden to show that her absences from school were excused, for the facts

Denial of credit because of absences may be invalid. Where a school district's policy denies academic credit to students with more than seven absences, even if the absences are due partially to suspensions and excused absences, such policy is inconsistent with this section, and is thus invalid or inconsistent with state law. 22-33-104.5. Home-based education - legislative declaration - definitions - guidelines. (1) The general assembly hereby declares that it is the primary right and obligation of the parent to choose the proper education and training for children under his care and supervision. It is recognized that home-based education is a legitimate alternative to classroom attendance for the instruction of children and that any regulation of nonpublic home-based educational programs should be sufficiently flexible to accommodate a variety of circumstances. The general assembly further declares that nonpublic home-based educational programs shall be subject only to minimum state controls which are currently applicable to other forms of nonpublic education.

(2) As used in this section:

(a) "Nonpublic home-based educational program" means the sequential program of instruction for the education of a child which takes place in a home, which is provided by the child's parent or by an adult relative of the child designated by the parent, and which is not under the supervision and control of a school district. This educational program is not intended to be and does not qualify as a private and nonprofit school.

(b) "Parent" includes a parent or guardian.

(c) "Qualified person" means an individual who is selected by the parent of a child who is participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program to evaluate such child's progress and who is a teacher licensed pursuant to article 60.5 of this title, a teacher who is employed by an independent or parochial school, a licensed psychologist, or a person with a graduate degree in education.

(3) The following guidelines shall apply to a nonpublic home-based educational program:

(a) A parent or an adult relative designated by a parent to provide instruction in a nonpublic home-based educational program shall not be subject to the requirements of the "Colorado Educator Licensing Act of 1991", article 60.5 of this title, nor to the provisions of article 61 of this title relating to teacher employment.

(b) A child who is participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program shall not be subject to compulsory school attendance as provided in this article; except that any child who is habitually truant, as defined in section 22-33-107 (3), at any time during the last six months that the child attended school before proposed enrollment in a nonpublic home-based educational program may not be enrolled in the program unless the child's parents first submit a written description of the curricula to be used in the program along with the written notification of establishment of the program required in paragraph (e) of this subsection (3) to any school district within the state.

(c) A nonpublic home-based educational program shall include no less than one hundred seventy-two days of instruction, averaging four instructional contact hours per day.

(d) A nonpublic home-based educational program shall include, but need not be limited to, communication skills of reading, writing, and speaking, mathematics, history, civics, literature, science, and regular courses of instruction in the constitution of the United States as provided in section 22-1-108.

(e) Any parent establishing a nonpublic home-based educational program shall provide written notification of the establishment of said program to a school district within the state fourteen days prior to the establishment of said program and each year thereafter if the program is maintained. The parent in charge and in control of a nonpublic home-based educational program shall certify, in writing, only a statement containing the name, age, place of residence, and number of hours of attendance of each child enrolled in said program. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 22-33-104 (1), a parent who intends to establish a nonpublic home-based educational program is not required to:

(I) Provide written notification of the program to a school district within the state until the parent's child is six years of age;

(II) Establish the program until the parent's child is seven years of age; or

(III) Continue the program or provide the notification after the child is sixteen years of age.

(f) Each child participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program shall be evaluated when such child reaches grades three, five, seven, nine, and eleven. Each child shall be given a nationally standardized achievement test to evaluate the child's academic progress, or a qualified person shall evaluate the child's academic progress. The test or evaluation results, whichever is appropriate, shall be submitted to the school district that received the notification required by paragraph (e) of this subsection (3) or an independent or parochial school within the state of Colorado. If the test or evaluation results are submitted to an independent or parochial school, the name of such school shall be provided to the school district that received the notification required by paragraph (e) of this subsection (3). The purpose of such tests or evaluations shall be to evaluate the educational progress of each child. No scores for a child participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program shall be considered in measuring school performance or determining accreditation pursuant to article 11 of this title.

(g) The records of each child participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program shall be maintained on a permanent basis by the parent in charge and in control of said program. The records shall include, but need not be limited to, attendance data, test and evaluation results, and immunization records, as required by sections 25-4-901, 25-4-902, and 25-4-903, C.R.S. Such records shall be produced to the school district that received the notification required by paragraph (e) of this subsection (3) upon fourteen days' written notice if the superintendent of said school district has probable cause to believe that said program is not in compliance with the guidelines established in this subsection (3).

(4) Any child who has participated in a nonpublic home-based educational program and who subsequently enrolls in the public school system may be tested by the school district in which the child has enrolled for the purpose of placing the child in the proper grade and shall then be placed at the grade level deemed most appropriate by said school district, with the consent of the child's parent or legal guardian. The school district shall accept the transcripts for credit from the non-public home-based educational program for any such child; except that the school district may reject such transcripts if the school district administers testing to such child and the testing does not verify the accuracy of such transcripts.

(5) (a) (I) If test results submitted to the appropriate school district pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (f) of subsection (3) of this section show that a child participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program received a composite score on said test which was above the thirteenth percentile, such child shall continue to be exempt from the compulsory school attendance requirement of this article. If the child's composite score on said test is at or below the thirteenth percentile, the school district shall require the parents to place said child in a public or independent or parochial school until the next testing period; except that no action shall be taken until the child is given the opportunity to be retested using an alternate version of the same test or a different nationally standardized achievement test selected by the parent from a list of approved tests supplied by the state board.

(II) If evaluation results submitted to the appropriate school district pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (f) of subsection (3) of this section show that the child is making sufficient academic progress according to the child's ability, the child will continue to be exempt from the compulsory school attendance requirement of this article. If the evaluation results show that the child is not making sufficient academic progress, the school district shall require the child's parents to place the child in a public or independent or parochial school until the next testing period.

(b) If the child's test or evaluation results are submitted to an independent or parochial school, said school shall notify the school district that received the notification pursuant to paragraph (e) of subsection (3) of this section if the composite score on said test was at or below the thirteenth percentile or if the evaluation results show that the child is not making sufficient academic progress. The school district shall then require the parents to proceed in the manner specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (5).

(6) (a) If a child is participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program but also attending a public school for a portion of the school day, the school district of the public school shall be entitled to count such child in accordance with the provisions of section 22-54-103 (10) for purposes of determining pupil enrollment under the "Public School Finance Act of 1994", article 54 of this title.

(b) (I) For purposes of this subsection (6), a child who is participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program shall have the same rights as a student enrolled in a public school of the school district in which the child resides or is enrolled and may participate on an equal basis in any extracurricular or interscholastic activity offered by a public school or offered by a private school, at the private school's discretion, as provided in section 22-32-116.5 and is subject to the same rules of any interscholastic organization or association of which the student's school of participation is a member.

(II) (A) Except as provided for in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (II), for purposes of section 22-32-116.5, the school district of attendance for a child who is participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program shall be deemed to be the school district that received the notification pursuant to paragraph (e) of subsection (3) of this section.

(B) For purposes of section 22-32-116.5, the school district of attendance for a child who withdraws from a public or private school more than fifteen days after the start of the school year and enters a non-public home-based educational program shall be the school district or private school from which the child withdrew for the remainder of that school year. If, during the remainder of that academic year, the child chooses to participate in extracurricular or interscholastic activities at the same school and was eligible for participation prior to withdrawing from the school, the child remains eligible to participate at such school.

(c) No child participating in an extracurricular or interscholastic activity pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (6) shall be considered attending the public school district where the child participates in such activity for purposes of determining pupil enrollment under paragraph (a) of this subsection (6).

(d) As used in this subsection (6), "extracurricular or interscholastic activities" shall have the same meaning as "activity" as set forth in section 22-32-116.5 (10).

(e) If any fee is collected pursuant to this subsection (6) for participation in an activity, the fee shall be used to fund the particular activity for which it is charged and shall not be expended for any other purpose.

22-33-105. Suspension, expulsion, and denial of admission. (1) No child who has attained the age of six years and is under the age of twenty-one shall be suspended or expelled from or be denied admission to the public schools, except as provided by this article.

(2) In addition to the powers provided in section 22-32-110, the board of education of each district may:

(a) Delegate to any school principal within the school district or to a person designated in writing by the principal the power to suspend a pupil in his school for not more than five school days on the grounds stated in section 22-33-106 (1) (a), (1) (b), (1) (c), or (1) (e) or not more than ten school days on the grounds stated in section 22-33-106 (1) (d), unless expulsion is mandatory pursuant to such provision;

(b) Suspend, on the grounds stated in section 22-33-106, a pupil from school for not more than another ten school days, or may delegate such power to its executive officer; except that the latter may extend a suspension to an additional ten school days if necessary in order to present the matter to the next meeting of the board of education, but the total period of suspension pursuant to this paragraph (b) and paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) shall not exceed twenty-five school days; and

(c) Deny admission to, or expel for any period not extending beyond one year, any child whom the board of education, in accordance with the limitations imposed by this article, shall determine does not qualify for admission to, or continued attendance at, the public schools of the district. A board of education may delegate such powers to its executive officer or to a designee who shall serve as a hearing officer. If the hearing is conducted by a designee acting as a hearing officer, the hearing officer shall forward findings of fact and recommendations to the executive officer at the conclusion of the hearing. The executive officer shall render a written opinion within five days after a hearing conducted by the executive officer or by a hearing officer. The executive officer shall report on each case acted upon at the next meeting of the board of education, briefly describing the circumstances and the reasons for the executive officer's action. A child who is denied admission or expelled as an outcome of the hearing shall have ten days after the denial of admission or expulsion to appeal the decision of the executive officer to the board of education, after which time the decision to grant or deny the appeal shall be at the discretion of the board of education. The appeal shall consist of a review of the facts that were presented and that were determined at the hearing conducted by the executive officer or by a designee acting as a hearing officer, arguments relating to the decision, and questions of clarification from the board of education. No board of education shall deny admission to, or expel, any child without a hearing, if one is requested by the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the child, at which evidence may be presented in the child's behalf. If the child is denied admission or expelled, the child shall be entitled to a review of the decision of the board of education in accordance with section 22-33-108.

(2.5) Each board of education shall annually report to the state board the number of students expelled from schools within the district pursuant to this section and pursuant to section 25-4-907, C.R.S. Any pupil who is expelled pursuant to this section shall not be included in calculating the dropout rate for the school from which such student is expelled or in calculating the dropout rate for the school district in which such pupil was enrolled prior to being expelled.

(3) (a) If a pupil is suspended pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the suspending authority shall immediately notify the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the pupil that the pupil has been suspended and of the grounds for the suspension, the period of the suspension, and the time and place for the parent, guardian, or legal custodian to meet with the suspending authority to review the suspension.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this subsection (3), a suspended pupil shall:

(I) Be required to leave the school building and the school grounds immediately, following a determination by the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and the school of the best way to transfer custody of the pupil to the parent, guardian, or legal custodian; and

(II) Not be readmitted to a public school until a meeting between the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and the suspending authority has taken place or until, in the discretion of the suspending authority, the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the suspended pupil has substantially agreed to review the suspension with such suspending authority; except that, if the suspending authority cannot contact the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of such pupil or if such parent, guardian, or legal custodian repeatedly fails to appear for scheduled meetings, the suspending authority may readmit the pupil. The meeting shall address whether there is a need to develop a remedial discipline plan for the pupil in an effort to prevent further disciplinary action.

(c) A pupil suspended for a period of ten days or less shall receive an informal hearing by the school principal or the principal's designee prior to the pupil's removal from school, unless an emergency requires immediate removal from school, in which case an informal hearing shall follow as soon after the pupil's removal as practicable. Any pupil suspended for more than ten days shall be given the opportunity to request a review of the suspension before an appropriate official of the school district.

(d) The suspending authority shall:

(I) Make every reasonable effort to meet with the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the pupil during the period of suspension;

(II) Not extend a period of suspension because of the failure of the suspending authority to meet with the parent, guardian, or legal custodian during the period of suspension;

(III) Provide an opportunity for a pupil to make up school work during the period of suspension for full or partial academic credit to the extent possible. The intent of this provision is to provide an opportunity for the pupil to reintegrate into the educational program of the district and to help prevent the pupil from dropping out of school because of an inability to reintegrate into the educational program following the period of suspension. The school district should take this intent into consideration when determining the amount of credit a student will receive for this makeup work.

(4) The board of education of each district shall establish, as an alternative to suspension, a policy that allows the pupil to remain in school by encouraging the parent, guardian, or legal custodian, with the consent of the pupil's teacher or teachers, to attend class with the pupil for a period of time specified by the suspending authority. If the parent, guardian, or legal custodian does not agree to attend class with the pupil or fails to attend class with the pupil, the pupil shall be suspended in accordance with the conduct and discipline code of the district.

(5) (a) Whenever a petition filed in juvenile court alleges that a child at least twelve years of age but under eighteen years of age has committed an offense that would constitute unlawful sexual behavior, as defined in section 16-22-102 (9), C.R.S., or a crime of violence, as defined in section 18-1.3-406, C.R.S., if committed by an adult or whenever charges filed in district court allege that a child has committed such an offense, basic identification information concerning such child and the details of the alleged delinquent act or offense shall be provided immediately to the school district in which the child is enrolled in accordance with the provisions of section 19-1-304 (5), C.R.S. Upon receipt of such information, the board of education of the school district or its designee shall determine whether the student has exhibited behavior that is detrimental to the safety, welfare, and morals of the other students or of school personnel in the school and whether educating the student in the school may disrupt the learning environment in the school, provide a negative example for other students, or create a dangerous and unsafe environment for students, teachers, and other school personnel. The determination may be made in executive session to the extent allowed by section 24-6-402 (4) (h), C.R.S. If the board of education or its designee, in accordance with the provisions of this subsection (5), makes a determination that the student should not be educated in the school, it may proceed with suspension or expulsion in accordance with subsection (2) of this section and section 22-33-106. Alternatively, the board of education or its designee may determine that it will wait until the conclusion of the juvenile proceedings to consider the expulsion matter, in which case it shall be the responsibility of the district to provide the student with an appropriate alternate education program, including but not limited to an on-line program or on-line school authorized pursuant to article 30.7 of this title, or a home-based education program during the period pending the resolution of the juvenile proceedings. Information made available to the school district and not otherwise available to the public pursuant to the provisions of section 19-1-304, C.R.S., shall remain confidential.

(b) No student who is being educated in an alternate education program or a home-based education program pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) shall be allowed to return to the education program in the public school until there has been a disposition of the charge. If the student pleads guilty, is found guilty, or is adjudicated a delinquent juvenile, the school district may proceed in accordance with section 22-33-106 to expel the student. The time that a student spends in an alternate education program pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) shall not be considered a period of expulsion.

(c) No court which has jurisdiction over the charges against a student who is subject to the provisions of this subsection (5) shall issue an order requiring the student to be educated in the education program in the school in contradiction of the provisions of this subsection (5).

(6) When a pupil is expelled by a school district, the pupil's parent, guardian, or legal custodian is responsible for seeing that the pupil complies with the provisions of this article during the period of expulsion.

(7) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part 1 to the contrary:

(a) An institute charter school authorized pursuant to part 5 of article 30.5 of this title may carry out the functions of a suspending authority pursuant to this section; and

(b) The state charter school institute created in part 5 of article 30.5 of this title may carry out the functions of a school district and its board of education with respect to the suspension, expulsion, or denial of admission of a student to an institute charter school.

For comment, "Setting Boundaries for Student Due Process: Rustad v. United States Air Force and the Right to Counsel in Disciplinary Dismissal Proceedings," see 62 Den. U. L. Rev. 109 (1985).

Statutory procedures for temporary suspension held constitutional. The statutory procedures for temporary suspension are not a denial of procedural due process and their application did not deprive the plaintiffs of the procedural due process required by the federal constitution. Hernandez v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 315 F. Supp. 289 (D. Colo. 1970).

A school board may delegate to a school principal the power to suspend a pupil for not more than five school days for willful disobedience or open and persistent defiance of proper authority or behavior which is inimical to the welfare, safety, or morals of other pupils. Hernandez v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 315 F. Supp. 289 (D. Colo. 1970).

Power may be delegated to the superintendent of schools. The school board is authorized to delegate to the superintendent of schools the power to extend the suspension for not to exceed an additional 20 school days. Hernandez v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 315 F. Supp. 289 (D. Colo. 1970).

Expulsion from or denial of admission to school attendance, beyond the temporary suspension period, shall not be made without a hearing if one is requested by the parent of the child, with the right of the parent to judicial review of the decision of the board by the appropriate juvenile court. Hernandez v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 315 F. Supp. 289 (D. Colo. 1970).

A student can be deprived of an opportunity to attend a public school without an opportunity for a fair hearing. The requirements of procedural due process cannot be construed to give, prior to suspension, the right to be heard, notice of the reason for the proposed governmental action, and an opportunity to confront adverse witnesses and present one's own arguments and evidence to an impartial decision maker. Hernandez v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 315 F. Supp. 289 (D. Colo. 1970).

Suspension period held reasonable. There is no evidence that the suspension period provided in this section is an unreasonable time to allow the principal and superintendent to attempt to resolve problems of discipline and behavior which is inimical to the welfare, safety, or morals of other pupils, before resorting to expulsions. Hernandez v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 315 F. Supp. 289 (D. Colo. 1970).

School district is not allowed to isolate potential witnesses from the student, even though this section does not explicitly provide for compulsion of witnesses. Nichols ex rel. Nichols v. DeStefano, 70 P.3d 505 (Colo. App. 2002), aff'd by operation of law, 84 P.3d 496 (Colo. 2004).

22-33-106. Grounds for suspension, expulsion, and denial of admission. (1) The following may be grounds for suspension or expulsion of a child from a public school during a school year:

- (a) Continued willful disobedience or open and persistent defiance of proper authority;
- (b) Willful destruction or defacing of school property;
- (c) Behavior on or off school property that is detrimental to the welfare or safety of other pupils or of school personnel, including behavior that creates a threat of physical harm to the child or to other children; except that, if the child who creates the threat is a child with a disability pursuant to section 22-20-103 (5), the child may not be expelled if the actions creating the threat are a manifestation of the child's disability. However, the child shall be removed from the classroom to an appropriate alternative setting within the district in which the child is enrolled for a length of time that is consistent with federal law, during which time the school in which the student is enrolled shall give priority to and arrange within ten days for a reexamination of the child's individualized education program to amend his or her program as necessary to ensure that the needs of the child are addressed in a more appropriate manner or setting that is less disruptive to other students and is in accordance with the provisions of article 20 of this title. Nothing in this paragraph (c) shall be construed to limit a school district's authority to suspend a child with a disability for a length of time that is consistent with federal law.

(c.5) (I) Declaration as a habitually disruptive student.

(II) For purposes of this paragraph (c.5), "habitually disruptive student" means a child who has caused a material and substantial disruption on school grounds, in a school vehicle, or at a school activity or sanctioned event three or more times during the course of a school year. Any student who is enrolled in a public school may be subject to being declared a habitually disruptive student.

(III) The student and the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian shall have been notified in writing of each disruption counted toward declaring the student as habitually disruptive pursuant to this paragraph (c.5) and the student and parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian shall have been notified in writing and by telephone or other means at the home or the place of employment of the parent or legal guardian of the definition of "habitually disruptive student".

(IV) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2000, p. 1971, § 12, effective June 2, 2000.)

(d) Committing one of the following offenses on school grounds, in a school vehicle, or at a school activity or sanctioned event:

(I) Possession of a dangerous weapon without the authorization of the school or the school district;

(II) The use, possession, or sale of a drug or controlled substance as defined in section 18-18-102 (5), C.R.S.; or

(III) The commission of an act that, if committed by an adult, would be robbery pursuant to part 3 of article 4 of title 18, C.R.S., or assault pursuant to part 2 of article 3 of title 18, C.R.S., other than the commission of an act that would be third degree assault under section 18-3-204, C.R.S., if committed by an adult.

(e) Repeated interference with a school's ability to provide educational opportunities to other students.

(f) Carrying, using, actively displaying, or threatening with the use of a firearm facsimile that could reasonably be mistaken for an actual firearm in a school building or in or on school property. Each school district shall develop a policy that shall authorize a student to carry, bring, use, or possess a firearm facsimile on school property for either a school-related or a nonschool-related activity. Such policy shall also consider student violations under this section on a case-by-case basis using the individual facts and circumstances to determine whether suspension, expulsion, or any other disciplinary action, if any, is necessary.

(g) Pursuant to section 22-12-105 (3), making a false accusation of criminal activity against an employee of an educational entity to law enforcement authorities or school district officials or personnel.

(1.2) Each school district is encouraged to consider each of the following factors before suspending or expelling a student pursuant to a provision of subsection (1) of this section:

(a) The age of the student;

(b) The disciplinary history of the student;

(c) Whether the student has a disability;

(d) The seriousness of the violation committed by the student;

(e) Whether the violation committed by the student threatened the safety of any student or staff member; and

(f) Whether a lesser intervention would properly address the violation committed by the student.

(1.5) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in accordance with the provisions of 20 U.S.C. sec. 7151, a student who is determined to have brought a firearm to a school, or to have possessed a firearm at a school, shall be expelled for a period of not less than one year; except that the superintendent of the student's school district may modify this requirement for a student on a case-by-case basis if such modification is in writing.

(2) Subject to the district's responsibilities under article 20 of this title, the following may be grounds for expulsion from or denial of admission to a public school, or diversion to an appropriate alternate program:

(a) Physical or mental disability such that the child cannot reasonably benefit from the programs available;

(b) Physical or mental disability or disease causing the attendance of the child suffering therefrom to be inimical to the welfare of other pupils.

(3) The following may constitute additional grounds for denial of admission to a public school:

(a) Graduation from the twelfth grade of any school or receipt of any document evidencing completion of the equivalent of a secondary curriculum;

(b) Failure to meet the requirements of age, by a child who has reached the age of six at a time after the beginning of the school year, as fixed by the board of education of the district in which the child applies for enrollment, as provided in section 22-1-115;

(c) Having been expelled from any school district during the preceding twelve months;

(d) Not being a resident of the district, unless otherwise entitled to attend under the provisions of article 23, 32, or 36 of this title;

(e) Failure to comply with the provisions of part 9 of article 4 of title 25, C.R.S. Any suspension, expulsion, or denial of admission for such failure to comply shall not be recorded as a disciplinary action but may be recorded with the student's immunization record with an appropriate explanation.

(f) Behavior in another school district during the preceding twelve months that is detrimental to the welfare or safety of other pupils or of school personnel.

(4) (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (4), a school district shall prohibit any student who is expelled from a public school of the school district pursuant to paragraph (c) or (d) of subsection (1) of this section or pursuant to subsection (1.5) of this section from enrolling or reenrolling in the same school in which the victim of the offense or member of a victim's immediate family is enrolled or employed. If the school district has no actual knowledge of the name of the victim of the offense for which the student was expelled, the provisions of this subsection (4) shall be implemented only upon request of the victim or a member of the victim's immediate family.

(b) In any school district that has only one school in which the expelled student can enroll, the school district shall either:

(I) Prohibit the student expelled from the school district pursuant to paragraph (c) or (d) of subsection (1) of this section or pursuant to subsection (1.5) of this section from enrolling or reenrolling in the same school in which the victim of the offense or member of a victim's immediate family is enrolled or employed; or

(II) Design a schedule for the expelled student that, to the extent possible, avoids contact between the expelled student and the victim or a member of the victim's immediate family.

(c) The provisions of this subsection (4) shall not apply to an offense that constitutes a crime against property.

(d) The provisions of this subsection (4) shall apply only if the expelled student is convicted, is adjudicated a juvenile delinquent, receives a deferred judgment, or is placed in a diversion program as a result of committing the offense for which the student was expelled. Prior to implementation of the provisions of this subsection (4), the school district shall contact the appropriate court to determine whether the provisions of this subsection (4) apply to an expelled student. The school district shall be authorized by the provisions of section 19-1-303 (1) (b), C.R.S., to obtain such information.

(e) (I) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, any county or district court shall have original concurrent jurisdiction to issue a temporary or permanent civil restraining order that enjoins the expelled student from enrolling or reenrolling in the same school in which the victim of the offense or member of a victim's immediate family is enrolled or employed.

(II) A motion for a temporary civil restraining order pursuant to this paragraph (e) shall be set for hearing, which hearing shall be ex parte, at the earliest possible time and shall take precedence over all matters except those matters of the same character that have been on the court docket for a longer period of time. The court shall hear all such motions as expeditiously as possible.

Subsection (1)(c) is not vague and overbroad and does afford notice of the type of conduct which is proscribed; therefore, it is constitutional on its face. People in Interest of K.P., 182 Colo. 409, 514 P.2d 1131 (1973).

In subsection (1)(c) the general assembly has provided factors in sufficiently clear and definite language to apprise students of the type of conduct which is prohibited. People in Interest of K.P., 182 Colo. 409, 514 P.2d 1131 (1973).

Standard of conduct in subsection (1)(c) distinguished from comparable, void statutory language. The standard of conduct set forth in subsection (1)(c) is distinguishable in two decisive respects from comparable statutory language which has been held to be void. First, the subsection focuses its prohibition only on conduct which is directed toward other pupils — a narrowed class of individuals. Second, the conduct proscribed is strictly limited to conduct which is hostile to welfare, safety, or morals and could not be utilized to prohibit all forms of socially unacceptable conduct. People in Interest of K.P., 182 Colo. 409, 514 P.2d 1131 (1973).

Suspension for wearing black berets was not a violation of first amendment rights to free expression under the federal constitution where conduct by the students in class and out materially disrupted class work and involved substantial disorder or invasion of the rights of others. *Hernandez v. ### 22-33-106.3. Disciplinary investigations - parental presence - student statements.

(1) A public school employee shall not use a student's statement concerning an act alleged to have been committed by the student that results in mandatory expulsion pursuant to section 22-33-106 (1) (d), in the expulsion hearing, unless the statement is signed by the student and a parent, guardian, or legal or physical custodian is present when the student signs the statement or admission or a reasonable attempt was made to contact the parent, guardian, or legal or physical custodian to have the parent, guardian, or legal or physical custodian present when the student signed the statement. The school shall be deemed to have made a reasonable attempt to contact the parent, guardian, or legal or physical custodian if the school calls each of the phone numbers the parent, guardian, or legal or physical custodian provides to the school and all phone numbers the student provides to the school for the parent, guardian, or legal or physical custodian.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, the student and his or her parent, guardian, or legal or physical custodian may expressly waive the requirement that the parent, guardian, or legal or physical custodian be present when a student signs a statement or admission. This express waiver shall be in writing and shall be obtained only after full advisement of the student and his or her parent, guardian, or legal or physical custodian of the student's rights prior to the signing of the statement or admission by the student.

(3) The requirements of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply if the student makes any deliberate misrepresentations affecting the applicability or requirements of this section and a school official, acting in good faith and in reasonable reliance on such deliberate misrepresentation, obtains a signed statement or admission of the student that does not comply with the requirements of subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent or interfere with a fact-finding or information-gathering investigation by a school or school employee.

(5) For the purposes of this section, "physical custodian" shall have the same meaning as that term is defined in section 19-1-103 (84), C.R.S.

22-33-106.5. Information concerning offenses committed by students. (1) Upon adjudication or conviction of a person under the age of eighteen years for an offense specified in section 22-33-106 (1) (d), the adjudicating juvenile court or the convicting district court, whichever is applicable, shall notify the school district in which the person is enrolled that the person is subject to mandatory expulsion based on the adjudication or conviction.

(2) Upon adjudication or conviction of a person under the age of eighteen years for an offense that constitutes a crime of violence, as defined in section 18-1.3-406, C.R.S., or for an offense involving controlled substances, or, for a person under eighteen years of age but at least twelve years of age, for an offense that would constitute unlawful sexual behavior, as defined in section 16-22-102 (9), C.R.S., if committed by an adult the adjudicating or convicting court shall notify the school district in which the person is enrolled of the person's adjudication or conviction.

22-33-107. Enforcement of compulsory school attendance. (1) The board of education of each school district shall designate one or more of the employees of the district to act as attendance officer for the district, or in cooperation with any court of record in the county, the probation officer of that court may be appointed the attendance officer. It is the attendance officer's duty in appropriate cases to counsel with students and parents and investigate the causes of nonattendance and report to the local board of education so as to enforce the provisions of this article which relate to compulsory attendance.

(2) The commissioner of education shall designate an employee of the department of education whose duty it is to assist the individual school districts and to supervise the enforcement of compulsory school attendance for the entire state.

(3) (a) As used in this subsection (3), a child who is "habitually truant" means a child who has attained the age of six years on or before August 1 of the year in question and is under the age of seventeen years having four unexcused absences from public school in any one month or ten unexcused absences from public school during any school year. Absences due to suspension or expulsion of a child shall be considered excused absences for purposes of this subsection (3).

(b) The board of education of each school district shall adopt and implement policies and procedures concerning children who are habitually truant. The policies and procedures shall include provisions for the development of a plan. The plan shall be developed with the goal of assisting the child to remain in school and, when practicable, with the full participation of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian. Appropriate school personnel shall make all reasonable efforts to meet with the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the child to review and evaluate the reasons for the child's truancy. The policies and procedures may also include but need not be limited to the following:

(I) (Deleted by amendment, L. 96, p. 1808, § 4, effective July 1, 1996.)

(II) Annually at the beginning of the school year and upon any enrollment during the school year, notifying the parent of each child enrolled in the public schools in writing of such parent's obligations pursuant to section 22-33-104 (5) and requesting that the parent acknowledge in writing awareness of such obligations;

(III) Annually at the beginning of the school year and upon any enrollment during the school year, obtaining from the parent of each child a telephone number or other means of contacting such parent during the school day; and

(IV) Establishing a system of monitoring individual unexcused absences of children which shall provide that, whenever a child who is enrolled in a public school fails to report to school on a regularly scheduled school day and school personnel have received no indication that the child's parent is aware of the child's absence, school personnel or volunteers under the direction of school personnel shall make a reasonable effort to notify by telephone such parent. Any person who, in good faith, gives or fails to give notice pursuant to this subparagraph (IV) shall be immune from any liability, civil or criminal, which might otherwise be incurred or imposed and shall have the same immunity with respect to any judicial proceeding which results from such notice or failure to give such notice.

(4) On or before September 15, 2010, and on or before September 15 each year thereafter, the board of education of each school district shall report to the department of education the number of students identified as habitually truant, as defined in paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section, for the preceding academic year. The department shall post this information for each school district on its web site for the public to access and may post additional information reported by school districts related to truancy.

(5) The department of education may post on its web site information concerning effective, research-based, truancy- and dropout-prevention programs for the benefit of school districts.

(a) Pursuant to section 19-2-508 (3) (a) (VI), C.R.S., that the student is required to attend school as a condition of release pending an adjudicatory trial;

(b) Pursuant to section 17-22.5-404, 18-1.3-204 (2.3), 19-2-907 (4), 19-2-925 (5), or 19-2-1002 (1) or (3), C.R.S., that the student is required to attend school as a condition of or in connection with any sentence imposed by the court, including a condition of probation or parole; or

(c) Pursuant to section 13-10-113 (8), C.R.S., that the student is required to attend school as a condition of or in connection with any sentence imposed by a municipal court.

(2) If the school district has notice that a student who is required to attend school as a condition of release or as a condition of or in connection with any sentence imposed by a court, including a condition of probation or parole, has enrolled in a nonpublic home-based educational program, pursuant to section 22-33-104.5, or in an independent or parochial school, the school district shall notify the appropriate court or parole board and shall no longer be required to notify the court or parole board, pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, if the student fails to attend.

22-33-108. Judicial proceedings. (1) Those courts having jurisdiction over juvenile matters in a judicial district shall have original jurisdiction over all matters arising out of the provisions of this article.

(1.5) (a) All proceedings brought under this article shall be commenced in the judicial district in which the child resides or is present.

(b) When proceedings commence under this article in a judicial district other than that of the child's residence or when the child changes his or her judicial district of residence after a proceeding under this article commences, the court in which proceedings commenced may, on its own motion or on the motion of any interested party, transfer the case to the court in the judicial district where the child resides.

(c) When a court transfers venue pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (1.5), the court shall transmit all documents and reports, or certified copies thereof, to the receiving court, which court shall proceed with the case as if the petition had been originally filed in that court.

(2) If a child or his parent desires court review of an order of the board of education issued pursuant to this article, he shall notify the board in writing within five days after receiving official notification of the board's action. The board of education shall thereupon issue, or cause to be issued, to the child or his parent a statement of the reasons for the board's action. Within ten days thereafter the child or his parents may file with the court a petition requesting that the order of the board of education be set aside, to which shall be appended the statement of the board of education. No docket or other fees shall be collected by the court in connection with this proceeding.

(3) After the petition is filed, the court shall notify the board and shall hold a hearing on the matter. The court shall conduct judicial review of a hearing decision pursuant to rule 106 (a) (4) of the Colorado rules of civil procedure and rule 3.8 of the Colorado rules of juvenile procedure.

(4) It is the duty of the attorney for the school district, an employee authorized by the local board of education pursuant to section 13-1-127 (7), C.R.S., to represent the school district in truancy proceedings, the attendance officer designated by the local board of education, or the local board of education to initiate, when appropriate, proceedings for the enforcement of the compulsory attendance provisions of this article upon request by the attendance officer of the district or of the state.

(5) As a last-resort approach for addressing the problem of truancy, to be used only after a school district has attempted other options for addressing truancy that employ best practices and research-based strategies to minimize the need for court action and the risk of detention orders against a child or parent, court proceedings shall be initiated to compel compliance with the compulsory attendance statute after the parent and the child have been given written notice by the attendance officer of the school district or of the state that proceedings will be initiated if the child does not comply with the provisions of this article. The school district may combine the notice and summons. If combined, the petition shall state the date on which proceedings will be initiated, which date shall not be less than five days from the date of the notice and summons. The notice shall state the provisions of this article with which compliance is required and shall state that the proceedings will not be brought if the child complies with that provision before the filing of the proceeding.

(6) In the discretion of the court before which a proceeding to compel attendance is brought, an order may be issued against the child or the child's parent or both compelling the child to attend school as provided by this article or compelling the parent to take reasonable steps to assure the child's attendance. The order may require the child or parent or both to follow an appropriate treatment plan that addresses problems affecting the child's school attendance and that ensures the child has an opportunity to obtain a quality education.

(7) (a) If the child does not comply with the valid court order issued against the child or against both the parent and the child, the court may order that an investigation be conducted as provided in section 19-2-510 (2), C.R.S., and the court may order the child to show cause why he or she should not be held in contempt of court. The court may include as a sanction after a finding of contempt an appropriate treatment plan that may include, but need not be limited to, community service to be performed by the child, supervised activities, participation in services for at-risk students, as described by section 22-33-204, and other activities having goals that shall ensure that the child has an opportunity to obtain a quality education.

(b) The court may impose on the child as a sanction for contempt of court a sentence to incarceration to any juvenile detention facility operated by or under contract with the department of human services pursuant to section 19-2-402, C.R.S., and any rules promulgated by the Colorado supreme court.

(8) If the parent refuses or neglects to obey the order issued against the parent or against both the parent and the child, the court may order the parent to show cause why he or she should not be held in contempt of court, and, if the parent fails to show cause, the court may impose a fine of up to but not more than twenty-five dollars per day or confine the parent in the county jail until the order is complied with.

ANNOTATION

Held unconstitutional. Statute precluding the court from incarcerating a child in a secure facility for contempt in a compulsory school attendance case violates the separation of powers doctrine of the Colorado constitution by impermissibly abrogating the judiciary's power to incarcerate juveniles for contempt of court orders. ## PART 2

EXPULSION PREVENTION PROGRAMS

22-33-201. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds that except when a student's behavior would cause imminent harm to others in the school or when an incident requires automatic expulsion as defined by state law or a school's conduct and discipline code, expulsion should be the last step taken after several attempts to deal with a student who has discipline problems. The general assembly further finds that school districts should work with the student's parent or guardian and with state agencies and community-based nonprofit organizations to develop alternatives to help students who are at risk of expulsion before expulsion becomes a necessary step and to support students who are unable to avoid mandatory expulsion.

Source: L. 96: Entire part added, p. 432, § 4, effective April 22. L. 2000: Entire part amended, p. 1966, § 11, effective June 2.

22-33-201.5. Definitions. For purposes of this part 2, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Educational services" means any of the following types of services to provide instruction in the academic areas of reading, writing, mathematics, science, and social studies:

- (a) Tutoring services;
- (b) Alternative educational programs;
- (c) Vocational education programs.

(2) "Facility school" means an approved facility school as defined in section 22-2-402 (1).

22-33-202. Identification of at-risk students. (1) Each school district shall adopt policies to identify students who are at risk of suspension or expulsion from school. Students identified may include those who are truant, who have been or are likely to be declared habitually truant, or who are likely to be declared habitually disruptive. The school district shall provide students who are identified as at risk of suspension or expulsion with a plan to provide the necessary support services to help them avoid expulsion. The school district shall work with the student's parent or guardian in providing the services and may provide the services through agreements with appropriate local governmental agencies, appropriate state agencies, community-based organizations, and institutions of higher education entered into pursuant to section 22-33-204. The failure of the school district to identify a student for participation in an expulsion-prevention program or the failure of such program to remediate a student's behavior shall not be grounds to prevent school personnel from proceeding with appropriate disciplinary measures or used in any way as a defense in an expulsion proceeding.

(2) Each school district may provide educational services to students who are identified as at risk of suspension or expulsion from school. Any school district that provides educational services to students who are at risk of suspension or expulsion may apply for moneys through the expelled and at-risk student services grant program established in section 22-33-205 to assist in providing such educational services.

22-33-203. Educational alternatives for expelled students. (1) Upon expelling a student, the school district shall provide information to the student's parent or guardian concerning the educational alternatives available to the student during the period of expulsion. If the parent or guardian chooses to provide a home-based educational program for the student, the school district shall assist the parent in obtaining appropriate curricula for the student if requested by the parent or guardian.

(2) (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), upon request of a student or the student's parent or guardian, the school district shall provide, for any student who is expelled from the school district, any educational services that are deemed appropriate for the student by the school district. The educational services provided shall be designed to enable the student to return to the school in which he or she was enrolled prior to expulsion, to successfully complete the GED, or to enroll in a nonpublic, nonparochial school or in an alternative school, including but not limited to a charter school or a pilot school established pursuant to article 38 of this title. The expelling school district shall determine the amount of credit the student shall receive toward graduation for the educational services provided pursuant to this section.

(b) The educational services provided pursuant to this section are designed to provide a second chance for the student to succeed in achieving an education. While receiving educational services, a student may be suspended or expelled pursuant to the conduct and discipline code of the school district providing the educational services and the provisions of part 1 of this article. Except as required by federal law, the expelling school district is not required to provide educational services to any student who is suspended or expelled while receiving educational services pursuant to this section until the period of the suspension or expulsion is completed.

(c) (1) Educational services provided pursuant to this section shall be provided by the expelling school district; except that the expelling school district may provide educational services either directly or in cooperation with one or more other school districts, boards of cooperative services, charter schools, nonpublic, nonparochial schools, or pilot schools established pursuant to article 38 of this title under contract with the expelling school district. Any program of educational services provided by a nonpublic, nonparochial school shall be subject to approval by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-2-107.

(II) Educational services may be provided by the school district through agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-33-204. The expelling school district need not provide the educational services on school district property. Any expelled student receiving educational services shall be included in the expelling school district's pupil enrollment as defined in section 22-54-103 (10).

(d) If an expelled student is receiving educational services delivered by a school district other than the expelling school district, by a charter school in a school district other than the expelling school district, by a board of cooperative services, by a nonpublic, nonparochial school, or by a pilot school pursuant to an agreement entered into pursuant to subparagraph

(I) of paragraph (c) of this subsection (2), the expelling school district shall transfer ninety-five percent of the district per pupil revenues, as defined in section 22-30.5-112 (2) (a.5) (II) to the school district, charter school, nonpublic, nonparochial school, board of cooperative services, or pilot school that is providing educational services, reduced in proportion to the amount of time remaining in the school year at the time the student begins receiving educational services.

(e) Any school district, charter school, nonpublic, nonparochial school, board of cooperative services, or pilot school that is providing educational services to expelled students pursuant to this subsection (2) may apply for moneys through the expelled student services grant program established in section 22-33-205 to assist in providing educational services.

(3) If a student is expelled and the student is not receiving educational services pursuant to this section, the school district shall contact the expelled student's parent or guardian at least once every sixty days until the beginning of the next school year to determine whether the student is receiving educational services from some other source; except that the school district need not contact a student's parent or guardian after the student is enrolled in another school district or in an independent or parochial school or if the student is committed to the department of human services or is sentenced pursuant to article 2 of title 19, C.R.S.

(4) In addition to the educational services required under this section, a student who is at risk of suspension or expulsion or has been suspended or expelled, or the student's parent or guardian, may request any of the services provided by the school district through an agreement entered into pursuant to section 22-33-204, and the school district may provide such services.

22-33-204. Services for at-risk students - agreements with state agencies and community organizations. (1) Each school district, regardless of the number of students expelled by the district, may enter into agreements with appropriate local governmental agencies and, to the extent necessary, with the managing state agencies, including but not limited to the department of human services and the department of public health and environment, with community-based nonprofit and faith-based organizations, with nonpublic, nonparochial schools, with the department of military and veterans affairs, and with public and private institutions of higher education to work with the student's parent or guardian to provide services to any student who is identified as being at risk of suspension or expulsion or who has been suspended or expelled and to the student's family. Any services provided pursuant to an agreement with a nonpublic, nonparochial school shall be subject to approval by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-2-107, C.R.S. Services provided through such agreements may include, but are not limited to:

(a) Educational services required to be provided under section 22-33-203 (2) and any educational services provided to at-risk students identified pursuant to section 22-33-202;

(b) Counseling services;

(c) Drug or alcohol-addiction treatment programs;

(d) Family preservation services.

(e) and (f) (Deleted by amendment, L. 98, p. 570, § 3, effective April 30, 1998.)

(2) At a minimum, each agreement entered into pursuant to this section shall specify the services to be provided under the agreement, the entity that will coordinate and oversee provision of the services, and the responsibilities of each entity entering into the agreement. In addition, each agreement shall require each entity entering into the agreement to contribute the services or funds for the provision of the services specified in the agreement. The agreement shall specify the services or the amount and source of funds that each entity will provide and the mechanism for providing said services or funds.

(3) Each school district shall use a portion of its per pupil revenues to provide services under agreements entered into pursuant to this section for each student who is at risk of suspension or expulsion or who is suspended or expelled. In addition, the school district may use federal moneys, moneys received from any other state appropriation, and moneys received from any other public or private grant to provide said services.

22-33-204.5. Legislative declaration. The general assembly finds that a student who is placed in a residential child care facility or other facility licensed by the department of human services or in a hospital or who is receiving educational services through a day treatment center is, in most cases, dealing with significant behavioral and emotional issues. These issues make it difficult, if not impossible, for the student to function within a regular school and often severely impact the student's ability to participate in a facility school. The general assembly further finds that, although a student who is placed in a facility cannot be expelled due to the nature of the placement, the student is at risk of being unable to prosper academically and should be considered an at-risk student for purposes of section 22-33-205.

22-33-205. Services for expelled and at-risk students - grants - criteria.
(1) (a) There is hereby established in the department of education the expelled and at-risk student services grant program, referred to in this section as the "program". The program shall provide grants to school districts, to charter schools, to alternative schools within school districts, to nonpublic, nonparochial schools, to boards of cooperative services, to facility schools, and to pilot schools established pursuant to article 38 of this title to assist them in providing educational services, and other services provided pursuant to section 22-33-204, to expelled students pursuant to section 22-33-203 (2), to students at risk of expulsion as identified pursuant to section 22-33-202 (1), and to truant students.

(b) In addition to school districts, charter schools, alternative schools within school districts, nonpublic, nonparochial schools, boards of cooperative services, facility schools, and pilot schools, the department of military and veterans affairs may apply for a grant pursuant to the provisions of this section to assist the department with a program to provide educational services to expelled students; except that nonpublic, nonparochial schools may only apply for a grant pursuant to the provisions of this section to fund educational services that have been approved by the state board pursuant to section 22-2-107. The department shall follow application procedures established by the department of education pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. The department of education shall determine whether to award a grant to the department of military and veterans affairs and the amount of the grant.

(c) Grants awarded pursuant to this section shall be paid for out of any moneys appropriated to the department of education for implementation of the program.

(2) (a) The state board by rule shall establish application procedures by which a school district, a charter school, an alternative school within a school district, a nonpublic, nonparochial school, a board of cooperative services, a facility school, or a pilot school may annually apply for a grant under the program. At a minimum, the application shall include a plan for provision of educational services, including the type of educational services to be provided, the estimated cost of providing such educational services, and the criteria that will be used to evaluate the effectiveness of the educational services provided.

(b) The state board shall determine which of the applicants shall receive grants and the amount of each grant. In awarding grants, the state board shall consider the following criteria:

(I) The costs incurred by the applicant in providing educational services to expelled or at-risk students pursuant to the provisions of this part 2 during the school year preceding the school year for which the grant is requested;

(II) (Deleted by amendment, L. 98, p. 570, § 4, effective April 30, 1998.)

(III) The number of expelled, at-risk, or truant students who are receiving educational services through the applicant under agreements entered into pursuant to the provisions of this part 2 during the school year preceding the year for which the grant is requested;

(IV) The quality of educational services to be provided by the applicant under the plan;

(V) The cost-effectiveness of the educational services to be provided under the plan;

(VI) The amount of funding received by the applicant in relation to the cost of the educational services provided under the plan; and

(VII) If the applicant is seeking to renew a grant or has been awarded a grant pursuant to this section in the previous five years, the demonstrated effectiveness of the educational services funded by the previous grant.

(3) The state board shall annually award at least forty-five percent of any moneys appropriated for the program to applicants that provide educational services to students from more than one school district and at least one-half of any increase in the appropriation for the program for the 2009-10 fiscal year to applicants that provide services and supports that are designed to reduce the number of truancy cases requiring court involvement and that also reflect the best interests of students and families. The services and supports shall include, but need not be limited to, alternatives to guardian ad litem representation in truancy proceedings.

(4) The department of education is authorized to retain up to one percent of any moneys appropriated for the program for the purpose of annually evaluating the program. The department of education is authorized and encouraged to retain up to an additional two percent of any moneys appropriated for the program for the purpose of partnering with organizations or agencies that provide services and supports that are designed to reduce the number of truancy cases requiring court involvement and that also reflect the best interests of students and families. The services and supports shall include, but need not be limited to, alternatives to guardian ad litem representation in truancy proceedings. On or before January 1, 2006, and on or before January 1 each year thereafter, the department of education shall report to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, the evaluation findings on the outcomes and the effectiveness of the program related to school attendance, attachment, and achievement. The report shall also include specific information on the efficacy of services and supports that provide alternatives to court involvement and guardian ad litem representation in truancy proceedings.

22-35-101. Short title. This article shall be known and may be cited as the “Concurrent Enrollment Programs Act”.

Source: L. 2009: Entire article R&RE, (HB 09-1319), ch. 286, p. 1299, § 1, effective May 21.

22-35-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:

(a) Creating pathways between high schools and institutions of higher education is essential to fulfilling the Colorado promise of doubling the number of postsecondary degrees earned by Coloradans and reducing by half the number of students who drop out of high schools in the state;

(b) Concurrent enrollment programs have the potential to help advance the vision for an aligned system of high school and postsecondary standards and assessments, as described in the “Preschool to Postsecondary Education Alignment Act”, part 10 of article 7 of this title;

(c) Concurrent enrollment programs have existed for many years but with little state coordination, limited attention to quality and consistency, and no accountability. As a result, access has been necessarily limited.

(d) Historically, the beneficiaries of concurrent enrollment programs have often been high-achieving students. The expanded mission of concurrent enrollment programs is to serve a wider range of students, particularly those who represent communities with historically low college participation rates.

(e) The state should improve teachers’, administrators’, and parents’ access to information concerning concurrent enrollment programs;

(f) The emerging economic reality is that a postsecondary credential of some kind is the minimum educational requirement for a job that earns a living wage in Colorado. In spite of this, the number of students in Colorado who earn a postsecondary credential is disproportionately low when compared to other states.

(g) All of the state’s high schools should eventually develop equitable access to concurrent enrollment programs to provide the infrastructure necessary to improve high school retention, to motivate young people to take seriously the need to become postsecondary- and workforce-ready, and to accelerate students’ progress toward a postsecondary credential.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that, for purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, providing funding for concurrent enrollment programs is a permissible use of the moneys in the state education fund because the moneys are being used for accountable school reform, for accountable programs to meet state academic standards, and for class size reduction.

(3) The general assembly further finds and declares its intention that the administrative costs incurred by the department of education in its implementation of the accelerating students through concurrent enrollment program created in section 22-35-108 shall be supported by federal funds available for government services pursuant to section 14002 of Title XIV of the federal “American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009”, Public Law 111-5 of the one hundred eleventh United States Congress.

(4) Now, therefore, to broaden access to and improve the quality of concurrent enrollment programs, the general assembly concludes that it is appropriate and in the best interests of the state to support policies designed to improve coordination between institutions of secondary education and institutions of higher education and to ensure financial transparency and accountability.

22-35-104. Enrollment in an institution of higher education - cooperative agreement. (1) (a) A qualified student enrolled in a high school of a school district who has applied to and received approval from the superintendent of the school district or his or her designee, or a qualified student enrolled in a district charter school, an institute charter school, or a high school of a BOCES who has applied to and received approval from the chief administrator of the district charter school, an institute charter school, or a high school of a BOCES, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section may register with and concurrently enroll in an institution of higher education in accordance with the provisions of this article.

(b) Each local education provider shall annually notify all students and parents or legal guardians of students enrolled in the local education provider of the opportunity for concurrent enrollment by qualified students in postsecondary courses, including academic courses and career and technical education courses.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), a qualified student shall not concurrently enroll in a basic skills course unless he or she is enrolled in the twelfth grade in a local education provider.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), if a qualified student is not a participant in the ASCENT program and has not satisfied the minimum requirements for graduation established by his or her local education provider by the end of his or her twelfth-grade year and is therefore retained by the local education provider for additional instruction, the qualified student shall not concurrently enroll in postsecondary courses, including academic or career and technical education courses, that are worth more than a total of nine credit hours, including basic skills courses. Furthermore, the qualified student shall not concurrently enroll in more than:

(I) Six credit hours of postsecondary courses, including academic courses and career and technical education courses, in any academic semester if the student is registered as a full-time pupil in his or her local education provider; or

(II) Three credit hours of postsecondary courses, including academic courses and career and technical education courses, in any academic semester if the student is registered as a part-time pupil in his or her local education provider.

(II) A qualified student enrolled in a district charter school, an institute charter school, or a high school of a BOCES who seeks to concurrently enroll in an institution of higher education shall apply to the chief administrator of the district charter school, institute charter school, or high school of a BOCES for approval of concurrent enrollment no later than sixty days before the end of the academic term that immediately precedes the intended term of concurrent enrollment; except that the chief administrator may waive the time limitation at his or her discretion.

In approving an academic plan of study, a principal, counselor, or teacher advisor shall apply the guidelines established by rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to section 22-35-111 (1) (b).

(4) (a) A qualified student who intends to concurrently enroll in a postsecondary course, including an academic course or a career and technical education course, at an institution of higher education shall satisfy the minimum prerequisites for the course prior to his or her enrollment in the course.

(III) A requirement that the local education provider pay the tuition for each course completed by a qualified student through concurrent enrollment at the institution of higher education in an amount that shall be negotiated by the local education provider and the institution pursuant to the provisions of section 22-35-105 (3);

(IV) A requirement that the local education provider and the institution of higher education establish an academic program of study for each qualified student who concurrently enrolls in the institution, which academic program of study shall include the academic plan of study established pursuant to subsection (3) of this section and a plan by which the local education provider shall make available to the student ongoing counseling and career planning;

(V) A confirmation by the local education provider of the qualified student's uniquely identifying student number, which shall be retained by the institution of higher education for the purposes described in section 23-18-202 (5) (c) (I) (B), C.R.S.;

(VI) Language authorizing the payment of stipends from the college opportunity fund program, part 2 of article 18 of title 23, C.R.S., on behalf of the qualified student; except that a cooperative agreement need not include this language if the institution of higher education that is a party to the cooperative agreement does not receive stipends from the college opportunity fund program;

(VII) Consideration and identification of ways in which qualified students who concurrently enroll in postsecondary courses, including academic courses or career and technical education courses, can remain eligible for interscholastic high school activities; and

(VIII) Other financial provisions that the local education provider and the institution of higher education may elect to include in the agreement pursuant to the provisions of section 22-35-105 (5).

(c) An institution of higher education that enters into a cooperative agreement with a local education provider shall provide a copy of the cooperative agreement to the department of higher education, which shall retain the copy. If the cooperative agreement contemplates the provision of career and technical education courses to qualified students, the institution shall also provide a copy of the cooperative agreement to the state board for community colleges and occupational education, which shall retain the copy.

(7) A postsecondary instructor shall not be required to hold a teacher's license or authorization issued pursuant to the provisions of article 60.5 of this title in order to instruct a qualified student who is concurrently enrolled in a course offered by an institution of higher education.

(8) (a) A district charter school may elect to allow a qualified student of the district charter school to concurrently enroll pursuant to the provisions of a cooperative agreement that is entered into by either:

(I) The school district of the district charter school and an institution of higher education; or

(II) The district charter school and an institution of higher education.

(b) If a district charter school elects to allow a qualified student of the district charter school to concurrently enroll pursuant to the provisions of a cooperative agreement that is entered into by the school district of the district charter school and an institution of higher education:

(I) The district charter school shall be responsible for paying the tuition for each course that is completed by the qualified student pursuant to the cooperative agreement; and

(II) The qualified student of the district charter school shall not concurrently enroll unless, not later than sixty days before the end of the academic term that immediately precedes the intended term of concurrent enrollment, he or she applies for approval of concurrent enrollment from the superintendent of the school district or his or her designee, and the superintendent or his or her designee grants such approval or waives this time limitation, as described in subsection (2) of this section.

(c) If a district charter school elects to allow a qualified student of the district charter school to concurrently enroll as described in subparagraph (I) or (II) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (8), nothing in this article shall be interpreted to entitle the district charter school to any moneys from the school district of the district charter school other than those moneys to which the district charter school is entitled pursuant to the provisions of this title.

(9) A student who concurrently enrolls at an institution of higher education pursuant to this article shall not be disqualified or otherwise rendered ineligible for any state-based financial assistance for which he or she would otherwise be eligible as an entering student at the institution.

(10) (a) Each public institution of higher education is strongly encouraged to allow the concurrent enrollment of qualified students pursuant to this article.

(4) (a) Before paying the tuition for a course in which a qualified student concurrently enrolls, the local education provider in which the qualified student is enrolled shall require the qualified student and his or her parent or legal guardian to sign a document requiring repayment of the amount of tuition paid by the local education provider for the course on the qualified student's behalf if the qualified student does not complete the course for any reason without the consent of the principal of the student's high school.

(b) If a qualified student concurrently enrolled in a course for whom a local education provider pays tuition does not complete the course for any reason without the consent of the principal of the high school in which the qualified student is enrolled, the qualified student or the qualified student's parent or legal guardian shall reimburse the local education provider, as provided in the document signed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (4), for the amount of tuition paid by the local education provider for the course.

(a) "Community college" means an institution that operates as part of the state system of community and technical colleges established in part 2 of article 60 of title 23, C.R.S., or a junior college, as defined in section 23-71-102, C.R.S., that operates pursuant to article 71 of title 23, C.R.S.

(b) "Dropout recovery program" means a dual-credit high school diploma completion program operated by a community college pursuant to an agreement with a local education provider for students who have dropped out or are at risk of dropping out of high school.

(2) (a) A community college may enter into agreements with one or more local education providers to operate dropout recovery programs for students who have dropped out or are at risk of dropping out of high school. To participate in a dropout recovery program, a student shall be at least sixteen years of age but younger than twenty-one years of age. If the student is at risk of dropping out of high school, the student shall obtain permission from the chief executive officer of the school in which the student is enrolled before the student may participate in the dropout recovery program. A student who enrolls in a dropout recovery program is included in the pupil enrollment of the local education provider that is a partner in the program, but does not attend classes at a school operated by the local education provider. The student attends classes either in person or virtually only at the community college at which the student enrolls pursuant to the dropout recovery program. A student may participate in a dropout recovery program until he or she completes the high school graduation requirements or reaches twenty-one years of age, whichever comes first.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of this article or of article 54 of this title or any rules adopted for the implementation of said article to the contrary:

(I) A student enrolled in a dropout recovery program pursuant to this section may enroll in basic skills courses, as necessary, regardless of the student's high school grade level;

(II) A student enrolled in a dropout recovery program pursuant to this section is not restricted in the number of credit hours per semester or in the overall number of credit hours for which the student may enroll through the dropout recovery program, unless limited by the enrolling institution;

(III) After a student enrolls in a dropout recovery program, the local education provider that is a partner in the program may include the student in its pupil enrollment as a full-time student, regardless of whether the student is actually in class for the minimum number of required hours for full-time enrollment, so long as the student enrolls in at least seven credit hours per semester; and

(IV) A student enrolled in a dropout recovery program pursuant to this section may enroll in courses at the community college that qualify for credit toward completion of the local education provider's requirements for high school graduation, even if the courses do not qualify for basic skills credit or academic credit applicable toward earning a degree or certificate at the community college.

(3) The agreement between a community college and a local education provider to operate a dropout recovery program pursuant to this section shall specify, at a minimum, that:

(a) All of the courses the student is allowed to take through the dropout recovery program qualify for credit toward completion of the local education provider's requirements for high school graduation;

(b) The local education provider shall provide to the community college the uniquely identifying student number for each student enrolled in the dropout recovery program;

(c) The local education provider shall confirm that each student enrolled in the dropout recovery program has dropped out of enrollment with a local education provider or, if the student is at risk of dropping out of high school, has the permission of the chief executive officer of the school in which the student is enrolled to enroll in the dropout recovery program;

(d) The local education provider shall include each student enrolled in the dropout recovery program as a full-time pupil in the local education provider's pupil enrollment so long as the student is enrolled in the dropout recovery program; and

(e) The local education provider shall pay the student share of the tuition for each course completed by a student through the dropout recovery program in an amount negotiated by the local education provider and the community college. The local education provider and the community college may agree to additional financial provisions that are not inconsistent with the provisions of section 22-35-105.

No violation of subsection (3)(a) where disabled student was not allowed to continue in her previous program until she moved back into the school district. Limiting the number of nonresident students requesting special education does not constitute an illegal quota. The school district’s obligation is limited by the district’s resources and the district’s primary obligation to provide services to residents. Bradshaw v. Cherry Creek Sch. Dist. No. 5, 98 P.3d 886 (Colo. App. 2003).

22-38-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) It is the goal of the state of Colorado to provide educational opportunities to all students who choose to pursue such opportunities;

(b) To maintain discipline in the public schools, it is sometimes essential for the public schools to expel students;

(c) Students who are expelled from public schools are much more likely than their former classmates to fail to obtain a high school education and to have early contacts with the criminal justice system;

(d) Providing students in the sixth through ninth grades who have been expelled with the opportunity to continue their education in a proper setting will enhance the possibility that they will continue their education and become productive members of society;

(e) The best way to promote a desire to stay in school is to intervene in a student’s academic career prior to the student entering high school; and

(f) As students who are expelled from public schools no longer belong to any school district, it is appropriate for the state to devise programs to meet their needs.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that this article is enacted for the following purposes:

(a) To complement the present disciplinary systems in existence at Colorado public schools;

(b) To encourage diverse approaches to educating children who have been expelled;

(c) To provide students who have been expelled with the opportunity to continue their education;

(d) To determine the most effective means of addressing the educational, psychological, cultural, and other needs of those students who have been expelled; and

(e) To provide resources for development of an extended day, year-round program for students who require more intense supervision and instruction.

22-38-104. Pilot schools - requirements - authority. (1) The state board may provide for the establishment and operation of not more than one full-time residential pilot school and not more than three year-round nonresidential pilot schools pursuant to the following provisions:

(a) The state board shall consider placement of the pilot schools in geographic areas of the state that shall provide the easiest access to the maximum number of expelled and at-risk students eligible to attend the pilot schools. The state board is urged to consider placement of one pilot school in the Denver metropolitan area; one in the southeastern part of the state south of the 39th parallel and east of the continental divide; one in the northeast part of the state north of U.S. Interstate 70, east of the continental divide; and one west of the continental divide.

(b) A pilot school shall be a public, nonsectarian, nonreligious, non-home-based school.

(c) A pilot school shall be administered and governed by a board of directors in a manner agreed to by the pilot school applicant and the state board.

(d) A pilot school shall be subject to all federal and state laws and constitutional provisions prohibiting discrimination on the basis of disability, race, creed, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, or ancestry. Enrollment decisions shall be made in a nondiscriminatory manner specified by the pilot school applicant in the pilot school application.

(2) Not more than three pilot schools shall each have a minimum of sixty students who do not reside at the school, approximately two-thirds of whom shall be expelled students, and the remainder of whom shall be at-risk students admitted by the pilot school in the manner specified in the pilot school application.

(3) The residential pilot school shall have a minimum of sixty students, two-thirds of which shall be expelled students and one-third of which shall be at-risk students. The school shall make available full-time residential facilities for all expelled students who, in the determination of the pilot school, may benefit from an environment different from those conditions that may have contributed to the student’s expulsion. The residential pilot school shall only admit expelled and at-risk students who are in the sixth grade or seventh grade if compelling circumstances exist for admitting such students to a residential facility.

(4) A pilot school shall operate on a year-round basis and offer services for an extended period of more than eight hours during each educational day.

(5) A pilot school shall be accountable to the state board for purposes of ensuring compliance with applicable laws and contract provisions and the requirement of section 15 of article IX of the state constitution.

(6) A pilot school may require a parent or legal guardian and the student to enter into a mutual responsibility agreement according to the terms of which a parent, legal guardian, or student provides services to the pilot school or agrees to make a financial contribution to the pilot school.

(7) The state board shall promulgate guidelines for assessing the ability of the parent or legal guardian of a student to make a financial contribution to a pilot school to cover part, or all, of the costs of tuition for that student at the pilot school. The guidelines shall provide for a process to be used by pilot schools to assess the financial resources of a parent or legal guardian that could be reasonably applied to offset the costs of a student's education without imposing a financial hardship on the parent, legal guardian, or family of the student attending the pilot school.

(8) Pursuant to contract, a pilot school may operate free from specified school district policies, state statutes, state regulations, and contract requirements otherwise applicable to schools located in the school district where the pilot school is located. Upon request of the pilot school, the state board may release the pilot school from any school district policies, state statutes, state regulations, or contract requirements. Any waiver made pursuant to this subsection (8) shall be for the term of the contract for which the waiver is made.

(9) (a) A pilot school shall be responsible for its own operation including, but not limited to, preparation of a budget, compilation of any data required by this article, contracting for services, and personnel matters.

(b) A pilot school may negotiate and contract with a school district, the governing body of a state college or university, or any third party for the use of a school building and grounds, the operation and maintenance thereof, and the provision of any service, activity, or undertaking that the pilot school is required to perform in order to carry out the educational program described in its contract. A pilot school may contract with the state for the use of any available state facility in order to carry out the educational program described in its contract. Any services for which a pilot school contracts with the state board or any school district shall be provided to the pilot school at cost.

(10) In addition to the students enrolled at each pilot school pursuant to section 22-38-111, a pilot school may enter into an agreement pursuant to section 22-33-203 (2) with a school district or with a board of cooperative services to provide educational services to enable expelled students to either return to school or successfully complete the GED. Students receiving such services shall not be considered to be enrolled at the pilot school, and, if the pilot school provides full-time residential facilities, students receiving such services need not reside at the pilot school.

ANNOTATION

The right and power of school districts to assess and collect special taxes for school purposes is purely statutory. No aid in the determination of the question can be gained from outside sources; it can only be determined from the statutory provisions and their construction, according to well-known and generally accepted rules. Bd. of Comm'rs v. Pueblo & A. V. R. R., 3 Colo. App. 398, 33 P. 682 (1893) (decided prior to earliest source of this section, § 123-3-1, as amended).

22-40-102. Certification - tax revenues.

(1) (a) Repealed.

(b) (I) In accordance with the schedule prescribed by section 39-5-128, C.R.S., the board of education of each school district shall certify to the board of county commissioners of the county wherein said school district is located the separate amounts necessary, in the judgment of said board of education, to be raised from levies against the valuation for assessment of all taxable property located within the boundaries of said school district for its general, bond redemption, transportation, and special building and technology funds to defray its expenditures therefrom during its then current fiscal year.

(II) This paragraph (b) is effective July 1, 1992.

(1.5) (a) The board of education of any school district, at a special election called for the purpose, shall submit to the eligible electors of the district the question of whether to impose a mill levy of a stated amount for the special building and technology fund or to increase the mill levy for the special building and technology fund by a stated amount, which levy shall not exceed ten mills in any year or exceed three years in duration. When a mill levy for more than one year has been approved, the board of education of any school district may, without calling an election, decrease the amount or duration of the mill levy in the second or third year.

(b) (I) Any special election called pursuant to this subsection (1.5) shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in February, May, October, November, or December and shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of articles 1 to 13 of title 1, C.R.S.

(II) (Deleted by amendment, L. 92, p. 837, § 33, effective January 1, 1993.)

(c) (I) Repealed.

(II) and (III) (Deleted by amendment, L. 92, p. 837, § 33, effective January 1, 1993.)

(d) If a majority of the votes cast at the election are in favor of the question, the mill levy of the district for the special building and technology fund shall be as so approved by the eligible electors of the district, and taxes may be levied for the special building and technology fund of the district as so approved.

(1.7) (a) The board of education of any school district, at the regular biennial election for school district directors or on the dates authorized by section 22-54-108 for elections for additional local property tax revenues under the "Public School Finance Act of 1994" shall submit to the eligible electors of the district the question of whether to impose a mill levy for the payment of excess transportation costs. If a majority of the votes cast at any such election are in favor of the question, an additional mill levy shall be levied each year, and revenues received therefrom shall be deposited into the transportation fund of the district created in section 22-45-103 (1) (f).

(b) For the purposes of this subsection (1.7), "excess transportation costs" means the current operating expenditures for pupil transportation, as defined in section 22-51-102 (1), minus the total amount of the most recent payment actually received by the district under article 51 of this title, and annual expenditures for the purchase or lease of pupil transportation vehicles or other capital outlays related to pupil transportation. The calculation of excess transportation costs shall be based upon amounts expended and amounts received for the twelve-month period ending on June 30 prior to the certification of the mill levy.

(2) If only a portion of a school district is located within a county, the board of education of said school district shall certify the separate amounts to the board of county commissioners of each county wherein a portion of said school district is located. The board of county commissioners of each such county shall levy a tax upon the taxable property located within said portion of the school district included in its county at a rate sufficient to produce a pro rata share of each separate amount certified, such pro rata share to be based on the ratio of the valuation for assessment of taxable property located within that portion of said school district located within said county to the total valuation for assessment of taxable property located in the entire school district; except that the rate of tax levies for said district shall be the same throughout the territorial limits of said school district except for a variation in the tax levy needed for the bond redemption fund of said district, which rate may vary because of changes in the boundaries of said district or the dissolution of a former school district.

(3) The board of education of a school district which had an actual enrollment of more than fifty thousand pupils during the preceding school year may make the certification provided for in subsection (1) of this section no later than December 15.

(4) Repealed.

(5) (a) Whenever after a reorganization any school district has within its boundaries any territory which was located within the boundaries of a former school district which incurred bonded indebtedness, or is otherwise liable for the payment thereof, and the obligations of such bonded indebtedness have not been satisfied or otherwise assumed by said existing school district, then the board of education of the existing school district shall certify to the board of county commissioners the amount required during the next ensuing calendar year to satisfy such territory's proportionate share of the obligations of the outstanding bonded indebtedness incurred by said former school district. A separate levy, sufficient to raise the amount so certified, shall be made against the valuation for assessment of all taxable property located within such territory. The proceeds of such levy shall be credited to the bond redemption fund of the existing school district, but a separate account within such bond redemption fund shall be maintained to clearly reflect the amount raised from such separate levy. This paragraph (a) shall be construed to be supplemental to and not in modification of section 22-42-122.

(b) Whenever two or more school districts or portions of school districts have been united, either by consolidation of whole districts or of parts of districts or by the detachment of territory from one school district and its annexation to another school district, and at the time of such uniting by any of the above methods there shall be united into one school district portions of any territory liable for the payment of bonded indebtedness, different either in amounts, dates of creation, or dates of interest or principal maturities, then, in certifying to the boards of county commissioners the statement of the amount necessary to be raised from levies pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, it is the duty of the board of education of such united district to also certify to the board of county commissioners the numbers of all school districts under which any portion of the united district had bonded indebtedness outstanding at the time of such uniting, the legal description of the territory liable for the payment of such bonded indebtedness, or portion thereof, and the amount required during the ensuing calendar year to meet payments of interest and principal falling due therein. A separate levy, sufficient to raise the amount so certified, shall be made against the valuation for assessment of all taxable property located within such territory. The proceeds of such levy shall be credited to the bond redemption fund of the united school district, but a separate account within such bond redemption fund shall be maintained to clearly reflect the amount raised from such separate levy. This paragraph (b) shall be construed to be supplemental to and not in modification of section 22-42-122.

(c) Repealed.

(6) Each school district, with such assistance as may be required from the department of education, shall inform the county treasurer for each county within the district's boundaries no later than December 15 of each year of said district's general fund mill levy in the absence of funds estimated to be received by said district pursuant to the "Public School Finance Act of 1994", article 54 of this title, and the estimated funds to be received for the general fund of the district from the state.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For comment, "Colorado Public School Financing: Constitutional Issues", see 59 U. Colo. L. Rev. 149 (1988).

Annotator's note. Cases relevant to § 22-40-102 decided prior to its earliest source, § 123-3-2, C.R.S. 1963, as amended, have been included in the annotations to this section.

Levy provided by this section is not levying of taxes in the strict sense of the words. This section does not provide for any levy or taxation for paying any public officers, or for aiding in or securing protection of life, liberty, and property. Nor is the levy and collection of taxes for the maintenance of a school system taxation for "defraying the expenses of the government" or "for the service of the government". The making of a tax levy for school purposes is not "levying of taxes in the strict sense of the words". Chicago, B. & Q. R. R. v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 63 Colo. 159, 165 P. 260 (1917).

Levy does not violate § 31 of art. V, Colo. Const. An act for establishing a general system of free schools, providing for the levying and collection of taxes as incident to the main purpose, is not within the condemnation of § 31 of art. V, Colo. Const. Chicago, B. & Q. R. R. v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 63 Colo. 159, 165 P. 260 (1917).

Constitutionality of levy. The statutorily imposed four-mill levy restriction prescribed for the capital reserve fund by subsection (4) is rationally related to a legitimate state purpose, and is therefore declared constitutional. Lujan v. Colo. State Bd. of Educ., 649 P.2d 1005 (Colo. 1982) (decided prior to 1988 repeal of subsection (4)).

In the matter of levying the taxes, the board of county commissioners acts in a mere ministerial capacity. Notwithstanding the letter of the statute, it is manifest that in the matter of levying the taxes, the board of county commissioners act in a mere ministerial capacity as the agents of the state and the board of education of the proper district is vested with the sole discretionary power in the premises. People ex rel. Sch. Dist. No. 2 v. County Comm'rs, 12 Colo. 89, 19 P. 892 (1888); Perkins v. People ex rel. McFarland, 59 Colo. 107, 147 P. 356 (1915); Bd. of Comm'rs v. Basalt Union High Dist., 82 Colo. 438, 261 P. 457 (1927); Bolt v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 898 P.2d 525 (Colo. 1995).

Proceedings held sufficient compliance with section to authorize mandamus against commissioners to levy tax. Where, at a special meeting of the district, a resolution is regularly adopted instructing the president and secretary of the board of education to certify to the county commissioners that it is necessary to levy a certain tax on the property of the district for a special fund, and this action is duly certified, there is a sufficient compliance with the requirements of the statute to authorize a proceeding by mandamus to compel the commissioners to levy the tax. People ex rel. Sch. Dist. No. 2 v. County Comm'rs, 12 Colo. 89, 19 P. 892 (1888).

When taxes are levied on property in school districts, the property of that district alone is subject to sale, and though the party may own 50,000 other acres elsewhere located, the treasurer may not proceed in the enforcement of the taxes levied upon a particular 20,000 acres more or less, to sell 60,000 or 70,000 other acres outside of the district which may belong to the same owner. The treasurer must sell the property on which the taxes have been levied to collect the taxes levied on it, and cannot sell other property under his tax warrant to enforce the collection of those specific taxes on this specific property. Shaw v. Lockett, 14 Colo. App. 413, 60 P. 363 (1900).

Levy was exempt from advance voter approval requirements under art. X, § 20, of state constitution because action of board of education, which actually caused taxes to be levied, predated the adoption of that section. Bolt v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 898 P.2d 525 (Colo. 1995).

22-40-103. Change in needed tax revenues - unlawful. A board of education or a board of county commissioners shall not modify the amount certified pursuant to section 22-40-102 as needed for any calendar year, nor shall said board of county commissioners be charged with any discretion in determining or reviewing the amounts so certified other than to ascertain if said amounts are within the limitations as prescribed by law.

22-40-104. County treasurer - accounts - warrants. (1) (a) It is the duty of the county treasurer to keep separate accounts by funds and subsidiary accounts for the bond redemption fund of each school district in his or her county, and said funds and accounts shall be subject to the warrants of said district. The tax revenues shall be credited to the proper fund and account, together with any penalty interest collected thereon.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), upon receipt of a notice from the state treasurer issued pursuant to section 22-41-110 (3), a county treasurer shall withhold from the school district named in the notice and forward to the state treasurer the amount of tax revenues specified in the notice that would otherwise be credited to the school district.

(2) If only a portion of a school district is situate within the territorial limits of said county and the headquarters of said school district are not located therein, the county treasurer shall transfer, at the end of each month, all moneys which have accrued to the credit of said district to the county treasurer of the county wherein the headquarters of said school district is located. No warrant shall be drawn by a school district situate in more than one county against its moneys except against those moneys in the custody of the county treasurer of the county wherein the school district headquarters is located.

(3) Except in the case of a school district which has elected to withdraw its moneys, if a school district warrant is presented to the county treasurer of a school district situate in his county and there are no moneys or insufficient moneys to the credit of said school district in the proper fund or account thereof to pay such warrant, it is the duty of said county treasurer to register such warrants in the order of presentment and endorse each such warrant "no funds". Registered warrants shall draw interest from the date of such registration and endorsement at the rate and in the manner as registered county warrants. The county treasurer shall keep a list of all warrants so registered and endorsed and furnish a copy of said list to the treasurer of said school district. The county treasurer shall pay both the principal and interest of said warrants, in the order of registration, when there are sufficient moneys to the credit of the school district fund or account upon which any such warrant was drawn. It is his duty to cause to be published in a newspaper with general distribution in said school district for five days a notice that certain school district warrants, describing said warrants by numbers and amounts, will be paid upon presentation at the expiration of said five days notice, at which time said warrants shall cease to bear interest.

(4) It is unlawful for a school district to issue warrants in excess of the amount budgeted or appropriated to or the anticipated revenues for any fund, whichever is less, for said school district's fiscal year whether or not the board of education of said district has elected to withdraw its moneys from the custody of the county treasurer.

(5) It is the duty of the county treasurer to cancel all paid school district warrants with a proper cancelling stamp and indicate the date of payment thereof.

Such loan shall be liquidated within six months of the close of the fiscal year from moneys subsequently credited to said general fund.

22-40-108. Revenues - reorganization. (1) If the corporate status of a school district is dissolved as a result of school district organization and all the bonded indebtedness of such school district has not been assumed by one or more school districts, the board of education of the successor district as designated in the plan of organization shall perform the duties and exercise the powers delegated to the board of education of the former school district relative to the certification of tax revenues needed to satisfy the obligations of bonded indebtedness incurred by said former district, receipt of such revenues, deposit or investment thereof, and satisfaction of such obligations which thereafter become due and payable; but the revenues from a tax levy, and the proportionate share of specific ownership taxes allocated thereto, to satisfy the bonded indebtedness of said former school district shall be held in a trust account in the bond redemption fund of the designated successor district for the purpose only of payment or redemption of bonds issued by said former school district. Any moneys remaining after all of the bonded indebtedness obligations of said former school district have been satisfied may be transferred to another account within the redemption fund of said designated successor school district or, in the absence of any outstanding bonded indebtedness obligations, to the capital reserve fund of said school district.

(2) If the corporate status of a school district is not dissolved as a result of school district organization, the board of education of the school district which incurred said bonded indebtedness shall continue to perform the duties and exercise the powers delegated thereto relative to the certification of tax revenues needed to satisfy the obligations of bonded indebtedness incurred by said school district, receipt of such revenues, deposit or investment thereof, and satisfaction of such obligations which thereafter become due and payable even though a portion of the territory of said school district shall be thereafter included in another school district; but if the annexing school district is located in another county, such powers and duties shall be performed by the annexing school district with proper remittance to the school district from which said territory was detached.

Prior to the 2013-14 state fiscal year, any amount of such interest and income earned on the investment of the moneys in the state public school fund in excess of eleven million dollars, other than interest and income credited to the public school capital construction assistance fund, created in section 22-43.7-104 (1), pursuant to section 22-43.7-104 (2) (b) (I), shall remain in the fund and shall become part of the principal of the fund.

ANNOTATION

Annotator’s note. Cases relevant to § 22-41-103 decided prior to its earliest source, § 123-4-3, C.R.S. 1963, have been included in the annotations to this section.

The investment in the state of the right to become the purchaser at foreclosure sale constitutes a safeguard against loss which might otherwise result from a borrower’s failure to repay a loan, and whatever may be realized from subsequent sale of the property diminishes correspondingly the amount necessary for reimbursement of the school fund. People ex rel. Miller v. Higgins, 69 Colo. 79, 168 P. 740 (1917).

The right to purchase does not impose any liability upon the state. Under this section the state, acting through its proper agents, may become the purchaser of the real estate securing the loan at a foreclosure sale thereof, but it is equally true that it need not become such purchaser. It may resort to any lawful “procedure that may be necessary and appropriate” in the collection of the loan. The statute does not, either directly or indirectly, impose upon the state any liability in the premises. Leddy v. People ex rel. Farrar, 59 Colo. 120, 147 P. 365 (1915); People ex rel. Miller v. Higgins, 69 Colo. 79, 168 P. 740 (1917).

22-41-104. Lawful investments. (1) The state treasurer in the state treasurer’s discretion may invest and reinvest moneys accrued or accruing to the public school fund in the types of deposits and investments authorized in sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S., and bonds issued by school districts.

(2) The state treasurer has authority, to be exercised at the state treasurer’s discretion, to effect exchanges or sales whenever such exchanges or sales will not result in any ultimate loss of principal and to effect exchanges or sales that will result in a loss of principal whenever such loss can be offset by a corresponding gain within three fiscal years of such exchange or sale. No exchange or sale of securities shall be consummated by the state treasurer that will result in a net loss of principal unless the general assembly has previously appropriated a sum to the public school fund equivalent to the anticipated net loss of principal from such exchange or sale.

(a) Obligations are purchased with moneys accrued or accruing to the public school fund under an agreement providing for the resale of such obligations to the original seller at a stated price together with a payment to the fund of interest for the period the fund holds the obligations, but the market value of such obligations shall at all times be at least equal to the total purchase price;

22-41-109. Bond guarantee loans. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that school districts of this state are experiencing great need for improved school facilities; that, although the issuance of school bonds can pave the way for improved facilities, such bonds must be marketable and their interest rate must be competitive in order to benefit the district; that, if the risk assumed by school bond purchasers was diminished, interest rates would generally be reduced; that the use of permanent school funds to guarantee payments of principal and interest, with appropriate safeguards for the public school fund, is consistent with the purpose for which the fund was created; and that section 3 of article IX of the state constitution specifically authorizes the use of the public school fund of the state for the purposes of this section.

(2) The state treasurer is authorized to contract with school districts in this state for the guarantee of payments of principal and interest on the district's bonds as such payments become due. The state treasurer shall not enter into such contract if the guarantee would result in the total amount of outstanding guaranteed bonds exceeding an amount equal to three times the market value of the public school fund. Each year the state treasurer shall analyze the status of guaranteed bonds as compared to the book value and market value of the public school fund and shall certify whether the amount of bonds guaranteed is within the limit prescribed by this subsection (2).

(3) The board of education of a school district desiring to enter into a guarantee contract authorized by this section shall include, in the resolution submitting the question of issuing bonds to the registered electors of the school district, a statement that the school district intends to contract with the state treasurer for the guarantee of principal and interest payments to holders of such bonds. The resolution shall set forth, and any resulting guarantee contract shall provide, that the district shall repay any loan of public school funds with interest as provided in subsection (4) of this section by the end of the calendar year next following the close of the fiscal year in which the loan was made, out of any available funds of the school district or out of the proceeds of a levy on the taxable property of the school district at a rate sufficient to produce the amount required to repay the loan. No guarantee contract shall be executed pursuant to this section unless the registered electors of the school district have approved such provisions for the contract by their vote approving the issuance of bonds.

(4) Any guarantee contract authorized by this section shall include a provision requiring the payment of interest on loans made pursuant to the contract at the prevailing rate of interest being earned by investments of the public school fund on the date the loan is made.

(5) A board of education seeking the guarantee of eligible bonds shall notify the commissioner of education and the state treasurer indicating the name of the school district and the principal amount of the bonds to be issued, the name and address of the school district's paying agent for the bonds, the maturity schedule, the estimated interest rate, and the date of the bonds.

(6) After receipt of the request for the guarantee of bonds, the commissioner of education shall review the applicant school district regarding the school district's accreditation category, the school district's financial status based on its audited financial statements for the previous three years, and the total amount of the school district's bonded indebtedness in relation to the limitation on indebtedness provided by law. If, after the investigation, the commissioner of education is satisfied that the school district's bonds should be guaranteed under this section, the commissioner of education shall endorse the request for the bond guarantee to the state treasurer.

(7) Whenever the paying agent has not received payment of principal of or interest on bonds or other obligations to which this section applies fifteen business days immediately prior to the date on which such payment is due, the paying agent shall so notify the state treasurer and the school district by telephone, facsimile, or other similar communication, followed by written verification, of such payment status. The state treasurer shall immediately contact the school district and determine whether the school district will make the payment by the date on which it is due.

(8) If the school district indicates that it will not make the payment by the date on which it is due, the state treasurer shall forward the amount in immediately available funds necessary to make the payment of the principal of or interest on the bonds or other obligations of the school district to the paying agent on the business day immediately prior to the date on which payment is due. Such payment shall constitute a loan to the school district from the public school fund in accordance with the terms of the guarantee contract.

(9) In order to assure sufficient liquidity to meet obligations under the provisions of this section, the state treasurer shall invest moneys in the public school fund in an amount equal to at least ten percent of the principal amount of bonds guaranteed under this section in interest-bearing obligations of the United States as provided in section 22-41-104 (1) (d) with maturity dates of three years or less.

(10) The amounts forwarded to the paying agent by the state treasurer shall be applied to the paying agent solely to the payment of the principal of or interest on such bonds or other obligations of the school district.

(11) Any school district to which this section applies shall file with the state treasurer a copy of the resolution that authorizes the issuance of bonds or other obligations, a copy of the official statement or other offering document for such bonds or other obligations, the agreement, if any, with the paying agent for such bonds or other obligations, and the name, address, and telephone number of such paying agent.

(12) As provided in section 11 of article II of the state constitution, the state hereby covenants with the purchasers and owners of bonds and other obligations issued by school districts that the state will not repeal, revoke, or rescind the provisions of this section or modify or amend the same so as to limit or impair the rights and remedies granted by this section; but nothing in this subsection (11) shall be deemed or construed to require the state to continue the payment of state assistance to any school district or to limit or prohibit the state from repealing, amending, or modifying any law relating to the amount of state assistance to school districts or the manner of payment or the timing thereof. Nothing in this section shall be deemed or construed to create a debt of the state with respect to such bonds or other obligations within the meaning of any state constitutional provision or to create any liability except to the extent provided in this section.

(13) Whenever the state treasurer is required by this section to make a payment of principal of or interest on bonds or other obligations on behalf of a school district, the department of education shall initiate an audit of the school district to determine the reasons for the nonpayment and to assist the school district, if necessary, in developing and implementing measures to assure that future payments will be made when due.

(14) Whenever the state treasurer makes a payment of principal and interest on bonds or other obligations of a school district because of the failure to collect property taxes levied in accordance with law for the school district's bond redemption fund, the district may transfer any such delinquent property taxes later collected out of the school district's bond redemption fund and into its general fund.

(15) In the event that any public school fund moneys are lost by reason of the failure of any school district to repay a loan made pursuant to this section, the general assembly shall restore such public school fund moneys, together with such interest as would have accrued thereto, by an appropriation in the amount of such loss from the general fund of the state.

(16) If two or more repayments from the public school fund are made on the guaranteed bonds of a school district and the commissioner of education determines that the school district is acting in bad faith under the guarantee, the commissioner of education may request the attorney general to institute appropriate legal action to compel the school district governing board to comply with the duties required by law in regard to the bonds.

22-41-110. Timely payment of school district obligations. (1) (a) The state treasurer, on behalf of a school district, shall make payment as provided in this section of principal and interest on bonds or other obligations to which this section applies, unless the school district board of education adopts a resolution stating it will not accept payment on behalf of the school district of principal and interest on bonds or other obligations as provided in this section. If a school district chooses to adopt such a resolution, it shall be adopted prior to issuance or incurrence of the bonds or obligations to which it applies. Following adoption of the resolution, the school district shall provide written notice to the state treasurer of its refusal to accept the payment. The refusal to accept payment shall take effect upon the date the state treasurer receives the written notice and shall continue in effect until the date the state treasurer receives written notice from the school district that the school district board of education has adopted a resolution rescinding the refusal to accept payment pursuant to this section. Notwithstanding any provision of subsections (2) to (8) of this section to the contrary, the state treasurer shall not make payment of principal or interest on bonds or other obligations on behalf of a school district that provides written notice of its refusal to accept payment by the state treasurer on behalf of the school district as provided in this paragraph (a), until the state treasurer receives written notice of the rescission of refusal to accept payment.

(b) This section applies to:

(I) General obligation bonds issued by a school district on or after July 1, 1991, pursuant to article 42 or 43 of this title; except that this section shall not apply to bonds issued by a school district pursuant to section 22-42-102 (2) (a) (IX);

(II) Obligations of a school district in connection with a lease agreement or installment purchase agreement entered into by a school district under section 22-32-127 or 22-45-103 (1) (c) on or after July 1, 1991;

(III) Refunding bonds issued by a school district pursuant to article 56 of title 11, C.R.S.; and

(IV) Obligations of a school district in connection with a loan received under the renewable energy and energy efficiency for schools loan program created in section 22-92-104.

(2) Whenever the paying agent has not received payment of principal of or interest on bonds or other obligations to which this section applies on the business day immediately prior to the date on which such payment is due, the paying agent shall so notify the state treasurer and the school district, by telephone, facsimile, or other similar communication, followed by written verification, of such payment status. The state treasurer shall immediately contact the district and determine whether the district will make the payment by the date on which it is due.

(3) If the district indicates that it will not make the payment by the date on which it is due, the state treasurer shall forward the amount in immediately available funds necessary to make the payment of the principal of or interest on the bonds or other obligations of the school district to the paying agent. The state treasurer shall recover the amount forwarded by withholding amounts from the school district's payments of the state's share of the district's total program received in accordance with article 54 of this title and from property tax and specific ownership tax revenues collected by the county treasurer on behalf of the school district; except that the state treasurer may not recover amounts from property tax revenues that are pledged to pay notes or bonds issued by the school district. The total amount withheld in a month from the state's share of total program and the tax revenues due to the school district for each occasion on which the treasurer forwards an amount pursuant to this section shall not exceed one-twelfth of the amount forwarded; except that the state treasurer, in one or more months during the twelve-month withholding period, may withhold more than one-twelfth of the amount forwarded, if the school district in one or more months during the twelve-month withholding period receives total program and tax revenues in an amount that is less than one-twelfth of the amount forwarded. The state treasurer shall not withhold for more than twelve consecutive months for each occasion on which the treasurer forwards amounts pursuant to this section. The state treasurer, in writing, shall notify the county treasurer for the school district of the amount of tax revenues to be withheld pursuant to this subsection (3) and the period of withholding. Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection (3) to the contrary, a school district may elect to make early repayment of all or any portion of an amount forwarded by the state treasurer on behalf of the school district pursuant to this section. When a school district fully repays an amount forwarded by the state treasurer on behalf of the school district pursuant to this section, the state treasurer, in writing, shall notify the county treasurer for the school district to discontinue the withholding of tax revenues.

(4) The amounts forwarded to the paying agent by the state treasurer shall be applied by the paying agent solely to the payment of the principal of or interest on such bonds or other obligations of the school district. The state treasurer shall notify the department of education, the chief financial officer of the district, and the general assembly of amounts withheld and payments made pursuant to this section.

(5) Any school district to which this section applies shall file with the state treasurer a copy of the resolution which authorizes the issuance of bonds or other obligations, a copy of the official statement or other offering document for such bonds or other obligations, the agreement, if any, with the paying agent for such bonds or other obligations, and the name, address, and telephone number of such paying agent. The failure of any school district to file such information shall not affect the obligation of the state treasurer to withhold the state's share of the district's total program and the district's tax revenues under this section.

(6) As provided in section 11 of article II of the state constitution, the state hereby covenants with the purchasers and owners of bonds and other obligations issued by school districts that it will not repeal, revoke, or rescind the provisions of this section or modify or amend the same so as to limit or impair the rights and remedies granted by this section; but nothing in this subsection (6) shall be deemed or construed to require the state to continue the payment of state assistance to any school district or to limit or prohibit the state from repealing, amending, or modifying any law relating to the amount of state assistance to school districts or the manner of payment or the timing thereof. Nothing in this section shall be deemed or construed to create a debt of the state with respect to such bonds or other obligations within the meaning of any state constitutional provision or to create any liability except to the extent provided in this section.

(7) Whenever the state treasurer is required by this section to make a payment of principal of or interest on bonds or other obligations on behalf of a school district, the department of education shall initiate an audit of the district to determine the reason for the nonpayment and to assist the district, if necessary, in developing and implementing measures to assure that future payments will be made when due.

(8) Whenever the state treasurer makes a payment of principal and interest on bonds or other obligations of a school district and withholds amounts from the district’s payments of the state’s share of the district’s total program and from the district’s unpledged tax revenues pursuant to this section because of the failure to collect property taxes levied in accordance with law for the district’s bond redemption fund, the district may transfer, or may instruct the third-party custodian that administers the district’s bond redemption fund to transfer, any such delinquent property taxes later collected out of the district’s bond redemption fund and into its general fund.

ARTICLE 41.5

Voter Approval for Weakening of Debt Limitations on School Districts

22-41.5-101.	Legislative declaration.	22-41.5-102.	Voter approval - weakening of limits on school district debt.

22-41.5-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) In performing its duties under sections 2 and 15 of article IX, section 20 of article X, and section 6 of article XI of the state constitution, the general assembly must balance the interests of achieving a thorough and uniform public school system, controlling public debt, preserving a limited degree of local control, and reasonably restraining most the growth of government;

(b) In balancing these constitutional interests through the exercise of its legislative authority, the general assembly has enacted limitations on the ability of school districts to incur indebtedness;

(c) A statutory restriction has been imposed on the amount of bonded indebtedness that school districts can incur with voter approval for capital improvements;

(d) From time to time, changes to such limitations imposed on school districts are necessary in order to keep these constitutional interests properly balanced in light of changing circumstances;

(e) Section 20 (1) of article X of the state constitution prohibits the weakening of "other limits on district revenue, spending, and debt" without future voter approval;

(f) No change in school district debt occurs by virtue of statutory changes that increase a limit when the debt would not actually increase without school district voter approval and any actual weakening occurs only when school district voter approval is obtained under an increased limit; and

(g) By requiring voters to give approval at the school district level for any weakening of a school district limit on debt, the voter approval requirement of section 20 (1) of article X is satisfied in a manner achieving a reasonable result through legislative harmonization of constitutional provisions.

22-41.5-102. Voter approval - weakening of limits on school district debt.

(1) Whenever any provision of this title imposes a limitation on the debt of school districts and the voters of a school district are required by law to approve any change in debt subject to the limitation, the general assembly shall not be required to seek statewide voter approval to amend the statutory provision that imposes the limitation.

(2) For purposes of section 20 (1) of article X of the state constitution, any weakening of a limitation on a school district's debt shall occur only when voter approval at the school district level is obtained, and voter approval of the measure at the school district level shall satisfy any voter approval requirement of section 20 (1) of article X.

(3) Any ballot question seeking voter approval of a weakening of any limitation on school district debt may be submitted to the eligible electors of a school district as a separate ballot question or as part of a ballot question including other ballot issues, such as the authorization of bonded indebtedness.

ANNOTATION

This article covers the entire subject of contracting indebtedness by school districts, and it was intended to supersede all former statutes on the subject. Krogh v. Danielson, 73

Colo. 135, 213 P. 996 (1923) (decided prior to earliest source of this section, § 123-11-1, as amended, 1964).

22-42-102. Bonded indebtedness - elections. (1) No debt by loan in any form shall be contracted by any school district for the purposes specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of this section, unless the proposition to create the debt has first been submitted to and approved by the eligible electors of the district.

(2) (a) The board of education of any school district, at any regular biennial school election or at a special election called for the purpose, shall submit to the eligible electors of the district the question of contracting a bonded indebtedness for one or more of the following purposes:

- (I) For acquiring or purchasing buildings or grounds;
- (II) For enlarging, improving, remodeling, repairing, or making additions to any school building;
- (III) For constructing or erecting school buildings;
- (IV) For equipping or furnishing any school building, but only in conjunction with a construction project for a new building or for an addition to an existing building or in conjunction with a project for substantial remodeling, improvement, or repair of an existing building;
- (V) For improving school grounds;
- (VI) For funding floating indebtedness;
- (VII) For acquiring, constructing, or improving any capital asset that the district is authorized by law to own;
- (VIII) For supporting charter school capital construction as defined in section 22-30.5-403 (4) or the land and facilities needs of a charter school as defined in section 22-30.5-403 (3), without title or ownership of charter school capital assets being held by the school district or ownership or use restrictions placed on the charter school by the school district; or
- (IX) (A) Subject to the provisions of sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (IX), for paying the costs that may be paid from the general fund of the school district; except that bonded indebtedness may be issued for such purpose only if amendment 61 is approved by the voters at the general election held on November 2, 2010, and the eligible electors of the school district approve a question to create debt for such purpose at an election held on or after November 2, 2010.

(B) The board of education of a district that issues bonded indebtedness pursuant to sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (IX) shall deposit any moneys from such bonded indebtedness into a cash flow deficit restricted reserve in the general fund of the district. The board of education of such a district may expend the moneys deposited in the reserve only for the purpose of alleviating the district's annual temporary cash flow deficit and shall repay, from the property tax revenues of the district, the total amount expended from the reserve in any fiscal year on or before June 30 of the applicable fiscal year; except that such board of education may request that the department of education waive the requirement to repay the reserve by June 30 of the applicable fiscal year. If the department grants such a waiver, the board of education of the district shall repay the total amount expended from the reserve on or before June 30 of the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the board expended moneys from the reserve. Notwithstanding the provisions of this sub-subparagraph (B), if a district that has issued bonded indebtedness pursuant to sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (IX) no longer experiences an annual temporary cash flow deficit, the district shall use the moneys in the reserve to repay outstanding bonded indebtedness issued pursuant to this section.

(b) The purposes specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) shall be broadly construed, subject to the limitations provided in section 22-42-103.

(c) Any special election called pursuant to this section shall be held on the general election day in each even-numbered year or on the first Tuesday in November of each odd-numbered year and shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of articles 1 to 13 of title 1, C.R.S.

(d) Repealed.

(3) to (5) (Deleted by amendment, L. 92, p. 839, § 35, effective January 1, 1993.)

(6) (a) The board of education of any school district, having received approval at an election to issue bonds and having determined that the limitations of the original election question are too restrictive to permit the advantageous sale of the bonds so authorized, may submit at another regular or special election the question of issuing the bonds, or any portion thereof, at a higher principal amount or higher repayment cost than approved at the original election.

(b) An election held pursuant to this subsection (6) shall be held in substantially the same manner as an election to authorize bonds initially, except as may be required for the submission of the limited question or questions permitted under this subsection (6).

(c) If a majority of those voting at an election held pursuant to this subsection (6) fails to approve the changes submitted, such result shall not impair the authority of the board at a later time to issue the bonds originally approved within the limitations established at the first election.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Cases relevant to § 22-42-102 decided prior to its earliest source, § 123-11-3, C.R.S. 1963, as amended, have been included in the annotations to this section.

This section provides for an election for creating a bonded indebtedness rather than a meeting. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Gerold, 76 Colo. 555, 233 P. 162 (1925).

The function of the board is to propose and suggest an amount of bonded indebtedness. The amount of the bonded indebtedness proposed to be contracted and the maximum rate of interest that it is proposed the bonds will bear, is to be determined by the board of education prior to the submission of the question of authorization to the electors. Hebel v. Sch. Dist. R-1, 131 Colo. 105, 279 P.2d 673 (1955).

The function of the electors is to determine whether the bonds shall be issued. Hebel v. Sch. Dist. R-1, 131 Colo. 105, 279 P.2d 673 (1955).

The fixing or the proposal of the amount is for a future indebtedness and not one as fixed or limited at the time of the calling of an election or of the date of the election. Hebel v. Sch. Dist. R-1, 131 Colo. 105, 279 P.2d 673 (1955).

Proposal must not exceed statutory limits. Where bonds issued exceeded the limits of § 22-42-104, they could not be issued even had they been approved by the electors. Atchison, T.

& S. F. Ry. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 95 Colo. 435, 37 P.2d 761 (1934).

A vote of the electors instructing the directors to issue bonds for building a school house necessarily involves, as a part of the authority conferred, power to build the school house. Krogh v. Danielson, 73 Colo. 135, 213 P. 996 (1923).

Multiple facilities may be submitted to voters in single proposition. A school bond election may relate to acquisition, construction, and equipping of separate school facilities without offending requirements that the submission of such matters to the voters be limited to a single proposition or purpose. Abts v. Bd. of Educ., 622 P.2d 518 (Colo. 1980).

Test for determination of single purpose. The test applied to determine the validity of a bond issue having more than one object, or funding more than one structure, is whether there exists a natural relationship between the various structures or objects united in one proposition so that they form but one rounded whole. 22-42-103. Limitations on elections. The question of contracting bonded indebtedness may be submitted or resubmitted after the same or any other such question has previously been rejected at an election held pursuant to this article; but no such question shall be submitted or resubmitted at any election held less than one hundred twenty days after a previous submission of such question, and the board of education of any school district shall not submit any question of contracting bonded indebtedness at more than two elections within any twelve-month period. The provisions of this section shall not apply to elections on assumption of existing bonded indebtedness held pursuant to law.

22-42-104. Limit of bonded indebtedness. (1) Except as provided in subsections (1.3) and (1.4) of this section, a school district shall have a limit of bonded indebtedness of the greater of the following:

(a) Twenty percent of the latest valuation for assessment of the taxable property in such district, as certified by the county assessor to the board of county commissioners; or

(b) Six percent of the most recent determination of the actual value of the taxable property in the district, as certified by the county assessor to the board of county commissioners.

(1.2) For bonded indebtedness issued after June 1, 2011, the valuation for assessment of taxable property for the purposes of this section shall be the valuation for assessment of taxable property in the district as it existed on the December 10 prior to the date of issuance of the bonded indebtedness. The county assessor for the board of county commissioners shall report the valuation for assessment of taxable property in the district to the district and the department of education on each December 10.

(1.3) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section and except as provided in subsection (1.4) of this section, the limit on bonded indebtedness of a school district shall be the greater of the limit determined pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section or twenty-five percent of the latest valuation for assessment of the taxable property in such district, as certified by the county assessor to the board of county commissioners, for any bonded indebtedness approved at any election held on or after July 1, 1994, if the commissioner of education or the commissioner's designee certifies that for each of the preceding three fiscal years, or for three consecutive fiscal years that include the fiscal year in which the certification is made, the pupil enrollment or the funded pupil count of the district as of the pupil enrollment count day, whichever is applicable, has increased:

(a) By two and one-half percent or more over the preceding year, if the district has a pupil enrollment or funded pupil count, whichever is applicable, of at least one thousand pupils;

(b) By twenty-five or more pupils over the preceding year, if the district has a pupil enrollment or funded pupil count, whichever is applicable, of less than one thousand pupils.

(1.4) For any bonded indebtedness approved at the 2008 general election, the limit on bonded indebtedness of a school district shall be the greater of the limit determined pursuant to subsection (1.3) of this section or thirty percent of the latest valuation for assessment of the taxable property in such district, as certified by the county assessor to the board of county commissioners, if the commissioner of education or the commissioner's designee certifies that for each of the preceding three fiscal years, or for three consecutive fiscal years that include the fiscal year in which the certification is made, the pupil enrollment or the funded pupil count of the district as of the pupil enrollment count day, whichever is applicable, increased:

(a) By two and one-half percent or more over the preceding year, if the district has a pupil enrollment or funded pupil count, whichever is applicable, of at least one thousand pupils; or

(b) By twenty-five or more pupils over the preceding year, if the district has a pupil enrollment or funded pupil count, whichever is applicable, of less than one thousand pupils.

(1.5) The debt limit provided in subsection (1.3) of this section shall apply to a district only as long as the conditions of subsection (1.3) of this section are met. In any year in which the conditions of said subsection (1.3) are not met, the debt limit shall be the limit set forth in subsection (1) of this section; except that the validity of bonded indebtedness incurred in any year in which the debt limit in said subsection (1.3) applied shall not be affected by a subsequent reduction in the district's debt limit.

(2) The indebtedness of the former districts or parts of districts, constituting any new district, shall not be considered in fixing the limit of bonded indebtedness; but, if any school district shall assume the bonded indebtedness of any district or districts, or a proportionate share thereof, existing at the time of inclusion in the assuming school district, pursuant to law, such bonded indebtedness shall be included in the limit of bonded indebtedness.

(3) The permission to incur additional bonded indebtedness, granted by the property tax administrator in the division of property taxation of the department of local affairs, and any school district bonds issued pursuant thereto on or after May 10, 1972, are hereby validated. This subsection (3) shall not be construed to grant authority to incur bonded indebtedness in excess of the limit of bonded indebtedness.

(4) The validity of bonded indebtedness incurred in any year shall not be affected by a subsequent reduction in the district's limit of bonded indebtedness caused by a decrease in the valuation for assessment or actual value of taxable property in the district.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Property Tax Assessments in Colorado", see 12 Colo. Law. 563 (1983). For comment, "Colorado Public School Financing: Constitutional Issues", see 59 U. Colo. L. Rev. 149 (1988).

Annotator's note. Since § 22-42-104 is similar to repealed § 123-8-32, CRS 53, and laws antecedent thereto, relevant cases construing those provisions have been included in the annotations to this section.

Constitutionality of debt limit. The limit on the valuation for assessment of the taxable property for the bond redemption fund, established in subsection (1)(a), is rationally related to a legitimate state purpose, and is therefore declared constitutional. Lujan v. Colo. State Bd. of Educ., 649 P.2d 1005 (Colo. 1982).

The debt limit is determined at the time of the issuance of the bonds, whether issued in one or more series; and when the limitation is based on a percentage of the valuation, the limit of the debt is determined by the percentage of the assessed valuation in effect when the actual debt was created, which is the fixed percentage of the assessed valuation of the year next preceding the date of the bonds. Hebel v. Sch. Dist. R-1, 131 Colo. 105, 279 P.2d 673 (1955).

Issuance of bonds creates an indebtedness. The authorization of an issue of bonds is not the creation of an indebtedness, which can only arise when the bonds are issued. Hebel v. Sch. Dist. R-1, 131 Colo. 105, 279 P.2d 673 (1955).

The limit for the indebtedness is fixed by the state, which cannot be exceeded in any event. Hebel v. Sch. Dist. R-1, 131 Colo. 105, 279 P.2d 673 (1955).

Limit is based on valuations nearest the date of issuance. It undoubtedly was the intent of the general assembly that the debt limit be fixed on valuations nearest the date of the issuance of the bonds. Hebel v. Sch. Dist. R-1, 131 Colo. 105, 279 P.2d 673 (1955).

Where electors authorize an issue in excess of statutory limit, only the excess is void. Where a school district may become indebted in a certain amount by bonds, and the electors of the district authorize a debt in excess of that amount, such authorization is void only as to the excess, and valid as to the sum which it was within the power of the district to issue. Shover v. Buford, 71 Colo. 562, 208 P. 470 (1922).

22-42-118. Tax levy to pay principal and interest. (1) If any school district has issued bonds under the provisions of this article, it is the duty of the board of county commissioners of the county in which said district is situated, at the time of levying other school district taxes, to levy a tax on all the taxable property of said district at a rate sufficient to produce such amount as has been certified by the board of education of said district, for the purpose of paying bonds not yet due, as provided in section 22-42-117.

(2) Except when said school district has sufficient moneys or securities in a refunding escrow account to satisfy the bonded indebtedness obligations which will be due and payable during said district's next ensuing calendar year, if the board of education fails to certify such an amount to the board of county commissioners as required by section

22-42-117, the board of county commissioners, nevertheless, shall levy upon the appropriate taxable property of said district a tax in addition to the taxes levied for other purposes, in an amount sufficient to pay all installments of principal and interest of said bonds that shall become due during the next ensuing calendar year, or, if said bonds do not become due and payable in series at different times, in an amount sufficient to pay all installments of interest then to become due and the aforesaid portion of principal.

22-42-119. Bond fund - payment and redemption. (1) Such taxes shall be collected in the same manner as other school district taxes and when collected shall be placed by the county treasurer in the bond redemption fund of said school district. The moneys in said fund shall be used only for payment of interest upon and for the redemption of such bonds, upon orders signed and countersigned in the manner provided by law for the execution of other school district orders; but the board of education of said school district may withdraw, or the board of education may instruct the third-party custodian administering the bond redemption fund pursuant to section 22-45-103 (1) (b) (V) to withdraw, any or all of such moneys credited to said fund which are temporarily not needed to satisfy the obligations of bonded indebtedness, for the purpose of depositing or investing such moneys in the manner prescribed by law.

(2) Redemption of said bonds prior to the respective maturities thereof may be made in the order as determined by the board in the resolution authorizing the issuance of said bonds and set forth on the face of said bonds. Notice of the redemption of said bonds, prior to maturity, shall be made in the manner prescribed in said bond resolution. In the absence of such prescribed manner in the bond resolution, a redemption prior to maturity shall be made in the following manner: When authorized by the board of education, the treasurer of said school district shall advertise in some newspaper published in the school district once a week for two consecutive weeks that on a certain day, named in said advertisement, not less than four weeks after the time of the first publication thereof, he will redeem certain of said bonds therein described by number, amount, and date of issue thereof and that the principal, interest to redemption date, and redemption premium, if any, of said bonds will be paid in accordance with the bond resolution authorizing such bonds. The notice shall indicate also that, after the day so fixed for redemption, the interest on the bonds shall cease. After the day of redemption so fixed in said notice, the bonds so advertised and called to be redeemed shall cease to draw interest.

(3) If the bonds are made payable at the office of the county treasurer, any redemption of such bonds shall also be made at the office of the county treasurer of the county, who shall make a notation of such payment or redemption upon his books.

(4) If the bonds are made payable at some place other than the office of the county treasurer, such bonds shall be redeemable at the place where payable, and the treasurer of the district shall, immediately after the payment or redemption, inform the county treasurer that certain bonds, describing them by number, amount, and date of issue, have been paid or redeemed and cancelled, and said county treasurer shall make a record of such payment or redemption upon his books.

(5) In all cases bonds when paid or redeemed shall be cancelled by the district treasurer and preserved by him and his successors for a period of one year after the date of their payment or redemption.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Cases relevant to § 22-42-119 decided prior to its earliest source, § 123-11-20, C.R.S. 1963, as amended, have been included in the annotations to this section.

Duties of county treasurer. A county treasurer can have no concern as to the place, manner, or the fact of payment of school district obligations. By virtue of his office he collects tax levies made by or for the school districts of his county, but his only further duty concerning the money collected is to make disbursement on warrants or orders drawn by school district officers. People ex rel. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. Koenig, 99 Colo. 456, 63 P.2d 1235 (1936).

22-42-120. Place of payment. (1) The board of education of a school district is authorized to designate the office of the county treasurer of the county in which the headquarters of such school district is situated as the place of payment or optional place of payment of the principal of or interest on any bonds issued by any such school district, or to designate any commercial bank or trust company as the place of payment or optional place of payment of the principal of or interest on any bonds issued by any such school district, and the commercial bank or trust company so designated may be located either within or without this state.

(2) It is the duty of the board of education of said school district to cause sufficient moneys from said tax levy or refunding escrow account to be placed from time to time at the place of payment, or optional place of payment, designated on said bonds in an amount to satisfy the principal and interest obligations of said bonds as the same may become due and payable from time to time. It is the duty of the treasurer of said school district to pay, or instruct the third-party custodian administering the school district's bond redemption fund pursuant to section 22-45-103 (1) (b) (V) to pay, the obligations of said bonds as the same may become due and payable, upon presentation of the bonds and coupons respectively evidencing such obligations, from any moneys to the credit of the appropriate account available for that purpose.

22-42-121. Registration of bonds. Whenever any school district issues bonds under the provisions of this article, the board of education may make and enter in its record a request that the county clerk and recorder of the county wherein the headquarters of such school district is situated register the bonds on a collective, not an individual, basis in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. When so registered, the legality thereof shall not be open to contest by such district, or any person whomsoever, for any reason whatsoever. A certified copy of the order of the board, so made and entered of record, shall be furnished to such county clerk and recorder by the board of education and thereupon it shall be his duty to register said bonds on a collective basis, noting the name of the district and the amount, the date of issuance and maturity, and the rate of interest of said bonds. Such county clerk and recorder shall not be required to make a separate entry in said book or complete or process a registration form for each such bond of such issue, or otherwise register each such bond of such issue on an individual basis. He shall receive a fee of twenty-five dollars for registering each such issue.

22-42-122. Changes in boundaries - liability. (1) Nothing in this article or in any other provision of law shall be construed so as to release the taxable property within a school district which incurred bonded indebtedness from liability for its proportionate share of the outstanding obligations thereof.

(2) The outstanding bonded indebtedness, or proportionate share thereof, incurred by a school district which is dissolved as a result of the formation of a new school district may be assumed by said new school district in the manner provided by article 30 of this title.

(3) The taxable property located within the territory of a school district which is dissolved and the resultant unorganized territory annexed to an adjacent school district shall be liable for its proportionate share of the bonded indebtedness previously incurred by the annexing school district.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Cases relevant to § 22-42-122 decided prior to its earliest source, § 123-11-23, C.R.S. 1963, as amended, have been included in the annotations to this section.

Section held constitutional. Linke v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 129 Colo. 165, 268 P.2d 416 (1954).

Owner of property annexed to district with existing bonded indebtedness has no right to vote on the indebtedness. While those property owners in a school district, who are also legal voters therein, are entitled to an opportunity to give or withhold their consent to the incurring of the bonded indebtedness at the election held for that purpose, § 7 of art. XI, Colo. Const., does not give the right to vote on the question of issuance of the bonds to owners of property which subsequently becomes a part of the district issuing the bonds. Linke v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 129 Colo. 165, 268 P.2d 416 (1954).

Section 7 of art. XI, Colo. Const., is directed against levying taxes on inhabitants without their consent. Section 7 of art. XI, Colo. Const., is directed against the school districts and political subdivisions as such, to prevent their levying or assessing taxes against their inhabitants without their consent, but does not prohibit individual taxpayers from assuming such burdens as they voluntarily desire to assume. Linke v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 129 Colo. 165, 268 P.2d 416 (1954).

Where the majority of the qualified electors in the districts vote in favor of dissolution and annexation this section is applicable. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. Carpenter, 134 Colo. 356, 303 P.2d 1104 (1956).

Annexed property is liable for existing indebtedness of annexing body. As a general rule, in the absence of statute or constitutional provision to the contrary, territory annexed to a municipal corporation or school district is liable to pay its proportionate share of the existing indebtedness of the corporation to which it is annexed. Linke v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 129 Colo. 165, 268 P.2d 416 (1954).

The owners of property in the annexed territory should share their proportionate part of the burden legally assumed before their property was annexed, since they reap the benefits thereof. Linke v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 129 Colo. 165, 268 P.2d 416 (1954); Bd. of County Comm'rs v. Carpenter, 134 Colo. 356, 303 P.2d 1104 (1956).

Taxes will be levied on the annexed property. The electors in a newly annexed area must assume their proportionate share of the existing indebtedness of the annexing district, and county commissioners must include the newly annexed property in the levy of taxes for this purpose. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. Carpenter, 134 Colo. 356, 303 P.2d 1104 (1956).

Regardless of existing indebtedness of the annexed districts. Annexed property of a school district must bear its proportionate share of existing bonded indebtedness, regardless of any existing indebtedness of the annexed districts, where the annexing district had not received any benefits from any preexisting indebtedness of any of the annexed districts. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. Carpenter, 134 Colo. 356, 303 P.2d 1104 (1956).

For tax purposes, district boundaries are determined on date of levy. As between the date when a tax was authorized and the date when it was actually levied, boundaries are to be considered as they exist on the day of the actual levy, rather than the day authority to tax was granted. Linke v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 129 Colo. 165, 268 P.2d 416 (1954).

Annexed districts are not freed from their own existing bonded indebtedness incurred prior to annexation. Callaway v. Denver & R. G. R. R., 6 Colo. App. 284, 40 P. 573 (1895); Bd. of County Comm'rs v. Carpenter, 134 Colo. 356, 303 P.2d 1104 (1956).

For previous limitation of liability to property within school district at time of issue of bonds, Callaway v. Denver & R. G. R. R., 6 Colo. App. 284, 40 P. 573 (1895).

The department of education may request additional information from the school district or from the purchaser of the bonds regarding terms of the sale.

22-42-128. Effect of article X, section 20 on bonded indebtedness authorized prior to November 4, 1992. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Section 20 (4) of article X of the state constitution provides that, beginning on November 4, 1992, school districts must have voter approval in advance for increases in bonded indebtedness and property tax mill levies;

(b) A sizeable amount of bonded indebtedness had been authorized by school district electors at elections held pursuant to section 22-42-102 prior to the adoption of section 20 of article X;

(c) In approving the question of incurring bonded indebtedness, the voters acknowledged that the board of education of the school district would annually certify the amount needed for its bond redemption fund to make principal and interest payments on the bonds, that a property tax would be levied annually to produce such certified amount, and that the property tax mill levy would be raised or lowered annually to produce such certified amount;

(d) Once bonded indebtedness was incurred, the voters of the district, as well as the bondholders, had a reasonable expectation that further voter approval would not be required;

(e) The purpose of section 20 (4) of article X is to allow the electors of school districts to have a voice in bonded indebtedness increases and property tax mill levy increases;

(f) The purpose of section 20 (4) has already been fully satisfied because the question of incurring bonded indebtedness, and the method for paying such indebtedness through an adjustment to the property tax mill levy, has already been approved by the voters at elections held prior to November 4, 1992; and

(g) The purpose of section 20 (4) would not be further satisfied by requiring voter approval each time the mill levy needs to be adjusted to produce the revenue necessary to pay school district bonded indebtedness authorized at elections held prior to November 4, 1992.

(2) Bonded indebtedness authorized at elections held pursuant to section 22-42-102 prior to November 4, 1992, or the refunding of such bonded indebtedness, which involve a property tax mill levy or a pledge of a property tax mill levy pursuant to section 22-42-118 to provide revenues to the school district to make bonded indebtedness payments or to cover default or deficiencies in bonded indebtedness payments, is not affected or impaired by the passage of section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

(1) “Board of education” or “board” means the governing body authorized by law to administer the affairs of any school district.

(1.5) Repealed.

(2) “Net effective interest rate” of a proposed issue of refunding bonds means the net interest cost of said refunding issue divided by the sum of the products derived by multiplying the principal amounts of such refunding issue maturing on each maturity date by the number of years from the date of said proposed refunding bonds to their respective maturities. “Net effective interest rate” of an outstanding issue of bonds to be refunded means the net interest cost of said issue to be refunded divided by the sum of the products derived by multiplying the principal amounts of such issue to be refunded maturing on each maturity date by the number of years from the date of the proposed refunding bonds to the respective maturities of the bonds to be refunded. In all cases the net effective interest rate shall be computed without regard to any option of redemption prior to the designated maturity dates of the bonds.

(3) “Net interest cost” of a proposed issue of refunding bonds means the total amount of interest to accrue on said refunding bonds from their date to their respective maturities, less the amount of any premium above par at which said refunding bonds are being or have been sold. “Net interest cost” of an outstanding issue of bonds to be refunded means the total amount of interest which would accrue on said outstanding bonds from the date of the proposed refunding bonds to the respective maturity dates of said outstanding bonds to be refunded. In all cases the net interest cost shall be computed without regard to any option of redemption prior to the designated maturity dates of the bonds.

(4) “School district” or “district” means a school district organized and existing pursuant to law or a joint taxation district organized and existing pursuant to part 2 of article 30 of this title.

22-43-102. Refunding bonds may be issued. (1) Any school district in this state may issue negotiable coupon bonds to be denominated refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding any of the bonded indebtedness of such district, whether said indebtedness is due or not due, or has or may hereafter become payable or redeemable at the option of such district, or by consent of the bondholders, or by any lawful means, whether such bonded indebtedness be now existing or may hereafter be created.

(2) The bonded indebtedness of any district outstanding at the time of the inclusion of all such district's territory in another district, by reorganization, consolidation, dissolution, or any other lawful means, may be refunded by action of the board of the district including such territory at the time of such refunding, whether or not such indebtedness has been assumed by the district including such territory.

(3) When an entire district having outstanding bonded indebtedness has been divided and parts thereof included within two or more other districts by any lawful means, the refunding of such indebtedness shall require affirmative action by a majority of the members of the boards of each of the districts within which any part of the territory of such district owing said indebtedness is then included, except as is provided in this article to the contrary.

(4) The bonded indebtedness of any school district outstanding at the time any territory of said district is detached therefrom by any lawful means, and which district has retained its lawful corporate existence subsequent to the detachment of such territory from said district, may be refunded by action of the board of such district from which territory has been detached with or without concurrence or action by the board of the district within which said detached territory is included, and such districts from which territory has been detached and which retain their corporate existence subsequent to detachment are specifically exempted from the requirements and provisions of subsection (3) of this section.

(5) Any such refunding bonds may be issued to refund any issues of outstanding bonds; but no two or more issues of outstanding bonds may be refunded by a single issue of refunding bonds unless the taxable property upon which tax levies are being made for payment of each such outstanding issue of bonds is identical to the taxable property on which such levies are being made for the payment of all other outstanding bonds proposed to be refunded by such single issue of refunding bonds.

Editor's note: Subsection (6)(b) provided for the repeal of subsection (6), effective July 1, 1986. (See L. 83, p. 760.)

22-43-103. Question of issuing refunding bonds. (1) Whenever the board of education of any school district deems it expedient to issue refunding bonds under the provisions of this article and the net effective interest rate and the net interest cost of said issue of refunding bonds shall not exceed the net effective interest rate and the net interest cost of the outstanding bonds to be refunded, such refunding bonds may be issued without the submission of the question of issuing the same at an election held in accordance with article 42 of this title. If two or more issues of outstanding bonds of a school district are to be refunded by the issuance of a single issue of refunding bonds, as provided in section 22-43-102 (5), the net interest cost and net effective interest rate on the bonds to be refunded shall be computed as if all of said bonds had originally been combined as a single issue aggregating the total of the smaller issues, and the results of this computation shall be compared with the net interest cost and net effective interest rate on the whole of the single refunding issue for purposes of determining the necessity of submitting the question of issuing such refunding bonds at an election held in accordance with article 42 of this title.

(2) If any district proposes to issue refunding bonds, on which issue the net interest cost or net effective interest rate exceeds the net interest cost or net effective interest rate of the outstanding bonds to be refunded, the board shall submit the question of issuing such refunding bonds and the maximum net interest cost and maximum net effective interest rate at which such refunding bonds may be issued at the regular biennial school election or at a special election called for that purpose. Any such election shall be called and held as nearly as may be in the manner provided by law for elections on the question of the issuance of other school bonds of the issuing district.

22-43-104. Authorization - form - interest. (1) Such refunding bonds shall be authorized by a resolution fixing the date, the denominations, the rate of interest on individual bonds, the maturity dates which shall not be more than twenty-five years after the date of such refunding bonds, and the place of payment within or without the state of Colorado, of both principal and interest, and prescribing the form of such refunding bonds. Such bonds shall be negotiable in form and executed in the same manner as prescribed for other school district bonds. At the discretion of the board, any such bonds may be issued with privileges for registration for payment as to principal or interest, or both.

(2) The interest accruing on such refunding bonds may be evidenced by interest coupons thereto attached in substantially the same form as prescribed for other school district bonds, and, when so executed, such coupons shall be the binding obligations of the district according to their import. Such refunding bonds shall mature serially, commencing not later than five years after the date of such bonds and maturing during a period not exceeding twenty-five years after the date thereof. The amount of such maturities shall be fixed by the board of education and specified in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds. The right to redeem all or part of said bonds prior to their maturity, and the order of any such redemption, may be reserved in the resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds and shall be set forth on the face of said bonds. Interest on refunding bonds issued on or after July 1, 1973, pursuant to this article shall be exempt from Colorado income tax.

22-43-105. Sale - proceeds - amounts. Such refunding bonds may be exchanged for the bonds to be refunded, or they may be sold at, above, or below their par value; but such refunding bonds shall be exchanged or sold at a price such that the net interest cost and the net effective interest rate for the issue of refunding bonds does not exceed the net interest cost and the net effective interest rate of the outstanding bonds to be refunded or the maximum net effective interest rate and net interest cost approved by the voters, as the case may be. Such refunding bonds shall be in a principal amount not exceeding the principal amount of the bonds to be refunded, as directed by the board of education, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied only to the purpose for which such refunding bonds were issued. The principal amount of said refunding bonds may be the same or less than the principal amount of the bonds to be refunded, if due, adequate, and sufficient provision has been made for the payment or redemption and retirement of said bonds to be refunded and the payment of the interest accruing thereon in accordance with this article.

22-43-106. Needed revenues - tax levy - miscellaneous. (1) Whenever a board of education issues refunding bonds under the provisions of this article, sections 22-42-117 to 22-42-121 shall be applicable to said refunding bonds and the procedures therefor, in the same manner as prescribed for other school district bonds; except that any such refunding bonds shall be payable from the same funds which are to be derived from the same source as would have been used to pay the original bonds if no refunding thereof had occurred.

(2) After refunding bonds are issued pursuant to this article, the resolution authorizing the same and providing for the levy of taxes for the payment of interest upon and the principal of such refunding bonds shall not be altered or repealed until the refunding bonds so authorized have been fully paid.

22-43-107. Application of bond proceeds - procedures - limitations. (1) The proceeds derived from the issuance of any refunding bonds under the provisions of this article shall either be immediately applied to the payment or redemption and retirement of the bonds to be refunded and the cost and expense incident to such procedures or shall immediately be placed in escrow to be applied to the payment of said bonds upon their presentation therefor and the costs and expenses incident to such proceedings and for no other purpose whatsoever until the bonds being refunded have been paid in full and discharged, and all accrued interest thereon has also been paid in full, upon which occurrences the escrow shall terminate, and any moneys remaining therein shall be returned to the district's bond redemption fund.

(2) Any such escrowed proceeds, pending such use, may be invested or, if necessary, reinvested in securities meeting the investment requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S., maturing at such times as to insure the prompt payment of the bonds refunded under the provisions of this article and the interest accruing thereon.

(3) Such escrowed proceeds and investments, together with any interest to be derived from such investments, shall be in an amount which at all times is sufficient to pay the bonds refunded as they become due at their respective maturities or as they are called for redemption and payment on prior redemption dates, as to principal, interest, any prior redemption premium due, and any charges of the escrow agent payable therefrom. The computations made in determining such sufficiency shall be verified by a certified public accountant.

(4) For the purpose of implementing the provisions of this article, the board of education of any school district has the power to enter into escrow agreements and to establish escrow accounts with any commercial bank having full trust powers located within the state of Colorado and a member of the federal deposit insurance corporation, under protective covenants and agreements whereby such accounts shall be fully secured by, or shall be invested in, securities meeting the investment requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S., in such amounts as will be sufficient and maturing at such times so as to insure the prompt payment of the bonds refunded and the interest accruing thereon under the provisions of this article.

(5) In no event shall the aggregate amount of bonded indebtedness of any school district exceed the maximum allowable amount as determined pursuant to section 22-30-126 or 22-42-104; except that, in determining and computing such aggregate amount of bonded indebtedness of any district, bonds which have been refunded, as provided in this article, either by immediate payment or redemption and retirement or by the placement of the proceeds of refunding bonds in escrow, shall not be deemed outstanding indebtedness from and after the date on which sufficient moneys are placed with the paying agent of such outstanding bonds for the purpose of immediately paying or redeeming and retiring such bonds or from and after the date on which the proceeds of said refunding bonds are placed in escrow.

(6) The issuance of refunding bonds by any school district for the purposes of and in the manner authorized by this article, or by the provisions of any other law, shall never be interpreted or taken to be the creation of an indebtedness such that the same would require the approval at an election held in accordance with article 42 of this title, and no such approval shall be required for the issuance of such refunding bonds except as is specifically required by the law under which said refunding bonds are sought to be issued or have been issued.

(7) No bonds may be refunded under the provisions of this article unless the holders thereof voluntarily surrender said bonds for immediate exchange or immediate payment, or unless said bonds either mature or are callable for redemption prior to their maturity under their terms within ten years after the date of issuance of the refunding bonds, and provisions shall be made for paying or redeeming and discharging all of the bonds refunded within said period of time.

(8) No bonds shall be refunded under the provisions of this article within a period of one year following the actual issuance and delivery thereof to their initial purchasers unless the proceeds of said refunding bonds are immediately applied to the payment or redemption and retirement of the bonds being refunded.

(9) No bonds shall be issued under the provisions of this article for the purpose of refunding any refunding bonds unless the original bonds refunded by said refunding bonds have previously been paid or redeemed and matured or unless the proceeds of said refunding bonds are immediately applied to the payment or redemption and retirement of the original refunding bonds being refunded.

SCHOOL DISTRICT CAPITAL CONSTRUCTION
ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

22-43.7-101. Short title. This article shall be known and may be cited as the “Building Excellent Schools Today Act”.

Source: L. 2008: Entire article R&RE, p. 1040, § 1, effective May 22.

22-43.7-102. Legislative findings and declarations. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Colorado school districts, boards of cooperative services, and charter schools have differing financial abilities to meet students’ fundamental educational needs, including the need for new public schools and renovations or for controlled maintenance at existing public schools so that unsafe, deteriorating, or overcrowded facilities do not impair students’ abilities to learn.

(b) The establishment of a program to provide financial assistance to school districts, boards of cooperative services, and charter schools throughout the state that have difficulty financing new capital construction projects and renovating and maintaining existing facilities will help such districts, boards of cooperative services, and charter schools to meet students' fundamental educational needs.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that:

(a) Rental income, royalties, interest, and other income other than land sale proceeds derived from state school lands may be used to support the public schools of the state.

(b) It is necessary and appropriate for the state to build excellent schools today by assisting school districts, boards of cooperative services, and charter schools in completing needed public school facility capital construction projects more quickly by:

(I) Entering into lease-purchase agreements for the purpose of financing such projects; and

(II) Subject to the annual appropriation of such moneys by the general assembly, using a portion of the rental income and royalties derived from state school lands and, unless and until the state treasurer, pursuant to section 22-43.7-104 (2) (b) (I) (B), provides written notice to the joint budget committee of the general assembly that the state treasurer has determined that the use of interest or income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the public school fund to make lease payments under a lease-purchase agreement entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) will prevent the interest component of the lease payments from qualifying for exemption from federal income taxation and at any time after the state treasurer, pursuant to section 22-43.7-104 (2) (b) (I) (C), has rescinded any such determination, interest, and other income, other than land sale proceeds, derived from state school lands, as well as certain other available state moneys and matching moneys provided by school districts, boards of cooperative services, and charter schools, to make lease payments payable under the terms of the lease-purchase agreements.

(c) It is also necessary and appropriate for the state to use a portion of such rental income and royalties and, unless and until the state treasurer, pursuant to section 22-43.7-104 (2) (b) (I) (B), provides written notice to the joint budget committee of the general assembly that the state treasurer has determined that the use of interest or income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the public school fund to make lease payments under a lease-purchase agreement entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) will prevent the interest component of the lease payments from qualifying for exemption from federal income taxation and at any time after the state treasurer, pursuant to section 22-43.7-104 (2) (b) (I) (C), has rescinded any such determination, interest and other income, as well as certain other available state moneys to continue to provide financial assistance to school districts, boards of cooperative services, and charter schools in the form of cash funding for school renovation and controlled maintenance projects.

(d) In accordance with the decision of the Colorado court of appeals in the case denominated Colorado Criminal Justice Reform Coalition v. Ortiz, Case No. 04 CA 0879 (April 7, 2005), the lease-purchase agreements to be entered into by the state pursuant to this article do not constitute a multiple-fiscal year direct or indirect district debt or other financial obligation whatsoever for purposes of section 20 (4) (a) of article X of the state constitution.

(e) The provision of financial assistance for public school facility capital construction pursuant to this article meets the requirements of section 3 of article IX of the state constitution and shall be applied first to satisfy the legal obligations of the state under the settlement reached in the case denominated Giardino v. Colorado State Board of Education, et al., Case No. 98 CV 246, in the district court for the city and county of Denver.

(b) For each fiscal year commencing on or after July 1, 2008, the following moneys shall be credited to the assistance fund:

(I) (A) Unless and until the state treasurer, pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (I), provides written notice to the joint budget committee of the general assembly that the state treasurer has determined that the use of interest or income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the public school fund to make lease payments under a lease-purchase agreement entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) will prevent the interest component of the lease payments from qualifying for exemption from federal income taxation, the greater of thirty-five percent of the gross amount of public school lands income received during the fiscal year or an amount of such income equal to the difference between the total amount of lease payments to be made by the state under the terms of lease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) and the total amount of matching moneys to be paid to the state as lease payments under the terms of sublease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2). (B) Except as otherwise provided in sub-subparagraph (C) of this subparagraph (I), if the state treasurer determines during any fiscal year that the use of interest or income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the public school fund to make lease payments under a lease-purchase agreement will prevent the interest component of the lease payments from qualifying for exemption from federal income taxation and provides written notice to the joint budget committee of the general assembly of the determination, for the portion of the fiscal year beginning on the date the written notice is provided to the joint budget committee and for each subsequent fiscal year, the greater of fifty percent of the gross amount of public school lands income other than interest or income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the public school fund received during the fiscal year or an amount of such public school lands income equal to the difference between the total amount of lease payments to be made by the state under the terms of lease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) and the total amount of matching moneys to be paid to the state as lease payments under the terms of sublease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2). (C) If, after making a determination and providing notice pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (I), the state treasurer makes a new determination during any fiscal year that the use of interest or income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the public school fund to make lease payments under a lease-purchase agreement entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) will not prevent the interest component of the lease payments from qualifying for exemption from federal income taxation and the state treasurer provides written notice to the joint budget committee of the general assembly that the state treasurer has made a new determination and is rescinding the determination made pursuant to said sub-subparagraph (B) as of the date the written notice is provided, for the portion of the fiscal year beginning on the date the written notice is provided to the joint budget committee and for each subsequent fiscal year, the greater of thirty-five percent of the gross amount of public school lands income received during the fiscal year or an amount of such income equal to the difference between the total amount of lease payments to be made by the state under the terms of lease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) and the total amount of matching moneys to be paid to the state as lease payments under the terms of sublease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2). (V) Any moneys transferred or appropriated to the assistance fund pursuant to subsection (5) of this section.

(3) Subject to annual appropriation, the department may expend moneys in the assistance fund to pay the direct and indirect administrative costs, including but not limited to the costs of conducting or contracting for the financial assistance priority assessment required by section 22-43.7-108 (1), incurred by the division and the board in exercising their powers and duties pursuant to this article. Any moneys in the assistance fund not appropriated for a fiscal year to the department for administrative costs before the fiscal year commences are hereby continuously appropriated to the board for the purpose of providing financial assistance, making payments required by section 22-43.7-114, and paying any transaction costs necessarily incurred in connection with the provision of financial assistance as authorized by this article; except that the use of any assistance fund moneys to make lease payments required by lease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly.

(4) For each fiscal year commencing on or after July 1, 2008, an emergency reserve of at least one million dollars shall be maintained in the assistance fund except that an emergency reserve need not be maintained in any fiscal year in which the amount of either public school lands income or public school lands income other than interest or income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the public school fund, or both, credited to the assistance fund pursuant to subparagraph (I) of paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section is an amount equal to the difference between the total amount of lease payments to be made by the state under the terms of lease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) and the total amount of matching moneys to be paid to the state as lease payments under the terms of sublease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) rather than, to the extent applicable, thirty-five percent of the gross amount of public school lands income received by the state during the fiscal year or fifty percent of the gross amount of public school lands income other than interest or income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the public school fund received by the state during the fiscal year. The board may expend moneys from the emergency reserve only to provide emergency financial assistance to address a public school facility emergency in accordance with section 22-43.7-109 (8).

(5) If the state treasurer, pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of subparagraph (I) of paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section, provides written notice to the joint budget committee of the general assembly that the state treasurer has determined that the use of interest or income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the public school fund to make lease payments under a lease-purchase agreement entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) will prevent the interest component of the lease payments from qualifying for exemption from federal income taxation, any such interest or income credited to the assistance fund before the treasurer provides the written notice shall be segregated into a separate restricted account of the assistance fund. All interest and income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the restricted account shall be credited to the restricted account. Moneys in the restricted account shall not be commingled with other moneys in the assistance fund. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, moneys in the restricted account shall not be used and shall not be available to pay lease payments under any lease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) unless and until the state treasurer, pursuant to sub-subparagraph (C) of subparagraph (I) of paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section, provides written notice to the joint budget committee of the general assembly that the state treasurer is rescinding the determination made pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of said subparagraph (I) as of the date the written notice is provided. Moneys in the restricted account may be used for the other purposes for which moneys in the assistance fund may be used under this article.

(6) If the amount of moneys in the assistance fund that, subject to the limitations set forth in subsection (5) of this section, is available to pay lease payments under any lease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2) will be insufficient to cover the full amount of the lease payments required by the lease-purchase agreements, the general assembly may appropriate or transfer from any legally available source to the assistance fund sufficient moneys to make the lease payments.

22-43.7-108. The board shall order payment of the costs incurred in conducting or contracting for the financial assistance priority assessment from the assistance fund.

(b) It is the intent of the general assembly that the financial assistance priority assessment required by this section be used only for the purposes specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) and section 22-43.7-107 (1) (a).

(2) (a) The financial assistance priority assessment shall assess public school facility capital construction projects based on:

- (I) The condition of the public school facility;
- (II) Air and water quality in the public school facility;
- (III) Public school facility space requirements;
- (IV) The ability to accommodate educational technology, including but not limited to technology for individual student learning and classroom instruction;

22-43.7-109. Financial assistance for public school capital construction - application requirements - evaluation criteria - local match requirements. (1) For fiscal years commencing on or after July 1, 2008, the board, with the support of the division and subject to the final approval of the state board regarding financial assistance awards as specified in this section, shall provide financial assistance as specified in this section subject to the following limitations:

(a) The board may only provide financial assistance for a capital construction project for a public school facility that the applicant owns or will have the right to own in the future under the terms of a lease-purchase agreement with the owner of the facility or a sublease-purchase agreement with the state entered into pursuant to section 22-43.7-110 (2).

(b) The board may provide financial assistance to a charter school that first occupies a public school facility on or after May 22, 2008, only if the public school facility occupied by the charter school complied with all public school facilities construction guidelines addressing health and safety issues established by the board pursuant to section 22-43.7-107 (2) (a) at the time the charter school first occupied the facility.

(2) (a) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), the board shall establish an annual financial assistance timeline for use by applicants in applying for financial assistance and otherwise meeting financial assistance requirements and for use by the board in reviewing financial assistance applications and recommending financial assistance awards to the state board. The timeline shall specify:

(I) A deadline for applicants to submit financial assistance applications to the board that allows sufficient time for submission of such applications;

(II) The period in which the board, with the support of the division, will review financial assistance applications;

(III) A deadline for the board to submit to the state board the prioritized list of projects for which the board recommends the provision of financial assistance as required by subsection (7) of this section; and

(IV) Any additional deadlines or deadline extension periods needed to ensure that applicants seeking voter approval to obtain matching moneys required pursuant to subsection (9) of this section have sufficient opportunity to obtain such voter approval or otherwise needed to ensure the efficient and effective administration of this article.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2):

(I) The board:

(A) After receiving an application for emergency financial assistance made pursuant to subsection (8) of this section, may provide emergency financial assistance to an applicant at any time; and

(B) May establish a timeline for the 2008-09 fiscal year or the 2008-09 and 2009-10 fiscal years only that takes into account any incomplete status of the priority assessment required by section 22-43.7-108, allows awards of financial assistance to be made based on consideration of so much of the assessment as has been completed, and differs from subsequent annual timelines.

(II) In order to ensure efficient submission and review of financial assistance applications and allow the board to provide financial assistance as soon as is feasible, on and after May 22, 2008, but before the appointment of the board, the state board, or such personnel of the department as the state board may designate, may establish interim financial assistance application deadlines and applications for use by applicants in applying for financial assistance for the 2008-09 fiscal year only. The state board may also designate department personnel to preliminarily review financial assistance applications until such time as the board and the director of the division have been appointed.

(3) A charter school shall notify its authorizer that it intends to apply for financial assistance at least four months prior to the application submission deadline. The charter school shall forward its application for financial assistance to its authorizer, which shall forward the application to the board together with a letter indicating the authorizer's position on the application. The Colorado school for the deaf and blind shall apply for financial assistance directly. Financial assistance awarded to a charter school as a matching cash grant shall be provided to the authorizer, which shall distribute all financial assistance received as a grant to the charter school and may not retain any portion of such moneys for any purpose. All other financial assistance shall be provided in the form of lease payments made by the board directly to a lessor or trustee as required by the terms of the applicable lease-purchase agreement.

(4) Applications for financial assistance submitted to the board shall be in a form prescribed by the board and shall include:

(a) A description of the scope and nature of the public school facility capital construction project for which financial assistance is sought;

(b) A description of the architectural, functional, and construction standards that are to be applied to the capital construction project that indicates whether the standards are consistent with the public school facility construction guidelines established by the board pursuant to section 22-43.7-107 and provides an explanation for the use of any standard that is not consistent with the guidelines;

(c) The estimated amount of financial assistance needed for the capital construction project and the form and amount of matching moneys that the applicant will provide for the project;

(d) (I) If the capital construction project involves the construction of a new public school facility or a major renovation of an existing public school facility, a demonstration of the ability and willingness of the applicant to maintain the project over time that includes, at a minimum, the establishment of a capital renewal budget and a commitment to make annual contributions to a capital renewal reserve within a school district's capital reserve fund or any functionally similar reserve fund separately maintained by an applicant that is not a school district.

(II) As used in this paragraph (d), "capital renewal reserve" means moneys set aside by an applicant for the specific purpose of replacing major public school facility systems with projected life cycles such as roofs, interior finishes, electrical systems and heating, ventilating, and air conditioning systems.

(e) If the application is for financial assistance for the renovation, reconstruction, expansion, or replacement of an existing public school facility, a description of the condition of the public school facility at the time the applicant purchased or completed the construction of the public school facility and, if the public school facility was not new or was not adequate at that time, the rationale of the applicant for purchasing the public school facility or constructing it in the manner in which it did;

(f) A statement regarding the means by which the applicant intends to provide matching moneys required for the projects, including but not limited to means such as voter-approved multiple-fiscal year debt or other financial obligations, gifts, grants, donations, a loan obtained pursuant to section 22-43.7-110.5, or any other means of financing permitted by law, or the intent of the applicant to seek a waiver of the matching moneys requirement pursuant to subsection (10) of this section. If an applicant that is a school district or a board of cooperative services with a participating school district intends to raise matching moneys by obtaining voter approval to enter into a sublease-purchase agreement that constitutes an indebtedness of the district as authorized by section 22-32-127, it shall indicate whether it has received the required voter approval or, if the election has not already been held, the anticipated date of the election.

(g) A description of any efforts by the applicant to coordinate capital construction projects with local governmental entities or community-based or other organizations that provide facilities or services that benefit the community in order to more efficiently or effectively provide such facilities or services, including but not limited to a description of any financial commitment received from any such entity or organization that will allow better leveraging of any financial assistance awarded; and

(h) Any other information that the board may require for the evaluation of the project.

(5) The board, taking into consideration the financial assistance priority assessment conducted pursuant to section 22-43.7-108, shall prioritize applications that describe public school facility capital construction projects deemed eligible for financial assistance based on the following criteria, in descending order of importance:

(a) (I) Projects that will address safety hazards or health concerns at existing public school facilities, including concerns relating to public school facility security.

(II) In prioritizing an application for a public school facility renovation project that will address safety hazards or health concerns, the board shall consider the condition of the entire public school facility for which the project is proposed and determine whether it would be more fiscally prudent to replace the entire facility than to provide financial assistance for the renovation project.

(b) Projects that will relieve overcrowding in public school facilities, including but not limited to projects that will allow students to move from temporary instructional facilities into permanent facilities;

(c) Projects that are designed to incorporate technology into the educational environment; and

(d) All other projects.

(6) The board may request that the division undertake a preliminary review of any or all applications for financial assistance, and the board may also request that any department, agency, or institution of state government with expertise or experience in construction management provide assistance to the board with regard to the evaluation of such applications for financial assistance.

(7) Pursuant to the timelines established pursuant to subsection (2) of this section for any fiscal year for which financial assistance is to be awarded, and after prioritizing public school facility capital construction projects as specified in subsection (5) of this section, the board shall submit to the state board a prioritized list of projects for which the board recommends the provision of financial assistance. The prioritized list shall include the board's recommendation as to the amount and type of financial assistance to be provided and a statement of the source and amount of applicant matching moneys for each recommended project based upon information provided by the applicant. The board may recommend that any specific project only receive financial assistance if another higher priority project or group of projects becomes ineligible for financial assistance due to the inability of an applicant to raise required matching moneys by a deadline prescribed by the board as a condition of a financial assistance award for the higher priority project or group of projects. The state board may approve, disapprove, or modify the provision of financial assistance for any project recommended by the board if the state board concludes that the board misinterpreted the results of the prioritization assessment conducted pursuant to section 22-43.7-108 or misapplied the prioritization criteria specified in subsection (5) of this section. The state board shall specifically explain in writing its reasons for finding that the board misinterpreted the results of the priority assessment or misapplied the prioritization criteria when disapproving or modifying any financial assistance award recommended by the board.

(8) (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, in the event of a public school facility emergency, an entity that may be an applicant and that is operating in the affected public school facility may submit an application to the board for emergency financial assistance to address the emergency. The application shall disclose any insurance proceeds, cash reserves, or capital construction reserves available to pay the costs of addressing the emergency, and insurance proceeds that become available only after an applicant has received emergency financial assistance shall be used first to reimburse the assistance fund for the emergency financial assistance. The board shall meet within fifteen days of receiving the application to determine whether to recommend to the state board that emergency financial assistance be provided, the amount of any assistance recommended to be provided, and any recommended conditions that the applicant must meet to receive the assistance. The state board shall meet within five days of receiving the board's recommendations to determine whether to authorize the board to award emergency financial assistance as recommended by the board, modify the recommended award of assistance, or prohibit the board from awarding assistance. The board may use any unencumbered and unexpended moneys in the assistance fund, including the emergency reserve of the assistance fund, to provide emergency financial assistance.

(b) As used in this subsection (8), "public school facility emergency" means an unanticipated event that makes all or a significant portion of a public school facility unusable for educational purposes or threatens the health or safety of persons using the public school facility.

(9) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (10) of this section, the board shall recommend and the state board shall approve financial assistance for a public school facility capital construction project only if the applicant provides matching moneys in an amount equal to a percentage of the total financing for the project determined by the board after consideration of the applicant's financial capacity, as determined by the following factors:

(a) With respect to a school district's application for financial assistance:

(I) The school district's assessed value per pupil relative to the state average;

(II) The school district's median household income relative to the state average;

(III) The school district's bond redemption fund mill levy relative to the statewide average;

(IV) The percentage of pupils enrolled in the school district who are eligible for free or reduced-cost lunch; and

(V) The amount of effort put forth by the school district to obtain voter approval for a ballot question for bonded indebtedness, including but not limited to a ballot question for entry by the district into a sublease-purchase agreement of the type that constitutes an indebtedness of the district pursuant to section 22-32-127, during the ten years preceding the year in which the district submitted the application, which factor may be used only to reduce the percentage of matching moneys required from a district that has put forth such effort and not to increase the amount of matching moneys required from any district;

(b) With respect to a board of cooperative services' application for financial assistance:

(I) The average assessed value per pupil of all members of the board of cooperative services participating in the capital construction project relative to the state average;

(II) The average median household income of all members of the board of cooperative services participating in the capital construction project relative to the state average;

(III) The average bond redemption fund mill levy of all members of the board of cooperative services participating in the capital construction project relative to the statewide average;

(IV) The percentage of pupils enrolled in the member schools within the board of cooperative services that are participating in the capital construction project who are eligible for free or reduced-cost lunch; and

(V) The amount of effort put forth by the members of the board of cooperative services to obtain voter approval for a ballot question for bonded indebtedness, including but not limited to a ballot question for entry by any member into a sublease-purchase agreement of the type that constitutes an indebtedness of the member pursuant to section 22-32-127, during the ten years preceding the year in which the board of cooperative services submitted the application, which factor may be used only to reduce the percentage of matching moneys required from a board of cooperative services whose members, or any of them, have put forth such effort and not to increase the amount of matching moneys required from any board of cooperative services;

(c) With respect to a charter school's application for financial assistance:

(I) The weighted average of the match percentages for the school districts of residence for the students enrolled in a district charter school or fifty percent of the average of the match percentages for all school districts in the state for an institute charter school;

(II) Whether the charter school's authorizer retains no more than ten percent of its capacity to issue bonds pursuant to article 42 of this title;

(III) Whether the charter school is operating in a district-owned facility at the time it submits its application;

(IV) In the ten years preceding the year in which the charter school submits the application, the number of times the charter school has attempted to obtain or has obtained:

(A) Bond proceeds pursuant to section 22-30.5-404 through inclusion in a ballot measure submitted by the charter school's authorizer to the registered electors of the school district;

(B) Proceeds from a special mill levy for capital needs pursuant to section 22-30.5-405;

(C) Grant funding for capital needs from a source other than the assistance fund; and

(D) Funding for capital construction from bonds issued on its behalf by the Colorado educational and cultural facilities authority created and existing pursuant to section 23-15-104 (1) (a), C.R.S., or from some other source of financing;

(V) If the charter school is a district charter school, the student enrollment of the charter school as a percentage of the student enrollment of the charter school's authorizing school district;

(VI) The percentage of students enrolled in the charter school who are eligible for the federal free and reduced-cost lunch program in relation to the overall percentage of students enrolled in the public schools in the state who are eligible for the federal free and reduced-cost lunch program;

(VII) The percentage of the per pupil revenue received by the charter school that the charter school spends on facility costs other than facilities operations and maintenance; and (VIII) The charter school's unreserved fund balance as a percentage of its annual budget.

(10) (a) A school district shall not be required to provide any amount of matching moneys in excess of the difference between the school district's limit of bonded indebtedness, as calculated pursuant to section 22-42-104, and the total amount of outstanding bonded indebtedness already incurred by the school district.

(b) An applicant may apply to the board for a waiver or reduction of the matching moneys requirement specified in subsection (9) of this section. The board may grant a waiver or reduction if it determines that the waiver or reduction would significantly enhance educational opportunity and quality within a school district, board of cooperative services, or applicant school, that the cost of complying with the matching moneys requirement would significantly limit educational opportunities within a school district, board of cooperative services, or applicant school, or that extenuating circumstances deemed significant by the board make a waiver appropriate.

(c) The amount of bonded indebtedness that a school district that is a member of a board of cooperative services incurs in order to provide matching moneys for the board of cooperative services shall not constitute bonded indebtedness of the school district subject to the limits on bonded indebtedness specified in section 22-42-104.

(11) In determining the amount of each recommended award of financial assistance, the board shall seek to be as equitable as practicable by considering the total financial capacity of each applicant.

(12) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, the match percentage for a charter school calculated pursuant to paragraph (c) of subsection (9) of this section shall not be higher than the highest match percentage for a school district, or lower than the lowest match percentage for a school district, in the same grant cycle.

22-43.7-110. Financial assistance - grants - lease-purchase agreements. (1) The board may provide financial assistance for those public school facility capital construction projects for which the state board has authorized the provision of financial assistance pursuant to section 22-43.7-109 (7) by providing matching grants from the assistance fund.

(2) Subject to the following requirements and limitations, the board may also instruct the state treasurer to enter into lease-purchase agreements on behalf of the state to provide financial assistance to applicants by financing public school facility capital construction projects for which the state board has authorized the provision of financial assistance pursuant to section 22-43.7-109 (7):

(a) Subject to the limitation specified in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), the maximum total amount of annual lease payments payable by the state during any fiscal year under the terms of all outstanding lease-purchase agreements entered into by the state treasurer as instructed by the board pursuant to this subsection (2) is:

- (I) Twenty million dollars for the 2008-09 fiscal year;
- (II) Forty million dollars for the 2009-10 fiscal year;
- (III) Sixty million dollars for the 2010-11 fiscal year; and
- (IV) Eighty million dollars for the 2011-12 fiscal year and for each fiscal year thereafter.

(b) (I) The state treasurer may enter into lease-purchase agreements for which the aggregate annual lease payments of principal or interest for any fiscal year exceed one-half of the maximum total amount of annual lease payments permitted for the fiscal year pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) only if the aggregate amount of matching moneys expected to be credited to the assistance fund pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (2) and section 22-43.7-104 (2) (b) (IV) and any interest or income derived from the deposit and investment of the matching moneys is at least equal to the annual lease payments of principal and interest that exceed one-half of said maximum total amount.

(II) For purposes of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b), in calculating one-half the maximum total amount of annual lease payments permitted for the fiscal year pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), the state treasurer shall not include any amount of annual lease payments of principal or interest that are attributable to loans of matching moneys for eligible charter schools that the board approves pursuant to section 22-43.7-110.5.

(c) Whenever the state treasurer enters into a lease-purchase agreement on behalf of the state pursuant to this subsection (2) to finance a public school facility, the board shall enter into a sublease-purchase agreement for the facility on behalf of the state with the applicant that will use the facility. The sublease-purchase agreement shall require the applicant to perform for the state all duties of the state to maintain and operate the public school facility that are required by the lease-purchase agreement and to make periodic rental payments to the state, which payments shall be credited to the assistance fund as matching moneys of the applicant. The sublease-purchase agreement shall also provide for the transfer of ownership of the public school facility from the state to the applicant upon the fulfillment of both the state's obligations under the lease-purchase agreement and the applicant's obligations under the sublease-purchase agreement. A sublease-purchase agreement may provide that the legal obligation of an applicant to make periodic rental payments is subject to the annual appropriation of moneys for that purpose by the applicant if the absence of such a provision would create a district multiple-year fiscal obligation without voter approval in advance in violation of section 20 (4) (b) of article X of the state constitution.

(d) A lease-purchase agreement entered into by the state treasurer on behalf of the state pursuant to this subsection (2) shall provide that all payment obligations of the state under the agreement are subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly and that obligations shall not be deemed or construed as creating an indebtedness of the state within the meaning of any provision of the state constitution or the laws of the state concerning or limiting the creation of indebtedness by the state.

(e) A lease-purchase agreement entered into by the state treasurer on behalf of the state pursuant to this subsection (2) may contain such terms, provisions, and conditions as the state treasurer may deem appropriate. The provisions shall allow the state to receive title to the real and personal property that is the subject of the agreement on or prior to the expiration of the entire term of the agreement, including all optional renewal terms. Such a lease-purchase agreement may further provide for the issuance, distribution, and sale of instruments evidencing rights to receive rentals and other payments made and to be made under the agreement. Such instruments shall not be notes, bonds, or any other evidence of indebtedness of the state within the meaning of any provision of the state constitution or the laws of the state concerning or limiting the creation of indebtedness by the state. Interest paid under a lease-purchase agreement, including interest represented by such instruments, shall be exempt from Colorado income tax.

(f) The board may only enter into a sublease-purchase agreement on behalf of the state pursuant to this subsection (2) if the state treasurer has reviewed the agreement and provided written authorization to the board to enter into the agreement.

(g) If the state treasurer deems it to be necessary or advisable, the state treasurer may enter into a lease-purchase agreement on behalf of the state for only a portion of a public school facility for which financial assistance is being provided or for all or a portion of a different public school facility or other property of a school district.

(h) Notwithstanding the authority of the board to instruct the state treasurer to enter into lease-purchase agreements on behalf of the state, in order to ensure that lease-purchase agreements are entered into under favorable financial market conditions, the state treasurer shall have sole discretion to determine the timing of the state treasurer's entry into any lease-purchase agreement on behalf of the state pursuant to this subsection (2).

(d) Create an escrow account for the benefit of the state with a balance in the amount of six months of loan payments.

PART 2

FULL-DAY KINDERGARTEN FACILITY CAPITAL CONSTRUCTION ASSISTANCE

Cross references: For the legislative declaration contained in the 2008 act enacting this part 2, see section 1 of chapter 286, Session Laws of Colorado 2008.

22-43.7-201. Full-day kindergarten facility capital construction fund - creation - definitions. (1) (a) There is hereby established in the state treasury the full-day kindergarten facility capital construction fund, referred to in this part 2 as the “fund”. The fund shall consist of any moneys annually appropriated thereto by the general assembly for the purposes of this part 2. All interest and income earned on the deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1), any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a budget year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

(b) On June 30, 2011, the state treasurer shall transfer the balance of moneys in the fund to the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution.

(2) The public school capital construction assistance board shall use the moneys in the fund to provide grants or matching grants to any school district or institute charter school that is undertaking a capital construction project to renovate a facility, rent a facility, or provide a temporary auxiliary facility that will be used in conjunction with providing a full-day kindergarten program. The board shall award a grant or matching grant pursuant to this part 2 to a school district or institute charter school only if, without the grant or matching grant, the school district or institute charter school would be unable to provide a facility in which to offer a full day of kindergarten to more students than were offered a full day of kindergarten in the 2007-08 budget year. For purposes of this part 2, “temporary auxiliary facility” means a temporary building that will be placed on the same campus as a main educational facility.

(3) Each budget year, the board shall use fifty percent of the moneys in the fund to provide grants pursuant to this part 2 and fifty percent of the moneys in the fund to provide matching grants pursuant to this part 2.

22-43.7-202. Applications for grants and matching grants - rules. (1) Each applicant for a grant or matching grant pursuant to this part 2 shall submit an application to the board no later than July 1 for the budget year commencing on that July 1. An individual school of a school district, including a district charter school, may apply for a grant or matching grant through the school district in which the school is located, and the school district may then apply to the board for the grant or matching grant on behalf of the school. An institute charter school may apply directly to the board.

(2) The board or its designees shall evaluate each application submitted by a school district or an institute charter school based on the factors set forth in this section and such other factors as the board may establish by rule.

(3) Each application for a grant or a matching grant submitted to the board pursuant to this section shall be in a form prescribed by the board and shall include:

(a) A description of the scope and nature of the capital construction project to renovate a facility or provide a temporary auxiliary facility for a full-day kindergarten program;

- (b) A description of the architectural, functional, and construction standards that are to be applied to the facility that is the subject of the capital construction project;
  - (c) The total estimated cost of the capital construction project;
  - (d) The form and amount of financial effort that will be provided by the school district or the institute charter school for the capital construction project;
  - (e) A demonstration of the school district's or the institute charter school's ability and willingness to maintain a capital construction project funded pursuant to this part 2; and
  - (f) Any other information the board may reasonably require for the evaluation of the capital construction project.
- (4) The board shall prioritize each application for a grant or a matching grant that describes a capital construction project deemed eligible by the board for a grant or matching grant pursuant to this part 2. The board shall prioritize the applications based on the following criteria, in descending order of importance:
- (a) Capital construction projects in school districts or for institute charter schools in accounting districts that have reached ninety percent or more of their limit on bonded indebtedness under section 22-42-104; and
  - (b) Capital construction projects in school districts or for institute charter schools that have previously demonstrated consistent efforts to allocate moneys to the school districts' or institute charter schools' capital reserve fund.

22-43.7-203. Full-day kindergarten facility capital construction projects - prioritization. (1) From the applications submitted for grants or matching grants pursuant to section 22-43.7-202, the board shall annually prepare a prioritized list of capital construction projects to provide facilities for full-day kindergarten programs. The board shall then determine the type and amount of the grant or matching grant to be awarded to each eligible capital construction project based on the information provided by the school district or the institute charter school in the application.

(2) The board shall submit to the state board the prioritized list of capital construction projects prepared pursuant to subsection (1) of this section. The prioritized list shall include the board's recommendations as to the amount of financial assistance to be provided to applicants and whether the assistance should be in the form of a grant or a matching grant. The state board may approve, disapprove, or modify the provision of financial assistance to any applicant recommended by the board if the state board finds that the board incorrectly prioritized the capital construction projects pursuant to this part 2. The state board shall specifically explain in writing its reasons for finding that the board incorrectly prioritized any capital construction project pursuant to this part 2.

(3) In prioritizing capital construction projects and awarding grants and matching grants pursuant to this part 2, the board shall attempt to maximize the total number of students statewide who will be able to attend a full day of kindergarten due to the availability of a renovated facility or temporary auxiliary facility for a full-day kindergarten program.

(4) It is the intent of the general assembly that school districts give consideration to the needs of both traditional public schools and charter schools established pursuant to article 30.5 of this title when submitting applications for grants or matching grants pursuant to this section.

(5) It is the intent of the general assembly that a grant or matching grant awarded to a school district or institute charter school pursuant to this part 2 shall not be taken into consideration when the board prioritizes capital construction projects pursuant to part 1 of this article. Nothing in this part 2 shall be construed to limit or otherwise affect the authority of the board to prioritize capital construction projects pursuant to part 1 of this article.

The board shall ensure that the district uses the full accrual basis of accounting when budgeting and accounting for any enterprise funds included in the district budget.

(2) If a new school district is organized during a fiscal year and the school districts included therein do not operate the schools until the end of the school year, the board of education of the newly organized district shall adopt a budget and appropriation resolution to cover only the remaining portion of the fiscal year. Such budget shall be based on the total of the amounts budgeted and appropriated by the board of education of any former district wholly included in the new district and the pro rata amounts budgeted and appropriated by the board of education of any district only partly included therein, to the respective funds, functions, and objects in the budget of the newly organized district.

22-44-103.5. Budget for 1992 transitional fiscal year - budget years thereafter. (1) In order to implement the change in the school district fiscal year on July 1, 1992, the six-month period beginning on January 1, 1992, and ending on June 30, 1992, shall be the 1992 transitional fiscal year. The board of education of each school district shall adopt a budget and an appropriation resolution for such transitional fiscal year in the manner provided by this part 1; except that the total amount that may be budgeted and appropriated from revenues in the general fund generated pursuant to the “Public School Finance Act of 1988”, former article 53 of this title, for expenditure during such transitional fiscal year shall not exceed the equalization program funding of such district as determined pursuant to former section 22-53-107 (5), the preschool program funding as determined pursuant to former section 22-53-115.5 (1.5), if any, and the program funding for three- and four-year-old children with disabilities as determined pursuant to former section 22-53-116.5 (2), if any.

(2) (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 39-1-112, C.R.S., revenues generated pursuant to the "Public School Finance Act of 1988" to fund the equalization program funding, the preschool program funding, and the program funding for three- and four-year-old children with disabilities of the district for the transitional fiscal year and any additional funds generated pursuant to the provisions of former section 22-53-114 (10) of said act, including property tax revenues collected during the 1992 calendar year which are in excess of the funding for such programs during such fiscal year, shall not be expended during such fiscal year but shall be carried forward in the general fund to the 1992-93 fiscal year.

(b) (I) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c) of this subsection (2), the property tax revenue carried forward to the 1992-93 fiscal year and any property tax revenue collected during the first six months of the 1992-93 budget year shall be used to offset the state's share of the district's equalization program funding for said fiscal year. Any property tax revenue not used to offset state aid during the 1992-93 fiscal year shall not be expended in said fiscal year but shall be carried forward in the general fund to the 1993-94 fiscal year.

(II) The property tax revenue carried forward to the 1993-94 fiscal year shall be used to offset the state's share of the district's equalization program funding for said fiscal year.

(III) (A) Of the districts subject to the provisions of this paragraph (b), this subparagraph (III) shall only apply to those districts with property tax revenue carried forward which is not completely offset against the state's share of the district's equalization program funding in the 1992-93 and 1993-94 fiscal years.

(B) The board of education of a district subject to the provisions of this subparagraph (III) shall reduce its mill levy for the 1993 property tax year so that the property tax revenue collected in 1994, assuming one hundred percent collection, equals the district's share of equalization program funding for the 1993-94 fiscal year plus any amount of categorical support funds the district is required to replace with property tax revenue during the 1993-94 fiscal year reduced by the amount of property tax revenue carried forward which was not offset against the state's share of equalization program funding for the 1992-93 and 1993-94 fiscal years. Any district that reduces its mill levy for the 1993 property tax year shall be subject to the provisions of former section 22-53-114 (9.2).

(C) In lieu of reducing the mill levy pursuant to the provisions of sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (III), the board of education of any district subject to the provisions of this subparagraph (III) may, by a two-thirds vote of the board, elect to keep the amount of property tax revenue carried forward which was not offset against the state's share of equalization program funding for the 1992-93 and 1993-94 fiscal years. Once such an election is made, the board of education may use its excess property tax revenue for any lawful purpose during the 1993-94 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter. Notwithstanding the provisions of former section 22-53-114 (1) or section 22-54-106, no district which elects to keep its excess property tax revenue pursuant to the provisions of this sub-subparagraph (C) shall receive state aid or receive categorical support funds which the district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state during the 1994-95 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter until such time as the amount of state aid or categorical support funds the district would have received during said years equals the amount of the excess property tax revenue.

(D) Notwithstanding the provisions of sub-subparagraph (C) of this subparagraph (III), for the 1995-96 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, the amount of property tax revenue carried forward shall be offset against any state aid or categorical support funds that the district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state during the 1995-96 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter. After the offset is made in each fiscal year, the board of education may use its excess property tax revenue for any capital projects and may use no more than ten percent of the excess property tax revenue remaining to be offset at the end of the fiscal year for any lawful purpose. The amount of excess property tax revenue remaining to be offset shall be reduced each year by ten percent and the amount of any capital projects on which the money is spent. By January 30 of each fiscal year, the board of education shall certify to the state department of education the total amount of excess property tax revenue spent or otherwise encumbered on capital projects for the fiscal year. Once the amount of excess property tax revenue remaining to be offset reaches zero, the district shall receive state aid or receive categorical support funds that the district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state.

(c) (I) The provisions of this paragraph (c) shall only apply to districts that were eligible to receive only minimum state aid under former section 22-53-114 (1) of the "Public School Finance Act of 1988".

(II) The board of education of a district subject to the provisions of this paragraph (c) shall reduce its mill levy for the 1992 property tax year so that the property tax revenue collected in 1993, assuming one hundred percent collection, equals the district's share of equalization program funding for the 1992-93 fiscal year plus any amount of categorical support funds the district is required to replace with property tax revenue during the 1992-93 fiscal year reduced by the amount of excess property tax revenue collected during the 1992 calendar year.

(III) In lieu of reducing the mill levy pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (c), the board of education of any district subject to the provisions of this paragraph (c) may, by a two-thirds vote of the board, elect to keep its excess property tax revenue. Once such an election is made, the board of education may then use its excess property tax revenue for any lawful purpose during the 1992-93 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter. Notwithstanding the provisions of former section 22-53-114 (1) or section 22-54-106, no district which elects to keep its excess property tax revenue pursuant to the provisions of this subparagraph (III) shall receive state aid during the 1992-93 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter or receive categorical support funds which the district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state for the 1993-94 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, until such time as the amount of state aid or categorical support funds the district would have received during said years equals the amount of the excess property tax revenue.

(IV) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (c), for the 1995-96 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, the amount of property tax revenue carried forward shall be offset against any state aid or categorical support funds that the district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state during the 1995-96 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter. After the offset is made in each fiscal year, the board of education may use its excess property tax revenue for any capital projects and may use no more than ten percent of the excess property tax revenue remaining to be offset at the end of the fiscal year for any lawful purpose. The amount of excess property tax revenue remaining to be offset shall be reduced each year by ten percent and the amount of any capital projects on which the money is spent. By January 30 of each fiscal year, the board of education shall certify to the state department of education the total amount of excess property tax revenue spent or otherwise encumbered on capital projects for the fiscal year. Once the amount of excess property tax revenue remaining to be offset reaches zero, the district shall receive state aid or receive categorical support funds that the district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state.

22-44-104. Failure to adopt budget or appropriation. If a board of education fails or neglects to adopt a budget or an appropriation resolution prior to the beginning of the ensuing fiscal year as required by section 22-44-103, then ninety percent of the amounts budgeted and appropriated to the funds, functions, and objects by the last duly adopted budget and appropriation resolution shall be deemed to be budgeted and appropriated by operation of law for the fiscal year for which no budget or appropriation resolution was adopted prior thereto; but an amount of money sufficient to satisfy all obligations of bonded indebtedness which will be due and payable during said fiscal year shall be deemed to be budgeted and appropriated by operation of law.

(c.5) The budget shall ensure that the school district holds unrestricted general fund or cash fund emergency reserves in the amount required under the provisions of section 20 (5) of article X of the state constitution; except that, if a board of education provides for a district emergency reserve in the general fund for the budget year, established at an amount equal to at least three percent of the amount budgeted to the general fund, the board may:

(I) Designate real property owned by the district as all or a portion of the reserve required by section 20 (5) of article X of the state constitution so long as the board has filed with the state treasurer and the department of education a letter of intent that expresses the intent of the board to increase the liquidity of such property upon the occurrence of a declared emergency within the meaning of section 20 (5) of article X of the state constitution by entering into one or more lease-purchase agreements with respect to such property or by other means acceptable to the state treasurer; or

(II) Secure a letter of credit from an investment-grade bank as all or a portion of the reserve required by section 20 (5) of article X of the state constitution so long as the board has filed with the state treasurer and the department of education a letter of intent that expresses the intent of the board to satisfy its obligation to reimburse the bank for moneys drawn on the letter of credit upon the occurrence of a declared emergency within the meaning of section 20 (5) of article X of the state constitution that are not reimbursed to the bank within the same fiscal year by entering into lease-purchase agreements with respect to real property owned by the district.

(c.6) If at any time the board of education expends any moneys from the district emergency reserve created pursuant to paragraph (c.5) of this subsection (1), the board shall restore the reserve to three percent of the amount budgeted to the general fund as follows:

(I) If the board of education expends moneys from the district emergency reserve in a single fiscal year, the board shall restore the reserve pursuant to this paragraph (c.6) within thirty-six months of the first draw of the money from the reserve; and

(II) If the board of education expends moneys from the district emergency reserve in two consecutive fiscal years, the board shall restore the reserve pursuant to this paragraph (c.6) by the end of the fiscal year following the second fiscal year in which the board expended moneys from the reserve.

(d.5) The budget shall include a uniform summary sheet for each fund administered by the district that details the following for each fund:

(I) The beginning fund balance and the anticipated ending fund balance for the budget year;

(II) The anticipated fund revenues for the budget year, delineated by the program and source codes identified in the chart of accounts created pursuant to subsection (4) of this section;

(III) The anticipated transfers and allocations that will occur to and from the fund during the budget year;

(IV) The anticipated expenditures that will be made from the fund during the budget year, delineated by the program and object codes identified in the chart of accounts created pursuant to subsection (4) of this section; and

(V) The amount of reserves in the fund.

(e) (I) For the 1993-94 fiscal year, the budget format shall contain a provision under which any district which has a reduction in its 1993-94 per pupil funding, as defined in former section 22-53-107.3 (3) (a), of four and seven-tenths percent or more may declare an extreme emergency and may apply for additional funding from the contingency reserve pursuant to former section 22-53-124 (4). Such additional funding shall not result in a percentage reduction for an individual district which is less than the greater of four and five-tenths percent or four percent plus the percentage change in the district's per pupil funding from the 1992-93 budget year to the 1993-94 budget year which results from the application of former section 22-53-107 (5.5) (b) (II) or (5.5) (b) (III).

(II) If a district which declares an extreme emergency pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (e) has property tax revenue carried forward under the provisions of section 22-44-103.5, such district shall not be eligible to receive additional funding from the contingency reserve. However, the district may expend such property tax revenue in the 1993-94 budget year in response to such extreme emergency and, if the district advises the state board of education of such expenditure, the amount expended, not to exceed the amount of additional funding allowed the district pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (e), shall be subtracted from the amount of excess property tax revenue of the district which must be offset against state aid and categorical support funds pursuant to section 22-44-103.5 (2) (b) (III) (B) and (2) (c) (III).

(III) For purposes of determining the percentage change in the district's per pupil funding from the 1992-93 budget year to the 1993-94 budget year, the district's per pupil funding for the 1992-93 budget year shall be the amount derived by dividing the district's 1992-93 equalization program funding, as calculated pursuant to former section 22-53-107 (3), including the district's 1992-93 preschool program funding, if any, as calculated pursuant to former section 22-53-115.5, and the district's 1992-93 program funding for three- and four-year-old children with disabilities, if any, as calculated pursuant to former section 22-53-116.5, by the district's 1992-93 funded pupil count as defined in former section 22-53-107 (5.5) (c) (II). The district's per pupil funding for the 1993-94 budget year shall be the amount derived by dividing the district's 1993-94 equalization program funding, as calculated pursuant to former section 22-53-107 (5.5) (b) (II) or (5.5) (b) (III), whichever is applicable, by the district's 1993-94 funded pupil count as defined in former section 22-53-107 (5.5) (c) (III).

(1.5) (a) A budget adopted pursuant to this article shall not provide for expenditures, interfund transfers, or reserves, in excess of available revenues and beginning fund balances. If the budget includes the use of a beginning fund balance, the school district board of education shall adopt a resolution specifically authorizing the use of a portion of the beginning fund balance in the school district's budget. The resolution, at a minimum, shall specify the amount of the beginning fund balance to be spent under the school district budget, state the purpose for which the expenditure is needed, and state the school district's plan to ensure that the use of the beginning fund balance will not lead to an ongoing deficit.

(b) Each school district shall annually prepare an itemized reconciliation between the fiscal year end fund balances based on the budgetary basis of accounting used by the school district and the fiscal year end fund balances based on the modified accrual basis of accounting. The reconciliation shall include, but need not be limited to, the liability for accrued salaries and related benefits. The reconciliation shall be included with the final version of the amended budget and the annual audited financial statements.

(c) If at any time during the fiscal year following the adoption of a budget by a board of education the school district determines that the use of an additional portion of the school district's beginning fund balance is necessary, the board of education shall adopt a resolution that meets at least the minimum requirements specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1.5) before using the additional portion of the beginning fund balance.

(2) The proposed expenditures and anticipated revenues in the budget shall be supported as needed by explanatory schedules or statements of sufficient detail to judge the validity thereof, including a statement which summarizes the aggregate of revenues, appropriations, assets, and liabilities of each fund in balanced relations. The budget shall disclose planned compliance with section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

(3) (Deleted by amendment, L. 93, p. 1873, § 1, effective June 6, 1993.)

(4) (a) Not later than July 1, 1998, the state board of education, with input from the financial policies and procedures advisory committee, shall establish and implement a statewide financial, student management, and human resource electronic data communications and reporting system that is based on a redesigned standard chart of accounts, a standard information system, and a standard personnel classification system. The department of education and all school districts and boards of cooperative services in the state shall use the system to report and obtain necessary financial information.

(b) In redesigning the financial and human resource reporting system pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the state board of education shall adhere to, but is not limited to, the following guidelines:

(I) The financial and human resource reporting system shall be based on a redesigned chart of accounts that will make school-to-school and school district-to-school district comparisons more accurate and meaningful;

(II) The financial and human resource reporting system shall provide standard definitions for employment positions such that full, accurate disclosure of administrative costs is made within the budgets and the financial statements of every school district;

(III) The financial reporting system shall make it possible to collect comparable data by program and school site.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to require accounting of salary and benefit costs by school site.

(d) Repealed.

(5) No later than July 1, 2008, the state board of education, with input and recommendations from the financial policies and procedures advisory committee created in the department of education, shall establish by rule the standard budget report format to be used by each board of education.

ANNOTATION

The guiding policy behind the statutes regarding school district funding is that of the prevention of deficit spending. DAEOP v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 972 P.2d 1047 (Colo. App. 1998).

Districts are not prohibited from adopting a contract or policy with fiscal implications over several years, however, districts are prevented from deficit spending by entering into contracts that are not modifiable in subsequent years. Because district's policy created a conditional promise or commitment to provide early retirement benefits, the promise was binding, subject to availability of adequate appropriated funds. Shaw v. Sargent Sch. Dist. No. RE-33-J, 21 P.3d 446 (Colo. App. 2001).

22-44-115.5. Fiscal emergency - effect on budget. (1) During any budget year, if the board of education of the school district determines that the anticipated revenues specified in the budget and the amounts appropriated in the budget for expenditure exceed the actual revenues available to the school district due, in whole or in part, to action by the general assembly or the governor relating to the state appropriation for the district's total program pursuant to article 54 of this title, the board may declare a fiscal emergency in such budget year. A declaration of fiscal emergency may only occur upon an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members of the board at a public meeting. Prior to any vote taken pursuant to this subsection (1), the board of education shall hold at least one public hearing within the district after full and timely notice to the public.

(2) If a fiscal emergency is declared by the board of education pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the board may implement a reduction in salaries for all employees of the school district on a proportional basis or may alter the work year of such employees. Such reduction in salaries may be made notwithstanding the provisions of section 22-63-401 (3).

22-44-116. Malfeasance - removal. Any school director, officer, or employee of a school district who knowingly and willfully violates any provision of this part 1 or fails to perform any duty required by this part 1 is guilty of malfeasance in office or position of employment and, upon conviction thereof, the court shall order that such school director, officer, or employee be removed from his office or position of employment.

The district shall not use the moneys in the full-day kindergarten reserve until the district enrolls one or more pupils in full-day kindergarten in the district. Once the district enrolls pupils in full-day kindergarten in the district, the district shall not be required to maintain the full-day kindergarten reserve.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY ACT

22-44-301. Short title. This part 3 shall be known and may be cited as the “Public School Financial Transparency Act”.

Source: L. 2010: Entire part added, (HB 10-1036), ch. 79, p. 267, § 1, effective April 12.

22-44-302. Legislative declaration. The general assembly finds that members of the public, as taxpayers and parents, have a strong interest in how public moneys are expended in Colorado in the pursuit of a quality education for all of Colorado’s public school students. The general assembly further finds that educators and administrators, as education innovators and stewards of these public moneys, are eager to learn from one another and evaluate best practices that may result in efficiencies and potential cost savings for their schools. While achieving these important ends through the statewide dissemination of public school financial information may have been cumbersome in the past, new technologies and the ease with which the public can access electronic information now make greater transparency in public school finances not only important but practical. Therefore, it is the intent of the general assembly to ensure public access to public school financial information through the adoption of the “Public School Financial Transparency Act”, which directs public schools to post financial information on-line, in a downloadable format, for free public access.

22-45-102. Accounts. (1) (a) Each school district shall use the full accrual basis of accounting when budgeting and accounting for any enterprise funds included in the district budget. The board of education of each school district shall cause financial records to be kept in accordance with generally accepted principles of governmental accounting. The financial transactions of the school district shall be recorded in general, appropriation, revenue, and expenditure records. Appropriate entries from the adopted budget shall be made in the records for the respective funds. Separate accounts shall be maintained for each of the several funds prescribed by this article. (b) The board of education of each school district shall review the financial condition of said school district at least quarterly during the fiscal year. The board shall require the secretary, treasurer, or any employee who has duties which relate to the fiscal affairs of said school district to submit a financial report covering the fiscal actions involving the general fund, and other funds that the board may request, at least quarterly. At a minimum, the report shall include:

(IV) A comparison of the expected year-end fund balances with the amount budgeted for that fiscal year.

(2) All records shall be maintained at the principal administrative offices of the school district. Accounts shall be posted and reconciled with fund resources at least monthly. Records shall be open for public inspection during reasonable business hours. The state board of education shall prescribe the minimum accounts to be maintained under the provisions of this article.

22-45-103. Funds. (1) The following funds are created for each school district for purposes specified in this article:

(a) General fund. (I) All revenues, except those revenues attributable to the bond redemption fund, the capital reserve fund, the special building and technology fund, a fund created solely for the management of risk-related activities, and any other fund authorized by this section or by the state board of education, as provided in subsection (2) of this section, shall be accounted for in the general fund. Any lawful expenditure of the school district, including any expenditure of a nature that could be made from any fund, may be made from the general fund. All expenditures from the general fund shall be recorded therein.

(II) Moneys allocated pursuant to the provisions of section 22-54-105 (1) shall be recorded in the instructional supplies and materials account, the instructional capital outlay account, and the other instructional purposes account in the general fund. Expenditures from the instructional supplies and materials account shall be limited to instructional supplies and materials, expenditures from the instructional capital outlay account shall be limited to instructional capital outlay, and expenditures from the other instructional purposes account shall be limited to other instructional purposes. Moneys in such accounts may not be expended for any other purpose. Moneys may be transferred among the three accounts but may not be transferred to any other account in the general fund or to any other fund of the school district. Any moneys in such accounts which are not projected to be expended during a budget year shall be budgeted for the purposes set forth in this subparagraph (II) in the next budget year. Nothing in this subparagraph (II) shall be construed to require that interest on moneys in such accounts be specifically allocated to such accounts.

(III) Repealed.

(IV) Moneys collected pursuant to section 22-32-109.8 (9) shall be credited to the fingerprint processing account. Moneys in said account shall be used for the purposes set forth in section 22-32-109.8 and may not be expended by the district for any other purpose; however, moneys in said account shall not be used for the purposes of section 22-32-109.8 (6). Any moneys in said account which are not expended during a budget year shall be carried forward and budgeted for the purposes set forth in section 22-32-109.8 in the next budget year.

(V) The revenues from a tax levied pursuant to section 22-40-109 shall be credited to the school facilities account. Moneys in said account shall be used for the purposes set forth in section 22-40-109 and may not be expended by the district for any other purpose. Any moneys remaining in the account at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the account and may be budgeted in the next fiscal year.

(VI) Repealed.

(b) Bond redemption fund. (I) The revenues from a tax levy for the purpose of satisfying bonded indebtedness obligations, both principal and interest, shall be recorded in the bond redemption fund, which shall be administered by at least one third-party custodian designated by the school district as provided in subparagraph (V) of this paragraph (b), unless the school district meets one of the exceptions specified in subparagraph (VI) or (VII) of this paragraph (b). The bond redemption fund may include more than one subsidiary account for which a separate tax levy is made to satisfy the obligations of bonded indebtedness, including a separate tax levy to satisfy the obligations of bonded indebtedness incurred by a former school district. The revenues from each separate tax levy shall be held in trust for the purpose of satisfying the obligations of the bonded indebtedness for which the tax levy was made; except that revenues, if any, remaining to the credit of a separate subsidiary account after satisfaction of all such obligations of that subsidiary account may be transferred to another subsidiary account in the same fund.

(II) The revenues from a tax levy for the purpose of making payments for which the district is obligated under an installment purchase agreement or under a lease or rental agreement having a term of more than one year, which has been approved at an election pursuant to section 22-32-127 (2), for the purpose of obtaining the use of real property or equipment for school sites, buildings, or structures or for any school purpose authorized by law shall also be recorded in the bond redemption fund. Subsidiary accounts may be established if separate tax levies are made for different installment purchase agreements, or for different lease or rental agreements, and the revenues in such accounts may be expended and treated in the same manner as revenues from a tax levy to satisfy bonded indebtedness obligations.

(III) Nothing in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (b) or in section 22-32-127 shall be construed to authorize a school district to make any levy for its bond redemption fund, or to use any moneys in its bond redemption fund, to make payments with regard to any installment purchase agreement or lease or rental agreement with an option to purchase which has not been approved at an election.

(IV) Moneys in the bond redemption fund shall be used only for the payment of principal and interest on obligations of the school district having a term greater than one year and approved at an election, which obligations constitute an indebtedness of the school district. Whenever the issuance of refunding bonds or other refunding obligations of the district results in moneys on deposit in the bond redemption fund which are not needed to satisfy the principal and interest obligations of the district as they become due, such moneys shall be used to reduce the levy for the bond redemption fund in future years or to pay any then existing obligations of the district payable from the bond redemption fund at a date earlier than they become due.

(V) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (VI) or (VII) of this paragraph (b), on or before July 1, 2003, each school district shall select at least one commercial bank or depository trust company that has full trust powers, is located within the state of Colorado, and is a member of the federal deposit insurance corporation to act as a third-party custodian to administer the school district's bond redemption fund. A school district may select multiple third-party custodians to administer the district's bond redemption fund, so long as each custodian selected meets the requirements for a custodian specified in this subparagraph (V). The custodian shall be responsible for making payments from the bond redemption fund as provided by law. The custodian, with the agreement of the school district, may withdraw any or all of the moneys in the bond redemption fund that are temporarily not needed to satisfy the school district's obligations, for purposes of depositing or investing the moneys in any investments permitted by law.

(VI) A school district is not required to designate a third-party custodian to administer the school district's bond redemption fund if the county treasurer keeps the funds and accounts of the school district as provided in section 22-40-104. A school district is not required to designate a third-party custodian to administer any portion of the school district's bond redemption fund that consists of revenues received from bonds or other obligations for which the school district has given notice to the state treasurer that it will not accept payment by the state treasurer on behalf of the school district as provided in section 22-41-110 (1) (a).

(VII) A school district is not required to select a commercial bank or depository trust company that has full trust powers to administer the school district's bond redemption fund if the school district places the funds in an escrow account with a financial institution eligible to receive public deposits, pursuant to escrow instructions which are acceptable to the state treasurer. At a minimum, the escrow instructions shall include provisions prohibiting payment or transfer of the funds to the school district without the state treasurer's prior written consent.

(c) Capital reserve fund. (I) Moneys allocated pursuant to the provisions of section 22-54-105 (2) shall be transferred from the general fund and recorded in the capital reserve fund along with the revenues received pursuant to section 39-5-132, C.R.S. Such revenues may be supplemented by gifts, grants, and donations. Unencumbered moneys in the fund may be transferred to a fund or an account within the general fund established in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles solely for the management of risk-related activities as identified in section 24-10-115, C.R.S., and article 13 of title 29, C.R.S., by resolution of the board of education when such transfer is deemed necessary by the board; except that a local board of education may, in its discretion, transfer any unrestricted moneys into or out of the capital reserve fund in the 2009-10 budget year or any budget year thereafter. Nothing in this subparagraph (I) shall be construed to prohibit a local board of education from transferring unrestricted moneys from the general fund or any other fund to the capital reserve fund in the 2009-10 budget year or any budget year thereafter. Except as provided in subparagraph (V) of this paragraph (c), expenditures from the fund shall be limited to long-range capital outlay expenditures and shall be made only for the following purposes:

- (A) Any acquisition of land, improvements, construction of structures or addition to existing structures, and acquisition of equipment and furnishings;
- (B) and (C) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2000, p. 520, § 5, effective August 2, 2000.)
- (D) Alterations and improvements to existing structures;
- (E) Acquisition of a school vehicle, as defined in section 42-1-102 (88.5), C.R.S., or other equipment, except equipment specified in sub-subparagraph (H) of this subparagraph (I);
- (F) Any installment purchase agreements or lease agreements with an option to purchase for a period not to exceed twenty years and any lease agreement without the option to purchase entered into by a school district or a charter school;
- (G) Any software licensing agreement;
- (H) Acquisition of computer equipment.
- (II) Expenditures from the fund, other than for installment purchase agreements with an option to purchase, as provided in subparagraph (II.5) of this paragraph (c), shall be authorized by a resolution adopted by the board of education of a school district at any regular or special meeting of the board. The resolution shall specifically set forth the purpose of the expenditure, the estimated total cost of the project, the location of the structure to be constructed, added to, altered, or repaired, a description of any school vehicles or equipment to be purchased, and where such equipment will be installed.
- (II.5) A board of education may enter into an installment purchase agreement or lease agreement with option to purchase for a period exceeding one year and not to exceed twenty years for expenditures from the fund if the agreement is first approved by a majority of the eligible electors of the district voting on the question at an election held pursuant to this subparagraph (II.5). The board of education may submit to the eligible electors of the district the question of whether to enter into such an agreement at any general election, regular biennial school election, or special election called for such purpose. The secretary of the board of education shall be the designated election official and shall conduct the election pursuant to articles 1 to 13 of title 1, C.R.S. Any special election called pursuant to this subparagraph (II.5) shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in February, May, October, November, or December. The question of whether to enter into an installment agreement or lease agreement with option to purchase may be submitted or resubmitted after the same, or after any other such question, has previously been rejected at an election held pursuant to this subparagraph (II.5), but no such question shall be submitted or resubmitted at any election held less than one hundred twenty days after a previous submission of such question, and the board of education of any school district shall not submit any question of entering into such an agreement at more than two elections within any twelve-month period. The board of education of a school district may enter into an installment purchase agreement or lease agreement with option to purchase for a term not to exceed twenty years for the purposes provided for in sub-subparagraph (F) of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c). When authorized by the election as provided in this subparagraph (II.5), the agreement shall be valid, binding, and enforceable between the parties to the agreement. The provisions of this subparagraph (II.5) shall have no application to any installment purchase agreement or lease agreement with option to purchase, even though the term thereof may be greater than one year, if the district's obligation to make payments thereunder is expressly subject to the making of annual appropriations therefor in accordance with law. This subparagraph (II.5) shall have no application to any lease agreement with option to purchase for a period of one year or less, including lease agreements consisting of a series of one-year terms renewable at the option of the district.
- (III) Any balance remaining upon the completion of any authorized project may be encumbered for future projects which are authorized as provided in this paragraph (c).
- (IV) The revenues from a tax levied pursuant to section 22-40-110 shall be credited to the capital reserve fund. Moneys in said fund shall be used for the purposes set forth in section 22-40-110 and may not be expended by the district for any other purpose. Any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the fund and may be budgeted in the next fiscal year.
- (V) Upon receipt from a school district of an accounting of any expenditures made or moneys encumbered for the purchase of new textbooks in the 2002-03 budget year, including copies of invoices, contracts, or other documentation of the amount and purpose of the expenditures or encumbrances, the department of education may allow the school district to expend moneys from the district's capital reserve fund during the 2002-03 and 2003-04 budget years to offset the elimination of additional moneys that the district would have received in the 2002-03 budget year pursuant to section 22-54-105 (1) (b) (III) to purchase new textbooks; except that any expenditure of moneys from the fund made pursuant to this subparagraph (V) shall be limited to the amount of moneys the district has expended or encumbered as of January 31, 2003, for the purchase of new textbooks.

(d) Special building and technology fund. (I) The revenues from a tax levy for the purpose of acquiring, maintaining, or constructing schools or for the purchase and installation of instructional and informational technology shall be recorded in the special building and technology fund to remain in the custody of the treasurer of any district that has elected under law to withdraw its funds from the custody of the county treasurer or, in any other case, to the treasurer of the county in which the district is located and may be invested or deposited by such district or county treasurer pursuant to the provisions of sections 24-75-601.1, 24-75-602, and 24-75-603, C.R.S. Expenditures from the fund shall be limited to acquiring land; acquiring or constructing structures; maintaining structures to enhance their function, protect their value, and extend their economic life; and purchasing and installing instructional and informational technology, including expenditures for software and staff training related to the new technology.

(II) Expenditures from the fund shall be authorized by a resolution adopted by the board of education of a school district at any regular or special meeting of the board. The resolution shall specifically set forth the purpose of the expenditure, the estimated total cost of the project, and the location of the land to be acquired, the structure to be acquired or constructed, or the nature of the building security technology or instructional and informational technology to be acquired. Such resolution shall constitute authorization to the treasurer of any district that has elected under law to withdraw its funds from the custody of the county treasurer or, in any other case, to the treasurer of the county in which the district is located for application of the funds under his or her control to the specified expenditure.

(III) Any balance remaining upon the completion of any authorized project may be encumbered for future projects that are authorized as provided in this paragraph (d).

(IV) Any moneys in the fund that have not been authorized for expenditure within three years after being recorded in the fund shall revert to the capital reserve fund.

(e) Risk management reserves. Moneys allocated pursuant to the provisions of section 22-54-105 (2) shall be recorded in a fund or in an account within the general fund established in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles solely for the management of risk-related activities as identified in section 24-10-115, C.R.S., and article 13 of title 29, C.R.S. Unencumbered moneys in such fund or account may be transferred to the capital reserve fund or to any other fund or account established solely for the management of risk-related activities by resolution of the board of education when such transfer is deemed necessary by the board; except that a local board of education may, in its discretion, transfer any unrestricted moneys into or out of such fund or account in the 2009-10 budget year or any budget year thereafter. Expenditures from any such fund or account shall be limited to the purposes set forth in section 24-10-115, C.R.S., and article 13 of title 29, C.R.S. Nothing in this paragraph (e) shall be construed to prohibit a local board of education from transferring unrestricted moneys from the general fund or any other fund to a fund or account for the management of risk-related activities in the 2009-10 budget year or any budget year thereafter.

(f) Transportation fund. The revenues from a tax levied or fee imposed for the purpose of paying excess transportation costs, as authorized pursuant to the provisions of section 22-40-102 (1.7) or the provisions of section 22-32-113 (5), and revenues received from the state pursuant to the provisions of section 22-51-102 (4) shall be deposited in the transportation fund of the district. Expenditures from the fund shall be limited to payment of transportation costs as authorized in the budget of the district. Any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall be used to reduce the levy for transportation costs in future years.

(g) Repealed.

(h) Full-day kindergarten fund. (I) The revenues from a tax levied pursuant to section 22-54-108.5 for the purpose of paying excess full-day kindergarten program costs shall be deposited in the full-day kindergarten fund of the district. Expenditures from the fund shall be limited to payment of excess full-day kindergarten program costs as authorized in the budget of the district. Any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall be used to reduce the levy for excess full-day kindergarten program costs in future years.

(II) The revenues from a tax levied pursuant to section 22-54-108.5 to meet the capital construction needs associated with a district's full-day kindergarten program shall be credited to the capital construction account in the district's full-day kindergarten fund. Moneys in the account shall be used to meet the district's capital construction needs associated with the full-day kindergarten program and may not be expended by the district for any other purpose. Any moneys remaining in the account at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the account and may be budgeted in the next fiscal year.

(2) The state board of education may authorize by regulation additional funds not provided for in this section, together with proper accounting procedures for the same.

(3) Each school district shall ensure that the district holds unrestricted general fund or cash fund emergency reserves in the amount required under the provisions of section 20 (5) of article X of the state constitution; except that a district may designate property owned by the district as all or a portion of the required reserve in accordance with section 22-44-105 (1) (c.5).

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Property Tax Assessments in Colorado", see 12 Colo. Law. 563 (1983).

Constitutionality of former school finance system. Colorado's school finance system did not violate § 2 of art. IX, Colo. Const., nor did it deny equal protection of the law. Lujan v. Colo. State Bd. of Educ., 649 P.2d 1005 (Colo. 1982) (decided under article 50 of this title prior to its repeal on January 1, 1989).

22-45-103.5. Legislative declaration - construction of statute - no impairment of contract. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that a small number of school districts have entered into financing arrangements which contemplate that moneys in the districts' bond redemption fund may be used, or that a levy for the bond redemption fund may be made, to pay for capital projects which have not been authorized by the voters of the districts. In light of the long-standing view that the bond redemption fund is reserved for voter-approved projects, the general assembly finds that such financing arrangements are not in the interests of school district taxpayers and declares that its intent in enacting section 22-45-103 (1) (b) is to assure that such arrangements will not be entered into in the future.

(2) In recognition of the fact that some school districts have entered into financing arrangements which may not comply with the provisions of section 22-45-103 (1) (b), the general assembly declares that nothing in said section or in any other law shall be construed to impair any contract in existence on May 31, 1985, if said contract was validly entered into under the statutes in force at the time of entering said contract. Nothing in this section or in section 22-45-103 (1) (b) shall be construed to validate or to invalidate any financial arrangement entered into prior to May 31, 1985.

This provision shall apply also to the proceeds from any insurance which may accrue as a result of fire, explosion, or other casualty when such insurance proceeds cannot be used in an advantageous manner to repair the property to which the damage occurred.

(2) (a) Prior to July 1, 2005, a school district may sell land, buildings, or land and buildings and deposit in and expend from its general fund the proceeds, less costs, of the sale if:

(II) The school district sells the property to a lessor, including but not limited to the state treasurer pursuant to section 22-54-110 (2) (d), who, at the time of the sale, leases all of the property back to the district pursuant to a lease-purchase agreement that is subject to annual appropriation by the school district and has a term of no more than one year; and

(III) The state treasurer approves in writing the terms of the sale and lease-purchase agreements.

(b) A board of education of a school district may declare a fiscal shortfall emergency if:

(I) The district either:

(A) Is denied a loan by the state treasurer pursuant to section 22-54-110; or

(B) Notifies the state treasurer that the district is unable to repay a loan obtained pursuant to section 22-54-110 in the same state fiscal year that the loan was made;

(II) The board of education of the school district holds at least one public hearing, after full and timely notice to the public, on the existence of a fiscal shortfall emergency; and

(III) At a public meeting held after the hearing held pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (b), at least two-thirds of the members of the board of education of the school district approve a resolution declaring the fiscal shortfall emergency.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any such proceeds that are held in a separate account to secure the school district's obligation to make payments to the association may be invested by the district in any investment in which moneys of the association may be invested.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 22-51-102 as it existed prior to 1975.

22-51-104. Methods of determining reimbursement entitlement. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (1.5) of this section, for financial aid in providing pupil transportation, for entitlement periods ending on June 30, 1988, and thereafter, each school district, the state charter school institute, and each facility school shall have a reimbursement entitlement in an amount determined as follows:

(a) Thirty-seven and eighty-seven one-hundredths cents for each mile traveled by vehicles operated by or for the school district, the institute, or the facility school in providing pupil transportation during the entitlement period. The number of miles traveled shall be determined by the state board of education based upon information submitted pursuant to section 22-51-105.

(b) Thirty-three and eighty-seven one-hundredths percent of any amount by which the school district's, the institute's, or the facility school's current operating expenditures for pupil transportation during the entitlement period exceeded the school district's, institute's, or facility school's reimbursement entitlement under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1); and

(c) Not more than sixty percent of the costs of contracts entered into by a school district pursuant to section 22-32-110 (1) (w) or entered into by the state charter school institute or a facility school for the purpose of conserving fuel or reducing operating or capital expenditures, or both, for pupil transportation under public transportation programs which comply with the code of federal regulations, title 49, parts 390 to 397, or successor regulations thereto. Reimbursement entitlements under this paragraph (c) shall not be greater than those the school district, the institute, or the facility school would otherwise receive if it operated its own vehicles or contracted for the exclusive transportation of pupils.

(1.5) (a) Repealed.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, for entitlement periods ending on June 30, 1989, and thereafter, a school district, the state charter school institute, and a facility school shall not receive a reimbursement entitlement in an amount which is less than its reimbursement entitlement for the preceding entitlement period. For purposes of this paragraph (b), the reimbursement entitlement for the preceding entitlement period shall be the amount to which the school district, the institute, or the facility school would have been entitled under the formula in subsection (1) of this section, and not the amount it actually received for the preceding entitlement period, if different from the amount under said formula.

(2) In no event shall the reimbursement entitlement of a school district, the institute, or a facility school under the provisions of subsection (1) of this section for any entitlement period exceed ninety percent of the total amount expended by the school district, the institute, or the facility school during said entitlement period for current operating expenditures for pupil transportation.

(3) For financial aid in providing board allowances in lieu of transportation, each school district and the institute shall have a reimbursement entitlement for an entitlement period for each pupil who is temporarily residing during said entitlement period for the purpose of attending school at a place nearer the school of attendance than the student's permanent residence, and for whom the district or the institute has paid a board allowance in lieu of furnishing transportation, in the amount of one dollar for each day such board was paid by the district or the institute.

(2) The department of education shall promulgate rules to allow for verification of the accuracy and appropriateness of the route mileages submitted by school districts, the institute, and facility schools pursuant to subsection (1) of this section. If the department determines that an overpayment has been made due to the submission of inaccurate or inappropriate route mileages, the department shall recover from the school district, the institute, or the facility school an amount equal to the overpayment plus a penalty of not more than twenty percent of the overpayment.

22-51-106. Certification to and payment by state treasurer - deficiency in fund. (1) (a) On or before October 15 of each year, the commissioner of education shall certify to the state treasurer the amount of the advance reimbursement entitlement of each school district, the state charter school institute, and each facility school for the current entitlement period and the amount of the final reimbursement entitlement of each school district, the institute, and each facility school for the preceding entitlement period. The state treasurer shall thereupon pay from the public school transportation fund directly to the treasurer of each school district which has elected under the law to withdraw its funds from the custody of the county treasurer, directly to the treasurer of the state charter school institute, and directly to the treasurer of each facility school the amount certified as the total reimbursement entitlement of the school district, the institute, or the facility school; and, for all other school districts, the state treasurer shall pay to the county treasurer of the county in which each school district has its headquarters the amount certified as the total reimbursement entitlement of each district, and the county treasurer shall forthwith credit to the general fund of each district in the county the amount certified therefor.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(I) "Advance reimbursement entitlement" means an amount that a school district, the state charter school institute, or a facility school is entitled to receive in the current entitlement period as an advance payment of its reimbursement entitlement for such period and which is equal to twenty percent of the reimbursement entitlement of the school district, the institute, or the facility school for the preceding entitlement period.

(II) "Final reimbursement entitlement" means the reimbursement entitlement of a school district, the state charter school institute, or a facility school for the preceding entitlement period less any advance reimbursement entitlement received by said district, the institute, or the facility school for said period.

(III) "Total reimbursement entitlement" means the advance reimbursement entitlement and the final reimbursement entitlement of a school district, the state charter school institute, or a facility school.

(2) (a) In the event the amount of money appropriated by the general assembly to the public school transportation fund is less than the amount of the total reimbursement entitlements of all of the school districts, of the state charter school institute, and of all of the facility schools authorized by this section, the amount to be distributed to each school district, the institute, and each facility school shall be in the same proportion as the amount which the appropriation made bears to the total amount of the reimbursement entitlements of all school districts, of the state charter school institute, and of all facility schools.

(b) For the entitlement period beginning on or after July 1, 1993, the calculation in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) shall be based on the amount of money appropriated by the general assembly to the public school transportation fund. For the entitlement period beginning on or after July 1, 1993, any district subject to a court-ordered desegregation order shall be entitled to reimbursement of one million five hundred thousand dollars, subject to separate appropriation by the general assembly, for pupil transportation in addition to any amount received pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2).

ANNOTATION

Constitutionality of prior school finance system. The school finance system provided in the "Public School Finance Act of 1973" did not violate § 2 of art. IX, Colo. Const., nor did it deny equal protection of the law, as it was rationally related to a legitimate state purpose. Lujan v. Colo. State Bd. of Educ., 649 P.2d 1005 (Colo. 1982).

22-54-102. Legislative declaration - statewide applicability - intergovernmental agreements. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that this article is enacted in furtherance of the general assembly's duty under section 2 of article IX of the state constitution to provide for a thorough and uniform system of public schools throughout the state; that a thorough and uniform system requires that all school districts and institute charter schools operate under the same finance formula; and that equity considerations dictate that all districts and institute charter schools be subject to the expenditure and maximum levy provisions of this article. Accordingly, the provisions of this article concerning the financing of public schools for budget years beginning on and after July 1, 1994, shall apply to all school districts and institute charter schools organized under the laws of this state.

(2) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that in enacting this article it has adopted a formula for the support of schools for the 1994-95 budget year and budget years thereafter; however, the adoption of such formula in no way represents a commitment on the part of the general assembly concerning the level of total funding for schools for the 1995-96 budget year or any budget year thereafter.

(3) (a) Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit local governments from cooperating with school districts through intergovernmental agreements to fund, construct, maintain, or manage capital construction projects or other facilities as set forth in section 22-45-103 (1) (c) (I) (A) or (1) (c) (I) (D), including, but not limited to, swimming pools, playgrounds, or ball fields, as long as funding for such projects is provided solely from a source of local government revenue that is otherwise authorized by law except impact fees or other similar development charges or fees.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) to the contrary, nothing in this subsection (3) shall be construed to:

(I) Limit or restrict a county's power to require the reservation or dedication of sites and land areas for schools or the payment of moneys in lieu thereof pursuant to section 30-28-133 (4) (a), C.R.S., or to limit a local government's ability to accept and expend impact fees or other similar development charges or fees contributed voluntarily on or before December 31, 1997, to fund the capital projects of school districts according to the terms of agreements voluntarily entered into on or before June 4, 1996, between all affected parties;

(II) Repealed.

(III) Grant authority to local governments to require the reservation or dedication of sites and land areas for schools or the payment of moneys in lieu thereof; however, the prohibition on impact fees or other similar development charges or fees contained in this subsection (3) shall not be construed to restrict the authority of any local government to require the reservation or dedication of sites and land areas for schools or the payment of moneys in lieu thereof if such local government otherwise has such authority granted by law.

22-54-104. District total program. (1) (a) For every budget year, the provisions of this section shall be used to calculate for each district an amount that represents the financial base of support for public education in that district. Such amount shall be known as the district's total program. The district's total program shall be available to the district to fund the costs of providing public education, and, except as otherwise provided in section 22-54-105, the amounts and purposes for which such moneys are budgeted and expended shall be in the discretion of the district.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), if a district is the accounting district of an institute charter school, then the calculation of total program pursuant to the provisions of this section shall also represent the financial base of support for the institute charter school, even though the institute charter school is not a school of the district. The amount of the district's state share of total program that is withheld from the district and paid to the state charter school institute pursuant to the provisions of section 22-54-115 (1.3), shall not be available to nor under the control of the district, but shall be under the control of the governing board of the institute charter school to fund the costs of providing public education to pupils enrolled in the institute charter school, and the amounts and purposes for which such moneys are budgeted and expended shall be in the discretion of the institute charter school.

(V) and (VI) Repealed.

(VII) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (2), subsection (6) of this section, or section 22-54-104.3, a district's total program for the 2003-04 budget year through the 2006-07 budget year shall be the greater of the following:

(A) (District per pupil funding x (District funded pupil count - District on-line pupil enrollment)) + District at-risk funding + District on-line funding; or

(B) Minimum per pupil funding x District funded pupil count.

(VIII) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (2), subsection (6) of this section, or section 22-54-104.3, a district's total program for the 2007-08 budget year and the 2008-09 budget year shall be the greater of the following:

(A) (District per pupil funding x (District funded pupil count - District on-line pupil enrollment)) + District at-risk funding + District on-line funding; or

(B) (Minimum per pupil funding x (District funded pupil count - District on-line pupil enrollment)) + District on-line funding.

(IX) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (2), paragraph (g) of subsection (5) or subsection (6) of this section, or section 22-54-104.3, a district's total program for the 2009-10 budget year and budget years thereafter shall be the greater of the following:

(B) (Minimum per pupil funding x (District funded pupil count - District on-line pupil enrollment - District ASCENT program pupil enrollment)) + District on-line funding + District ASCENT program funding.

(a.5) Repealed.

(b) If the district percentage of at-risk pupils is greater than the statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils and the district's funded pupil count is greater than four hundred fifty-nine, the district's total program shall be the lesser of:

(I) The district's total program as calculated pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2); or

(II) (A) The district's total program as calculated by: Adding the amount determined by multiplying the district's per pupil funding by four hundred fifty-nine to the amount determined by multiplying 12% of the district's per pupil funding by the district's at-risk pupils; then dividing the sum of those two amounts by four hundred fifty-nine; then multiplying the resulting amount by the district's funded pupil count minus the district's on-line pupil enrollment; and then adding the district's on-line funding.

(B) For purposes of sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (II) only, a district's per pupil funding shall be calculated by establishing the district's per pupil funding in accordance with subsection (3) of this section except using the size factor for a district with a funded pupil count of four hundred fifty-nine and not the district's actual size factor.

(3) A district's per pupil funding shall be determined in accordance with the following formula:

((Statewide base per pupil funding x District personnel costs factor x District cost of living factor) + (Statewide base per pupil funding x District nonpersonnel costs factor)) x District size factor.

(3.5) Minimum per pupil funding shall be:

(a) For the 2003-04 budget year, $5,511;

(b) For the 2004-05 budget year through the 2006-07 budget year, the dollar amount set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (3.5) increased by the percentage by which the statewide base per pupil funding for that budget year, as specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section, is increased over the statewide base per pupil funding for the 2003-04 budget year. Such amount shall be rounded to the nearest dollar.

(c) For the 2007-08 budget year, an amount equal to ninety-four and three tenths percent of the minimum per pupil funding base;

(d) (I) For the 2008-09 budget year and budget years thereafter, an amount equal to ninety-five percent of the minimum per pupil funding base.

(II) (A) As used in this subsection (3.5), for the 2008-09 budget year, "minimum per pupil funding base" means the total of the calculation specified in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (II) for all districts for the budget year divided by the statewide funded pupil count minus the statewide on-line pupil enrollment, for said budget year.

(B) The following calculation shall be used for the purpose of determining the minimum per pupil funding base pursuant to this subparagraph (II):

(District per pupil funding x (District funded pupil count - District on-line pupil enrollment)) + District at-risk funding.

(III) (A) As used in this subsection (3.5), for the 2009-10 budget year and budget years thereafter, "minimum per pupil funding base" means the total of the calculation specified in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (III) for all districts for the budget year divided by the statewide funded pupil count minus the statewide on-line pupil enrollment and minus the statewide ASCENT program pupil enrollment, for said budget year.

(B) The following calculation shall be used for the purpose of determining the minimum per pupil funding base pursuant to this subparagraph (III):

(4) A district's at-risk funding shall be determined in accordance with one of the following formulas:

(a) (I) If the district percentage of at-risk pupils is equal to or less than the statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils or the district's funded pupil count is equal to or less than four hundred fifty-nine, the formula shall be:

$$(\text{District per pupil funding} \times 12\%) \times \text{District at-risk pupils}.$$

(II) Repealed.

(b) (I) If the district percentage of at-risk pupils is greater than the statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils and the district's funded pupil count is greater than four hundred fifty-nine, the formula shall be:

$$((\text{District per pupil funding} \times 12\%) \times (\text{Statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils} \times \text{District pupil enrollment})) + ((\text{District per pupil funding} \times \text{District at-risk factor}) \times (\text{District at-risk pupils} - (\text{Statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils} \times \text{District pupil enrollment}))).$$

(II) Repealed.

(4.5) A district's on-line funding shall be determined in accordance with the following formulas:

(a) Repealed.

(b) For the 2003-04 budget year through the 2006-07 budget year, the formula shall be:

$$(\text{Minimum per pupil funding} \times \text{District on-line pupil enrollment}).$$

(c) (I) For the 2007-08 budget year and budget years thereafter, a district's on-line funding shall be:

$$(\text{District on-line pupil enrollment} \times $6,135).$$

(II) Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (c), for the 2008-09 budget year and budget years thereafter, the dollar amount set forth in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c) shall be increased by the percentage by which the statewide base per pupil funding for that budget year, as specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section, is increased over the statewide base per pupil funding for the 2007-08 budget year, as specified in subparagraph (XIV) of paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section. Such amount shall be rounded to the nearest dollar.

(III) In any budget year in which the provisions of paragraph (g) of subsection (5) of this section apply, the department of education shall calculate a district's reduction amount for on-line funding by multiplying the negative factor calculated for the applicable budget year pursuant to sub-subparagraph (A) of subparagraph (II) of paragraph (g) of subsection (5) of this section by the district's on-line funding calculated pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (c) for the applicable budget year. A district's on-line funding for the applicable budget year shall be the greater of:

(A) The district's on-line funding amount calculated for the applicable budget year pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (c) minus the district's reduction amount calculated for the applicable budget year pursuant to this subparagraph (III) for on-line funding; or

(B) An amount equal to the base per pupil funding amount specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section for the applicable budget year multiplied by the district's on-line pupil enrollment for the applicable budget year.

(4.7) (a) For the 2009-10 budget year and budget years thereafter, a district's ASCENT program funding shall be determined in accordance with the following formula:

(District ASCENT program pupil enrollment x $6,135, or an amount determined pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (4.7)).

(b) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this subsection (4.7), for the 2010-11 budget year and budget years thereafter, the dollar amount set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (4.7) shall be increased by the percentage by which the statewide base per pupil funding for that budget year, as specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section, is increased over the statewide base per pupil funding for the 2007-08 budget year, as specified in subparagraph (XIV) of paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section. The amount shall be rounded to the nearest dollar.

(c) In any budget year in which the provisions of paragraph (g) of subsection (5) of this section apply, the department of education shall calculate a district's reduction amount for ASCENT program funding by multiplying the negative factor calculated for the applicable budget year pursuant to sub-subparagraph (A) of subparagraph (II) of paragraph (g) of subsection (5) of this section by the amount of the district's ASCENT program funding calculated pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (4.7) for the applicable budget year. A district's ASCENT program funding for the applicable budget year shall be the greater of:

(I) The district's ASCENT program funding calculated for the applicable budget year pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (4.7) minus the district's reduction amount calculated for the applicable budget year pursuant to this paragraph (c) for ASCENT program funding; or

(II) An amount equal to the base per pupil funding amount specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section for the applicable budget year multiplied by the district's ASCENT program pupil enrollment for the applicable budget year.

(5) For purposes of the formulas used in this section:

(a) (I) to (XII) Repealed.

(XIII) For the 2006-07 budget year, the statewide base per pupil funding shall be $4,863.87, which is an amount equal to $4,717.62 supplemented by $146.25 to account for inflation plus an additional one percentage point.

(XIV) For the 2007-08 budget year, the statewide base per pupil funding shall be $5,087.61, which is an amount equal to $4,863.87 supplemented by $223.74 to account for inflation plus an additional one percentage point.

(XV) For the 2008-09 budget year, the statewide base per pupil funding shall be $5,250.41, which is an amount equal to $5,087.61 supplemented by $162.80 to account for inflation plus an additional one percentage point.

(XVI) For the 2009-10 budget year, the statewide base per pupil funding shall be $5,507.68, which is an amount equal to $5,250.41 supplemented by $257.27 to account for inflation plus an additional one percentage point.

(XVII) For the 2010-11 budget year, the statewide base per pupil funding shall be $5,529.71, which is an amount equal to $5,507.68 supplemented by $22.03, to account for inflation plus an additional one percentage point.

(XVIII) For the 2011-12 budget year, the statewide base per pupil funding shall be $5,634.77, which is an amount equal to $5,529.71 supplemented by $105.06 to account for inflation.

(XIX) For the 2012-13 budget year, the statewide base per pupil funding is $5,843.26, which is an amount equal to $5,634.77 supplemented by $208.49 to account for inflation.

(b) (I) Repealed.

(I.2) to (I.4) Repealed.

(I.5) A district's size factor for the 2003-04 budget year and budget years thereafter shall be determined in accordance with the following formula:

If the district's funded pupil count is:	The district's size factor shall be:
Less than 276	$1.5457 + (0.00376159 \times \text{the difference between the funded pupil count and } 276)$
276 or more but less than 459	$1.2385 + (0.00167869 \times \text{the difference between the funded pupil count and } 459)$

(II) (A) Except as otherwise allowed for qualified school districts pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (II), as it existed prior to July 1, 2001, if the reorganization of any district or districts results in any district involved in the reorganization having a higher size factor than the original district or districts had for the budget year immediately preceding reorganization, the districts involved in the reorganization shall be allowed, for each budget year, the size factor the original district had prior to the reorganization or, if two or more districts reorganize into a single district, the size factor of the original district with the lowest size factor for the budget year immediately preceding reorganization. Except as otherwise allowed for qualified school districts pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (II), as it existed prior to July 1, 2001, no district involved in the reorganization shall, for any budget year, be allowed the size factor that would otherwise be provided by this paragraph (b).

(B) Repealed.

(III) If the reorganization of any district or districts results in any district involved in the reorganization having a lower size factor than the original district or districts had for the budget year immediately preceding reorganization, the new district or districts shall be allowed a size factor determined as follows:

(A) For the first budget year following reorganization, the size factor of the original district for the budget year immediately preceding reorganization or, if two or more districts are involved in the reorganization, the weighted average size factor of the original districts for the budget year immediately preceding reorganization. For purposes of this sub-subparagraph (A), the weighted average size factor shall be the sum of the amounts calculated by multiplying the funded pupil counts of the original districts by the size factor of the original districts and dividing that sum by the total funded pupil count of the original districts.

(B) For the second budget year following reorganization, the size factor for the prior budget year minus an amount equal to one-fifth of the difference between the size factor for the prior budget year and the size factor determined pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b);

(C) For the third budget year following reorganization, the size factor for the prior budget year minus an amount equal to one-fourth of the difference between the size factor for the prior budget year and the size factor determined pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b);

(D) For the fourth budget year following reorganization, the size factor for the prior budget year minus an amount equal to one-third of the difference between the size factor for the prior budget year and the size factor determined pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b);

(E) For the fifth budget year following reorganization, the size factor for the prior budget year minus an amount equal to one-half of the difference between the size factor for the prior budget year and the size factor determined pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b);

(F) For the sixth budget year following reorganization and budget years thereafter, the size factor determined pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b).

(IV) For the 1998-99 budget year and budget years thereafter, the funded pupil count used to calculate a district's size factor pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be the funded pupil count, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-103 (7), reduced by sixty-five percent of the number of pupils included in the funded pupil count that are enrolled in charter schools in the district; except that the provisions of this subparagraph (IV) shall only apply to those districts with a funded pupil count, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-103 (7), of five hundred or less.

(c) (I) The cost of living factor allowed for each district pursuant to this paragraph (c) reflects the differences in the costs of housing, goods, and services among regions in which districts are located. Such factor does not reflect any annual increase in the costs of housing, goods, and services caused by inflation.

(II) (A) and (B) Repealed.

(B.1) Except as provided in subparagraph (IV) of this paragraph (c), for the 2000-01 budget year and budget years thereafter, a district's cost of living factor shall be the district's cost of living factor for the prior budget year, but, if the percentage change in the district's cost of living amount from the previous cost of living study to the current cost of living study is greater than the percent increase in the income level used in the cost of living study, a district's cost of living factor shall be determined by dividing the percentage change in the district's cost of living amount from the previous cost of living study to the current cost of living study by the percent increase in the income level used in the cost of living study, dividing said amount by one thousand and rounding to the nearest one-thousandth of one percent, and adding the result obtained to the district's cost of living factor for the prior budget year.

(C) For purposes of this subparagraph (II), a district's cost of living amount refers to the values as adjusted for district labor pool areas.

(III) (A) Based upon the cost of living analysis conducted pursuant to the SB 93-87 setting category study, the staff of the legislative council shall certify the cost of living factor for each district to the department of education no later than ten days following April 27, 1994. Such cost of living factors shall be effective for the 1994-95 budget year and the budget year thereafter. The cost of living factor for each district shall be certified to the department by the staff of the legislative council for each two-year period thereafter based upon a new cost of living analysis. The certification shall be made no later than April 15 of the applicable year and shall be effective for the budget year beginning on July 1 of such year and the budget year thereafter.

(B) For the 2003-04 budget year and each budget year thereafter in which a new cost of living analysis is required pursuant to sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (III), the department of education shall transfer a portion of the total amount appropriated by the general assembly in the annual general appropriation bill for that budget year for assistance to public schools, public school finance, state share of districts' total program funding to the legislative council to fund the cost of living analysis required by sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (III). The amount transferred by the department shall not exceed the maximum amount specified in a footnote related to this appropriation in the annual general appropriation bill for that budget year. The remainder of the amount appropriated for assistance to public schools, public school finance, state share of districts' total program funding shall be distributed to school districts in the manner provided in section 22-54-106 (4) (c).

(IV) (A) The department of education shall promulgate rules and regulations for the assignment of a cost of living factor to any new district organized pursuant to article 30 of this title, except for new districts that are created as the result of a deconsolidation as described in section 22-30-102 (2) (a), until the cost of living factor for such district is certified by the staff of the legislative council pursuant to subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (c).

(B) The rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to this subparagraph (IV) shall be designed to provide neither an incentive nor a disincentive to the organization of new districts pursuant to article 30 of this title and shall include provisions to ensure that the cost of living factor within a new district is not reduced solely because the new district is the result of a consolidation of existing districts. Such rules and regulations shall consider the cost of living factors assigned to the districts that are affected by the organization of the new district and the circumstances of the new district based on the most recent cost of living analysis performed by the legislative council.

(C) New districts that are created as the result of a deconsolidation as described in section 22-30-102 (2) (a) shall retain the cost of living factor of the district from which they were separated until the cost of living factor for the new district is certified by the staff of the legislative council pursuant to subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (c).

(d) A district’s personnel costs factor for the 1994-95 budget year and budget years thereafter shall be determined in accordance with the following formula:

If the district’s funded pupil count is:	The district’s personnel costs factor shall be:
Less than 453.5	$0.8250 - (0.0000639 \times \text{the difference between the funded pupil count and } 453.5)$
453.5 or more but less than 1,567.5	$0.8595 - (0.0000310 \times \text{the difference between the funded pupil count and } 1,567.5)$
1,567.5 or more but less than 6,682	$0.8850 - (0.0000050 \times \text{the difference between the funded pupil count and } 6,682)$
6,682 or more but less than 30,000	$0.9050 - (0.0000009 \times \text{the difference between the funded pupil count and } 30,000)$
30,000 or more	0.9050

(e) A district’s nonpersonnel costs factor for the 1994-95 budget year and budget years thereafter shall be the difference between 1.00 and the district’s personnel costs factor.

(f) (I) If the district percentage of at-risk pupils is greater than the statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils and the district’s funded pupil count is greater than four hundred fifty-nine but not in excess of fifty thousand, the district’s at-risk factor shall be 12% plus a 0.30 percentage point for each percentage point that the district percentage of at-risk pupils exceeds the statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils; except that no district’s at-risk factor shall exceed 30%.

(II) If the district percentage of at-risk pupils is greater than the statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils and the district’s funded pupil count is greater than fifty thousand, the district’s at-risk factor shall be 12% plus a 0.36 percentage point for each percentage point that the district percentage of at-risk pupils exceeds the statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils; except that no district’s at-risk factor shall exceed 30%.

(g) (I) For the 2010-11 budget year and each budget year thereafter, the general assembly determines that stabilization of the state budget requires a reduction in the amount of the annual appropriation to fund the state’s share of total program funding for all districts and the funding for institute charter schools. The department of education shall implement the reduction in total program funding through the application of a negative factor as provided in this paragraph (g). For the 2010-11 budget year and each budget year thereafter, the department of education and the staff of the legislative council shall determine, based on budget projections, the amount of such reduction to ensure the following:

(A) That, for the 2010-11 budget year, the sum of the total program funding for all districts, including the funding for institute charter schools, equals five billion two hundred twenty-five million two hundred forty-four thousand eight hundred eighty-five dollars ($5,225,244,885); except that, for the 2010-11 budget year, for the purpose of distributing moneys for certain programs for which the amount of per pupil funding is a component in the calculation of the total distribution amount, the provisions of subparagraph (VI) of this paragraph (g) shall apply.

(B) That, for the 2011-12 budget year, the sum of the total program funding for all districts, including the funding for institute charter schools, after application of the negative factor, is not less than five billion two hundred twenty-nine million five hundred sixty thousand three hundred forty-six dollars ($5,229,560,346); except that the department of education and the staff of the legislative council shall make mid-year revisions to replace projections with actual figures including, but not limited to, actual pupil enrollment, assessed valuations, and specific ownership tax revenue from the prior year, to determine any necessary changes in the amount of the reduction to maintain a total program funding amount for the 2011-12 budget year that is consistent with this sub-subparagraph (B).

(C) That, for the 2012-13 budget year, the sum of the total program funding for all districts, including the funding for institute charter schools, after application of the negative factor, is not less than five billion two hundred eighty-six million eight hundred ninety-eight thousand three hundred eighty-two dollars ($5,286,898,382); except that the department of education and the staff of the legislative council shall make mid-year revisions to replace projections with actual figures including, but not limited to, actual pupil enrollment, assessed valuations, and specific ownership tax revenue from the prior year, to determine any necessary changes in the amount of the reduction to maintain a total program funding amount for the 2012-13 budget year that is consistent with this sub-subparagraph (C).

(II) For the 2010-11 budget year and each budget year thereafter, the department of education shall:

(A) Calculate the negative factor for the applicable budget year by dividing the reduction in total program funding for the applicable budget year, as specified in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (g), by the sum of the total program funding amounts of all districts as calculated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, including the funding for institute charter schools, for the applicable budget year; and

(B) Calculate each district's and each institute charter school's reduction amount by multiplying the negative factor by the district's total program funding calculated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section for the applicable budget year for the district and for any institute charter school located within the district.

(III) For the 2010-11 budget year and each budget year thereafter, except as otherwise provided in subparagraphs (IV) and (V) of this paragraph (g), a district's total program shall be the greater of:

(A) The amount calculated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section for the applicable budget year, including funding for any institute charter school located within the district, minus the district's reduction amount for the applicable budget year; or

(B) An amount equal to the base per pupil funding amount specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section for the applicable budget year, multiplied by the district's funded pupil count for the applicable budget year.

(IV) For the 2010-11 budget year, and each budget year thereafter, the total program funding for a district that levies the number of mills calculated pursuant to section 22-54-106 (2) (a) (II) shall be the amount calculated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section for the applicable budget year. Any such district shall use the revenues generated by the number of mills that the district levies pursuant to section 22-54-106 (2) (a) (II) to replace any categorical program support funds that the district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state; except that the amount of categorical program support funds that the district is required to replace shall not exceed an amount equal to the district's reduction amount. The department shall use the amount of categorical program support funds replaced by property tax revenue pursuant to this subparagraph (IV) to make payments of categorical program support funds to eligible districts as specified in section 22-54-107 (4).

(V) For the 2010-11 budget year and each budget year thereafter, if a district levies the number of mills calculated pursuant to section 22-54-106 (2) (a) (I) and the district's reduction amount exceeds the district's state share of total program funding, such district's total program funding shall be the amount calculated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section for the applicable budget year, minus the district's state aid. Any such district shall use the revenues generated by the number of mills that the district levies pursuant to section 22-54-106 (2) (a) (I) to replace any categorical program support funds that the district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state; except that the amount of categorical program support funds that the district is required to replace shall not exceed an amount equal to the remainder of the district's reduction amount after the reduction to the district's total program has been applied pursuant to this subparagraph (V). The department of education shall use the amount of categorical program support funds replaced by property tax revenue pursuant to this subparagraph (V) to make payments of categorical program support funds to eligible districts as specified in section 22-54-107 (4).

(VI) For the 2010-11 budget year, two sources of federal moneys, totaling two hundred sixteen million three hundred fifty-eight thousand one hundred sixty-four dollars ($216,358,164), have been made available to districts and are being allocated to districts by the department of education based on the formulas specified in subsection (2) of this section. Accordingly, the state's share of total program funding for all districts, including the funding for institute charter schools for the 2010-11 budget year, has been reduced by said amount as is reflected in the sum of total program funding for the 2010-11 budget year specified in sub-subparagraph (A) of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (g). For the 2010-11 budget year, it is the general assembly's intent that the department of education calculate total program funding for the following purposes as if the state's share of total program funding for the 2010-11 budget year was not reduced as specified in this subparagraph (VI):

(A) Any distribution or allocation of moneys for which the amount of per pupil revenues or per pupil funding is a component in the calculation of the amount distributed or allocated;

(B) A district's on-line funding pursuant to paragraph (c) of subsection (4.5) of this section;

(C) A district's ASCENT program funding pursuant to subsection (4.7) of this section; and

(D) The amount of property tax revenue that a district is required to use to replace categorical program support funds pursuant to subparagraph (IV) or (V) of this paragraph (g).

(6) (a) Repealed.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, for the 1995-96 budget year and budget years thereafter, if a district's total formula per pupil funding for the applicable budget year is more than twenty-five percent greater than the district's prior year total per pupil funding, the total program for such district shall be calculated in accordance with the following formula:

District funded pupil count x District prior year total per pupil funding x 1.25.

(c) The definitions contained in section 22-54-104.3 shall be applicable to this subsection (6).

General fund appropriations requirements - maintenance of effort base. (1) (a) In accordance with section 17 (5) of article IX of the state constitution, for state fiscal years 2001-02 through 2010-11, the general assembly shall annually appropriate from the general fund for total program under the provisions of this article an amount equal to the maintenance of effort base plus an amount as determined annually by the general assembly that is equal to at least five percent of the maintenance of effort base, unless Colorado personal income grows less than four and one-half percent between the two calendar years preceding the state fiscal year in which an appropriation is made.

(b) The determination of whether the requirements of this subsection (1) apply in any given state fiscal year shall be made in accordance with section 22-55-105 (1) (b).

22-54-104.2. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that, for purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, the expansion of the definition of "at-risk pupils", as defined in section 22-54-103 (1.5) (a) (V), to include district pupils with limited English proficiency, as defined in section 22-54-103 (1.5) (b) (IV), the increase in the at-risk factor pursuant to section 22-54-104 (5) (f) (II) for districts whose percentage of at-risk pupils is greater than the statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils and whose funded pupil count is greater than fifty thousand, the requirement that districts that receive at-risk funding spend a portion of their at-risk funding on implementation of the district's English language-proficiency program pursuant to section 22-54-105 (3) (b) (I) and the increase in the at-risk factor from 11.2% to 12% for the 2005-06 budget year and each budget year thereafter pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2) (b) (II) (A) and (5) (f) are important elements of accountable programs to meet state academic standards and may therefore receive funding from the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that, for purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, the enactment of the definition of "at-risk funded pupil count", as defined in section 22-54-103 (1), to allow up to three-year averaging of the number of at-risk pupils, is an important element of accountable education reform and may therefore receive funding from the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution.

(3) The general assembly further finds and declares that, for purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, the requirement that school districts provide educational services to juveniles pursuant to section 22-32-141 and that the school districts receive reimbursement for providing the services pursuant to section 22-54-114 (4) (b), is part of providing accountable programs to meet state academic standards and may therefore receive funding from the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution.

22-54-104.3. Total program for budget years - special provisions.

(1) and (2) Repealed.

(2.5) and (2.6) Repealed.

(2.7) (a) For the 1997-98 budget year and budget years thereafter, notwithstanding the provisions of section 22-54-104 (2) and (6), a district's total program for the applicable budget year shall not exceed the district's total program for the prior budget year multiplied by 100% plus the district's maximum annual percentage change in the applicable fiscal year spending.

(b) For purposes of this subsection (2.7), "maximum annual percentage change in the applicable fiscal year spending" means the percentage change in fiscal year spending allowed by section 20 of article X of the state constitution based upon the definition of inflation found in said section 20 and based upon the definition of local growth as the percentage change between the district's funded pupil count during the immediately preceding October and the district's current year October funded pupil count.

(c) Repealed.

(d) (I) For the 1998-99 budget year and budget years thereafter, if a district's total program is calculated pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2.7) and the district is capable of receiving an increase in its total program within the limitations on its fiscal year spending for the applicable budget year under section 20 of article X of the state constitution, the district may certify to the department that it may receive an additional increase in its total program for the applicable budget year in an amount equal to the lesser of:

(A) The difference between the district's total program for the applicable budget year calculated pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2.7) and the district's total program for the applicable budget year calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2) or (6); or

(B) The difference between the district's total program for the applicable budget year calculated pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2.7) and the district's allowable fiscal year spending for the applicable budget year under section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

(II) Each district eligible for an increase pursuant to this paragraph (d) shall certify to the department the exact dollar amount of increase that the district can accept. Such certification shall be submitted no later than December 1 of the applicable budget year and must be reviewed and approved by an auditor for the district.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 22-54-104 (2), for the 1994-95 budget year, if a district's 1994-95 total formula per pupil funding is less than the district's 1993-94 total per pupil funding, the total program for such district shall be calculated in accordance with the following formula:

(a) If the district's 1994-95 funded pupil count is equal to or less than the district's 1993-94 funded pupil count, the formula shall be:

District 1993-94 funded pupil count x District 1993-94 total per pupil funding.

(b) If the district's 1994-95 funded pupil count is greater than the district's 1993-94 funded pupil count, the formula shall be:

District 1993-94 total funding + ((District 1994-95 funded pupil count - District 1993-94 funded pupil count) x District 1994-95 total formula per pupil funding).

(4) (Deleted by amendment, L. 95, p. 613, § 15, effective May 22, 1995.)

(5) For purposes of subsection (3) of this section and section 22-54-104 (6):

Instructional supplies and materials - capital reserve and insurance reserve - at-risk funding - preschool funding. (1) (a) Prior to the 2009-10 budget year, every district shall budget the amount determined pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (1) to be allocated, in the discretion of the board of education, to the instructional supplies and materials account, the instructional capital outlay account, or the other instructional purposes account in the general fund created by section 22-45-103 (1) (a) (II), or among such accounts. Moneys may be transferred among the three accounts. The moneys in such accounts shall be used for the purposes set forth in section 22-45-103 (1) (a) (II) and may not be expended by the district for any other purpose. Any moneys in such accounts which are not projected to be expended during a budget year shall be budgeted for the purposes set forth in section 22-45-103 (1) (a) (II) in the next budget year. Nothing in this subsection (1) shall be construed to require that interest on moneys in such accounts be specifically allocated to such accounts. Any moneys remaining in any such account that have not been expended prior to the 2009-10 budget year shall be budgeted for the purposes set forth in section 22-45-103 (1) (a) (II) in the 2009-10 budget year or any budget year thereafter.

(II) (A) For the 1998-99 budget year through the 2007-08 budget year, the dollar amount required to be budgeted per pupil pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be increased each year by the same percentage that the statewide base per pupil funding is increased pursuant to section 22-54-104 (5). For the 2008-09 budget year, the minimum dollar amount required to be budgeted per pupil pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be increased by the rate of inflation. Instructional capital outlay includes those expenditures which result in the acquisition of fixed assets for instructional purposes, or additions thereto, which the board of education anticipates will have benefits for more than one year. Other instructional purposes include expenses incurred in providing transportation for pupils to and from school-sponsored instructional activities which occur outside the classroom and costs incurred for repair or maintenance services for equipment which is directly used for instructional purposes. Instructional supplies and materials, instructional capital outlay, and other instructional purposes are limited to those functions accounts and objects accounts as prescribed by the state board of education.

(2) (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c) of this subsection (2), prior to the 2009-10 budget year, every district shall budget the amount determined pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (2) to be allocated, in the discretion of the board of education, to the capital reserve fund created by section 22-45-103 (1) (c), to a fund or an account within the general fund established in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles solely for the management of risk-related activities as identified in section 24-10-115, C.R.S., and article 13 of title 29, C.R.S., or among such allowable funds and accounts. Such moneys shall be used for the purposes set forth in section 22-45-103 (1) (c) and (1) (e) and may not be expended by the district for any other purpose. The board of education may transfer moneys among these allowable funds and accounts when such transfer is deemed necessary by the board. Any moneys remaining in any such fund or account that have not been expended prior to the 2009-10 budget year shall be budgeted for the purposes set forth in section 22-45-103 (1) (c) and (1) (e) in the 2009-10 budget year or any budget year thereafter.

(b) (I) The amount to be budgeted in any budget year prior to the 2009-10 budget year shall be the amount determined by multiplying two hundred sixteen dollars by the district's funded pupil count minus the district's on-line pupil enrollment. Such amount shall be the minimum required to be budgeted, and the district may elect to budget up to eight hundred dollars multiplied by the district's funded pupil count minus the district's on-line pupil enrollment.

(II) (A) For the 1998-99 budget year through the 2007-08 budget year, the minimum dollar amount required to be budgeted per pupil pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be increased each year by the same percentage that the statewide base per pupil funding is increased pursuant to section 22-54-104 (5). For the 2008-09 budget year, the minimum dollar amount required to be budgeted per pupil pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be increased by the rate of inflation. The amount of any increase pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be rounded to the nearest dollar.

(B) Repealed.

(III) For the 2000-01 budget year through the 2008-09 budget year, the amount required to be budgeted pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be reduced by an amount determined by multiplying the minimum dollar amount required to be budgeted for that budget year pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (b) by the number of pupils enrolled in charter schools within the district.

(c) For the 1999-2000 budget year and any budget year thereafter, if a district has moneys in its capital reserve fund equal to or in excess of five times the minimum dollar amount required to be budgeted per pupil pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (2) multiplied by the district's funded pupil count minus the district's on-line pupil enrollment for the applicable budget year, the board of education of the district may determine whether to budget the minimum dollar amount per pupil required by this subsection (2) in that budget year, budget a lesser amount, or budget no amount at all. Such determination shall be made by the board of education on an annual basis based upon the capital outlay expenditure requirements of the district.

(b) (I) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3), for the 2001-02 budget year and budget years thereafter, any district that receives at-risk funding pursuant to section 22-54-104 and qualifies for a higher at-risk factor as provided in section 22-54-104 (5) (f) (II) shall expend an amount calculated pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (b) on implementation of the district's English language proficiency program as provided in article 24 of this title. It is the intent of the general assembly that each school district expend said amount on English language proficiency programs that are either taught in English or that are designed to move students as quickly as possible into programs taught in English. The district shall expend at least seventy-five percent of the remaining amount of at-risk funding received on direct instruction or staff development, or both, for the educational program of at-risk pupils in the district.

(II) The amount of at-risk funding expended pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) shall be equal to the difference between the amount of at-risk funding generated by an increase in the at-risk factor of 0.36 of a percentage point versus an increase of 0.34 of a percentage point for each percentage point that the district percentage of at-risk pupils exceeds the statewide average percentage of at-risk pupils.

22-54-106. Local and state shares of district total program. (1) (a) (I) Every district shall levy the number of mills determined pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of this section, and the amount of property tax revenue which the district is entitled to receive from the levy, assuming one hundred percent collection, along with the amount of specific ownership tax revenue paid to the district, as defined in section 22-54-103 (11), shall be the district's share of its total program.

(II) Repealed.

(b) (I) Except as provided in subsections (11) and (12) of this section, the state's share of a district's total program is the difference between the district's total program and the district's share of its total program; except that, unless otherwise provided by subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (b), no district shall receive less in state aid than an amount established by the general assembly in the annual general appropriation act based upon the amount of school lands and mineral lease moneys received pursuant to article 41 of this title and section 34-63-102, C.R.S., multiplied by the district's funded pupil count.

(II) (A) For the 2010-11 budget year through the 2014-15 budget year, the requirement that no district shall receive less in state aid than an amount established by the general assembly in the annual general appropriation act as specified in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) shall not apply to any district.

(B) On or before January 15, 2015, the department of education shall submit a report to the joint budget committee of the general assembly and to the education committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, regarding the estimated fiscal impact of and the potential number of districts that will be impacted by restoring the requirement, in the 2015-16 budget year, that no district shall receive less in state aid than an amount established by the general assembly in the annual general appropriation act as specified in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b).

(2) (a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this subsection (2), for reorganized districts, for the 2007 property tax year and property tax years thereafter, each district shall levy the lesser of:

(I) The number of mills levied by the district for the immediately preceding property tax year;

(II) (A) Subject to the provisions of sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (II), the number of mills that will generate property tax revenue in an amount equal to the district's total program for the applicable budget year minus the district's minimum state aid, if applicable for that budget year, and minus the amount of specific ownership tax revenue paid to the district.

(B) Regardless of the applicability of section 22-54-104 (5) (g), for the purposes of this subparagraph (II), a district's total program shall be the amount calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2).

(III) For a district that has not obtained voter approval to retain and spend revenues in excess of the property tax revenue limitation imposed on the district by section 20 of article X of the state constitution, the number of mills that may be levied by the district under the property tax revenue limitation imposed on the district by section 20 of article X of the state constitution. In the calculation of local growth for purposes of determining the property tax revenue limitation imposed on a district under this subparagraph (III), a district's student enrollment shall be the district's funded pupil count.

(IV) Repealed.

(V) Twenty-seven mills.

(b) (I) (A) If a district's total program for the 1994-95 budget year was calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104.3, for the 1995 property tax year, the levy calculated pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) shall be reduced by the number of mills required to generate the difference between the district's total program for the 1994-95 budget year, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104.3 (3), and the district's total program for the 1994-95 budget year, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2). The amount by which property tax revenue is reduced pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be counted toward the limitation on additional local revenues as provided in section 22-54-108 (3).

(B) Notwithstanding the provisions of sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (I), if the mill levy was calculated pursuant to subparagraph (II) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), the difference between the district's total program for the 1994-95 budget year, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104.3 (3), and the district's total program for the 1994-95 budget year, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2), shall be added to the total program as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2) to calculate the levy pursuant to this subparagraph (I).

(II) If after calculating the mill levy pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) the district's levy exceeds 41.75 mills, the district shall levy 41.75 mills.

(III) For the 1995-96 budget year, if the amount of property tax generated for the 1994-95 budget year by the number of mills by which the mills levied by the district for the 1994-95 budget year exceeded 40.080 mills was equal to or exceeded the difference between the district's total program for the 1994-95 budget year, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104.3 (3), and the district's total program for the 1994-95 budget year, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2), the district may levy the difference between the levy pursuant to subparagraph (I) and subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (b). For the 1996-97 budget year and budget years thereafter, the district may continue to impose a mill levy that will generate the amount of revenue produced by the calculation described in this subparagraph (III) for the 1995-96 budget year. The amount of property tax generated pursuant to this subparagraph (III) shall be counted toward the limitation on additional local revenues as provided in section 22-54-108 (3) (f).

(c) (I) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection (2), if there is a reorganization pursuant to article 30 of this title, except for a detachment and annexation, and if such reorganization involves districts with differing mill levies, then in its first year of operation, the new district shall levy a number of mills that is based on the total property taxes collected in the preceding year from property included within the new district divided by the total valuation for assessment in the preceding year of property located within the new district but in no event more than 41.75 mills. This paragraph (c) shall not apply to any new district whose levy would otherwise be calculated pursuant to subparagraph (II) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2).

(II) If there is a detachment and annexation pursuant to article 30 of this title and if such detachment and annexation involves districts with differing mill levies, then in the first year after the detachment and annexation, the annexing district shall calculate its levy pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2).

(3) The property tax revenue which a district is entitled to receive from the levy made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section for the 1994 property tax year and property tax years thereafter shall be used to fund the district's share of its total program for the budget year beginning on July 1 of such property tax year, and the total amount of such revenue shall be considered to be collected during such budget year for purposes of determining the state's share of the district's total program.

(4) (a) The general assembly shall make annual appropriations to fund the state's share of the total program of all districts and to fund all institute charter schools.

(b) In the event that the appropriation for the state's share of the total program of all districts, including funding for institute charter schools, under this article for any budget year, as established in the general appropriation act, is not sufficient to fully fund the state's share including funding for institute charter schools, the department of education shall submit a request for a supplemental appropriation in an amount which will fully fund the state's share including funding for institute charter schools. Such request shall be made to the general assembly during the fiscal year in which such underfunding occurs.

(c) If a supplemental appropriation is not made by the general assembly to fully fund the state's share of the total program of all districts including funding for institute charter schools or a supplemental appropriation is made to reduce the state's share of the total program of all districts including funding for institute charter schools, the state aid of each district and the funding for each institute charter school shall be reduced in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph (c). The total program of each district that receives state aid shall be reduced by a percentage determined by dividing the deficit in the appropriation or the reduction in the appropriation, whichever is applicable, by the total program of all districts that receive state aid. The state aid of each district shall be reduced by the amount of the reduction in the district's total program or the amount of state aid, whichever is less, even if, for the 2009-10 budget year or any budget year thereafter, the reduction would result in a district receiving less state aid than the amount of minimum state aid for each district as determined by the general assembly for the applicable budget year. The funding for each institute charter school shall be reduced in proportion to the reduction in the total program of the district from which the institute charter school's funding is withheld. The department of education shall see that the reduction in state aid required by this paragraph (c) is accomplished prior to the end of the budget year.

(5) (a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 22-54-107, 22-54-108, and 22-54-108.5, no district may certify a levy for its general fund in excess of that authorized by this section.

(b) No district is authorized to seek voter approval to impose additional mill levies for its general fund in excess of that authorized by this section and sections 22-54-107, 22-54-108, and 22-54-108.5. Therefore, voter approval obtained by any district in order to be capable of receiving additional revenues within the limitations on the district's fiscal year spending for any budget year under section 20 of article X of the state constitution does not constitute voter approval for such district to certify a levy for its general fund in excess of that authorized by this section and sections 22-54-107, 22-54-108, and 22-54-108.5.

(6) If a district does not certify at least the mill levy required by subsection (2) of this section, the department shall determine what the state's percentage share of the district's total program would have been had the district certified the required mill levy. The department of education shall reduce the district's state aid in an amount which will result in the state's percentage share of the district's total program remaining the same as if the district had certified the required mill levy.

(7) For the 1994 property tax year and property tax years thereafter, all mill levies authorized or required by this section or sections 22-54-107, 22-54-108, and 22-54-108.5 shall be rounded to the nearest one-thousandth of one mill.

(8) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2010, (HB 10-1013), ch. 399, p. 1902, § 12, effective June 10, 2010.)

(9) If a district reduces or ends business personal property taxes through action taken pursuant to section 20 (8) (b) of article X of the state constitution, the state's share of the district's total program for the budget year in which such action is taken and any budget year thereafter shall be the amount by which the district's total program exceeds the amount of specific ownership tax revenue paid to the district and the amount of property tax revenue which the district would have been entitled to receive if such action had not been taken by the district.

(10) (a) If a new district is created through a deconsolidation as described in section 22-30-102 (2) (a), the specific ownership tax revenue payable to the new district in the first year of operation shall be an amount equal to the ratio of the total valuation for assessment of taxable property located in the new district to the total valuation for assessment of taxable property located in the old district multiplied by the specific ownership tax revenue payable to the old district.

(b) Commencing with the first July specific ownership tax payment due after the new district is established and continuing until the new district receives its first payment of specific ownership tax revenues from the county treasurer, the department of education shall:

(I) Increase the state's share of the new district's total program by an amount equal to the ratio of the total valuation for assessment of taxable property located in the new district to the total valuation for assessment of taxable property located in the old district multiplied by the specific ownership tax revenue payable to the old district; and

(II) Reduce the state's share of the old district's total program by the same amount.

(11) Pursuant to the provisions of section 22-54-115, for each institute charter school, the department of education shall withhold from the state share of the institute charter school's accounting district the lesser of:

(a) An amount equal to one hundred percent of the adjusted district per pupil revenues, as defined in section 22-30.5-513 (1) (b), multiplied by the number of pupils enrolled in the institute charter school who are not on-line pupils plus one hundred percent of the district per pupil on-line funding multiplied by the number of on-line pupils enrolled in the institute charter school; or

(b) The total amount of the state share payable to the district.

(12) Any district that has obtained voter approval to retain and spend revenues in excess of the property tax revenue limitation imposed on the district by section 20 of article X of the state constitution and that, after March 16, 2009, obtains voter approval to again become subject to such property tax revenue limitation shall receive an amount of state aid that shall be calculated as if the district levied the number of mills that it would have levied in the applicable budget year had the district maintained its authority to retain and spend revenues in excess of such property tax revenue limitation.

22-54-106.5. Fiscal emergency restricted reserve - calculation of reserve amount.

(1) For the 2009-10 budget year, the general assembly determines that a state financial crisis requires each district and the state charter school institute to budget an amount to a fiscal emergency restricted reserve pursuant to section 22-44-119. Using the total amount to be budgeted for the reserve as specified in subsection (3) of this section, the department of education shall calculate the amount to be budgeted to the fiscal emergency restricted reserve by each district and the state charter school institute. The amount budgeted by each district and the state charter school institute shall be released for expenditure by the district or for distribution to institute charter schools by the state charter school institute, as applicable, on January 29, 2010, if a negative supplemental appropriation to effect a rescission of the total amount of restricted reserve as specified in subsection (3) of this section, or any portion thereof, has not been enacted and become law by said date.

(2) The department of education shall calculate the amount to be budgeted to the fiscal emergency restricted reserve for the 2009-10 budget year by dividing the total amount to be budgeted for the 2009-10 budget year, as specified in subsection (3) of this section, by the sum of the total program of all districts and institute charter school funding. The department shall calculate the amount to be budgeted by each district as an amount equal to the total restricted reserve multiplied by the district's total program as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2) (a) (VIII) or (2) (b), whichever is applicable. The department shall calculate the amount to be budgeted by the state charter school institute for each institute charter school based on the total restricted reserve multiplied by the total program of the accounting district for each institute charter school.

(3) For the 2009-10 budget year, the total amount of the restricted reserve shall be one hundred ten million dollars.

22-54-107. Buy-out of categorical programs. (1) If a district levies the number of mills calculated pursuant to section 22-54-106 (2) (a) (II), the district shall make an additional levy to generate property tax revenue in an amount equal to the amount of categorical support funds; except that the total of the two levies cannot exceed the lesser of the district's levy for the immediately preceding year, the district's allowable levy under the property tax revenue limitation imposed on the district by section 20 of article X of the state constitution if the district has not obtained voter approval to retain and spend revenues in excess of such property tax revenue limitation, or twenty-seven mills.

(2) When a district receives property tax revenue from the additional levy made pursuant to subsection (1) of this section or when a district has elected to keep excess property tax revenue collected during the 1992 calendar year pursuant to the provisions of section 22-44-103.5 (2) (b) (III) (C) or (2) (c) (III), such property tax revenue shall be used to replace, on a pro rata basis, any categorical program support funds that such district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state. The amount of categorical program support funds replaced by property tax revenue pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (2) shall be used to make payments of categorical program support funds to eligible districts, and, in the event that the appropriations for categorical programs are less than the total categorical program support funds to which districts are entitled under applicable provisions of law, such funds shall be applied to categorical programs in the following order:

(a) First, transportation aid pursuant to article 51 of this title;

(b) Second, funds pursuant to the “English Language Proficiency Act”, article 24 of this title;

(c) Third, small attendance center aid pursuant to section 22-54-122; and

(d) Fourth, funds pursuant to the “Exceptional Children’s Educational Act”, article 20 of this title.

(3) For purposes of this section, “categorical program support funds that the district would otherwise be eligible to receive from the state” means amounts that the district would have received from the state but that will be received instead from property tax revenues by reason of this section and includes funds pursuant to the “Exceptional Children’s Educational Act”, article 20 of this title, funds pursuant to the “English Language Proficiency Act”, article 24 of this title, transportation aid pursuant to article 51 of this title, small attendance center aid pursuant to section 22-54-122, and vocational education aid pursuant to article 8 of title 23, C.R.S. Funds received by an administrative unit under the “Exceptional Children’s Educational Act”, article 20 of this title, as reimbursement for services provided to children counted in the pupil enrollment of a district shall be considered as funds that a district would otherwise be eligible to receive for purposes of this subsection (3).

(4) In a budget year in which the provisions of section 22-54-104 (5) (g) apply, the department of education shall use the amount of categorical program support funds replaced by property tax revenue pursuant to the provisions of section 22-54-104 (5) (g) (IV) and (5) (g) (V) to make payments of categorical program support funds to eligible districts as specified in subsection (2) of this section.

22-54-107.5. Authorization of additional local revenues for supplemental cost of living adjustment. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6) of this section, notwithstanding any law to the contrary, effective July 1, 2001, any district that desires to raise and expend local property tax revenues in excess of the district’s total program, as determined in accordance with section 22-54-104, and in addition to any property tax revenues levied pursuant to sections 22-54-107 and 22-54-108, may submit the question of whether the district should be authorized to raise and expend additional local property tax revenues, subject to the limitations of paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section, thereby authorizing an additional levy in excess of the levy authorized under sections 22-54-106, 22-54-107, and 22-54-108, to provide a supplemental cost of living adjustment for the district for the then current budget year and each budget year thereafter. The question authorized by this subsection (1) shall be submitted at an election held in accordance with section 20 of article X of the state constitution and title 1, C.R.S.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6) of this section, notwithstanding any law to the contrary, effective July 1, 2001, upon proper submittal to a district of a valid initiative petition, the district shall submit to the eligible electors of the district the question of whether the district should be authorized to raise and expend additional local property tax revenues in excess of the district’s total program, as determined in accordance with section 22-54-104, and in addition to any property tax revenues levied pursuant to sections 22-54-107 and 22-54-108, subject to the limitations of paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section, thereby authorizing an additional levy in excess of the levy authorized under sections 22-54-106, 22-54-107, and 22-54-108, to provide a supplemental cost of living adjustment for the district for the then current budget year and each budget year thereafter. The question authorized by this subsection (2) shall be submitted at an election held in accordance with section 20 of article X of the state constitution and title 1, C.R.S. An initiative petition under this subsection (2) shall be signed by at least five percent of the eligible electors in the district at the time the petition is filed.

(3) (a) The maximum dollar amount of property tax revenue that a district can generate pursuant to this section for any given budget year shall not exceed the difference between what would be the district's total program for the 2001-02 budget year if calculated using the district's adjusted cost of living factor for the 2001-02 budget year and the district's total program for the 2001-02 budget year calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104.

(b) For purposes of determining a district's total program for the 2001-02 budget year if calculated using the district's adjusted cost of living factor, "per pupil funding" under section 22-54-104 (2) (a.5) (IV), as said section existed prior to its repeal in 2003, shall be calculated using the size factor used in the calculation for the prior budget year or the size factor used in the calculation for the 2001-02 budget year, whichever is less, the cost of living factor for the prior budget year, and the at-risk factor calculated for the district using a base at-risk factor of eleven and one-half percent.

(c) For purposes of this subsection (3), "adjusted cost of living factor" means the district's cost of living factor determined by dividing the district's cost of living amount by the lowest cost of living amount of all districts in the state from the current cost of living study, rounded to the nearest one-thousandth of one percent.

(4) If the maximum dollar amount of property tax revenue allowed for any given budget year pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section will not be generated by the levy of the total number of mills levied by the district pursuant to this section for the immediately preceding budget year, the total number of mills levied by the district pursuant to this section shall not be increased unless the district submits the question of the increase to the eligible electors in the manner provided in subsection (1) of this section or unless the question of the increase is submitted to the eligible electors by initiative in the manner provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 20 of article X of the state constitution which allow districts to seek voter approval for spending and revenue increases, the provisions of subsection (3) of this section shall limit a district's authority to raise and expend local property tax revenues in excess of the district's total program as determined in accordance with section 22-54-104.

(6) On and after June 7, 2002, no question shall be submitted to the eligible electors of a district pursuant to subsection (1) or (2) of this section.

22-54-108. Authorization of additional local revenues. (1) Effective July 1, 1994, a district which desires to raise and expend local property tax revenues in excess of the district's total program, as determined in accordance with section 22-54-104, may submit the question of whether the district should be authorized to raise and expend additional local property tax revenues, subject to the limitations of subsection (3) of this section, thereby authorizing an additional levy in excess of the levy authorized under section 22-54-106 for the district's general fund for the then current budget year and each budget year thereafter. The question authorized by this subsection (1) shall be submitted at an election held in accordance with section 20 of article X of the state constitution and title 1, C.R.S.

(2) Effective July 1, 1994, upon proper submittal to a district of a valid initiative petition, the district shall submit to the eligible electors of the district the question of whether the district should be authorized to raise and expend additional local property tax revenues in excess of the district's total program as determined in accordance with section 22-54-104, subject to the limitations of subsection (3) of this section, thereby authorizing an additional levy in excess of the levy authorized under section 22-54-106 for the district's general fund for the then current budget year and each budget year thereafter. The question authorized by this subsection (2) shall be submitted at an election held in accordance with section 20 of article X of the state constitution and title 1, C.R.S. An initiative petition under this subsection (2) shall be signed by at least five percent of the eligible electors in the district at the time the petition is filed.

(3) (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 20 of article X of the state constitution which allow districts to seek voter approval for spending and revenue increases, the provisions of this subsection (3) shall limit a district's authority to raise and expend local property tax revenues in excess of the district's total program as determined in accordance with section 22-54-104.

(b) (I) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraphs (II) and (III) of this paragraph (b), the total additional local property tax revenues that may be received pursuant to elections held pursuant to this section shall not exceed under any circumstances twenty percent of the district's total program, as determined pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2), or two hundred thousand dollars, whichever is greater.

(II) (A) Effective July 1, 2002, and subject to the provisions of sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (II), the total additional local property tax revenues that may be received pursuant to elections held pursuant to this section shall not exceed under any circumstances twenty percent of the district's total program, as determined pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2), or two hundred thousand dollars, whichever is greater, plus an amount equal to the maximum dollar amount of property tax revenue that the district could have generated for the 2001-02 budget year if, in accordance with the provisions of section 22-54-107.5, the district submitted a question to and received approval of the eligible electors of the district at an election held in November 2001.

(B) Regardless of the applicability of section 22-54-104 (5) (g), for the purposes of this subparagraph (II), a district's total program shall be the amount calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2).

(III) (A) On and after May 21, 2009, and subject to the provisions of sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (III), the total additional local property tax revenues that may be received pursuant to an election held pursuant to this section shall not exceed under any circumstances twenty-five percent of the district's total program, as determined pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2), or two hundred thousand dollars, whichever is greater, plus an amount equal to the maximum dollar amount of property tax revenue that the district could have generated for the 2001-02 budget year if, in accordance with the provisions of section 22-54-107.5, the district submitted a question to and received approval of the eligible electors of the district at an election held in November 2001.

(B) Regardless of the applicability of section 22-54-104 (5) (g), for purposes of this subparagraph (III), a district's total program shall be the amount calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2).

(c) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1196, § 7, effective May 22, 2008.)

(d) (I) In applying the limitation in this subsection (3) to elections held after July 1, 1994, any additional local property tax revenues authorized at elections held under the provisions of former section 22-53-117 prior to July 1, 1994, shall be counted towards such limitation.

(II) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2009, (SB 09-256), ch. 294, p. 1553, § 6, effective May 21, 2009.)

(II.5) Any portion of the specific ownership tax paid to the district shall not apply to the limitation in this subsection (3).

(III) If the additional local property tax revenues already authorized and the specific ownership tax revenue, if any, exceeds the limitation, the district shall not be authorized to hold an election pursuant to the provisions of this section until the limitation is greater than the additional local property tax revenues already authorized and the specific ownership tax revenue, if any.

(e) (I) If a district's levy is reduced pursuant to section 22-54-106 (2) (b) (I), the provisions of this paragraph (e), as well as the provisions of paragraph (d) of this subsection (3), shall apply in calculating the limitation of this subsection (3).

(II) In applying the limitation of this subsection (3), the difference between the district's total program for the 1994-95 budget year, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104.3 (3), and the district's total program for the 1994-95 budget year, as calculated pursuant to section 22-54-104 (2), shall be counted toward such limitation.

(f) In applying the limitation of this subsection (3), the amount of property tax generated pursuant to section 22-54-106 (2) (b) (III) shall be counted toward such limitation.

(g) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1196, § 7, effective May 22, 2008.)

(h) In applying the limitation in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (b) of this subsection (3) to elections held after July 1, 2002, any additional local property tax revenues authorized at an election held in November 2001 under the provisions of section 22-54-107.5 shall be counted towards such limitation.

22-54-108.5. Authorization of additional local revenues for full-day kindergarten - definitions. (1) (a) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, effective July 1, 2007, any district that chooses to raise and expend local property tax revenues in excess of the district's total program, as determined in accordance with section 22-54-104, and in addition to any property tax revenues levied pursuant to sections 22-54-107 and 22-54-108, may submit the question of whether the district should be authorized to raise and expend additional local property tax revenues, thereby authorizing an additional levy in excess of the levy authorized under sections 22-54-106, 22-54-107, and 22-54-108, to provide funding for excess full-day kindergarten program costs in the district for the then-current budget year and each budget year thereafter. The question authorized by this paragraph (a) may also include a question of whether to impose an additional mill levy of a stated amount and limited duration to meet the initial capital construction needs of the district associated with the establishment of a full-day kindergarten program. If a mill levy for capital construction needs associated with the district's full-day kindergarten program is approved for more than one year, the board of education of the district may, without calling an election, decrease the amount or duration of the mill levy in subsequent years. The questions authorized by this paragraph (a) shall be submitted at an election held in accordance with section 20 of article X of the state constitution and title 1, C.R.S.

(b) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, effective July 1, 2007, upon proper submittal to a district of a valid initiative petition, the district shall submit to the eligible electors of the district the question of whether the district should be authorized to raise and expend additional local property tax revenues in excess of the district's total program, as determined in accordance with section 22-54-104, and in addition to any property tax revenues levied pursuant to sections 22-54-107 and 22-54-108, thereby authorizing an additional levy in excess of the levy authorized under sections 22-54-106, 22-54-107, and 22-54-108, to provide funding for excess full-day kindergarten program costs in the district for the then-current budget year and each budget year thereafter. The question authorized by this paragraph (b) may also include a question of whether to impose an additional mill levy of a stated amount and limited duration to meet the initial capital construction needs of the district associated with the establishment of a full-day kindergarten program. If a mill levy for capital construction needs associated with the district's full-day kindergarten program is approved for more than one year, the board of education of the district may, without calling an election, decrease the amount or duration of the mill levy in subsequent years. The questions authorized by this paragraph (b) shall be submitted at an election held in accordance with section 20 of article X of the state constitution and title 1, C.R.S. An initiative petition under this paragraph (b) shall be signed by at least five percent of the eligible electors in the district at the time the petition is filed.

(c) If a majority of the votes cast in an election held pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this subsection (1) are in favor of the question, an additional mill levy shall be levied each year, and the revenues received from the additional mill levy shall be deposited in the full-day kindergarten fund of the district created in section 22-45-103 (1) (h). If the district obtained voter approval for an additional mill levy to meet the capital construction needs associated with the district's full-day kindergarten program, the revenues generated from that mill levy shall be deposited in the capital construction account of the district's full-day kindergarten fund.

(d) For purposes of this section, "excess full-day kindergarten program costs" means the costs that exceed fifty percent of the district's per-pupil revenues for the budget year in which the election is held, multiplied by the number of pupils enrolled or expected to enroll in the district's full-day kindergarten program.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 20 of article X of the state constitution that allow districts to seek voter approval for spending and revenue increases, the provisions of this subsection (1) shall limit a district's authority to raise and expend local property tax revenues in excess of the district's total program as determined in accordance with section 22-54-104.

(2) A district that obtains voter approval pursuant to this section to impose an additional mill levy to fund excess full-day kindergarten program costs in the district shall:

(a) Establish its full-day kindergarten program using evidence-based research demonstrating the types of programs and methods appropriate for a full-day kindergarten program;

(b) Not limit the ability of parents enrolling a child in the district to enroll the child in a half-day kindergarten program; and

(c) Not be authorized to serve children through a full-day kindergarten component of the district's preschool program established pursuant to article 28 of this title.

(3) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, a district that provides and funds a full-day kindergarten program with moneys generated by the imposition of an additional mill levy as authorized by this section may charge tuition to a pupil who does not reside in the district for the excess full-day kindergarten program costs; except that such tuition charge shall not exceed the actual cost for providing the program as determined by the district providing the full-day kindergarten program.

22-54-109. Attendance in district other than district of residence. (1) Districts paying tuition for pupils of residence in the district to attend public schools in other Colorado school districts and in school districts of adjoining states shall report and be entitled to support for such pupils; except that no district shall report any pupil who is from another district and whose tuition is paid by the pupil's district of residence.

(2) Any court of record, the department of social services, or any other agency authorized to place a child in a residential child care facility shall notify the school district of residence of such child, the district in which the child will receive educational services, and the department of education of such placement within fifteen days after the placement.

(3) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1197, § 8, effective May 22, 2008.)

(4) For a child with disabilities residing in a particular school district but receiving educational services from another school district, the state average per pupil revenues shall be the district of residence's total responsibility under this article for the education of that child. The provisions of this subsection (4) shall not apply to children with disabilities enrolled in an interdistrict participating school district pursuant to the provisions of article 36 of this title.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 22-54-109 is similar to § 22-50-104 as it existed prior to the 1989 repeal of article 50, a case construing that provision has been included in the annotations to this section.

Notice requirement of this section makes it clear that governmental entities which might have a financial or other interest in learning of a child's placement are entitled to be notified of the fact and circumstances of such placement by the court or agency which finally places the child. People v. Adams County Sch. Dist. No. 50, 732 P.2d 1222 (Colo. App. 1986).

School district which had not received notice of placement of child in residential care facility as required by this section could not be held financially responsible for excess costs resulting from such placement. People v. Adams County Sch. Dist. No. 50, 732 P.2d 1222 (Colo. App. 1986).

22-54-110. Loans to alleviate cash flow deficits - lease-purchase agreements.

(1) (a) (I) Upon approval by the state treasurer of an application to participate in an interest-free or low-interest loan program submitted by a district pursuant to paragraph (a.5) of this subsection (1), the state treasurer shall make available to such district in any month of the budget year an interest-free or low-interest loan from the state general fund or the proceeds of the tax and revenue anticipation notes issued pursuant to section 29-15-112, C.R.S., in an amount for the month as certified by the chief financial officer and the superintendent of the district.

(II) The state treasurer shall determine the methodology for the calculation of cash deficits and establish reporting mechanisms necessary to ensure consistent and accurate reporting of cash deficits. No loan shall be made in any month unless the district has demonstrated, through the submission of any actual or projected financial or budgetary statements required by the state treasurer that a general fund cash deficit will exist for that month, and that the district has the capacity to repay the loan by June 25th of the state fiscal year in which the loan shall be made. This subparagraph (II) shall apply to a loan made from the state general fund or the proceeds of the tax and revenue anticipation notes issued pursuant to section 29-15-112, C.R.S.

(a.5) A district that chooses to participate in the interest-free or low-interest loan program shall submit an application to the state treasurer. On and after March 25, 2003, a district's initial application to participate in the interest-free or low-interest loan program shall be subject to approval by a resolution adopted by the district board of education as follows:

(I) For a month in which the district seeks an emergency loan pursuant to paragraph (d) of this subsection (1), the chief financial officer of the district and the district superintendent shall present the emergency loan request to the district board of education, explaining the need for the emergency loan and the requested amount. The district board of education, by majority vote, shall approve or disapprove the emergency loan request and the amount. If the district board of education approves the emergency loan request, the chief financial officer and the district superintendent shall request the emergency loan from and certify the amount of the emergency loan to, as approved by the district board of education, the state treasurer as provided in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1).

(II) If, in order to receive an interest-free loan, a district seeks to have tax and revenue anticipation notes issued on its behalf pursuant to section 29-15-112, C.R.S., the chief financial officer of the district and the district superintendent shall present a request to the district board of education to participate in the interest-free loan program and to have tax and revenue anticipation notes issued on its behalf. Such request shall explain the district's anticipated cash flow deficit for the upcoming calendar year and the total amount of tax and revenue anticipation notes that need to be issued on its behalf to cover such deficit. The district board of education, by majority vote, shall approve or disapprove the participation in the interest-free loan program and the amount of tax anticipation and revenue notes that shall be issued on behalf of the district. If the district board of education approves the participation in the interest-free loan program and the issuance of tax and revenue anticipation notes, the chief financial officer and the district superintendent shall certify to the state treasurer the amount of the tax and revenue notes, as approved by the district board of education, that shall be issued on behalf of the district. Thereafter, a district shall not be required to receive approval for an interest-free loan made from the proceeds of the tax and revenue anticipation notes that received prior approval by the district board of education.

(b) A loan may not be made under this section to provide assistance for matters eligible for payment from the contingency reserve fund pursuant to section 22-54-117 or to cover a foreseeable level of uncollectible property taxes, nor may a loan be used by a district for the simultaneous purchase and sale of the same security or an equivalent security in order to profit from price disparity.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (d) of this subsection (1), all loans to a district shall be made from the proceeds of the tax and revenue anticipation notes issued pursuant to section 29-15-112, C.R.S.

(d) If the amount of the tax and revenue anticipation notes, if any, issued on behalf of a district as determined by the state treasurer pursuant to section 29-15-112 (2) (f), C.R.S., is not sufficient to cover a district's cash deficit, then the state treasurer may, in his or her discretion, make available to such district an emergency loan from the state general fund. The emergency loan shall accrue interest at the same rate as the rate of interest paid by the state treasurer on notes issued by the state pursuant to part 9 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S.

(2) (a) For the months of March, April, and May of each budget year, any district receiving a loan under the provisions of paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of this section shall begin to repay such loan if the district's available resources, as of the last day of the month, increased by the next month's revenues exceed the next month's expenditures plus a cash reserve. The excess resources must be remitted to the state treasurer by the close of business on the fifteenth day, or the first business day following the fifteenth day, of the following month. All loans shall be repaid by June 25 of the state fiscal year in which the loan was made or on a later alternative date as determined by the state treasurer.

(a.5) For the months of March, April, and May of each budget year, any district receiving a loan under the provisions of paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of this section shall begin to repay such loan as established by the district's agreement with the state treasurer. All loans shall be repaid by June 25 of the state fiscal year in which the loan was made or on a later alternative date as determined by the state treasurer.

(a.7) If a district defaults on a loan that is made from the proceeds of the tax and revenue anticipation notes issued pursuant to section 29-15-112, C.R.S., by failing to repay the loan on or before the date required, interest shall accrue on the unpaid balance from the date of default until the loan is repaid in an amount that is equal to the interest paid by the state treasurer on notes issued by the state pursuant to part 9 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S.

(b) For purposes of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2):

(I) "Available resources" means any available cash and investments in district funds which can be used to alleviate general fund cash shortfalls including, but not limited to, the district's capital reserve fund and any fund or account within the general fund established solely for the management of risk-related activities. "Available resources" shall not include cash that is legally segregated or pledged by contract or rule and regulation of the state board.

(II) "Cash reserve" means eight percent of the district's average monthly expenditures or twenty thousand dollars, whichever is greater.

(c) A lien in the amount of any such loan, plus any interest specified in paragraph (a.7) of this subsection (2), shall attach to any district property tax revenues, except for bond redemption fund revenues, collected during the state fiscal year in which the loan was made, and such lien shall have priority over all other expenditures from such revenues until the loan shall have been repaid in full. The county treasurer of the county in which the headquarters of the district are located shall be jointly responsible with the district for repayment of any loan made pursuant to this section, plus any interest specified in paragraph (a.7) of this subsection (2). If a district fails to repay a loan to the state treasurer in accordance with the provisions of this section, the state treasurer shall notify the county treasurer of the county in which the district is located that the district is in default on the loan and the amount of the default, plus any interest specified in paragraph (a.7) of this subsection (2). The county treasurer shall withhold any moneys of the district in the county treasurer's possession in an amount equal to the amount of the default, plus any interest specified in paragraph (a.7) of this subsection (2), and transmit said moneys to the state treasurer. If the amount of moneys of the district in the county treasurer's possession at the time notice of the default is given is less than the amount of the default, the county treasurer shall withhold additional moneys of the district until such time as the default, plus any interest specified in paragraph (a.7) of this subsection (2), has been completely paid to the state treasurer.

(d) (I) A district may sell real property to the state treasurer pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph (d) if:

(A) The district has been denied a loan pursuant to the provisions of this section in which case the fair market value of the property shall be equal to or greater than the amount of the purchase price; or

(B) The district is unable to pay a loan back in the same state fiscal year in which the loan was made in which case the fair market value of the real property shall be equal to or greater than the outstanding balance of the loan to the state treasurer.

(II) Such sale may only be made if:

(A) At the same time of the sale, the state treasurer leases back all of the property to the district pursuant to a lease-purchase agreement that is subject to annual appropriation by the school district;

(B) The district pays any legal or other transaction costs incurred by the state treasurer related to the sale of the property and the lease-purchase agreement; and

(C) The state treasurer agrees to the sale of the property and the lease-purchase agreement.

(III) The provisions of paragraph (c) of this subsection (2) shall not apply to the lease-purchase agreement, and no lien shall attach to any district tax revenues in order to secure the district's lease payments. The lease-purchase agreement shall not authorize the district to receive fee title to the property that is the subject of the lease-purchase agreement prior to the expiration of the terms of the lease-purchase agreement.

(IV) Sections 24-82-102 (1) (b) and 24-82-801, C.R.S., shall not apply to the lease-purchase agreement.

(V) If a district defaults in the payment of rent required by the lease-purchase agreement, it shall have thirty days to cure such default. If after thirty days the district has not cured the default and if the district remains in possession of the property, the state treasurer shall recover possession of the property pursuant to the provisions of article 40 of title 13, C.R.S. If a court enters a judgment in favor of the state treasurer and issues a writ of restitution pursuant to section 13-40-115, C.R.S., the state treasurer shall liquidate the property to the best advantage of the state.

(3) The state treasurer shall consult with the department of education concerning the administration of the loan program under this section in order to assure that it is implemented in a manner that will minimize the amount of emergency loans needed by each district.

(4) A district receiving a loan pursuant to this section shall be subject to an audit conducted by, or contracted for by, the state auditor and shall be penalized through the withholding of state aid in the event an audit finds the district used the loan in a manner contrary to the provisions of this section.

22-54-111. Adjustments in valuation for assessment. (1) For each budget year, in calculating the total amount of revenue which a district is entitled to receive from the property tax levy for the general fund of a district during the budget year, the valuation for assessment of a district shall be adjusted as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(2) If the valuation for assessment of a district includes the value of a certain property that was formerly tax-exempt but becomes taxable as a result of a change in the applicable state law and said inclusion is challenged by administrative appeal or litigation or both and the property taxes attributable to said property are not paid pending the outcome of said challenge, the valuation for assessment attributable to said property shall be subtracted from the valuation for assessment of the school district. If said property is finally determined to have been properly included in the district's valuation for assessment, the valuation for assessment attributable to said property shall be restored to the district's valuation for assessment, and the state general fund shall be reimbursed in full by the school district after collection of taxes, plus interest at the same rate as provided by statute for penalty interest on unpaid property taxes.

22-54-112. Reports to the state board. (1) On or before November 15 of each year, the property tax administrator shall certify to the state board the valuations for assessment of all taxable property within each county and for each district or portion of a joint district in each county, with the exception of the city and county of Denver, for which the time of certification shall be on or before December 20. The furnishing of certified copies of the board of county commissioners' certification of levies and revenue to the county assessor and the property tax administrator, as provided by section 39-1-111 (2), C.R.S., shall be considered as having fulfilled the requirement of this section.

(2) (a) On or before November 10 of each year, the secretary of the board of education of each district shall certify to the state board the pupil enrollment, the on-line pupil enrollment, the ASCENT program pupil enrollment, and the preschool program enrollment of the district taken in the preceding October or previously in November.

(b) Repealed.

(c) On or before November 10 of each year, the secretary of the state charter school institute board shall certify to the state board the pupil enrollment and the on-line pupil enrollment of each institute charter school taken in the preceding October.

(3) If the valuation for assessment for all or a part of any district has been divided for an urban renewal area, pursuant to section 31-25-107 (9) (a), C.R.S., any report under this section shall be based upon that portion of the valuation for assessment under said section 31-25-107 (9) (a) (I), C.R.S., so long as such division remains in effect.

(4) (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (4), every school of a district, charter school of a district, and institute charter school shall include in the materials for pupil registration the pupil application form to participate under the federal "National School Lunch Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 1751 et seq., referred to in this subsection (4) as the "pupil application form". The registration materials shall include an explanation to parents that the pupil application form will be used by the school of the district, district charter school, or institute charter school to determine whether the school of the district, district charter school, or institute charter school is eligible for at-risk funding on behalf of the pupil and that, by filling out the form, the parent is ensuring that the school district or school will receive the at-risk funding to which it is entitled based on the population of at-risk pupils served by the school district or school.

(b) If one or more schools of a school district or if a district charter school or an institute charter school does not participate in the federal child nutrition programs under the federal "National School Lunch Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 1751 et seq., or the federal "Child Nutrition Act of 1966", 42 U.S.C. sec. 1771 et seq., the school district, the district charter school, or the institute charter school shall use the family economic data survey form created by the department of education to identify those pupils who qualify as at-risk pupils in lieu of the pupil application form.

(c) In certifying the pupil enrollment pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the secretary of the board of education of each district and the secretary of the state charter school institute board shall specify as at-risk pupils those pupils identified through use of the pupil application form and the family economic data survey form.

22-54-113. County public school fund. (1) There is hereby created in the office of the county treasurer of each county a continuing fund, to be known as the county public school fund, into which shall be paid the proceeds of all county school moneys.

(2) Each district in the county shall be entitled to receive distribution during a budget year of moneys in the county public school fund in the proportion that its funded pupil count in the county is to the aggregate of the funded pupil counts of all districts in the county.

(3) The department of education shall determine the proportionate part of the county public school fund to be paid during the budget year to each district in the county and, on or before the first day of each budget year, shall certify such determination to the county treasurer. The certified proportions shall be the basis upon which the moneys in the fund shall be distributed during the ensuing budget year. At the end of each month during such year, the county treasurer shall credit or pay over the proper proportions of the moneys in the fund to the general funds of the districts in the county.

(4) For the purpose of determination and certification by the state board and distribution of moneys in the fund, the funded pupil count of a joint district shall be apportioned and assigned to the portion of the district in each county having territory in the district in the same proportion as the portion of the district's funded pupil count attributable to pupils resident in each county bears to the total funded pupil count of the joint district. The secretary of the board of education of each joint district shall certify to the state board the required information applicable to each county.

22-54-114. State public school fund. (1) There is hereby created in the office of the state treasurer a fund, separate from the general fund, to be known as the state public school fund. There shall be credited to said fund the net balance of the public school income fund existing as of December 31, 1973, and all distributions from the state public school income fund thereafter made, the state's share of all moneys received from the federal government pursuant to the provisions of section 34-63-102, C.R.S., and such additional moneys as shall be appropriated by the general assembly which are necessary to meet the state's share of the total program of all districts, funding for institute charter schools, and, for fiscal years prior to the 2007-08 fiscal year, the contingency reserve during the budget year. Moneys annually appropriated by the general assembly shall be transferred from the state general fund and credited to the state public school fund in four quarterly installments on July 1, September 30, December 31, and March 31 to assure the availability of funds for the required distribution of state moneys to school districts and institute charter schools. Such quarterly installments shall be determined in accordance with estimates prepared by the department of education with respect to the required distribution of state moneys to school districts and institute charter schools.

(2) No later than thirty days prior to the beginning of the budget year, the department of education shall determine the estimated requirements in order to provide each district and each institute charter school the amount it is eligible to receive from the state during the next ensuing fiscal year of the state. The appropriation by the general assembly shall be based on the requirements necessary to provide all districts and institute charter schools with the amounts they are each eligible to receive from the state, pursuant to the provisions of this part 1, during the next ensuing fiscal year of the state.

(2.3) Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, of the total amount appropriated by the general assembly in the annual appropriation bill for each budget year to meet the state's share of the total program of all districts and the total funding for all institute charter schools, the department of education may transfer an amount specified by the general assembly in the annual general appropriation bill for that budget year to offset the direct and indirect administrative costs incurred by the department in implementing the provisions of this article. The total program of each district that receives state aid and the total funding for each institute charter school shall be reduced by a percentage determined by dividing the amount of the transfer by the total program of all districts that receive state aid plus the total funding for all institute charter schools. The state aid of each district shall be reduced by the amount of the reduction in the district's total program or the amount of state aid, whichever is less, even if, for the 2009-10 budget year or any budget year thereafter, the reduction would result in a district receiving less state aid than the amount of minimum state aid for each district as determined by the general assembly for the applicable budget year. The department of education shall ensure that the reduction in state aid and institute charter school funding required by this subsection (2.3) is accomplished prior to the end of the budget year. The reductions described in this subsection (2.3) shall be in addition to any reduction that may be required pursuant to section 22-54-106 (4) (c).

(2.5) Repealed.

(2.7) The general assembly intends that the moneys transferred to the state public school fund pursuant to section 24-75-201.1 (1) (d) (XI.5), C.R.S., pursuant to Senate Bill 11-230, enacted in 2011, be available for appropriation during the 2011-12 budget year to account for mid-year changes in pupil enrollment and the at-risk pupil population and changes in assessed valuations and the specific ownership tax from the prior year.

(3) (a) Any unexpended balance of moneys appropriated by the general assembly in the state public school fund at the end of each fiscal year shall remain in the state public school fund and become available for distribution during the following fiscal year.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2007, p. 625, § 2, effective April 26, 2007.)

(4) (a) For the 1997-98 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, the net amount recovered by the department of education during the applicable fiscal year, pursuant to school district and institute charter school audits, as overpayments made to school districts and institute charter schools that would otherwise be transmitted to the state treasurer for deposit in the general fund shall instead be transmitted to the state treasurer for deposit in the state public school fund. The amount shall be available for appropriation to the department of education in subsequent fiscal years.

(b) For the 2010-11 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, the department of education shall reimburse school districts for educational services provided to juveniles pursuant to section 22-32-141 from moneys appropriated for said purpose.

(c) For the 2012-13 budget year and each budget year thereafter, the general assembly shall appropriate the amount calculated for at-risk supplemental aid pursuant to sections 22-30.5-112.2 and 22-30.5-513, up to three million eight hundred thirty-nine thousand six hundred twenty-seven dollars, from any amounts recovered and received by the department of education during the applicable budget year.

(5) All publishing costs associated with the annual printing of the laws enacted by the general assembly concerning education shall be paid out of the state public school fund.

(6) Repealed.

22-54-115. Distribution from state public school fund. (1) No later than June 30 of each year, the state board shall determine the amount of the state's share of the district's total program for the budget year beginning on July 1, and the total thereof for all districts, which amount shall be payable in twelve approximately equal monthly payments during such budget year; except that:

(a) Such payments shall be adjusted following the certification of pupil enrollments, the certification of valuations for assessment to the state board pursuant to section 22-54-112 (1) and (2), and the certification of any payments in lieu of taxes received by school districts pursuant to section 39-3-114.5, C.R.S.;

(b) Such payments shall be adjusted in accordance with any district's instructions given pursuant to subsection (1.5) of this section; and

(c) Such payments shall be adjusted in accordance with the provisions of subsection (1.3) of this section.

(1.3) (a) In determining the state's share of each district's total program, the state board shall determine whether the district is an accounting district of an institute charter school. If a district is an accounting district of an institute charter school, the state board shall instruct the department of education to withhold from the amount of the state share otherwise payable to the district an amount equal to the lesser of:

(I) One hundred percent of the adjusted district per pupil revenues, as defined in section 22-30.5-513 (1) (b), multiplied by the number of pupils enrolled in the institute charter school who are not on-line pupils plus one hundred percent of the district per pupil on-line funding multiplied by the number of on-line pupils enrolled in the institute charter school; or

(II) The total amount of the state share payable to the district.

(a.5) In any budget year in which the state share of an accounting district of an institute charter school is less than the amount specified in subparagraph (I) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1.3), the department of education shall submit a request for a supplemental appropriation in an amount that will fully fund the amount specified in said subparagraph (I). The department shall make the request to the general assembly during the budget year in which the underfunding occurs. If the general assembly does not make the requested supplemental appropriation, the department shall pay to the institute charter school the amount specified in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1.3).

(b) The amount withheld shall be payable to the state charter school institute, in twelve approximately equal monthly payments during the budget year for payment to the institute charter school pursuant to section 22-30.5-513 (4).

(1.5) Any school district may give written instructions to the state board directing that a specified portion of a monthly payment or monthly payments that the district is otherwise entitled to receive pursuant to this section shall be transferred to the division of vocational rehabilitation in the department of human services for the district's cost of participating in school to work alliance programs. Such written instructions shall specify the amount to be transferred to the division of vocational rehabilitation from the district's payment for a specified month or months. Such written instructions shall be given to the state board no later than the fifth day of the first month in which such amount is to be transferred to the division of vocational rehabilitation.

(2) No later than the fifteenth day of each month, the state board shall certify to the state treasurer the amount payable to each district and to the state charter school institute in accordance with subsection (1.3) of this section during said month and the amount, if any, to be transferred to the division of vocational rehabilitation during said month in accordance with subsection (1.5) of this section.

(3) No later than the twenty-fifth day of each month, the state treasurer shall:

(a) Pay the amount certified as payable to each district, less the total amount of any direct payments made by the state treasurer on behalf of charter schools chartered by each school district of any principal and interest due on bonds pursuant to section 22-30.5-406 directly to the treasurer of each district or, in accordance with written instructions from the district, directly to an account designated by the district that allows the district to retain title to the funds;

(b) Transfer the amount certified, if any, to the division of vocational rehabilitation; and

(c) Pay the amount certified as payable to the state charter school institute directly or, in accordance with written instructions from the state charter school institute, directly to an account designated by the state charter school institute that allows the state charter school institute to retain title to the funds.

(4) The state board shall take care to avoid overpayment of state moneys. If it is determined that any district or the state charter school institute has been overpaid in any month, the state board shall adjust the following monthly payment or payments to such district or the state charter school institute so as to recover the amount overpaid. In the event that an overpayment cannot be recovered, the amount thereof shall be refunded to the state public school fund by the district or the state charter school institute receiving the same.

(6) (a) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, for the 2010-11 budget year, the department of education shall pay in installments to each district the amount of the state's share of the district's total program for the budget year as adjusted pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section and shall pay in installments to the state charter school institute the total amount withheld from any accounting district pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1.3) of this section for the budget year; except that the timing and amount of each installment payment to each district and the state charter school institute shall be determined by the department.

22-54-117. Contingency reserve - capital construction expenditures reserve - fund - lottery proceeds contingency reserve. (1) (a) For fiscal years prior to the 2007-08 fiscal year, an amount to be determined by the general assembly shall be appropriated annually to the state public school fund as a contingency reserve. For the 2007-08 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, an amount to be determined by the general assembly shall be appropriated annually to the contingency reserve fund, which is hereby created in the state treasury. In deciding the amount to be appropriated to the contingency reserve or the contingency reserve fund, as applicable, the general assembly may take into consideration any recommendations made by the department of education, but nothing in this section shall be construed to obligate the general assembly to provide supplemental assistance to all districts determined to be in need or fully fund the total amount of such need. The state board is authorized to approve and order payments from the contingency reserve or the contingency reserve fund, as applicable, for supplemental assistance to districts determined to be in need as the result of any or all of the following circumstances:

(I) Financial emergencies caused by an act of God or arising from extraordinary problems in the collection of taxes;

(II) Financial emergencies arising from the nonpayment of property taxes pending the outcome of an administrative appeal or litigation or both challenging the inclusion of the value of certain property in a county's abstract of assessment which resulted from a change in the applicable state law;

(III) The amount of property tax levied and collected pursuant to section 39-10-114, C.R.S., is insufficient for the purpose of making abatements and refunds of property taxes which the district is required to make pursuant to said section;

(IV) Any contingency that could not have been reasonably foreseen at the time of the adoption of the annual budget, including, but not limited to, reductions in valuation of the district in excess of twenty percent as described in section 39-10-114 (1) (a) (I) (B.5), C.R.S.;

(V) Unusual financial burden caused by instruction of children who formerly resided outside the district but have been assigned to live within the district by courts or public welfare agencies. Such supplemental assistance shall not exceed the additional cost for current operations incurred by this circumstance.

(VI) Unusual financial burden caused by instruction of children who moved into the district following the pupil enrollment count date. Such supplemental assistance shall not exceed the additional cost incurred by the district due to the increase in pupil enrollment. The provisions of this subparagraph (VI) shall only be available to districts with a funded pupil count of two thousand or less.

(VII) Unusual financial burden caused by a significant decline in pupil enrollment as a result of detachment and annexation pursuant to a reorganization plan approved pursuant to article 30 of this title.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (I) to (VII) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) concerning circumstances under which the state board may approve and order payments from the contingency reserve or contingency reserve fund, as applicable, the board may, in cases of extreme emergency, take into consideration such other factors as it may deem necessary and proper in granting supplemental assistance from the contingency reserve or contingency reserve fund, as applicable, to those districts that could not maintain their schools without such additional financial assistance.

(c) (I) If a payment for supplemental assistance is made pursuant to subparagraph (II) of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section and the disputed property is finally determined to have been properly included in the abstract of assessment, the payment shall be reimbursed by the school district after collection of the taxes to the contingency reserve or contingency reserve fund, as applicable, in full, plus interest at the same rate as provided by statute for penalty interest on unpaid property taxes.

(II) Notwithstanding subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c), any reimbursement by a school district of a payment for supplemental assistance made pursuant to this subsection (1) shall be credited to the contingency reserve or contingency reserve fund, as applicable.

(d) For fiscal years prior to the 2007-08 fiscal year, any unexpended balance in the contingency reserve at the end of each fiscal year shall remain in the contingency reserve and shall not revert to the state general fund or any other fund.

(e) (I) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (d) of this subsection (1), all unexpended moneys remaining in the contingency reserve as of June 30, 2007, shall be transferred to the contingency reserve fund as of July 1, 2007.

(II) Any unexpended balance in the contingency reserve fund at the end of each fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not revert to the state general fund or any other fund.

(f) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (e) of this subsection (1) to the contrary, on April 20, 2009, the state treasurer shall deduct three million eighty-two thousand four hundred fifty-two dollars from the contingency reserve fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(g) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (e) of this subsection (1) to the contrary, as provided for in section 22-9-105.7 (3) and upon receipt of notice from the commissioner, for fiscal years 2010-11 and 2011-12, the state treasurer shall deduct an amount not to exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars from the contingency reserve fund and transfer such amount to the great teachers and leaders fund, created in section 22-9-105.7.

(h) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (e) of this subsection (1) to the contrary, on June 30, 2011, the state treasurer shall deduct two million eight hundred fifty-three thousand three hundred eighty-three dollars from the contingency reserve fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(1.5) to (1.7) Repealed.

(2) Application by a district for supplemental assistance pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall set forth fully the grounds upon which it relies for assistance and shall be sworn to under oath by the president and secretary of the district board of the district.

(3) The state board shall conduct such investigation as it deems proper, and, if it finds that an application should be approved, it shall determine the amount to be paid. In determining which districts receive payments pursuant to this section and the amount of such payments, the state board shall consider the amount of the supplemental assistance requested by the district as a percentage of the district's total program. By order upon the state treasurer, the board shall direct payment from the contingency reserve or contingency reserve fund, whichever is applicable, of such amount to the treasurer of the eligible district for credit to the general fund of the district.

(C) A charter school that is operating or will operate in the next budget year in a facility that is listed on the state inventory of real property and improvements and other capital assets maintained by the department of personnel pursuant to section 24-30-1303.5, C.R.S., and that is not obligated to make lease payments for use of the facility.

(2) (a) For the 2001-02 budget year and budget years thereafter, a district shall be eligible to receive state education fund moneys for district charter school capital construction pursuant to this section if at least one qualified district charter school will be receiving funding from the district pursuant to section 22-30.5-112 during the budget year for which state education fund moneys are to be distributed.

(b) For the 2004-05 budget year and budget years thereafter, an institute charter school shall be eligible to receive state education fund moneys for institute charter school capital construction if the institute charter school will be receiving funding from the state charter school institute pursuant to section 22-30.5-513 during the budget year for which state education fund moneys are to be distributed.

(3) (a) (I) and (II) Repealed.

(III) (A) The total amount of state education fund moneys to be appropriated for all eligible districts and for all eligible institute charter schools for the 2003-04 through 2011-12 budget years shall be an amount equal to five million dollars; except that, for the 2006-07 budget year, an additional two million eight hundred thousand dollars shall be appropriated from the state education fund and shall be used for the purposes of this section, and for the 2008-09 budget year, an additional one hundred thirty-five thousand dollars shall be appropriated from the state education fund and shall be distributed pursuant to section 22-54-133, as said section existed prior to its repeal in 2010. The total amount of state education fund moneys to be appropriated for all eligible districts and for all eligible institute charter schools for the 2012-13 budget year and each budget year thereafter is six million dollars.

(B) Repealed.

(C) For the 2004-05 budget year, and each budget year thereafter, the amount of state education fund moneys to be distributed to any eligible district and any eligible institute charter school shall be an amount equal to the percentage of the sum of the district's certified charter school pupil enrollment and the institute charter school's certified pupil enrollment for all eligible districts and eligible institute charter schools in the state that is attributable to the eligible district or eligible institute charter school multiplied by the total amount of state education fund moneys distributed to all eligible districts and eligible institute charter schools for the same budget year pursuant to sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (III).

(b) No later than February 1 of each budget year, the department of education shall certify to the education committees of the senate and the house of representatives and the joint budget committee of the general assembly the total number of pupils expected to be enrolled in all qualified charter schools in the state during the next budget year, as derived from reports provided to the department by districts pursuant to section 22-30.5-112 (1) and by institute charter schools pursuant to section 22-30.5-513 (3) (a). For the purposes of any certification made during the 2003-04 budget year and budget years thereafter, a pupil expected to be enrolled in a qualified charter school as defined in sub-subparagraph (B) of subparagraph (I) of paragraph (f.6) of subsection (1) of this section shall be counted as one-half of one pupil.

(4) (a) For the 2001-02 budget year, the 2003-04 budget year, and each budget year thereafter, the general assembly shall annually appropriate from the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution, to the department of education for distribution to eligible school districts and eligible institute charter schools in accordance with the formula set forth in paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section, an amount equal to the total amount of moneys to be distributed to all districts and institute charter schools as determined pursuant to said formula.

(b) Prior to the 2009-10 budget year, from the moneys appropriated for a given budget year pursuant to this section, the department of education shall make lump sum payments of all moneys to be distributed to each eligible school district and eligible institute charter school during the budget year as soon as possible.

(c) For the 2009-10 budget year and each budget year thereafter, the department of education shall distribute the total amount to be distributed pursuant to this section to each eligible school district and eligible institute charter school in twelve approximately equal monthly payments during the applicable budget year in conjunction with the distribution of the state's share of district total program pursuant to section 22-54-115.

(4.5) Repealed.

(5) A district that receives state education fund moneys pursuant to this section shall distribute all moneys received to qualified charter schools as required by section 22-30.5-112.3 and may not retain any of such moneys to defray administrative expenses or for any other purpose.

(6) Pursuant to section 17 (3) of article IX of the state constitution, any moneys appropriated by the general assembly out of the state education fund, received by any eligible district or eligible institute charter school pursuant to this section, and distributed to a qualified charter school by any district pursuant to this section and section 22-30.5-112.3 shall be exempt from:

(a) The limitation on state fiscal year spending set forth in section 20 (7) (a) of article X of the state constitution and section 24-77-103, C.R.S.; and

(b) The limitation on local government fiscal year spending set forth in section 20 (7) (b) of article X of the state constitution.

(7) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that, for purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, providing funding for charter school capital construction from moneys in the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution is a permissible use of the moneys in the state education fund since the moneys are being used for public school building capital construction as authorized by section 17 (4) (b) of article IX of the state constitution.

(8) The general assembly hereby finds that with the adoption of the new definition of "qualified charter" school, enacted in House Bill 02-1349 during the second regular session of the sixty-third general assembly, the program created in this section is a new program as of June 7, 2002, and that the general assembly enacted such new program in order to meet the eligibility requirements of the incentive grant program included in the federal "No Child Left Behind Act of 2001", Pub.L. 107-110.

(9) The general assembly recognizes charter schools' continuing need for assistance in meeting capital construction costs. The general assembly therefore strongly encourages the governor to allocate a portion of the moneys received by the state through the federal "American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009", Pub.L. 111-5, to charter schools in the state to assist them in meeting their capital construction and facility costs.

22-54-126. Declining enrollment districts with new charter schools - additional aid - definitions. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) “Declining enrollment district” means a district whose funded pupil count is greater than the sum of the district’s pupil enrollment, preschool program enrollment, and on-line pupil enrollment.

(b) “New charter school enrollment” means the number of pupils enrolled in a new district charter school of a declining enrollment district on the pupil enrollment count day in the budget year in which the new district charter school is opened in the declining enrollment district minus the number of pupils enrolled as of that date in an on-line program or an on-line school who are also enrolled in the new district charter school of the declining enrollment district.

(c) “Pupil enrollment count day” has the same meaning as set forth in section 22-54-103 (10.5).

(2) Beginning in the 2006-07 budget year, in any budget year in which a new district charter school is opened in a declining enrollment district, the declining enrollment district shall receive additional aid as specified in this section to help mitigate the impact of the enrollment of pupils in the new district charter school who might otherwise have attended a traditional school in the declining enrollment district. The additional aid shall be available only for the first year of operation of a new district charter school in a declining enrollment district.

(3) For the 2006-07 budget year and each budget year thereafter, the general assembly shall annually appropriate moneys from the general fund or any other source for additional aid to a declining enrollment district in which a new charter school is opened. The additional aid shall be distributed to all declining enrollment districts in which new charter schools are opened in the budget year for which the aid is appropriated. The additional aid shall be distributed among the declining enrollment districts in which new charter schools are opened in the proportion that the declining enrollment district’s new charter school enrollment bears to the total new charter school enrollment in all declining enrollment districts statewide in which new charter schools are opened in the budget year for which the additional aid is appropriated; except that for the 2007-08 budget year and budget years thereafter, a declining enrollment district shall not receive more than three hundred thousand dollars of additional aid pursuant to this section.

(b) "Department" means the department of education created and operating pursuant to section 24-1-115, C.R.S.

(c) "Facility" shall have the same meaning as provided in section 22-2-402 (3).

(d) "Pupil enrollment" means the number of students receiving educational services at the approved facility school or state program on the pupil enrollment count day of the applicable budget year.

(d.5) "Pupil enrollment count day" has the same meaning as set forth in section 22-54-103 (10.5).

(e) "State average per pupil revenue" means the total program of all districts for any budget year divided by the total funded pupil count of all districts for said budget year.

(f) "State program" means the Colorado school for the deaf and the blind or the education program operated by the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo or Fort Logan for students for whom the institute has responsibility because of a court order or other action by a public entity in Colorado.

(2) For the 2008-09 budget year and each budget year thereafter, each approved facility school and state program that meets the requirements of this section shall receive education program funding, which shall be distributed pursuant to subsection (4) of this section. The amount of funding available for all approved facility schools and state programs in a budget year shall be an amount equal to the pupil enrollment of each approved facility school and state program for the applicable budget year multiplied by an amount equal to one and one-third of the state average per pupil revenue for the applicable budget year.

(3) To receive education program funding pursuant to this section, an approved facility school or a state program shall submit its pupil enrollment for the applicable budget year to the department on or before November 10, 2008, and on or before October 5 of each budget year thereafter.

(4) (a) In addition to the requirements of subsection (3) of this section, on or before the fifteenth day of each month, an approved facility school or a state program shall report to the department, in a manner to be determined by the department, the actual number of students who received educational services at the approved facility school or through the state program during the prior calendar month and the corresponding number of full-time equivalent students to which the approved facility school or state program provided such services. The department may accept amended monthly reports from an approved facility school or a state program prior to making the distribution of funding for the applicable month pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (4).

(b) On or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month in which an approved facility school or a state program reported the number of students to which it provided educational services and the number of full-time equivalent students to which the approved facility school or state program provided services pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (4), the department shall pay the approved facility school or state program a proportional amount of the total amount of education program funding as determined pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, based on the approved facility school's or state program's reported number of full-time equivalent students.

(c) The department may prorate the payments made pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (4), if the department determines that such action is necessary to accommodate a projected shortfall in education program funding as calculated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In each applicable budget year, the general assembly shall appropriate to the department the amount required for education program funding pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

(6) (a) The state board shall promulgate rules in accordance with the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., as necessary for the administration and enforcement of this section. In promulgating the rules, the state board shall seek input from approved facility schools, state programs, districts, and organizations that represent facility schools.

(b) In promulgating rules pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (6), the state board shall seek input from the facility schools board created in section 22-2-404.

(7) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that for the purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, providing funding for pupils who are placed in a facility and receive educational services through an approved facility school, who attend the Colorado school for the deaf and the blind, or who receive educational services through an education program operated by the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo or Fort Logan is a program for accountable education reform and may therefore receive funding from the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution.

22-54-130. Hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding. (1) For the 2008-09 budget year and each budget year thereafter, a district that participated in the Colorado preschool program pursuant to article 28 of this title in the 2007-08 budget year and that served a percentage of children authorized to participate in the district's preschool program through a full-day kindergarten portion of the program in the 2007-08 budget year shall receive hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding pursuant to this section. The funding paid pursuant to this section shall be in addition to the funding for supplemental kindergarten enrollment that the district receives pursuant to section 22-54-103 (7) (d).

(2) A district's annual hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding shall be an amount equal to the number of children that the district served through a full-day kindergarten portion of the district's preschool program in the 2007-08 budget year or the number of children enrolled in kindergarten in the district in the applicable budget year, whichever is less, multiplied by the district's per pupil revenue for the applicable budget year, and then multiplied by the difference between one and the full-day kindergarten factor for the applicable budget year specified in section 22-54-103 (15).

(3) In each applicable budget year, the general assembly shall appropriate to the department the amount required for hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding pursuant to this section. The department shall annually allocate to each district described in subsection (1) of this section the amount of the district's hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding calculated pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

(4) For the 2008-09 budget year and each budget year thereafter, a district that receives funding pursuant to this section shall provide a full day of kindergarten in the applicable budget year to at least the same number of children for which the district provided a full day of kindergarten in the 2007-08 budget year through the Colorado preschool program; except that this subsection (4) shall not apply in a budget year in which the number of children who choose to enroll in a full day of kindergarten is less than the number of children who enrolled in a full day of kindergarten in the 2007-08 budget year through the Colorado preschool program.

22-54-131. Full-day kindergarten funding - guidelines - technical assistance - legislative intent - legislative declaration. (1) A district that, prior to the 2008-09 budget year, offered a full-day kindergarten program without additional state funding to some or all of the kindergarten pupils enrolled in the district is encouraged to use the moneys received from supplemental kindergarten enrollment pursuant to section 22-54-103 (7) (d) and hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding pursuant to section 22-54-130 in the 2008-09 budget year and each budget year thereafter to expand the district's existing full-day kindergarten program rather than to defray the costs of the existing full-day kindergarten program.

(2) In offering a full-day kindergarten program with the moneys received from supplemental kindergarten enrollment pursuant to section 22-54-103 (7) (d) and hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding pursuant to section 22-54-130, a district is encouraged to follow the basic program standards established by the state board pursuant section 22-28-108 for the Colorado preschool program, as they may apply to a full-day kindergarten program.

(3) In offering a full-day kindergarten program with the moneys received from supplemental kindergarten enrollment pursuant to section 22-54-103 (7) (d) and hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding pursuant to section 22-54-130, a district is encouraged to prioritize children who are homeless when enrolling children in the full-day kindergarten program.

(4) A district shall use the total amount received from supplemental kindergarten enrollment pursuant to section 22-54-103 (7) (d) and hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding pursuant to section 22-54-130 to provide access to a full-day kindergarten program; except that in any budget year, if a district provides a full day of kindergarten to at least ninety percent of the pupils enrolled in kindergarten in the district who choose to attend a full day of kindergarten, the district may use the moneys from supplemental kindergarten enrollment and hold-harmless full-day kindergarten funding for purposes other than to provide access to a full-day kindergarten program.

(5) (a) Upon the request of a district, the department shall provide, subject to available resources, such technical assistance as may be necessary for the implementation of a full-day kindergarten program and for ongoing training of personnel for the successful implementation of the program.

(b) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that for the purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, providing technical assistance to districts for the implementation of a full-day kindergarten program and for ongoing training of personnel for the successful implementation of a full-day kindergarten program will expand the availability of kindergarten programs and may therefore receive funding from the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution.

(6) Beginning in the 2009-10 budget year and continuing through the 2013-14 budget year, it is the intent of the general assembly to increase annually the appropriation to be used by districts to provide full-day kindergarten programs. For each budget year, the general assembly intends to appropriate the following amounts:

- (a) For the 2009-10 budget year, sixty million dollars;
- (b) For the 2010-11 budget year, seventy million dollars;
- (c) For the 2011-12 budget year, eighty million dollars;
- (d) For the 2012-13 budget year, ninety million dollars; and
- (e) For the 2013-14 budget year, one hundred million dollars.

22-55-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, which was approved by the registered electors of this state at the 2000 general election, requires the general assembly to increase funding for preschool through twelfth grade public education and for categorical programs;

(b) Specifically, section 17 of article IX of the state constitution requires:

(I) A specified percentage of state income tax revenues collected on income earned on or after December 28, 2000, to be diverted to a newly created state education fund from which moneys may be appropriated only for specified education-related purposes;

(II) The general assembly to annually increase the statewide base per pupil funding for public education from preschool through the twelfth grade and total state funding for all categorical programs by at least the rate of inflation plus one percentage point for state fiscal years 2001-02 through 2010-11, and by at least the rate of inflation for state fiscal year 2011-2012 and each succeeding state fiscal year; and

(III) The general assembly to annually increase the general fund appropriation for total program education funding under the "Public School Finance Act of 1994", article 54 of this title, or any successor act, for each state fiscal year from 2001-02 through 2010-11 by at least five percent over the amount of the prior year's general fund appropriation for total program education funding, unless Colorado personal income grows less than four and one-half percent between the two calendar years preceding the state fiscal year in which an appropriation is made.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that:

(a) It is the duty and intent of the general assembly to comply with the requirements of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution;

(b) It is within the legislative prerogative of the general assembly to enact legislation to implement section 17 of article IX of the state constitution that will ensure compliance with the requirements of said section 17 of article IX and facilitate its operation;

(c) In enacting legislation to implement section 17 of article IX of the state constitution:

(I) The general assembly has attempted to interpret the provisions of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution in a manner that gives its words their natural and obvious significance;

(II) The general assembly has attempted to ascertain the intent of the proponents who initiated section 17 of article IX of the state constitution and the voters who adopted it and to apply other generally accepted rules of constitutional construction where the meaning of said section 17 of article IX is uncertain.

(3) The general assembly further finds and declares that:

(a) Because the amount of funding provided for the prior state fiscal year plays a significant role in the calculation of the minimum amount of the increase in state appropriations for education required for each state fiscal year by section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, the amount of money that the state will be required to spend for education funding for each state fiscal year will increase dramatically over time due to a compounding effect;

(b) Since section 17 of article IX of the state constitution does not create any new tax, increase the rate of any existing tax, or otherwise increase the amount of revenues that will be collected by the state, some of the increases in state education funding that said section 17 of article IX requires will affect the amount of money available to fund other state programs and services;

(c) In enacting legislation to implement section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, it is the duty, intent, and legislative prerogative of the general assembly to mitigate any adverse impact that the state education funding requirements of said section 17 of article IX may have on the financial condition of the state and other state programs and services by ensuring that moneys are credited to the state education fund, invested while in the fund, and expended from the fund in a manner that will ensure that the fund remains viable and that fund moneys will always be available to meet a significant portion of the long-term state education funding requirements of said section 17 of article IX.

(d) This article reflects the considered judgment of the general assembly regarding the meaning and implementation of the provisions of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution.

State education fund - creation - transfers to fund - use of moneys in fund - permitted investments - exempt from spending limitations. (1) In accordance with section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution, there is hereby created in the state treasury the state education fund. The fund shall consist of state education fund revenues, all interest and income earned on the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund, and any gifts or other moneys that are exempt from the limitation on state fiscal year spending set forth in section 20 (7) (a) of article X of the state constitution and section 24-77-103, C.R.S., that may be credited to the fund. At the end of any state fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain in the fund and shall not revert to the general fund or any other fund.

(2) (a) The legislative council, in consultation with the office of state planning and budgeting, shall calculate the amount of state education fund revenues for the period commencing December 28, 2000, and ending June 30, 2001, and the amount of state education fund revenues for each state fiscal year commencing on or after July 1, 2001. The legislative council and the office of state planning and budgeting shall rely upon the quarterly state revenue estimates issued by the legislative council in calculating such amounts and shall update its calculations no later than five days following the issuance of each quarterly state revenue estimate.

(b) To ensure that all state education fund revenues are transferred to the state education fund and that other state revenues are not erroneously transferred to the fund:

(I) No later than two days after calculating or recalculating the amount of state education fund revenues for the period commencing December 28, 2000, and ending June 30, 2001, or for any state fiscal year commencing on or after July 1, 2001, the legislative council, in consultation with the office of state planning and budgeting, shall certify to the department of revenue the amount of state education fund revenues that the department shall transfer to the state treasurer for deposit into the state education fund on the first day of each of the three succeeding calendar months as required by paragraph (c) of this subsection (2);

(II) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b), no later than May 25 of any state fiscal year commencing on or after July 1, 2000, the legislative council, in consultation with the office of state planning and budgeting, may certify to the department of revenue an adjusted amount for any transfer to be made on the first business day of the immediately succeeding June; and

The department shall expend all interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund prior to expending any of the principal in the fund. The moneys in the fund shall only be used to comply with the requirements of section 17 (1) of article (IX) of the state constitution and for such purposes as may be authorized by law and that are consistent with section 17 (4) (b) of article IX of the state constitution.

(b) Nothing in this subsection (3) shall be construed to require additional or future appropriations from the state education fund for any program for which an appropriation from the fund has previously been authorized for any given fiscal year in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3).

(4) Moneys in the state education fund may be invested in the types of investments authorized in sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S.

			Repeal of article.

22-58-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:

(a) The funding for school districts under the “Public School Finance Act of 1994”, article 54 of this title, is based on a method of determining student enrollment and per pupil student funding that meets the constitutional requirement for maintaining a thorough and uniform system of free public schools throughout the state, but may not adequately take into account the costs of educating high-needs or alternatively enrolled students and is not designed to provide incentives for school districts and public schools to ensure that their students achieve high academic growth; and

(b) The continuing advances of education reform and the expanded use of education technology in the state suggest that other, more flexible, methods of funding public education may support greater academic achievement and help to ensure that the limited resources of the state would be allocated among the school districts and public schools in the most fair and effective manner possible.

(2) The general assembly therefore finds that it is in the best interests of the state to encourage school districts and charter schools to test alternative models of school funding by collecting data to show the effects a model would have if it were implemented, while continuing to receive actual funding pursuant to the “Public School Finance Act of 1994”, article 54 of this title. School districts and charter schools are encouraged to consider funding models that may address, at a minimum, the unique challenges of funding students who are significantly at risk of academic failure, students who are gifted and talented, students enrolled in on-line programs or on-line schools, students who return to public school after dropping out, and students concurrently enrolled in high school and higher education classes. School districts and charter schools are also encouraged to consider models of education funding based on achievement rather than attendance or hours of participation.

Upon receipt of a certified copy of the judgment, the department of education may take immediate action to deny, annul, or suspend any license, certificate, endorsement, or authorization without a hearing, notwithstanding the provisions of section 22-60.5-108. The department of education may revoke a suspended license based on a violation of paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (2) of this section and shall revoke a suspended license based on a violation of subsection (2.5) or (2.6) of this section without a hearing and without any further action, after the exhaustion of all appeals, if any, or after the time for seeking an appeal has elapsed, and upon the entry of a final judgment.

(4) The department of education may deny, annul, suspend, or revoke any license, certificate, endorsement, or authorization if the state board finds and determines that the applicant or holder thereof is professionally incompetent or guilty of unethical behavior.

(5) The state board of education shall promulgate appropriate rules defining the standards of unethical behavior and professional incompetency.

(7) In the manner prescribed in section 22-60.5-108, the department of education may suspend a license, certificate, endorsement, or authorization when the holder, without good cause, resigns or abandons his or her contracted position with a school district without giving the written notice required by section 22-63-202 (2) (b).

(8) When an applicant's or holder's license is denied, annulled, suspended, or revoked pursuant to the provisions of subsection (2.5) or (2.6) of this section, the department of education shall post the name of the person and basis for the denial, annulment, suspension, or revocation on its web site.

(9) In furtherance of its duties under this section and section 22-60.5-103, the department of education may conduct a search on the ICON system at the state judicial department, as defined in section 24-33.5-102 (3), C.R.S., and may use any other available source of criminal history information the department of education deems appropriate, including obtaining records from any law enforcement agency and juvenile delinquency records pursuant to section 19-1-304, C.R.S.

(b) If the department of education seeks to contact a crime victim for the purposes of a licensure hearing, the department shall contact the victim's advocate in the law enforcement agency or district attorney's office of the jurisdiction in which the offense was prosecuted or the victim's advocate in the attorney general's office, if applicable. The victim's advocate shall make reasonable efforts to contact the victim, advise the victim of the hearing, and invite the victim to participate in the licensure hearing. A victim shall not be required to participate in a licensure hearing.

(2) If the department of education denies, annuls, suspends, or revokes a license, authorization, or endorsement pursuant to this section, the department, as soon as practicable, shall notify the board of education of the employing school district or the governing board of the employing charter school or institute charter school, if any, of the action taken.

22-60.5-109.5. Inactive status of licenses. (1) Any person who holds a professional license issued pursuant to this article may choose to convert the professional license to inactive status by notifying the department of education in writing and simultaneously transferring, either in person or by first-class mail, the professional license to the department of education. While on inactive status, the expiration date of a professional license shall be suspended. When the professional license is returned to active status, it shall be valid for the period remaining on the license as of the date the license holder assumed inactive professional license status. While on inactive professional license status, the person shall be deemed to not hold a professional license.

(2) (a) A person may return a professional license to active status at any time by notifying the department of education in writing, either in person or by first-class mail, and simultaneously requesting the return of his or her professional license from the department of education. Upon receipt of notice to return to active status, the department of education shall reissue the professional license with a new expiration date reflecting the period remaining on the professional license as of the date the license holder converted to inactive professional license status. The department shall return the reissued license to the license holder within thirty days after receiving notice to return to active status. Upon receipt of the professional license, the license holder shall resume active status.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), if a person converts his or her professional license to inactive status because the person is called into the active military service of the United States or the state of Colorado, when the person notifies the department of education of his or her intent to return the professional license to active status, the person may include with the notice a copy of the official notice of honorable discharge or release from active service. Upon receipt of the notice to return to active status and the evidence of honorable discharge or release, the department of education shall reissue the professional license with a new expiration date reflecting a period equal to the period remaining on the professional license as of the date the license holder converted to inactive professional license status plus the period during which the person was in active military service.

(3) Any person who is on inactive status pursuant to this section may, but is not required to, complete professional development activities while on inactive status. Any professional development activities completed while on inactive status shall apply to renewal of the person's professional license after the person returns to active status, so long as:

22-60.5-110. Renewal of licenses. (1) Any license shall expire as prescribed in section 22-60.5-201, 22-60.5-210, 22-60.5-301, or 22-60.5-306, subject to the provisions of section 24-4-104 (7), C.R.S., when applicable.

(2) Any initial license may be renewed upon submitting an application for renewal, payment of the statutory fee, and evidence of satisfying any requirements established by rule and regulation of the state board of education.

(3) (a) A licensee may renew his or her professional license by submitting an application for renewal, paying the fee established by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-60.5-112, and providing the affidavit of satisfactory completion of ongoing professional development as described in paragraph (a.5) of this subsection (3). A licensee need not be employed as a professional educator during all or any portion of the term for which his or her professional educator license is valid. Employment as a professional educator shall not constitute a requirement for renewal of a professional license. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (e) of this subsection (3), the professional development activities completed by an applicant for license renewal shall apply equally to renewal of any professional educator license or endorsement held by the applicant.

(a.5) A licensee who seeks renewal of his or her professional license shall sign and submit with the renewal application an affidavit in which the licensee affirms under oath that he or she satisfactorily completed the ongoing professional development activities specified in the affidavit; that the activities were completed within the term of the professional license; and that, to the best of the licensee's knowledge, the activities meet the requirements of this section and rules adopted by the state board of education implementing this section. The department may accept a licensee's affidavit of satisfactory completion of ongoing professional development as proof of completion of the specified professional development activities without further verification.

(b) A professional licensee shall complete such ongoing professional development within the period of time for which such professional license is valid. Such professional development may include, but need not be limited to, in-service education programs, including programs concerning juvenile mental health issues and the awareness and prevention of youth suicide; college or university credit from an accepted institution of higher education or a community, technical, or junior college; educational travel that meets the requirements specified in paragraph (d) of this subsection (3); involvement in school reform; internships; and ongoing professional development training and experiences. The state board of education, by rule, may establish minimum criteria for professional development; except that such criteria shall not:

(I) Specify any particular type of professional development activity as a requirement or partial requirement for license renewal;

(II) Require completion of more than six credit hours or more than ninety total clock hours of activities during the term of any professional license;

(III) Prescribe a schedule for completion of professional development activity during the term of any professional license; or

(IV) Require prior approval or supervision of professional development activities.

(b.5) In adopting minimum criteria for professional development activities, the state board, by rule, may require all or a portion of the professional development activities to be related to increasing the license holder's competence in his or her existing or potential endorsement area or to increasing the professional licensee's skills and competence in delivery of instruction in his or her existing or potential endorsement area or in the teaching of literacy.

(c) In selecting professional development activities for the renewal of a professional license pursuant to this section, each licensee shall choose those activities that will aid the licensee in meeting the standards for a professional educator, including but not limited to the following goals:

(I) Knowledge of subject matter content and learning, including knowledge and application of standards-based education pursuant to part 4 of article 7 of this title;

(II) Effective use of assessments in planning for instructional delivery and in individualizing student instruction;

(III) Effective teaching of the democratic ideal;

(IV) Recognition, appreciation, and support for ethnic, cultural, gender, economic, and human diversity to provide fair and equitable treatment and consideration for all;

(V) Effective communication with students, colleagues, parents, and the community;

(VI) Effective modeling of appropriate behaviors to ensure quality learning experiences for students and for colleagues;

(VII) Effective leadership to ensure a school community that is committed to and focused on learning;

(VIII) Consistently ethical behavior and creation of an environment that encourages and develops responsibility, ethics, and citizenship in self and others;

(IX) Achievement as a continuous learner who encourages and supports personal and professional development of self and others;

(X) Effective organization and management of human and financial resources to create a safe and effective working and learning environment; and

(XI) Awareness of warning signs of dangerous behavior in youth and situations that present a threat to the health and safety of students and knowledge of the community resources available to enhance the health and safety of students and the school community.

(d) To be accepted as a professional development activity, educational travel shall be applicable to the endorsement area of the professional licensee's license, as demonstrated by the professional licensee.

(e) In selecting professional development activities for renewal of a professional principal license, the professional licensee shall select activities that are specific to improving his or her skills as a principal. In addition, if the school district in which the professional licensee is employed has identified, pursuant to section 22-9-106, specific areas in which he or she needs improvement or, pursuant to section 22-32-109 (1) (jj), specific professional development programs to assist the professional licensee in improving his or her skills as a principal, the professional licensee shall complete activities in those identified areas or shall complete those specific programs. In reviewing the professional licensee's application for license renewal, the department shall deny the application for renewal if the professional licensee does not comply with the requirements specified in this paragraph (e).

(4) Any applicant whose application for renewal of any license has been denied may appeal to the state board of education. If the state board of education finds that the applicant has met the criteria established by this section and by rule and regulation of the state board of education, the renewal of the license shall be approved by said board.

(5) Any person whose professional license or master certificate is not renewed may reinstate his or her professional license or master certificate by submitting to the department of education such information or other evidence as may be necessary to cure the defect that resulted in nonrenewal of the professional license or master certificate and by paying the reinstatement fee set by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-60.5-112. Such curative information or evidence includes but is not limited to evidence of completion of professional development requirements, as specified in subsection (3) of this section, where the license or master certificate is not renewed because of failure to complete such requirements. Prior to reinstatement, any licensee whose professional license or master certificate is not renewed shall be deemed to not hold a professional license or master certificate. No person shall be required to demonstrate professional competencies in order to reinstate a professional license or master certificate.

(2) Adjunct instructor authorization. (a) An adjunct instructor authorization certifies that a person is a specialist or an expert in a content area that is not available through an approved program of preparation, although the person has not received formal training in education. A school district may employ a person who has an adjunct instructor authorization to provide students with highly specialized academic enrichment that is in addition to and supportive of required content areas. The department of education may issue an adjunct instructor authorization to a person who applies to the department, providing such information as may be required by rule of the state board of education, including, at a minimum, documentation demonstrating the following:

(IV) The applicant has been employed for at least five years in the area of specialization or holds a bachelor's degree or higher degree in the area of specialization.

(b) An adjunct instructor authorization is valid for three years. To request renewal, the employing school district, at a minimum, shall submit to the department of education documented evidence of continuing need within the school district for the adjunct instructor's services.

(3) Special services intern authorization. The department of education may issue an intern authorization to an applicant who holds at least a bachelor's degree from an accepted institution of higher education and who is enrolled in an approved program of preparation for a special services provider that requires completion of an internship. A person employed under an intern authorization shall work under the supervision of a person who holds a professional special services provider license. (b) An emergency authorization is valid for one year. If the state board of education determines that the employing school district continues to require the services of the person holding the emergency authorization, based on evidence submitted by the school district demonstrating the continued existence of the hardship circumstances described in subparagraphs (II) and (III) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4), the state board of education may renew the emergency authorization for one additional year only.

22-60.5-112. Fees - fund - repeal. (1) (a) The fee for the examination and review of an application for any license, endorsement, or authorization, or any renewal or reinstatement thereof, shall be established by the state board of education and shall be nonrefundable. Upon determination of eligibility, such license, endorsement, or authorization shall be issued without an additional fee. The state board of education shall adjust if necessary all such fees annually so that they generate an amount of revenue that approximates the direct and indirect costs of the state board of education and of the department for the administration of this article; however, the state board of education shall establish and adjust such fees for licenses issued pursuant to section 22-60.5-201 (1) (a) so that the fees generate an amount of revenue that approximates the direct and indirect costs of the state board of education and the department for the administration of sections 22-60.5-201 (1) (a) and 22-60.5-205. All fees collected under this section shall be transmitted to the state treasurer and credited to the educator licensure cash fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this subsection (1) as the "cash fund". The general assembly shall make annual appropriations from the cash fund for expenditures of the state board of education and of the department incurred in the administration of this article. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the cash fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

(b) (I) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) to the contrary, for the 2011-12, 2012-13, and 2013-14 fiscal years, the moneys in the cash fund are continuously appropriated to the department to offset the direct and indirect costs incurred by the state board of education and the department in administering this article. In each of said fiscal years, the general appropriations bill shall, for informational purposes, reflect the estimated amount of expenditures, including any funding for personnel, from the cash fund.

(II) During each of the 2012, 2013, and 2014 regular legislative sessions, the department shall report to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, and the joint budget committee of the general assembly concerning expenditures from the cash fund and the department's progress in meeting the goal of reducing to six weeks or less the processing time for issuing or renewing an educator license.

(III) For state fiscal years 2011-12, 2012-13, and 2013-14, any persons hired to assist the department in reducing the processing time for issuing or renewing an educator license shall be independent contractors with the department, and the contracts for services shall not extend beyond June 30, 2014.

(IV) This paragraph (b) is repealed, effective July 1, 2014.

(2) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, on March 5, 2003, the state treasurer shall deduct one hundred forty-three thousand five hundred thirty-five dollars from the educator licensure cash fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

22-60.5-112.5. National credential - fee assistance - one-time payments.

(1) (a) For the 2002-03 budget year, the 2004-05 budget year, and each budget year thereafter, subject to available appropriations, the department of education shall assist persons who are seeking national credentials by paying a portion of the fees charged for such national credential. The general assembly shall annually appropriate, if available, moneys from the state education fund, created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution, to the department of education to be used for the purposes of this section. Fee assistance pursuant to this section shall be available to any person who:

(I) Is seeking a national credential from an approved professional organization as a requirement for or in the course of obtaining master teacher certification pursuant to this article;

(II) Repealed.

(III) Is employed as a teacher in a public school or an approved facility school, as defined in section 22-2-402 (1), in this state at the time of applying for fee assistance pursuant to this section; and

(IV) Applies for national credential fee assistance as provided in this section.

(b) Repealed.

(2) (a) To apply for national credential fee assistance pursuant to this section, a person shall present to the department of education the following items:

(I) Proof that the person has begun the process to obtain the national credential and identification of the national credential program in which the person will participate to obtain the national credential;

(II) Proof that the person has received or will receive national credential fee assistance through a federal assistance program and the amount of such assistance; and

(III) Proof that the person is employed as a teacher at a public school or an approved facility school, as defined in section 22-2-402 (1), in this state at the time of applying for national credential fee assistance.

(b) Following receipt of the items specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) and verification that the person meets the criteria specified in subsection (1) of this section, the department of education shall forward the fee assistance to the identified national credential program on behalf of the person in the amount specified in subsection (1) of this section. The fee assistance shall be paid out of moneys appropriated to the department of education pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section.

(c) If a person who receives fee assistance pursuant to this section does not complete the national credential program for which he or she received such assistance, the national credential program shall refund to the department of education the amount of fee assistance paid on behalf of said person.

(3) (a) The state board of education shall promulgate rules as necessary for the implementation of this section, including but not limited to a rule identifying those nationally recognized professional credentialing organizations that are approved for purposes of this section.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2006, p. 677, § 18, effective April 28, 2006.)

(4) (a) The general assembly recognizes that, to obtain a national credential from an approved professional organization, a teacher must demonstrate excellence in teaching skills and achieve a very high level of performance. The general assembly further recognizes that incentives to encourage teachers to obtain national credentialing will benefit the students of Colorado by encouraging teachers to achieve higher levels of performance. Therefore, the general assembly hereby finds that, for purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, providing national credential fee assistance to teachers who obtain a national credential from an approved professional organization constitutes a performance incentive for teachers and such teachers may therefore receive funding from the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution.

(b) Repealed.

(5) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Approved professional organization" means a nationally recognized professional credentialing organization that is approved by rule of the state board of education.

(b) "National credential" means a certification or other form of registration or credential issued by a nationally recognized professional credentialing organization. "National credential" shall include, but need not be limited to, certification by the national board for professional teaching standards.

22-60.5-114. State board of education - waivers. (1) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary and upon application of any institution of higher education, school district, or board of cooperative services, the state board of education is authorized to waive any requirement imposed by this article in regard to alternative teacher programs or approved induction programs. Such waiver shall be granted only upon a majority vote of the members of the state board of education and upon a sufficient showing that such waiver is necessary to allow innovative programs intended to improve the quality of such educators. The state board of education shall promulgate rules and regulations regarding such procedures and criteria necessary for the implementation of this section.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, the state board of education may grant a waiver of the induction program requirement upon a two-thirds majority vote of the board members and upon a sufficient showing that implementation of an induction program would cause extreme hardship to the school district. An application for waiver of the induction program requirement shall include a plan for the support, assistance, and training of initially licensed educators.

(3) Upon application by a school district or board of cooperative services, the state board may grant a waiver of the requirement that a person applying for an initial license demonstrate professional competencies. Such a waiver may be granted only by a two-thirds majority vote of the board members following a demonstration that:

(a) The license applicant is employed by the school district or board of cooperative services under an authorization issued pursuant to section 22-60.5-111;

(b) Enforcement of the requirement would cause extreme hardship to the school district or board of cooperative services or to the license applicant; and

(d) Procedures and criteria for the evaluation of approved alternative teacher programs by the department of education;

(c) At the meeting, the committees shall consider the reports of the survey of superintendents conducted by the department of education and submitted by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-2-109 (7). (2) If the committees, based on the reports received from the Colorado commission on higher education and the state board of education, determine that an approved educator preparation program is not adequately preparing licensure candidates, the committees shall instruct the Colorado commission on higher education to reduce the funding received by the

(A) Holds an earned baccalaureate degree from a fully accredited institution of higher education;

(B) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2004, p. 1279, 3, effective May 28, 2004.)

(C) Has been recommended by an accepted institution of higher education as holding a baccalaureate degree and has demonstrated to the state board of education, in a manner prescribed by rule of the board pursuant to section 22-60.5-203 (6), the subject matter knowledge necessary for teaching in the appropriate endorsement areas.

(D) Agrees to participate fully in a one-year or two-year alternative teacher program provided by a designated agency.

(III) Holders of alternative teacher licenses shall not be used to replace regularly licensed teachers in any action resulting from a contract dispute.

(IV) An alternative teacher license shall be valid in any school district or accredited nonpublic school and shall entitle its holder to work exclusively as an alternative teacher pursuant to the terms of an alternative teacher contract. A holder of an alternative teacher license is the teacher of record.

(V) For applicants enrolled in a one-year alternative teacher program, the alternative teacher license issued pursuant to this paragraph (a) shall be valid for a period of one year after the date of issuance and may be renewed for only one additional year, but only upon written evidence that the employing school district, accredited nonpublic school, or board of cooperative services anticipates extending the alternative teacher's contract for one additional year pursuant to the provisions of section 22-60.5-207 (2). For applicants enrolled in a two-year alternative teacher program, the alternative teacher license issued pursuant to this paragraph (a) shall be valid for a period of two years after the date of issuance.

(II) The department of education may, in its discretion, issue a professional teacher license to any applicant who:

(A) Holds a valid initial or professional principal license or a valid initial or professional administrator license;

(B) Any professional teacher license issued pursuant to this paragraph (c) which is held in conjunction with a master certificate pursuant to section 22-60.5-202 shall be valid for a period of seven years after the date of issuance and is renewable as provided in section 22-60.5-110.

(2) The state board of education is authorized to establish, by rule and regulation, such other requirements for licenses specified in subsection (1) of this section as it deems necessary to maintain and improve the quality of education instructional programs in the public schools of this state; except that the state board of education may not require any person who applies for a professional teacher license either while holding a valid initial teacher license or upon expiration of an initial teacher license to demonstrate professional competencies if said person demonstrated professional competencies prior to obtaining the initial teacher license.

(3) (a) The department of education may, at its discretion, issue an initial teacher license provided for in paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section to any applicant from another state or country whose qualifications meet or exceed the standards of the state board of education for the issuance of an initial teacher license.

22-60.5-204. Approved induction program - initial teacher licensee. (1) Any approved induction program of a school district or districts for initial teacher licensees may include, but shall not be limited to, supervision by mentor teachers, ongoing professional development and training, including ethics, and performance evaluations. Such school district or districts may enter into agreements with accepted institutions of higher education in regard to the organization, management, and operation of an approved induction program, or any portion thereof. 22-60.5-205. One-year and two-year alternative teacher programs - legislative declaration - standards and evaluation - duties of department - duties of the state board of education - fees. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(I) Many school districts face a shortage of teachers and often struggle to find qualified persons to teach their students;

(II) The increased use of emergency authorizations to hire persons who do not have teacher licenses and, in some cases, have not received any form of teacher preparation or education potentially jeopardizes a school district's goal of providing a quality education for each student; and

(III) Often, persons with experience in areas other than education can help alleviate the teacher shortage faced by many school districts, so long as these persons receive adequate supervision and education in teaching methods and practices.

(b) The general assembly therefore declares that it is in the best interest of the state of Colorado to allow designated agencies to create one-year and two-year alternative teacher programs pursuant to the provisions of this section with the intent that these programs provide a vehicle for designated agencies to customize the preparation of teacher candidates, reduce the number of persons employed under emergency authorizations, and help designated agencies recruit and employ nontraditional teacher candidates, while maintaining teacher preparation program standards, delivering high-quality educational services, and protecting the interests of students.

(2) Designated agencies are hereby authorized to implement one-year alternative teacher programs or two-year alternative teacher programs, which two-year programs were formerly known as teacher in residence programs, as follows:

(a) A one-year alternative teacher program shall be designed to be completed within one year. However, the employing school district or nonpublic school may extend an alternative teacher's participation for one additional year based on unforeseen circumstances and the expectation that the alternative teacher will complete the program in the second year.

(b) An alternative teacher program shall include, but need not be limited to, supervision by mentor teachers, performance evaluations, and a program minimum of two hundred twenty-five clock hours of planned instruction and activities, which shall include training in dropout prevention. The total number of hours of planned instruction and activities may be modified by the alternative teacher support team, as described in section 22-60.5-206, for an alternative teacher based upon his or her qualifications, knowledge, and experience.

(c) A designated agency that chooses to implement an alternative teacher program may collaborate and contract with an institution of higher education that provides an approved educator preparation program. A contract entered into pursuant to this paragraph (c) shall include, but need not be limited to, the provision of educator preparation courses and subject matter courses as necessary to comply with the educator preparation program requirements established by the Colorado commission on higher education pursuant to section 23-1-121, C.R.S.

(d) (I) A person employed as an alternative teacher shall hold an alternative teacher license issued pursuant to section 22-60.5-201 (1) (a). Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (d) and section 22-60.5-207 (2), a person may be employed as an alternative teacher for a total of two years. A person employed as an alternative teacher shall meet the content-area education requirements specified by rule of the state board of education.

(II) A person may be employed as an alternative teacher for a total of three years for the purpose of receiving a special education teaching endorsement pursuant to section 22-60.5-106 (2).

(e) Upon completing an alternative teacher program, the alternative teacher shall obtain an initial teacher license pursuant to section 22-60.5-201 (1) (b) (I) in order to be employed by a school district as a teacher.

(f) An alternative teacher shall complete his or her induction program prior to receiving a professional license.

(g) (I) Within thirty days after employing a person as an alternative teacher, a school district or nonpublic school shall notify the department of the alternative teacher's name, address, and any other information that may be necessary to assist the department in providing pertinent information under the requirements of subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (g).

(II) The department shall provide information to each alternative teacher concerning the requirements for teacher licensure as specified in section 22-60.5-201 and by rule of the state board of education.

(h) An alternative teacher program shall meet the performance-based teacher licensure standards adopted by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-2-109 (3).

(3) (a) A designated agency that chooses to implement an alternative teacher program pursuant to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section shall notify the department and submit a description of the alternative teacher program to the department. The department shall review the alternative teacher program to ensure that it meets the requirements specified in subsection (2) of this section and shall recommend to the state board of education approval or disapproval of the alternative teacher program. Within ninety days after the designated agency submits the alternative teacher program description to the department, the state board of education shall notify the implementing designated agency that it has either approved or disapproved the alternative teacher program.

(b) (I) The state board of education shall, at its discretion, approve an application by a designated agency seeking to provide an alternative teacher program. The application shall meet the requirements of this section and any rules established by the state board of education. The state board of education is authorized to resolve any differences that may arise between school districts, accredited nonpublic schools, and accepted institutions of higher education with regard to alternative teacher programs.

(II) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the state board of education is authorized, for good cause, to waive any requirements imposed by law regarding a designated agency's alternative teacher program if, in its discretion, it deems the waiver necessary to accomplish the purposes of this section.

(4) The department shall:

(a) Provide technical assistance upon request to all designated agencies as necessary to implement the provisions of this section; and

(b) Review and submit to the state board of education for approval all applications made by designated agencies to provide alternative teacher programs pursuant to subsection (3) of this section.

(5) Not more than every five years, the department shall perform an on-site evaluation of each alternative teacher program to ensure that it meets the requirements of this section. An alternative teacher program that does not meet the requirements of this section shall be subject to disapproval by the state board of education. An alternative teacher program that is disapproved by the state board of education shall be terminated by the implementing designated agency on completion of the academic year in which the alternative teacher program is disapproved; except that the designated agency may continue to operate the alternative teacher program if, prior to the end of said academic year, the designated agency redesigns the alternative teacher program to meet the requirements of this section and the state board of education approves the redesigned alternative teacher program.

(6) A designated agency that is not an institution of higher education may charge an alternative teacher in an alternative teacher program a fee in such amount as to generate sufficient revenue to offset the direct and indirect costs to the designated agency for the development and administration of the alternative teacher program. Any fees collected pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (6) shall be used for the purposes set forth in this section and shall not be expended for any other purpose.

(7) A designated agency that is an institution of higher education may establish program fees in accordance with its existing policies. A public institution of higher education shall establish program fees in accordance with existing state laws and rules established by the Colorado commission on higher education.

(3) The department of education shall develop and administer, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the state board of education, a system for the assessment of such professional competencies of applicants for initial principal licenses.

(4) The state board of education shall annually review the assessment program developed pursuant to subsection (3) of this section to assure the appropriateness of the assessments and the standards established to determine a satisfactory level of proficiency.

22-60.5-304. Approved induction programs - initial principal licensees. (1) Any approved induction program of a school district or districts for initial principal licensees may include, but shall not be limited to, supervision by mentor principals, ongoing professional development and training, including ethics, and performance evaluations. Such school district or districts may enter into agreements with accepted institutions of higher education in regard to the organization, management, and operation of an approved induction program, or any portion thereof. Performance evaluations shall be conducted in accordance with section 22-9-106; however, the state board of education may provide by rule and regulation for performance evaluations by mentor principals.

(2) The approved induction program of any individual initial principal licensee may be extended if deemed necessary by the school district or districts providing such program; however, such program shall not exceed a maximum of three years.

(3) (a) The state board of education shall, by rule and regulation, establish standards and criteria for the approval of proposed induction programs for initial principal licensees and for the review of approved induction programs for initial principal licensees. Such rules and regulations shall provide for such standards and criteria to be fully implemented on and after July 1, 1999, and shall provide for the gradual implementation of such standards and criteria over the five-year period prior to said date. Such standards and criteria shall, at a minimum, provide multiple approaches and options in regard to the provision of approved induction programs which take into consideration factors which the state board of education deems appropriate. Such factors shall include, but shall not be limited to, the setting categories and geographical location of school districts, the costs of providing approved induction programs, and the availability of state moneys to fund, in whole or in part, approved induction programs.

(b) On and after July 1, 2009, in promulgating rules and regulations establishing standards and criteria pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3), the state board shall consult with the school leadership academy board established pursuant to section 22-13-103.

Licensed principals - occasional teaching. Any principal who holds a valid initial or professional principal license pursuant to this part 3 and who, on occasion, functions as a teacher shall not be required to hold a valid initial or professional teacher license pursuant to part 2 of this article. The state board of education shall establish, by rule and regulation, what constitutes occasional teaching for purposes of this section.

22-60.5-305.5. Alternative principal preparation program. (1) The general assembly finds that there is a shortage of persons in the state who are licensed as principals and are available for employment by school districts. The general assembly further finds that persons who have achieved success in careers outside of education and who are interested in employment as school principals may provide a new source of leadership talent for school districts as they seek to hire school principals. Therefore, the general assembly concludes that it is in the interest of the state to authorize school districts to design and implement individualized alternative principal programs to enable persons from outside the education community to develop the skills and experiences necessary to successfully lead a public school and to qualify ultimately for licensure as principals.

(2) A school district may employ as a principal or a vice-principal a person who holds a principal authorization issued pursuant to section 22-60.5-111 (14). A person who is employed under a principal authorization may perform the duties of a principal or a vice-principal in a school so long as the person is under the supervision of a professional principal licensee. The school district shall collaborate with the person in designing an individualized alternative principal program, which the person shall complete while employed under the authorization. The school district may work with a governmental, nonprofit, or for-profit entity in designing and implementing the individualized alternative principal program. The individualized alternative principal program shall be subject to approval by the state board of education as provided in section 22-60.5-111 (14) and in accordance with rules adopted by the state board of education.

(3) In designing an individualized alternative principal program, the school district shall, at a minimum, ensure that:

(a) The program will provide the information, experience, and training to enable the person who is employed under the principal authorization to develop the skills and obtain the experience and training that are comparable to those possessed by a person who qualifies for an initial principal license, as provided in section 22-60.5-301 (1) (a);

(b) The person who is employed under the principal authorization is required to successfully demonstrate professional competencies in subject matter areas, as specified by rule of the state board pursuant to section 22-60.5-303;

(c) The person who is employed under the principal authorization is mentored and coached continuously by one or more licensed principals and administrators;

(d) The person who is employed under the principal authorization is assessed at the beginning of the individualized alternative principal program to determine his or her strengths and weaknesses and that the program is designed to fit the person's individual education and training needs; and

(e) The individualized alternative principal program complements the school improvement plan, if one exists, of the school in which the person who holds a principal authorization would be employed.

(4) In designing an individualized alternative principal program, the school district shall assess the needs of the school to which the person employed under the principal authorization would be assigned and ensure that the person receives training that will equip the person to meet the specific needs of the school and the community in which it is located.

(5) A school district may employ a person who holds a principal authorization for three years. After that time, the school district may employ the person as a principal only if he or she receives an initial or professional principal license pursuant to section 22-60.5-301. The school district may choose to provide an induction program, as described in section 22-60.5-304, for the person while he or she is employed under a principal authorization. The induction program, if provided, shall be in addition to the individualized alternative principal program to be completed by the person while he or she is employed under a principal authorization.

22-60.5-306. Types of administrator licenses issued - term. (1) The department of education is designated as the sole agency authorized to issue the following types of administrator licenses to persons of good moral character:

(a) Initial administrator license. (I) The department of education, in its discretion, may issue an initial administrator license to any applicant who:

(A) Holds an earned baccalaureate degree from an accepted institution of higher education;

(B) Has completed an approved program of preparation for administrators;

(C) Has demonstrated professional competencies in subject areas as specified by rule and regulation of the state board of education pursuant to section 22-60.5-308.

(II) An initial administrator license shall be valid in any school districts that provide an approved induction program for administrators or have obtained a waiver of the approved induction program requirement pursuant to section 22-60.5-114 (2). Any initial administrator license issued pursuant to this paragraph (a) shall be valid for a period of three years after the date of issuance and is renewable only once for an additional period of three years; except that, if an initial administrator licensee is unable to complete an induction program for reasons other than incompetence, the state board of education may renew the licensee's initial administrator license for one or more additional three-year periods upon the initial licensee's showing of good cause for inability to complete an approved induction program.

(b) Professional administrator license. (I) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (I.5) of this paragraph (b), the department of education may, in its discretion, issue a professional administrator license to any applicant who:

(A) Holds an earned master's degree from an institution of higher education;

(B) Holds a valid initial administrator license; and

(C) Has completed an approved induction program for administrators and has been recommended for licensure by the school districts that provided such induction program; except that the applicant need not complete an approved induction program as an initial administrator licensee if the applicant previously completed an induction program while employed under an emergency authorization or a temporary educator eligibility authorization or if the school district in which the applicant is employed has obtained a waiver of the induction program requirement pursuant to section 22-60.5-114 (2). If the applicant is employed by a school district that has obtained a waiver of the induction program requirement, the applicant shall demonstrate completion of any requirements specified in the school district's plan for support, assistance, and training of initially licensed educators.

(I.5) The department of education may issue a professional administrator license to an applicant who meets the requirements specified in section 22-60.5-111 (4) (c) (II) or (5) (e) (II).

(II) (A) Except as otherwise provided in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (II), any professional administrator license issued pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be valid for a period of five years after the date of issuance and is renewable as provided in section 22-60.5-110.

(B) Any professional administrator license issued pursuant to this paragraph (b) which is held in conjunction with a master certificate pursuant to section 22-60.5-307 shall be valid for a period of seven years after the date of issuance and is renewable as provided in section 22-60.5-110.

(2) The state board of education is authorized to establish, by rule and regulation, such other requirements for licenses specified in subsection (1) of this section as it deems necessary to maintain and improve the quality of administration and supervision of education instructional programs; except that the state board of education may not require any person applying for a professional administrator license to demonstrate professional competencies.

(3) (a) The department of education may, at its discretion, issue an initial administrator license provided for in paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section to any applicant from another state or country whose qualifications meet or exceed the standards of the state board of education for the issuance of an initial administrator license.

(b) (I) The department of education may issue a professional administrator license to any applicant from another state if:

(A) The applicant holds a license or certificate from that state that is comparable to an administrator license in this state and the standards for the issuance of such license or certificate meet or exceed the standards of the state board of education for the issuance of a professional administrator license; and

(B) The applicant has had at least three years of continuous, successful, evaluated experience as an administrator in an established elementary or secondary school and can provide documentation of such experience on forms provided by the department.

(II) An applicant for a professional administrator license pursuant to this paragraph (b) need not have:

(A) Completed an approved induction program for administrators;

(B) Held an initial administrator license pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section; or

(C) Demonstrated professional competencies in subject areas as specified by rule of the state board of education pursuant to section 22-60.5-308.

(4) The state board of education is authorized to enter into interstate reciprocal agreements in which the department of education agrees to issue initial administrator licenses to persons licensed as administrators in another state.

(5) Repealed.

Master certification shall recognize those professional administrator licensees who are involved in ongoing professional development and training and who have advanced competencies or expertise or who have demonstrated outstanding achievements. Any master certificate issued pursuant to this section shall be valid for the period of time for which the applicant's professional administrator license is valid and is renewable at its expiration.

ANNOTATION

This loyalty oath is not unduly vague. A loyalty oath prescribed for teachers in Colorado state institutions which affirms the "upholding" of the state and federal constitutions and the "faithful performance, of teacher's duties is not unduly vague, but is plain, straightforward, and unequivocal, and a person taking it is not left in doubt as to his undertaking." Ohlson v. Phillips, 304 F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

Neither is it an improper invasion of rights of free association and expression. The obligation assumed in taking the oath is one of simple recognition that ours is a government of laws and not of men, and the oath is not a sweeping and improper invasion of the rights of free association and expression. Ohlson v. Phillips, 304 F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

Nor does it deprive teachers of equal protection. The oath is an almost universal requirement of all public officials, including lawyers and judges, and it cannot be truthfully said that teachers are being deprived of equal protection of the laws by arbitrarily classifying teachers. Ohlson v. Phillips, 304 F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

The state has a vital concern in possible advocacy by teachers of forceful overthrow of government. Since teachers work in a sensitive area in which they can shape the attitudes of the students with whom they come in contact, the state has a vital concern in the educational process, and has the right not only to screen teachers as to their fitness, but also to be concerned about possible advocacy of overthrow of the government by force and violence. Ohlson v. Phillips, 304 F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

This section is not a bill of attainder or ex post facto law. The oath statute does not constitute a bill of attainder or an ex post facto law, because punishment is a prerequisite of these forbidden legislative acts, and the statute imposes no punishment. Ohlson v. Phillips, 304 F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

The imposition of qualifications is not punishment. The statute imposes no punishment, as it is merely a general regulation providing standards of qualification and eligibility for a position, and the imposition of such qualifications by the general assembly does not amount to a "punishment". Ohlson v. Phillips, 304 F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

Swearing to "faithfully perform" their duties is not a restriction on teacher's political expression. State can reasonably ask teachers in state schools to subscribe to professional competence and dedication, and this portion of the oath providing that they will "faithfully perform their duties" of their positions merely reflects the significant interest of the state in assuring the careful selection of teachers, and imposes no restrictions on a teacher's political expressions. It is certain that there is no right to be unfaithful in the performance of duties, and hence this undertaking is implicit. Ohlson v. Phillips, 304

F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

In this oath the phrase to "uphold the constitution" means an affirmation of belief in organic law and disbelief in the use of force to overthrow the government. Ohlson v. Phillips, 304 F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

No hearing is required where teacher is dismissed for failure to take the oath. Due process does not demand a hearing in connection with every dismissal from public employment. A teacher who is dismissed for refusal to take the oath has no need to be faced with his accuser or given an opportunity for cross-examination, since no amount of hearing can change the fact that the person refused to take the oath. Ohlson v. Phillips, 304 F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

Reasons for refusal to take oath are not relevant. A teacher's reasons for refusal to take the oath are not relevant, because where the oath is simple, direct, and unambiguous, the hearing as to why the accused refused to take it would be virtually meaningless. Ohlson v. Phillips, 304 F. Supp. 1152 (D. Colo. 1969), aff'd mem., 397 U.S. 317, 90 S. Ct. 1124, 25 L. Ed. 2d 337, reh'g denied, 397 U.S. 1081, 90 S. Ct. 1520, 25 L. Ed. 2d 819 (1970).

22-61-104. Professors, instructors, and teachers in state institutions of higher education to take oath or affirmation. (1) Every person employed to teach in any state university, college, junior college, community college, or technical college in the state of Colorado, before entering upon or continuing the discharge of his duties, shall take the following oath or affirmation; except that no person employed to teach in a temporary capacity who is a citizen of a nation other than the United States shall be required to take such oath or affirmation:

"I solemnly (swear) (affirm) that I will uphold the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Colorado, and I will faithfully perform the duties of the position upon which I am about to enter."

(2) The said oath or affirmation shall be administered by any person authorized to administer oaths in the state of Colorado.

ANNOTATION

Oath is not vague or indefinite and does not curtail freedom of expression. Oath required of employees and faculty at state university, by which taker would swear or affirm to support the federal and state constitutions and laws is not vague and indefinite and does not have a tendency to curtail freedom of expression, since recognition of and respect for law in no way prevents the right to dissent and question repugnant laws. Hosack v. Smiley, 276 F. Supp. 876 (D. Colo. 1967), aff'd mem., 390 U.S. 744, 88 S. Ct. 1442, 20 L. Ed. 2d 275 (1968).

This new oath applies to all faculty and employees. New oath required of employees and faculty at state university, under which taker swears or affirms that he will support the state and federal constitutions and laws, which replaces old oath struck down as unconstitutional, is applicable equally to all the faculty and employees. Hosack v. Smiley, 276 F. Supp. 876 (D. Colo. 1967), aff'd mem., 390 U.S. 744, 88 S. Ct. 1442, 20 L. Ed. 2d 275 (1968).

Because application to new employees alone would violate equal protection. To apply this new oath to new employees alone would constitute an invalid and discriminatory classification which would violate the equal protection clause of the United States constitution.

Hosack v. Smiley, 276 F. Supp. 876 (D. Colo. 1967), aff'd mem., 390 U.S. 744, 88 S. Ct. 1442, 20 L. Ed. 2d 275 (1968).

No hearing is required for those who refuse to take the oath. Failure to provide a hearing for employees or faculty at state university who refused to take oath to support federal and state constitutions and laws did not constitute a violation of procedural due process. Hosack v. Smiley, 276 F. Supp. 876 (D. Colo. 1967), aff'd mem., 390 U.S. 744, 88 S. Ct. 1442, 20 L. Ed. 2d 275 (1968).

For unconstitutionality of previous version of the oath, see Gallagher v. Smiley, 270 F. Supp. 86 (D. Colo. 1967).

22-61-105. Penalty. Any person who, being in charge of any public school, state university, college, junior college, community college, or technical college within the state of Colorado, allows or permits any teacher to enter upon the discharge of his duties or give instruction therein, unless such teacher shall have taken the oath or affirmation provided for in sections 22-61-103 and 22-61-104, is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

22-61.5-101. Short title. This article shall be known and may be cited as the “Colorado Teacher of the Year Act”.

22-61.5-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:

(a) An effective teacher providing quality instruction is the single, greatest factor influencing student achievement, having a greater impact than the characteristics of a child, including poverty, race, or family history. Further, quality instruction in the classroom is the most direct way to provide equal opportunities in education, especially for at-risk students. A review of the world’s top school systems suggests that three things matter most in education: Recruiting the right people to become teachers; developing these people into effective instructors; and ensuring that the educational system is able to deliver the best possible instruction for every child.

(b) The state’s long-term success in achieving many of the educational goals Colorado has identified for its students will require a fundamental transformation of the teaching profession. Making a long-term commitment to reshaping the way in which Colorado attracts, trains, supports, and retains teachers is the best way to tackle problems in education, including the achievement gap, high dropout rates, and low graduation rates. This commitment will require new partnerships between the government and the private sector and among the department of education, the department of higher education, school districts, and educational membership associations, as well as a variety of other stakeholders, including, but not limited to, elected officials, business leaders, and community leaders throughout the state.

(2) The general assembly therefore declares that Colorado is committed to honoring the nobility of the teaching profession. One of the simplest and yet most profound ways to show the state's commitment to teaching is for Colorado to join other states that have elevated both the recognition and the role of the teacher named teacher of the year and to establish the Colorado teacher of the year program.

(2) "Colorado teacher of the year" means the Colorado teacher named teacher of the year in the state program administered by the department and coordinated through the national teacher of the year program.

(3) "Department" means the department of education created in section 24-1-115, C.R.S.

22-61.5-104. Colorado teacher of the year program - created - administration - rules. (1) There is hereby created in the department the Colorado teacher of the year program to honor and reward the teacher named annually as the Colorado teacher of the year. The department shall administer the program.

(2) The state board shall adopt rules necessary for the creation and implementation of the program. Elements of the program may include, but need not be limited to, the following:

(a) The program may reward the award recipient with gifts, services, and opportunities that may include, but need not be limited to:

(I) A sabbatical from teaching responsibilities that includes moneys awarded to the award recipient's employer for the purpose of hiring a substitute teacher during the award recipient's sabbatical;

(II) A cash gift;

(III) Travel and lodging expenses;

(IV) A computer;

(V) Supplies and equipment for the award recipient's classroom or school; and

(VI) The opportunity to receive additional training or education.

(b) During his or her tenure as Colorado teacher of the year, the award recipient may participate in activities that may include, but need not be limited to:

(I) Participating in local, regional, and national events related to the award recipient's designation as Colorado teacher of the year;

(II) Promoting the teaching profession;

(III) Teaching best practices to other teachers;

(IV) Teaching temporarily in other public schools or school districts;

(V) Mentoring students in educator preparation programs and supporting newer teachers in Colorado;

(VI) Collaborating with institutions of higher education in scholarly research and teaching; and

(VII) Participating in special projects relating to education that are important to the award recipient.

(3) The department may collaborate with a private entity in implementing the program and may accept services and in-kind donations from the private entity.

The department shall transmit all moneys received through gifts, grants, or donations to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the Colorado teacher of the year fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this section as the "fund". The moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to the department for the direct and indirect costs associated with the implementation of the program.

(b) Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of this article may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

(c) Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or another fund.

(2) The department may expend up to ten percent of the moneys annually credited to the fund to offset the costs incurred in implementing the program.

22-62-103. Authority to enter into agreements. (1) The board of education of each school district is authorized to enter into written, contractual agreements or arrangements with any college or university for the purpose of providing field experiences in teacher education. Field experiences shall include all activities incurred within the district by a regularly enrolled student in any phase of the teacher education program of the institution, regardless of the title of his position. A student teacher is a student engaged in a major field experience with increasing responsibility for teaching, supervision, and direction of an identified group of learners. The student teaching field experience is normally the terminal field experience in the professional exposure to public schools leading to certification.

22-62-104. Payment of cost from public funds. (1) The respective governing boards of state colleges and universities are authorized to pay the contracting boards of education for the services of teachers who supervise student teachers and, if an agreement has been entered into pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, to student teachers in an amount determined by the respective governing boards.

ANNOTATION

This section does not create new right to workmen's compensation for student teachers. Sch. Dist. No. 60 v. Indus. Comm'n, 43 Colo. App. 38, 601 P.2d 651 (1979).

Subsection (2) shifts responsibility therefor. Subsection (2) deems the school district the employer of the student teacher whereas the general provisions of § 8-41-106 (1)(a)(IV) designate the sponsoring institution as the employer of its job trainees. Subsection (2) merely shifts workmen's compensation liability for injury to student teachers to a different institution: where applicable, it is a legally enforceable specific exception to the general rule prescribed by § 8-41-106 (1)(a)(IV). Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds and declares that this article is enacted to ensure that the educational system of the state of Colorado is being served by the best teachers available while at the same time allowing such teachers the academic freedom necessary to provide the best education possible to the children of this state.

22-63-103. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1.5) "Administrator" means any person who administers, directs, or supervises the education instructional program, or a portion thereof, in any school or school district in the state and who is not the chief executive officer or an assistant chief executive officer of such school.

(2) "Alternative year program" means an academic year meeting the minimum hours required in section 22-32-109 (1) (n) and which is in session for a period of time other than the standard academic year.

(3) "Board" means the board of education of a school district.

(4) "Dismissal" means the involuntary termination of employment of a teacher for any reason other than a justifiable decrease in teaching positions.

(6) "Part-time teacher" means a teacher who normally performs services as an employee of a school in an amount of time less than four hours during each regular school day.

(7) "Probationary teacher" means a teacher who has not completed three consecutive years of demonstrated effectiveness or a nonprobationary teacher who has had two consecutive years of demonstrated ineffectiveness, as defined by rule adopted by the general assembly pursuant to section 22-9-105.5.

"Substitute teacher" also means an itinerant teacher who, as an employee of a school district, normally performs services on a day-to-day or similar short-term basis during an academic year as a replacement teacher for a nonprobationary teacher employed pursuant to section 22-63-202, a probationary teacher employed pursuant to section 22-63-203, or a part-time teacher while the nonprobationary, probationary, or part-time teacher is absent or otherwise unavailable. ### ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 22-63-103 is similar to § 22-63-102 as it existed prior to the 1990 repeal and reenactment of this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

Personnel held to be "teachers" within the definition in this section. Sch. Dist. No. 2 v. Brenton, 137 Colo. 247, 323 P.2d 899 (1958); Robb v. Sch. Dist. No. RE 50(J), 28 Colo. App. 453, 475 P.2d 30 (1970).

Eligibility for certificate not relevant to determination as "teacher". Because a teacher must hold a valid and current teacher's certificate to acquire tenure under the teacher employment, dismissal, and tenure act, an individual's eligibility for such certificate is of no consequence to the issue of who is a "teacher" within the meaning of this section. Milan v. Aims Junior Coll. Dist., 623 P.2d 65 (Colo. App. 1980).

Where person did not hold a valid and current teacher's certificate at the time of her dismissal, she was not a "teacher" within the meaning of this article. Frey v. Adams County Sch. Dist. No. 14, 771 P.2d 27 (Colo. App. 1989).

EMPLOYMENT

22-63-201. Employment - license required - exception. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) of this section, the board of a school district shall not enter into an employment contract with any person as a teacher, except in a junior college district or in an adult education program, unless such person holds an initial or a professional teacher's license or authorization issued pursuant to the provisions of article 60.5 of this title.

(2) (a) The general assembly hereby recognizes that many persons with valuable professional expertise in areas other than teaching provide a great benefit to students through their experience and functional knowledge when hired by a school district. To facilitate the employment of these persons and comply with the requirements of federal law, the general assembly has statutory provisions to create an alternative teacher license and alternative teacher programs to enable school districts to employ persons with expertise in professions other than teaching. These provisions enable a school district to employ a person with professional expertise in a particular subject area, while ensuring that the person receives the necessary training and develops the necessary skills to be a highly qualified teacher. The general assembly strongly encourages each school district to hire persons who hold alternative teacher licenses to provide a wide range of experience in teaching and functional subject matter knowledge for the benefit of the students enrolled in the school district.

(b) A school district may hire a person who holds an alternative teacher license to teach as an alternative teacher pursuant to an alternative teacher contract as described in section 22-60.5-207.

(3) The board of a school district may enter into an employment contract with any person to serve as an administrator based upon qualifications set by the board of the school district. Nothing in this article shall be construed to require that an administrator, as a condition of employment, possess any type of license or authorization issued pursuant to article 60.5 of this title.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 22-63-103 as it existed prior to 1990.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 22-63-201 is similar to § 22-63-103 as it existed prior to the 1990 repeal and reenactment of this article and to repealed laws antecedent to CSA, C. 146, § 219, relevant cases construing those provisions have been included in the annotations to this section.

The law contemplates that the schools shall be taught only by persons of proper and sufficient moral and educational qualifications. For this purpose laws provide for the examination of those desiring to teach, and for the issuance to those qualified of certificates to that effect, which shall be licenses to teach. Catlin v. Christie, 15 Colo. App. 291, 63 P. 328 (1900).

The statute undoubtedly provides that a teacher must hold a certificate, and it is a condition precedent to the right to recover wages, though the teacher may have rendered services. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Ross, 4 Colo. App. 493, 36 P. 560 (1894); Sch. Dist. No. 25 v. Stone, 14 Colo. App. 211, 59 P. 885 (1900).

A certificate regular and valid upon its face is all that is required under the law to authorize the board of a school district to enter into a contract with a teacher. Sch. Dist. No. 25 v. Stone, 14 Colo. App. 211, 59 P. 885 (1900).

A certificate to teach is not subject to collateral attack. The want of an examination cannot be pleaded as a defense in this action, because, in the absence of fraud, a certificate to teach is not subject to collateral attack; it is in the nature of a commission, and is subject to the same rules of law in that respect. Sch. Dist. No. 25 v. Stone, 14 Colo. App. 211, 59 P.885 (1900).

Board cannot employ a teacher who does not have a certificate. The board of education of a school district should not be permitted to violate this section, either directly or by evasion, because it has no discretion to employ a teacher disqualified by law. Catlin v. Christie, 15 Colo. App. 291, 63 P. 328 (1900).

A contract employing a teacher without a certificate is void ab initio. A contract entered into between a school board and a teacher not holding a certificate to teach is void ab initio, and a cause of action supported only by proof of such contract cannot be sustained, where the same is not in any manner lawfully ratified by the school board after the teacher became qualified by receiving a certificate. Catlin v. Christie, 15 Colo. App. 291, 63 P. 328 (1900); Sch. Dist. No. 46 v. Johnson, 26 Colo. App. 433, 143 P. 264 (1914); Sch. Dist. No. 76 v. Kirby, 27 Colo. App. 300, 149 P. 260 (1915).

In an action to restrain a board of education from employing a teacher not qualified under the law, an allegation that the teacher did not have any certificate "in force during any of the times mentioned in the complaint" is not an allegation of a legal conclusion, and is a necessary allegation in a complaint in order to bring the alleged violation within the terms of the statute. Catlin v. Christie, 15 Colo. App. 291, 63 P. 328 (1900).

"Teacher" in junior college setting. This section, when read together with § 22-60-103

(9), does not change the meaning of "teacher" in the junior college setting to the extent that such teacher need not hold a certificate to acquire tenure. Milan v. Aims Junior Coll. Dist., 623 P.2d 65 (Colo. App. 1980).

Expiration of person's teacher's certificate does not mean that the person is no longer a "teacher" who is entitled to review of their dismissal under this act. Frey v. Adams County Sch. Dist. No. 14, 804 P.2d 851 (Colo. 1991).

22-63-202. Employment contracts - contracts to be in writing - duration - damage provision - repeal. (1) Except for a part-time or substitute teacher, every employment contract entered into by any teacher or chief administrative officer for the performance of services for a school district shall be in writing.

(2) (a) A teacher or chief administrative officer and the board may mutually agree to terminate the teacher's or chief administrative officer's employment contract at any time.

(b) Each employment contract executed pursuant to this section shall contain a provision stating that a teacher or chief administrative officer shall not terminate his or her employment contract with the board without the agreement of the board unless:

(I) If the teacher or chief administrative officer intends to terminate his or her employment contract for the succeeding academic year, the teacher or chief administrative officer gives written notice to the board of his or her intent no later than thirty days prior to the commencement of the succeeding academic year or, if a school district operates an alternative year program, not less than thirty days before the commencement of services under the employment contract; or

(II) If the teacher or chief administrative officer intends to terminate his or her employment contract for the current academic year after the beginning of the academic year, the teacher or chief administrative officer shall give written notice to the board of his or her intent at least thirty days prior to the date that the teacher or chief administrative officer intends to stop performing the services required by the employment contract.

(b.5) Each employment contract executed pursuant to this section shall contain a provision stating that a teacher or chief administrative officer shall accept the terms of the employment contract for the succeeding academic year within thirty days of receipt of the contract, unless the teacher or chief administrative officer and the district have reached an alternative agreement. If a teacher or chief administrative officer does not accept the terms of the employment contract within thirty days of receipt, the district shall be authorized to open the position to additional candidates.

(c) Each employment contract executed pursuant to this section shall contain a damages provision whereby a teacher or chief administrative officer who violates the provision required by paragraph (b) of this subsection (2) without good cause shall agree to pay damages to the school district, and the board thereof shall be authorized to collect or withhold damages from compensation due or payable to the teacher or chief administrative officer, in an amount equal to the lessor of:

(I) The ordinary and necessary expenses of a board to secure the services of a suitable replacement teacher or chief administrative officer; or

(II) One-twelfth of the annual salary specified in the employment contract.

(c.5) (I) The general assembly finds that, for the fair evaluation of a principal based on the demonstrated effectiveness of his or her teachers, the principal needs the ability to select teachers who have demonstrated effectiveness and have demonstrated qualifications and teaching experience that support the instructional practices of his or her school. Therefore, each employment contract executed pursuant to this section shall contain a provision stating that a teacher may be assigned to a particular school only with the consent of the hiring principal and with input from at least two teachers employed at the school and chosen by the faculty of teachers at the school to represent them in the hiring process, and after a review of the teacher's demonstrated effectiveness and qualifications, which review demonstrates that the teacher's qualifications and teaching experience support the instructional practices of his or her school.

(II) (A) Any active nonprobationary teacher who, during the prior school year, was deemed satisfactory, or was deemed effective in a district that has implemented a multi-tiered evaluation system and has identified ratings equivalent to effective, and has not secured a position through school-based hiring shall be a member of a priority hiring pool, which priority hiring pool shall ensure the nonprobationary teacher a first opportunity to interview for available positions for which he or she is qualified in a school district.

(B) When a determination is made that a nonprobationary teacher's services are no longer required for the reasons set forth in subparagraph (VII) of this paragraph (c.5), the nonprobationary teacher shall be notified of his or her removal from the school. In making decisions pursuant to this paragraph (c.5), a school district shall work with its local teachers association to develop policies for the local school board to adopt. If no teacher association exists in the school district, the school district shall create an eight-person committee consisting of four school district members and four teachers, which committee shall develop such policies. Upon notice to the nonprobationary teacher, the department of human resources for the school district shall immediately provide the nonprobationary teacher with a list of all vacant positions for which he or she is qualified, as well as a list of vacancies in any area identified by the school district to be an area of critical need. An application for a vacancy shall be made to the principal of a listed school, with a copy of the application provided by the nonprobationary teacher to the school district. When a principal recommends appointment of a nonprobationary teacher applicant to a vacant position, the nonprobationary teacher shall be transferred to that position.

(C) This subparagraph (II) is repealed, effective at such time as the performance evaluation system based on quality standards established pursuant to this section and the rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to section 22-9-105.5 has completed the initial phase of implementation and has been implemented statewide. The commissioner shall provide notice of such implementation to the revisor of statutes on or before July 1, 2014, and each July 1 thereafter until statewide implementation occurs.

(III) (A) Any active nonprobationary teacher who was deemed effective during the prior school year and has not secured a mutual consent placement shall be a member of a priority hiring pool, which priority hiring pool shall ensure the nonprobationary teacher a first opportunity to interview for a reasonable number of available positions for which he or she is qualified in the school district.

(B) When a determination is made that a nonprobationary teacher's services are no longer required for the reasons set forth in subparagraph (VII) of this paragraph (c.5), the nonprobationary teacher shall be notified of his or her removal from the school. In making decisions pursuant to this paragraph (c.5), a school district shall work with its local teachers association to develop policies for the local school board to adopt. If no teacher association exists in the school district, the school district shall create an eight-person committee consisting of four school district members and four teachers, which committee shall develop such policies. Upon notice to the nonprobationary teacher, the school district shall immediately provide the nonprobationary teacher with a list of all vacant positions for which he or she is qualified, as well as a list of vacancies in any area identified by the school district to be an area of critical need. An application for a vacancy shall be made to the principal of a listed school, with a copy of the application provided by the nonprobationary teacher to the school district. When a principal recommends appointment of a nonprobationary teacher applicant to a vacant position, the nonprobationary teacher shall be transferred to that position.

(C) This subparagraph (III) shall take effect at such time as the performance evaluation system based on quality standards established pursuant to this section and the rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to section 22-9-105.5 has completed the initial phase of implementation and has been implemented statewide. The commissioner shall provide notice of such implementation to the revisor of statutes on or before July 1, 2014, and each July 1 thereafter until statewide implementation occurs.

(IV) If a nonprobationary teacher is unable to secure a mutual consent assignment at a school of the school district after twelve months or two hiring cycles, whichever period is longer, the school district shall place the teacher on unpaid leave until such time as the teacher is able to secure an assignment. If the teacher secures an assignment at a school of the school district while placed on unpaid leave, the school district shall reinstate the teacher's salary and benefits at the level they would have been if the teacher had not been placed on unpaid leave.

(V) Nothing in this section shall limit the ability of a school district to place a teacher in a twelve-month assignment or other limited-term assignments, including, but not limited to, a teaching assignment, substitute assignment, or instructional support role during the period in which the teacher is attempting to secure an assignment through school-based hiring. Such an assignment shall not constitute an assignment through school-based hiring and shall not be deemed to interrupt the period in which the teacher is required to secure an assignment through school-based hiring before the district shall place the teacher on unpaid leave.

(VI) The provisions of this paragraph (c.5) may be waived in whole or in part for a renewable four-year period by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-2-117, provided that the local school board applying for the waiver, in conjunction with the superintendent and teachers association in a district that has an operating master employment contract, if applicable, demonstrates that the waiver is in the best interest of students enrolled in the school district, supports the equitable distribution of effective teachers, and will not result in placement other than by mutual consent of the teacher in a school district or public school that is required to implement a priority improvement plan or turnaround plan pursuant to article 11 of this title. Notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph (c.5), a waiver shall not be granted for a request that extends the time for securing an assignment through school-based hiring for more than two years.

(VII) This paragraph (c.5) shall apply to any teacher who is displaced as a result of drop in enrollment; turnaround; phase-out; reduction in program; or reduction in building, including closure, consolidation, or reconstitution.

(d) The department of education may suspend the license, endorsement, or authorization of a teacher or chief administrative officer who fails to provide the notice required by paragraph (b) of this subsection (2) and who abandons, fails, or refuses to perform required services pursuant to an employment contract, without good cause.

(3) A teacher may be suspended temporarily during the contractual period until the date of dismissal as ordered by the board pursuant to section 22-63-302 or may have his or her employment contract cancelled during the contractual period when there is a justifiable decrease in the number of teaching positions. The manner in which employment contracts will be cancelled when there is a justifiable decrease in the number of teaching positions shall be included in any contract between the board of education of the school district and school district employees or in an established policy of the board, which contract or policy shall include the criteria described in section 22-9-106 as significant factors in determining which employment contracts to cancel as a result of the decrease in teaching positions. Effective February 15, 2012, the contract or policy shall include consideration of probationary and nonprobationary status and the number of years a teacher has been teaching in the school district; except that these criteria may be considered only after the consideration of the criteria described in section 22-9-106 and only if the contract or policy is in the best interest of the students enrolled in the school district.

(4) (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 24-72-204 (3) (a), C.R.S., upon a request from a school district or a school concerning a person applying for a position as a teacher, a school district may disclose to the requesting school district or school the reason or reasons why a teacher left employment with the original school district. Upon the specific request of a school district at which a teacher has applied for employment, a school district may disclose any pertinent performance record or disciplinary record of a teacher that specifically relates to any negligent action of the teacher that was found to have endangered the safety and security of a student or any disciplinary record that relates to behavior by the teacher that was found to have contributed to a student's violation of the school district's conduct and discipline code. The information disclosed pursuant to this paragraph (a) shall only be disclosed to personnel authorized to review the personnel file in the school district or school and to the person applying for a position as a teacher.

(b) No employment contract executed pursuant to this section shall contain a provision that restricts or prohibits a school district from disclosing to another school district or school the reason or reasons why a teacher left employment with the original school district or from disclosing to another school district any of the teacher's disciplinary or performance records pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (4).

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 22-63-202 is similar to § 22-63-107 as it existed prior to the 1990 repeal and reenactment of this article and to repealed laws antecedent to CSA, C. 146, § 249, a case construing those provisions has been included in the annotations to this section.

Constitutionality. This section does not violate the due process clause where former teachers had deductions taken from their paychecks by a board of education pursuant to this section to recover the costs of their replacements, despite board's failure to hold an administrative hearing on the matter. Action for breach of contract was available to resolve disputes concerning the board's deductions under this section. Stackhouse v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 919 P.2d 902 (Colo. App. 1996).

This section was enacted to prevent capricious interference by either party in the contract to teach, a contract in which the public has an interest. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Parker, 82 Colo. 385, 260 P. 521 (1927).

The term "ordinary and necessary expenses" is limited to actual cash outlays and does not include overhead for purposes of calculating maximum damages. Klinger v. Adams County Sch. Dist. No. 50, 130 P.3d 1027 (Colo. 2006).

The public has an interest in contracts to teach. A contract to teach in the public schools differs from the ordinary contract in that the public has an interest in it, and in not having it capriciously interfered with by either party. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Parker, 82 Colo. 385, 260 P. 521 (1927).

Trial court erred in entering summary judgment, as the issue of the amount of ordinary and necessary expenses incurred by the board in replacing plaintiffs was disputed. Board was required to prove that the amount it withheld did not exceed the ordinary and necessary expenses incurred in securing a suitable replacement for a particular teacher. Stackhouse v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 919 P.2d 902 (Colo. App. 1996).

22-63-203. Probationary teachers - renewal and nonrenewal of employment contract - repeal. (1) (a) Except as provided for in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1), the provisions of this section shall apply only to probationary teachers and shall no longer apply when the teacher has been reemployed for the fourth year, except as provided for in paragraph (a.5) of subsection (4) of this section. This paragraph (a) is repealed, effective July 1, 2014.

(b) For any school district that has implemented the performance evaluation system based on quality standards pursuant to section 22-9-106 and the rules adopted by the state board pursuant to section 22-9-105.5, the provisions of this section shall apply only to probationary teachers and shall no longer apply when the teacher has been granted nonprobationary status as a result of three consecutive years of demonstrated effectiveness, as determined through his or her performance evaluations and continuous employment.

(2) (a) During the first three school years that a teacher is employed on a full-time continuous basis by a school district, such teacher shall be considered to be a probationary teacher whose employment contract may be subject to nonrenewal in accordance with subsection (4) of this section. A school district may also consider a teacher employed on a part-time continuous basis by such district and by a board of cooperative services to be a probationary teacher whose contract may be subject to nonrenewal in accordance with subsection (4) of this section. An employment contract with a probationary teacher shall not exceed one school year.

(b) For purposes of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2):

(I) A probationary teacher who is employed as a teacher in an alternative year program is deemed to be employed on a full-time basis during a school year if he performs services for at least the minimum period during which a pupil must be enrolled in any twelve-month period. The employment of any such probationary teacher as a teacher in such an alternative year program for such minimum period in successive twelve-month periods shall be deemed continuous.

(II) A probationary teacher who is employed after the first day of the academic year is deemed to be employed for a full school year if the period of continuous and uninterrupted employment during that year includes the last one hundred twenty school days of the academic year.

(III) The three consecutive school years of demonstrated effectiveness and continuous employment required for the probationary period shall not be deemed to be interrupted by the temporary illness of a probationary teacher. A leave of absence approved by the board of a school district or a military leave of absence pursuant to article 3 of title 28, C.R.S., shall not be considered to be an interruption of the consecutive years of demonstrated effectiveness and continuous employment required for the probationary period, but the time of such leaves of absence shall not be included in computing the required probationary period.

(IV) The three consecutive school years of demonstrated effectiveness and continuous employment required for the probationary period shall not be deemed to be interrupted by the acceptance by a probationary teacher of the position of chief administrative officer in said school district, but the period of time during which such teacher serves in such capacity shall not be included in computing said probationary period.

(3) A probationary teacher employed by a school district on a full-time basis shall be deemed to be reemployed for the succeeding academic year at the salary that the probationary teacher would be entitled to receive under the general salary schedule, the teacher salary policy, or the combination schedule and policy, whichever is appropriate, unless the board causes written notice to the contrary to be given to said teacher on or before June 1 of the academic year during which said teacher is employed. Such teacher shall be presumed to have accepted such employment for the succeeding academic year unless said teacher causes written notice to the contrary to be given to the board no later than thirty days prior to the commencement of the succeeding academic year.

(4) (a) The chief administrative officer of the employing school district may recommend that the board not renew the employment contract of a probationary teacher for any reason he deems sufficient. If the board, based upon such recommendation, does not renew the employment contract of a probationary teacher, such teacher shall be given a written notice of contract nonrenewal.

(a.5) (I) Beginning with the 2010-11 school year, an employing school district may opt to renew the teacher's contract on either a probationary or nonprobationary status or to not renew the contract of a probationary teacher who has completed his or her third year of employment. This paragraph (a.5) shall be repealed after the performance evaluation system based on quality standards has been implemented pursuant to section 22-9-105.5.

(II) A probationary teacher who is deemed to be performing satisfactorily in any of school years 2010-11, 2011-12, and 2012-13 shall, for purposes of article 9 of this title, be deemed to have performed effectively during the same school year or years. Beginning with the 2013-14 school year, all teachers shall be evaluated in accordance with the new performance evaluation system that is based on measures of effectiveness; however, a school district may extend the probationary status of a teacher who has three consecutive satisfactory ratings as of July 1, 2013, by no more than one year.

(b) (I) A probationary teacher who is given a written notice of contract nonrenewal may request, and, if requested, shall receive, the reasons for nonrenewal from the chief administrative officer of the employing school district.

(II) It is the intent of the general assembly that the provision to a probationary teacher of the reasons for contract nonrenewal not create any property right or contract right, express or implied. However, a board may, but shall not be required to, agree by contract or school district policy to make the reasons for nonrenewal a grievable action. If a state appellate court or a federal court determines that such a property right has been created and the time for all appeals has passed, this paragraph (b) shall be repealed. The court making such a determination shall be required to transmit a copy of the court's decision to the revisor of statutes. The effective date of the repeal of this paragraph (b) shall be the date the revisor of statutes receives notice from the court that such decision has been made and that the time for all appeals has passed.

(5) A probationary teacher may be suspended temporarily during the contractual period until the date of dismissal as ordered by the board pursuant to section 22-63-302.

(6) (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 24-72-204 (3) (a), C.R.S., upon a request from a school district or a school concerning a person applying for a position as a teacher, a school district may disclose to the requesting school district or school the reason or reasons why a teacher left employment with the original school district. The information disclosed pursuant to this paragraph (a) shall only be disclosed to personnel authorized to review the personnel file in the school district or school and to the person applying for a position as a teacher.

(b) No employment contract executed pursuant to this section shall contain a provision that restricts or prohibits a school district from disclosing to another school district or school the reason or reasons why a teacher left employment with the original school district.

Section held applicable to elementary teacher on probationary status. Colo. Civil Rights Comm'n v. State, 30 Colo. App. 10, 488 P.2d 83 (1971).

In order to effect nonrenewal, a board of education need only give the teacher written notice on or before April 15th of the school year immediately preceding that for which renewal is in question. Durango Sch. Dist. No. 9-R v. Thorpe, 200 Colo. 268, 614 P.2d 880 (1980).

No right to annual renewal. A nontenured public school teacher does not have a right to annual renewal of his teaching contract. Durango Sch. Dist. No. 9-R v. Thorpe, 200 Colo. 268, 614 P.2d 880 (1980); Bevsek v. Huerfano Sch. Dist. RE-1, 728 P.2d 325 (Colo. App. 1986).

"Deemed reemployed" is a mandatory provision of this section and applies absent required written notice. If a teacher proves that she was employed on a full-time basis but not under continuous tenure, she is "deemed reemployed" unless the written notice is furnished as required. Wooten v. Byers Sch. Dist. No. 32J, 156 Colo. 89, 396 P.2d 964 (1964).

Teacher is considered "deemed reemployed" for the year immediately following insufficient notice of termination, and the school board is obligated to compensate him or her for that year of employment, but relief is not available in the form of an additional year of employment if adequate timely, written notice was served prior to that additional year. Hanover Sch. Dist. No. 28 v. Barbour, 171 P.3d 223 (Colo. 2007).

Nonrenewal may not be based on exercise of constitutional rights. A board of education may not base its decision not to renew a teacher's contract on his or her exercise of constitutionally protected rights. Durango Sch. Dist. No. 9-R v. Thorpe, 200 Colo. 268, 614 P.2d 880 (1980); Hadley v. Moffat County Sch. Dist. RE-1, 681 P.2d 938 (Colo. 1984).

Issues where nonrenewal purportedly based on exercise on constitutional rights. Where a teacher who had not been renewed claimed the board's decision was based impermissibly on activities protected by the United States constitution, the jury was properly instructed that it was required to determine: (1) Whether constitutionally protected conduct on the teacher's part had been considered by the board when it decided not to renew his teaching contract; (2) whether such conduct, if considered by the board, had been a substantial or motivating factor in the nonrenewal decision; and (3) whether the board would have voted not to renew the contract even if it had not considered constitutionally protected conduct. Durango Sch. Dist. No. 9-R v. Thorpe, 200 Colo. 268, 614 P.2d 880 (1980).

II. NOTICE.

A. In Writing.

Notice of termination of employment must be in writing. Although a teacher may have been informed he would not be reemployed by board intimations or statements concerning his retirement, he was not so informed in writing as required by statute, as is mandatory, and, thus, he falls squarely within the protection of the statute and was automatically reemployed. Robb v. Sch. Dist. No. RE 50(J), 28 Colo. App. 453, 475 P.2d 30 (1970).

The written notice required of this section is not met by merely informing a teacher orally that she is not to be rehired. Wooten v. Byers Sch. Dist. No. 32J, 156 Colo. 89, 396 P.2d 964 (1964).

All evidence of oral conversations with the superintendent and others is beyond the is-

B. Timely.

Notice to be valid must also be given within the time fixed by the statute. Wooten v. Byers Sch. Dist. No. 32J, 156 Colo. 89, 396 P.2d 964 (1964).

The words "causes written ... to be given", as used in this section, mean that the notice must have been received by the teacher on or before April 15th of the academic year in question. Norwood v. Sch. Dist. RE-11J, 44 Colo. App. 40, 613 P.2d 343 (1980), aff'd, 644 P.2d 13 (Colo. 1982).

Written notice of nonrenewal of employment must be delivered to and received by the teacher on or before April 15 of the academic year during which the teacher is employed. Sch. Dist. RE-11J v. Norwood, 644 P.2d 13 (Colo. 1982).

Else teacher deemed reemployed. Where, on April 15th, a nontenured teacher had not received a letter of termination nor notice of its availability at the post office, she was deemed to have been reemployed for the next academic year. Norwood v. Sch. Dist. RE-11J, 44 Colo. App. 40, 613 P.2d 343 (1980), aff'd, 644 P.2d 13 (Colo. 1982).

Where no notice was sent to teacher that her contract would not be renewed by April 15th, teacher was deemed automatically reemployed for the next academic year and was therefore entitled to tenure upon the first day of performance of services on that fourth year. Day v. Prowers County Sch. Dist. RE-1, 725 P.2d 14 (Colo. App. 1986).

The fact that a teacher by reason of his own absence fails to receive the letter before April 15 cannot defeat the giving of the notice. Ledbetter v. Sch. Dist. No. 8, 163 Colo. 127, 428 P.2d 912 (1967).

Timely delivery may be excused if teacher frustrates delivery by purposeful avoidance. Timely delivery of the notice to the teacher may be justifiably excused when a teacher frustrates the delivery by purposeful avoidance thereof. Sch. Dist. RE-11J v. Norwood, 644 P.2d 13 (Colo. 1982).

Letter of intent to terminate employment contract does not qualify as timely notice of termination. The notice requirement of this section is satisfied only by timely, written notice of a formal decision to terminate an employment contract. A letter to probationary teacher of the board's intent to act at a later meeting is insufficient to fulfill notice requirement. Nor is informal notice through teacher's knowledge of formal public vote on his termination sufficient to fulfill the notice requirement. Hanover Sch. Dist. No. 28 v. Barbour, 171 P.3d 223 (Colo. 2007).

C. Methods of Service.

No particular method of giving notice is specified. While the notice must be in writing, the method of getting the written notice of the teacher is not set out, because the general assembly did not intend any particular method. Ledbetter v. Sch. Dist. No. 8, 163 Colo. 127, 428 P.2d 912 (1967).

Recognized methods may be used. Although the means of giving notice is not set out in the statute, if the school district uses a method recognized as an acceptable one in the law, then the cases setting out the test to be applied to the particular method employed are persuasive. Ledbetter v. Sch. Dist. No. 8, 163 Colo. 127, 428 P.2d 912 (1967).

Personal service or mail. The notice could be personally handed to a teacher, mailed to him by ordinary mail, or sent by registered mail. Ledbetter v. Sch. Dist. No. 8, 163 Colo. 127, 428 P.2d 912 (1967).

D. Burden of Proof.

Board has burden of proof of timely written notice. If the board, in fact, has served a timely written notice upon a teacher, it has the burden of thereafter coming forward with such evidence; until then the teacher is deemed to have been reemployed. Wooten v. Byers Sch. Dist. No. 32J, 156 Colo. 89, 396 P.2d 964 (1964).

The general assembly did not intend to cast upon a teacher the burden of proof by ordinary methods that notice had been given. Wooten v. Byers Sch. Dist. No. 32J, 156 Colo. 89, 396 P.2d 964 (1964).

22-63-203.5. Nonprobationary portability. Beginning with the 2014-15 school year, a nonprobationary teacher, except for a nonprobationary teacher who has had two consecutive performance evaluations with an ineffective rating, who is employed by a school district and is subsequently hired by a different school district may provide to the hiring school district evidence of his or her student academic growth data and performance evaluations for the prior two years for the purposes of retaining nonprobationary status. If, upon providing such data, the nonprobationary teacher can show two consecutive performance evaluations with effectiveness ratings in good standing, he or she shall be granted nonprobationary status in the hiring school district.

Source: L. 2010: Entire section added. (SB 10-191), ch. 241, p. 1075, § 15, effective May 20.

22-63-204. Interest prohibited. (1) It is unlawful for any teacher of a school district to take or receive any part or portion of moneys from the sale, proceeds, profit, or items in lieu thereof of any book, musical instrument, school supplies, school apparatus, or other materials, including custodial, office, and athletic supplies, sold to a minor, or the parent or guardian of any such minor, enrolled in the school where such teacher is performing services, or which may be sold to said school district; but it shall not be unlawful for a teacher to receive a part or portion of moneys from the sale, proceeds, profit, or items in lieu thereof if such teacher first obtains the written consent of the employing board.

III. LIABILITY.

Failure to satisfy requirements of this section may render board liable. Where a teacher stands ready, willing, and able in every respect to abide by his valid and enforceable contract, but is prevented from doing so by the board of education when it refuses to honor the contract and hires a replacement without informing the teacher of termination of employment, the board is liable to him for damages. Robb v. Sch. Dist. No. RE 50(J), 28 Colo. App. 453, 475 P.2d 30 (1970).

Proper measure of damages. In the face of uncontroverted evidence that a teacher mitigated his damages, and in the face of a total lack of evidence that he could mitigate them any further, the proper measure of damages is the difference between his contract salary and his earnings in mitigation, where the teacher was not given notice of termination of employment as required by this section. Robb v. Sch. Dist. No. RE 50(J), 28 Colo. App. 453, 475 P.2d 30 (1970).

Teacher is considered "deemed reemployed" for the year immediately following insufficient notice of termination, and the school board is obligated to compensate him or her for that year of employment, but relief is not available in the form of an additional year of employment if adequate timely, written notice was served prior to that additional year. Hanover Sch. Dist. No. 28 v. Barbour, 171 P.3d 223 (Colo. 2007).

A teacher who is "deemed reemployed" under subsection (3) has no obligation to mitigate the compensation owed him or her by the school district. Hanover Sch. Dist. No. 28 v. Barbour, 171 P.3d 223 (Colo. 2007).

(2) Any teacher who violates the provisions of subsection (1) of this section is, upon determination thereof, subject to the revocation of the teacher's license or authorization as provided in section 22-60.5-108.

22-63-205. Exchange of teachers - exchange educator interim authorization.

(1) The board of a school district has authority to provide for the exchange of teachers with a school district in this state or in another state or with a foreign government or agency thereof. The department of education and boards are authorized and urged to effect such exchanges to achieve the goal of equal educational opportunity within Colorado, and they are further authorized to cooperate with appropriate federal agencies involved in such exchange programs. The department of education shall create an exchange educator interim authorization for qualified exchange educators pursuant to section 22-60.5-111.

(2) The salary of the teacher exchanged may be paid by the school district which authorized the exchange and, if so, said teacher shall be paid at not less than the rate to which he would otherwise be entitled had he performed services in said school district. A teacher exchanged pursuant to this section shall be deemed, during the period of exchange, to be in the employ of the school district which authorized the exchange, and such teacher shall be subject to the provisions and benefits of retirement, insurance, and workers' compensation as if performing services within said school district.

Editor's note: (1) This section is similar to former § 22-63-109 as it existed prior to 1990.

(2) Subsection (2) was originally numbered as section 22-63-109 (2), and the amendments to it in House Bill 90-1160 were harmonized with subsection (2) as it appears in this section when the entire article was repealed and reenacted in House Bill 90-1159.

ANNOTATION

District cannot preclude right to tenure by transfer. The "Teacher Employment, Dismissal, and Tenure Act of 1967" has no statutory authority empowering a school district to transfer a teacher's teaching contract to another school district in order to truncate her statutory rights to tenure. Day v. Prowers County Sch. Dist. RE-1, 725 P.2d 14 (Colo. App. 1986) (decided under § 22-63-109 as it existed prior to the 1990 repeal and reenactment of this article).

22-63-206. Transfer - compensation. (1) A teacher may be transferred upon the recommendation of the chief administrative officer of a school district from one school, position, or grade level to another within the school district, if such transfer does not result in the assignment of the teacher to a position of employment for which he or she is not qualified by virtue of academic preparation and certification and if, during the then current school year, the amount of salary of such teacher is not reduced except as otherwise provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section. There shall be no discrimination shown toward any teacher in the assignment or transfer of that teacher to a school, position, or grade because of sex, sexual orientation, marital status, race, creed, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or membership or nonmembership in any group or organization.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, a teacher who has been occupying an administrative position may be assigned to another position for which he or she is qualified if a vacancy exists in such position, and, if so assigned, with a salary corresponding to the position. If the school district has adopted a general salary schedule or a combination salary schedule and policy, the board may consider the years of service accumulated while the teacher was occupying the administrative position when the board determines where to place the teacher on the schedule for the assigned position.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, the salary of a teacher who has received additional compensation for the performance of additional duties may be reduced if said teacher has been relieved of such additional duties.

(4) A teacher may enter into an agreement for an economic work-learn program leave of absence with a board of education that shall not affect the teacher's employment status, position on the salary schedule if the school district has adopted a general salary schedule or combination salary schedule and policy, or insurance and retirement benefits.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring a receiving school to involuntarily accept the transfer of a teacher. All transfers to positions at other schools of the school district shall require the consent of the receiving school.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 22-63-206 is similar to § 22-63-114 as it existed prior to the 1990 repeal and reenactment of this article, relevant cases construing that provision, as well as cases decided prior to the earliest source of this section, have been included in the annotations to this section.

The purpose of the statute is to prevent teachers from being transferred: (1) To teaching positions for which they are not qualified; (2) for reductions in pay; and (3) as acts of discrimination. Lazuk v. Denver County Sch. Dist. No. 1, 22 P.3d 548 (Colo. App. 2000).

Power of boards of education to transfer teachers limited only by statute. The power of school boards to control the hiring and firing and transfers of teachers in their district is limited only by the express terms of the statutes. Draper v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 175 Colo. 216, 486 P.2d 1048 (1971).

The power to transfer teachers cannot be delegated. Board cannot delegate power of deciding whether or not teacher is to be transferred, but board can delegate resulting administrative details such as building and room assignment consistent with position for which teacher is qualified. Frank v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 31 Colo. App. 479, 506 P.2d 373 (1972); Wheeler v. Sch. Dist. No. 20, 33 Colo. App. 233, 521 P.2d 178 (1973), aff'd, 188 Colo. 262, 535 P.2d 206 (1975).

The school board may delegate the power to transfer a teacher because such function is administrative in nature, as it does not function as a policy-making duty, and the discretion granted is limited by statute. Lazuk v. Denver

County Sch. Dist. No. 1, 22 P.3d 548 (Colo. App. 2000).

Discretion granted to superintendent by this section was not overly broad, but was merely administrative in nature. Wheeler v. Sch. Dist. No. 20, 188 Colo. 262, 535 P.2d 206 (1975).

Authority to reassign principal of junior high school was not improperly delegated to the superintendent of schools. Wheeler v. Sch. Dist. No. 20, 188 Colo. 262, 535 P.2d 206 (1975).

There can be no demotion when individual is transferred between coequal positions. Frank v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 31 Colo. App. 479, 506 P.2d 373 (1972).

A transfer cannot reduce a teacher's salary. The right to transfer a teacher is limited by the provision that such transfer shall not change the position to which such teacher is entitled on the regular teacher salary schedule of the employing district. Sch. Dist. No. 2 v. Brenton, 137 Colo. 247, 323 P.2d 899 (1958).

Even though a district can and does assign a teacher to work other than teaching, it cannot thereby reduce his annual salary; it has to pay him according to its adopted teacher schedules. Maxey v. Jefferson County Sch. Dist. No. R-1, 158 Colo. 583, 408 P.2d 970 (1965).

There is no right to hearing upon transfer to a similar position. Tenured public school employee transferred from one similar position to another is not entitled to hearing before board and denial of request for such hearing is not violation of statutory or constitutional rights. Frank v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 31 Colo. App. 479, 506 P.2d 373 (1972).

Notice and hearing not required. Petitioner was not entitled to notice and a hearing before he was relieved of his position as principal of the junior high school and reassigned, and thus there was no due process infringement. Wheeler v. Sch. Dist. No. 20, 188 Colo. 262, 535 P.2d 206 (1975).

School district can transfer tenured public school employee from position of counselor to that of classroom teacher without formal action of board specifically designating employee's new assignment. Frank v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 31 Colo. App. 479, 506 P.2d 373 (1972).

Standard of review of transfer is less strict than for dismissal or denial of employment. Where tenured public school employee loses his job or is denied a job due to questionable school board action, there is a stricter standard of review applicable than where employee is transferred from one similar position to another. Frank v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 31 Colo. App. 479, 506 P.2d 373 (1972).

Employee, as counselor, held to be teacher, not administrator or executive, for transfer purposes. Frank v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 31 Colo. App. 479, 506 P.2d 373 (1972).

DISMISSAL

22-63-301. Grounds for dismissal. A teacher may be dismissed for physical or mental disability, incompetency, neglect of duty, immorality, unsatisfactory performance, insubordination, the conviction of a felony or the acceptance of a guilty plea, a plea of nolo contendere, or a deferred sentence for a felony, or other good and just cause. No teacher shall be dismissed for temporary illness, leave of absence previously approved by the board, or military leave of absence pursuant to article 3 of title 28, C.R.S.

Source: L. 90: Entire article R&RE, p. 1123, § 1, effective July 1; entire section amended, p. 1032, § 22, effective July 1.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 22-63-116 as it existed prior to 1990.

ANNOTATION

- I. General Consideration.

- III. Reasons for Dismissal.
  - A. Generally.
  - B. Incompetency.
  - C. Neglect of Duty.
  - D. Immorality.
  - E. Insubordination.
  - F. Other Good and Just Cause.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Annotator's note. Since § 22-63-301 is similar to § 22-63-116 as it existed prior to the 1990 repeal and reenactment of this article in 1990, cases construing that provision, as well as cases decided under provisions similar thereto, have been included in the annotations to this section.

This section may be sustained as constitutional. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

This section conforms to constitutional requirements. It is directed to conduct toward members of the school community, and is concerned with immoral acts only insofar as they relate to the teacher's unfitness to teach. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

This section is sufficiently precise to meet minimal due process standards. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

This section is constitutionally adequate, and the terms "incompetence" and "neglect of duty" are sufficiently precise that men of common intelligence would not have to guess at their meaning. Benke v. Neenan, 658 P.2d 860 (Colo. 1983).

II. PURPOSE OF SECTION.

State's interest in protecting school community. The board's power to dismiss and discipline teachers exists and finds its justification in the state's legitimate interest in protecting the school community from harm, and its exercise can only be justified upon a showing that such harm has occurred or is likely to occur. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

The board's power to dismiss and discipline teachers is not merely punitive in nature and is not intended to permit the exercise of personal moral judgments by board members. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

Private shortcomings not intended. The general assembly did not intend to potentially subject every teacher to discipline, even dismissal, for private peccadillos or personal shortcomings that might come to the attention of the board of education, but yet had little or no relation to the teacher's relationship with his students, his fellow teachers, or with the school community. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

III. REASONS FOR DISMISSAL.

A. Generally.

One of the grounds of this section must be charged before dismissal of tenured teacher. Where this section limits the grounds of cancellation of a teacher's contract to (1) incompetency, (2) neglect of duty, (3) immorality, (4) insubordination, (5) justifiable decrease in the number of teacher positions, and (6) other just and good cause, and no such charge is made against a teacher, a school district is without authority to cancel his contract. Sch. Dist. No. 2 v. Brenton, 137 Colo. 247, 323 P.2d 899 (1958) (decided prior to earliest source of this section, § 123-18-16, as amended).

School boards to define dismissal grounds. Because elected school boards have the responsibility of implementing and carrying out the educational programs of their respective communities, they must have the case-by-case authority to define the limits of such broad general grounds for dismissal as "incompetency" and "immorality" in the educational context. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

And, for the same reasons, school boards must have the case-by-case authority to define the limits of the ground of dismissal of "neglect of duty" in the educational context. Blaine v.

Moffat County Sch. Dist. Re. No. 1, 709 P.2d 96 (Colo. App. 1985).

Prior warnings and failure to conform thereto may properly be considered by the board as evidence of incompetency, insubordination, or other statutory grounds for dismissal found in this section. DeKoevend v. Bd. of Educ., 653 P.2d 743 (Colo. App. 1982), rev'd on other grounds, 688 P.2d 219 (Colo. 1984).

Adverse impact required. The board of education may properly dismiss those teachers whose misbehavior has had the requisite degree of adverse impact. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

Isolated technical and trivial violations of school board policies and directives could not support dismissal of a tenured teacher. Robertson v. Bd. of Educ., 39 Colo. App. 462, 570 P.2d 19 (1977).

B. Incompetency.

Competence indicates the ability to perform ably and above a minimum level of sufficiency. Therefore, incompetence indicates the inability to perform. Benke v. Neenan, 658 P.2d 860 (Colo. 1983).

C. Neglect of Duty.

Duty indicates those actions required by one's particular occupation. Benke v. Neenan, 658 P.2d 860 (Colo. 1983).

Dismissal for neglect of duty was not arbitrary or capricious where teacher's duties included disciplining students in a manner consistent with district policy and providing a safe and secure learning environment, and teacher struck a student on the head with a pointer. Bd. of Educ. of West Yuma v. Flaming, 938 P.2d 151 (Colo. 1997).

Where a teacher violated the district's controversial materials policy by failing to provide the principal with the required notice prior to using a controversial learning resource displaying sexual content, violence, and nudity, his dismissal was proper and did not violate his rights of free speech and due process guaranteed by the constitution. Bd. of Educ. of Jefferson County v. Wilder, 960 P.2d 695 (Colo. 1998).

School board did not err by dismissing teacher for neglect of duty where teacher refused to teach the adopted math curriculum. Hearing officer determined that the teacher's students did not receive complete and proper instruction in mathematics and that teacher failed to fulfill her classroom duties and obligations. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Cornish, 58 P.3d 1091 (Colo. App. 2002).

D. Immorality.

This section's reference to "immorality" is not unduly vague and constitutes a valid ground for dismissal. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

“Immorality” standard. The statutory term “immorality” denotes only conduct which indicates a teacher’s “unfitness to teach” — i.e., only conduct which harmed or is likely to harm the school community. However, in view of the variousness of human behavior, it would be folly to suggest that “immorality rendering one unfit to teach” is a standard so clear as to leave no leeway in determining whether the facts of a particular case meet that standard. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

A school board’s application of the standard to a specific instance of teacher conduct will therefore be sustained by a reviewing court if it is warranted in the record and has a reasonable basis in law. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

“Immorality” implicitly required to be related to work. Though this section does not explicitly require that the “immorality” be in relation to, or affect, the teacher’s work, such a requirement can be readily implied from the language of the statute. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

“Immorality” must be related to teacher’s fitness for service. The statutory ground of immorality, taken in conjunction with the other grounds of physical and mental disability, incompetency, neglect of duty, conviction of a felony, and insubordination, clearly implies a standard that is directly related to the teacher’s fitness for service. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

Appellant’s actions cannot constitute immorality within the meaning of the statute unless these actions indicate his unfitness to teach. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

Considerations in determination of unfitness. In determining whether the teacher’s conduct indicates an unfitness to teach, the board of education may properly consider such matters as the age and maturity of the teacher’s students, the likelihood that his conduct may have adversely affected students and other teachers, the degree of such adversity, the proximity or remoteness in time of the conduct, the extenuating or aggravating circumstances surrounding the conduct, the likelihood that the conduct may be repeated, the motives underlying it, and the extent to which discipline may have a chilling effect upon either the rights of the teacher involved or other teachers. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

Most persons of ordinary intelligence would have noticed, even from the broad wording of this section, that certain acts are prohibited, including inter alia the intimate touching of minor female students by a male high school teacher. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

E. Insubordination.

Insubordination should be given its commonly-understood definition of a willful failure or refusal to obey reasonable orders of a superior who is entitled to give such orders. Ware v. Morgan County Sch. Dist. RE-3, 719 P.2d 351 (Colo. App. 1985); Lockhart v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 735 P.2d 913 (Colo. App. 1986).

Where there is evidence that petitioner willfully refused to participate at any time in hall supervision duties when ordered to do so by this principal and where in the interest in maintaining discipline and order in public schools such order was reasonable, the board correctly found that petitioner was insubordinate. Lockhart v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 735 P.2d 913 (Colo. App. 1986).

Dismissal for insubordination not arbitrary, capricious, or legally impermissible where teacher effectively failed to submit lesson plans pursuant to principal’s reasonable request. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Cornish, 58 P.3d 1091 (Colo. App. 2002).

F. Other Good and Just Cause.

Insubordination does not require a showing that a teacher specifically intended to violate the directions of superiors. Proof of insubordination merely requires intentional conduct. Bd. of Educ. of West Yuma v. Flaming, 938 P.2d 151 (Colo. 1997).

Dismissal for “other good and just cause” was not arbitrary or capricious where teacher exhibited a low frustration tolerance with certain primary age students. Because this resulted in an adverse affect on the teacher’s students, it bore a reasonable relationship to the teacher’s overall fitness to discharge her duties. Bd. of Educ. of West Yuma v. Flaming, 938 P.2d 151 (Colo. 1997).

School board did not err when it dismissed teacher for “other good and just cause” where hearing officer found that teacher knowingly allowed her license to lapse and failed to notify the school administration of that lapse. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Cornish, 58 P.3d 1091 (Colo. App. 2002).

22-63-302. Procedure for dismissal - judicial review. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (11) of this section, a teacher shall be dismissed in the manner prescribed by subsections (2) to (10) of this section.

(2) The chief administrative officer of the employing school district may recommend that the board dismiss a teacher based upon one or more of the grounds stated in section 22-63-301. If such a recommendation is made to the board, the chief administrative officer, within three days after the board meeting at which the recommendation is made, shall mail a written notice of intent to dismiss to the teacher. The notice of intent to dismiss shall include a copy of the reasons for dismissal, a copy of this article, and all exhibits which the chief administrative officer intends to submit in support of his or her prima facie case against the teacher including a list of witnesses to be called by the chief administrative officer, addresses and telephone numbers of the witnesses, and all pertinent documentation in the possession of the chief administrative officer relative to the circumstances surrounding the charges. Additional witnesses and exhibits in support of the chief administrative officer's prima facie case may be added as provided in subsection (6) of this section. The notice and copy of the charges shall be sent by certified mail to said teacher at his or her address last known to the secretary of the board. The notice shall advise the teacher of his or her rights and the procedures under this section.

(3) If a teacher objects to the grounds given for the dismissal, the teacher may file with the chief administrative officer a written notice of objection and a request for a hearing. Such written notice shall be filed within five working days after receipt by the teacher of the notice of dismissal. If the teacher fails to file the written notice within said time, such failure shall be deemed to be a waiver of the right to a hearing and the dismissal shall be final; except that the board of education may grant a hearing upon a determination that the failure to file written notice for a hearing was due to good cause. If the teacher files a written notice of objection, the teacher shall continue to receive regular compensation from the time the board received the dismissal recommendation from the chief administrative officer pursuant to subsection (2) of this section until the board acts on the hearing officer's recommendation pursuant to subsection (9) of this section, but in no event beyond one hundred days; except that the teacher shall not receive regular compensation upon being charged criminally with an offense for which a license, certificate, endorsement, or authorization is required to be denied, annulled, suspended, or revoked due to a conviction, pursuant to section 22-60.5-107 (2.5) or (2.6). If the final disposition of the case does not result in a conviction and the teacher has not been dismissed pursuant to the provisions of this section, the board shall reinstate the teacher, effective as of the date of the final disposition of the case. Within ten days after the reinstatement, the board shall provide the teacher with back pay and lost benefits and shall restore lost service credit.

(4) (a) If the teacher requests a hearing, it shall be conducted before an impartial hearing officer selected jointly by the teacher and the chief administrative officer. The hearing officer shall be selected no later than five working days following the receipt by the chief administrative officer of the teacher's written notice of objection. If the teacher and the chief administrative officer fail to agree on the selection of a hearing officer, they shall request assignment of an administrative law judge by the department of personnel to act as the hearing officer.

(b) Hearing officers shall be impartial individuals with experience in the conducting of hearings and with experience in labor or employment matters.

(c) Expenses of the hearing officer shall be paid from funds of the school district.

(5) (a) Within three working days after selection, the hearing officer shall set the date of the prehearing conference and the date of the hearing, which shall commence within the following thirty days. The hearing officer shall give the teacher and the chief administrative officer written notice of the dates for the prehearing conference and for the hearing including the time and the place therefor.

(b) One of the purposes of the prehearing conference shall be to limit, to the extent possible, the amount of evidence to be presented at the hearing.

(c) The parties and their counsel shall be required to attend the prehearing conference with the hearing officer.

(6) (a) Within ten days after selection of the hearing officer, the teacher shall provide to the chief administrative officer a copy of all exhibits to be presented at the hearing and a list of all witnesses to be called, including the addresses and telephone numbers of the witnesses. Within seven days after the teacher submits his or her exhibits and witness list, the chief administrative officer and the teacher may supplement their exhibits and witness lists. After completion of the seven-day period, additional witnesses and exhibits may not be added except upon a showing of good cause.

(b) Neither party shall be allowed to take depositions of the other party's witnesses or to submit interrogatories to the other party. The affidavit of a witness may be introduced into evidence if such witness is unavailable at the time of the hearing.

(7) (a) Hearings held pursuant to this section shall be open to the public unless either the teacher or the chief administrative officer requests a private hearing before the hearing officer, but no findings of fact or recommendations shall be adopted by the hearing officer in any private hearing. The procedures for the conduct of the hearing shall be informal, and rules of evidence shall not be strictly applied except as necessitated in the opinion of the hearing officer; except that the hearing officer shall comply with the Colorado rules of evidence in excluding hearsay testimony.

(b) The hearing officer may receive or reject evidence and testimony, administer oaths, and, if necessary, subpoena witnesses.

(c) At any hearing, the teacher has the right to appear in person with or without counsel, to be heard and to present testimony of witnesses and all evidence bearing upon his proposed dismissal, and to cross-examine witnesses. By entering an appearance on behalf of the teacher or the chief administrative officer, counsel agrees to be prepared to commence the hearing within the time limitations of this section and to proceed expeditiously once the hearing has begun. All school district records pertaining to the teacher shall be made available for the use of the hearing officer or the teacher.

(d) An audiotaped record shall be made of the hearing, and, if the teacher files an action for review pursuant to the provisions of subsection (10) of this section, the teacher and the school district shall share equally in the cost of transcribing the record; except that, if a party is awarded attorney fees and costs pursuant to paragraph (e) of subsection (10) of this section, that party shall be reimbursed for that party's share of the transcript costs by the party against whom attorney fees and costs were awarded.

(e) Any hearing held pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be completed within six working days after commencement, unless extended by the hearing officer on a showing of good cause, and neither party shall have more than three days to present its case in chief. Neither party may present more than ten witnesses at the hearing, except upon a showing of good cause.

(8) The chief administrative officer shall have the burden of proving that the recommendation for the dismissal of the teacher was for the reasons given in the notice of dismissal and that the dismissal was made in accordance with the provisions of this article. Where unsatisfactory performance is a ground for dismissal, the chief administrative officer shall establish that the teacher had been evaluated pursuant to the written system to evaluate licensed personnel adopted by the school district pursuant to section 22-9-106. The hearing officer shall review the evidence and testimony and make written findings of fact thereon. The hearing officer shall make only one of the two following recommendations: The teacher be dismissed or the teacher be retained. A recommendation to retain a teacher shall not include any conditions on retention. The findings of fact and the recommendation shall be issued by the hearing officer not later than twenty days after the conclusion of the hearing and shall be forwarded to said teacher and to the board.

(9) The board shall review the hearing officer's findings of fact and recommendation, and it shall enter its written order within twenty days after the date of the hearing officer's findings and recommendation. The board shall take one of the three following actions: The teacher be dismissed; the teacher be retained; or the teacher be placed on a one-year probation; but, if the board dismisses the teacher over the hearing officer's recommendation of retention, the board shall make a conclusion, giving its reasons therefor, which must be supported by the hearing officer's findings of fact, and such conclusion and reasons shall be included in its written order. The secretary of the board shall cause a copy of said order to be given immediately to the teacher and a copy to be entered into the teacher's local file.

(10) (a) If the board dismisses the teacher pursuant to the provisions of subsection (9) of this section, the teacher may file an action for review in the court of appeals in accordance with the provisions of this subsection (10), in which action the board shall be made the party defendant. Such action for review shall be heard in an expedited manner and shall be given precedence over all other civil cases, except cases arising under the "Workers' Compensation Act of Colorado", articles 40 to 47 of title 8, C.R.S., and cases arising under the "Colorado Employment Security Act", articles 70 to 82 of title 8, C.R.S.

(b) An action for review shall be commenced by the service of a copy of the petition upon the board of the school district and filing the same with the court of appeals within twenty days after the written order of dismissal made by the board. The petition shall state the grounds upon which the review is sought. After the filing of the action for review in the court of appeals, such action shall be conducted in the manner prescribed by rule 3.1 of the Colorado appellate rules.

(c) The action for review shall be based upon the record before the hearing officer. The court of appeals shall review such record to determine whether the action of the board was arbitrary or capricious or was legally impermissible.

(d) In the action for review, if the court of appeals finds a substantial irregularity or error made during the hearing before the hearing officer, the court may remand the case for further hearing.

(e) Upon request of the teacher, if the teacher is ordered reinstated by the court of appeals, or upon request of the board, if the board's decision to dismiss the teacher is affirmed by the court of appeals, the court of appeals shall determine whether the nonprevailing party's appeal or defense on appeal lacked substantial justification. If the court of appeals determines that the nonprevailing party's appeal or defense on appeal lacked substantial justification, the court of appeals shall determine the amount of and enter a judgment against the nonprevailing party for reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred on appeal to the court of appeals. Any judgment entered pursuant to this paragraph (e) may be subject to stay as provided in rule 41.1 of the Colorado appellate rules.

(f) Further appeal to the supreme court from a determination of the court of appeals may be made only upon a writ of certiorari issued in the discretion of the supreme court. Upon request of the teacher, if the teacher is ordered reinstated by the supreme court, or upon motion of the board, if the board's decision to dismiss is affirmed by the supreme court, the supreme court shall determine whether the nonprevailing party's appeal or defense on appeal to the supreme court lacked substantial justification. If the supreme court determines that the nonprevailing party's appeal or defense on appeal to the supreme court lacked substantial justification, the court shall determine the amount of and enter a judgment against the nonprevailing party for reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred on appeal to the supreme court. Any judgment entered pursuant to this paragraph (f) may be subject to stay as provided in rule 41.1 of the Colorado appellate rules.

(11) (a) The board of a school district may take immediate action to dismiss a teacher, without a hearing, notwithstanding subsections (2) to (10) of this section, pending the final outcome of judicial review or when the time for seeking review has elapsed, when the teacher is convicted, pleads nolo contendere, or receives a deferred sentence for:

(I) A violation of any law of this state or any counterpart municipal law of this state involving unlawful behavior pursuant to any of the following statutory provisions: Sections 18-3-305, 18-6-302, and 18-6-701, C.R.S., or section 18-6-301, C.R.S., or part 4 of article 3, part 4 of article 6, and part 4 of article 7 of title 18, C.R.S.; or

(II) A violation of any law of this state, any municipality of this state, or the United States involving the illegal sale of controlled substances, as defined in section 18-18-102 (5), C.R.S.

(b) A certified copy of the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction of a conviction, the acceptance of a guilty plea, a plea of nolo contendere, or a deferred sentence shall be conclusive evidence for the purposes of this subsection (11).

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Law reviews. For note, "The Right of Teachers Employed in the Colorado Public School System to Notice and Hearing Before Dismissal", see 31 Dicta 341 (1954). For comment on the application of res judicata to agencies with parallel jurisdiction in light of Umberfield v. Sch. Dist. 11, see 52 Den. L.J. 595 (1975).

Annotator's note. Since § 22-63-302 is similar to § 22-63-117 as it existed prior to the 1990 repeal and reenactment of this article, cases construing that provision, as well as cases decided under provisions similar thereto, have been included in the annotations to this section.

Purpose of section. The language of this section, and its history as well, indicates the clear purpose of the general assembly to throw certain safeguards around a teacher of the requisite years of service. The tenure assurances of the legislation were not conceived to prevent assaults from private sources, for no power to hurt is lodged there, but to map out a course of procedure for a school board when addressing itself to charges, whencesoever emanating, against a teacher. Roe v. Hanington, 97 Colo. 113, 47 P.2d 403 (1935).

Teacher tenure act sets up procedural scheme for dismissal of tenured teachers. It provides for a full adversary hearing wherein a teacher, after notice of the charges against him, is given the opportunity to challenge those charges. The teacher has the right to counsel, to present all evidence bearing on the reasons for the proposed dismissal, the right to cross-examine witnesses, and the right to discover and put in evidence any school district records. Umberfield v. Sch. Dist. No. 11, 185 Colo. 165, 522 P.2d 730 (1974).

The proceedings under the teacher tenure act and subsequent judicial review give a tenured teacher contesting his dismissal an opportunity to raise all defenses, judicial, statutory, or constitutional, available to him, before a panel with plenary power to consider and accept or reject such claims. Umberfield v. Sch. Dist. No. 11, 185 Colo. 165, 522 P.2d 730 (1974).

Teacher tenure act does not create any additional substantive rights of academic freedom but merely establishes procedural protections of such rights already implicit in the constitution. Lockhart v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 735 P.2d 913 (Colo. App. 1986).

Procedures prescribed by the teacher tenure act afford a tenured teacher due process of law. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

This section applies only to dismissals, not to nonrenewals of contracts due to decreased enrollment. Howell v. Woodlin Sch. Dist. R-104, 198 Colo. 40, 596 P.2d 56 (1979).

Board vested with power to terminate school district personnel. The power to terminate the employment of school district personnel is expressly vested in each school district's board of education. Blair v. Lovett, 196 Colo. 118, 582 P.2d 668 (1978).

Dismissal of tenure teachers must be for reasons and by procedures specified. Teachers who acquire tenure are guaranteed by law that they cannot be dismissed from their positions as teachers except for certain reasons and in accordance with a statutory provision for notice and hearings. Draper v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 175 Colo. 216, 486 P.2d 1048 (1971).

However much a teacher may have offended, he can only be dismissed in the manner provided by law. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Parker, 82 Colo. 385, 260 P. 521 (1927).

This section provides for notice and hearing prior to the summary discharge of a teacher. Boatright v. Sch. Dist. No. 6, 160 Colo. 163, 415 P.2d 340 (1966).

A teacher under permanent tenure can be dismissed only after the formal hearing set forth in this section. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Parker, 82 Colo. 385, 260 P. 521 (1927); Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Thompson, 121 Colo. 275, 214 P.2d 1020 (1950).

Nowhere does this section say that a teacher's right to a hearing is conditioned upon his ability to pay for it. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

Court was in error in holding that appellant was required to pay any of the costs associated with the dismissal hearing. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

Cost for recording evidence. The only reference to costs contained in this section is to the effect that costs for recording the evidence adduced at the hearing shall be borne by the school district. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

The general assembly did not intend to penalize teachers who exercise their statutory—indeed their constitutional—right to a hearing. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

Injunction does not lie to restrain a school board from discharging a teacher. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Carson, 9 Colo. App. 6, 46 P. 846 (1896).

Mere acceptance for review of charges against teacher is not policy decision under statute forbidding board's making of policy decisions in executive session. Dugan v. Bollman, 31 Colo. App. 261, 502 P.2d 1131 (1972).

Proceedings constitute adequate remedy at law. The proceedings under the teacher tenure act and subsequent judicial review give a tenured teacher contesting his dismissal an opportunity to raise all defenses, judicial, statutory, or constitutional available to him, before a panel with plenary power to consider and accept or reject such claims, and therefore provide an adequate remedy at law which precludes equitable relief. Frankmore v. Bd. of Educ., 41 Colo. App. 416, 589 P.2d 1375 (1978).

When res judicata operates as bar to relitigation. Where a teacher had a full adversary hearing before the teacher tenure panel, which had the power to determine all his claims of religious discrimination, the doctrine of res judicata operates as a bar to the relitigation of issues which the teacher raised or could have raised in the hearing before that panel and on judicial review. To hold otherwise could result in an anomalous situation where the same reviewing court would be compelled to affirm opposite results of the two administrative bodies. Umberfield v. Sch. Dist. No. 11, 185 Colo. 165, 522 P.2d 730 (1974).

Collateral estoppel precludes relitigation of the grounds for terminating a tenured teacher in a hearing for unemployment compensation benefits where a board of education votes to terminate a teacher after a full administrative hearing and finding of facts, even though the board's action is still subject to review. Jefferson County Sch. Dist. v. Indus. Comm'n, 698 P.2d 1350 (Colo. App. 1984).

Although this section grants a great deal of discretion to school boards in deciding whether to renew probationary teachers' contracts, § 22-32-110 (4)(c) creates a limitation on the school board's discretion. Section 22-32-110 (4)(c) prohibits the school board from basing its renewal decision on any actions taken by the probationary teacher in good faith and in compliance with the school district's discipline code. McIntosh v. Bd. of Educ. of Sch. Dist. No. 1, 999 P.2d 224 (Colo. App. 2000).

For prior inapplicability of this section to nontenured teachers, see Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Thompson, 121 Colo. 275, 214 P.2d 1020 (1950).

Applied in Benke v. Neenan, 658 P.2d 860 (Colo. 1983); Indus. Comm'n v. Moffat Cty. Sch. D. Re No. 1, 732 P.2d 616 (Colo. 1987).

II. DISMISSAL PROCEDURES.

A. Preliminary Procedures.

The requirement for notice by certified mail simply to provide proof of service and of the date of service. Because this requirement is not jurisdictional, providing actual notice to the teacher by other means is also proper. Feldewerth v. Joint Sch. Dist. 28-J, 3 P.3d 467 (Colo. App. 1999).

The board of education shall determine whether a teacher's failure to file a request for a hearing is due to good cause. Subsection (3) is clear on this point. The teacher's argument that the hearing officer should determine whether good cause exists is incorrect, because the hearing officer is not appointed until the board of education determines whether to grant the late request for a hearing. Feldewerth v. Joint Sch. Dist. 28-J, 3 P.3d 467 (Colo. App. 1999).

B. Presiding Officer at Hearing.

Annotator's note. Annotations referring to a hearing panel refer to the body which conducted hearings prior to 1979 when the duty was transferred to a hearing officer. The term "hearing officer" was changed in 1987 to "administrative law judge".

The panel hearing provision of this section is constitutional, as the general assembly has not delegated to a special commission the functions of the school district, which is a municipal or quasi-municipal corporation. Nordstrom v. Hansford, 164 Colo. 398, 435 P.2d 397 (1967).

The panel has not been delegated any powers whatsoever; rather, it merely conducts the hearing which is transcribed for the school board which by law is the agency empowered to accept or reject the recommendation of the panel. Nordstrom v. Hansford, 164 Colo. 398, 435 P.2d 397 (1967).

Powers. The teacher tenure panel is granted substantially the same powers and has the same due process responsibilities as other administrative fact finding agencies. Lovett v. Blair, 39 Colo. App. 512, 571 P.2d 731 (1977), aff'd, 196 Colo. 118, 582 P.2d 668 (1978).

The hearing panel alone is empowered to assess credibility, weigh conflicting evidence and draw factual inferences from the testimony and exhibits introduced by the parties. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

Panel may consider denial of statutory and constitutional rights. Although the teacher tenure panel is empowered to recommend only that the teachers be retained or that the teachers be dismissed, in reaching those recommendations it is clear that the panel may consider the denial of statutory and constitutional rights. Otherwise the teacher's right to present all the evidence bearing upon the reasons for his proposed dismissal and the broad judicial review of the school board's action based upon the panel's recommendation would be rendered nugatory. Umberfield v. Sch. Dist. No. 11, 185 Colo. 165, 522 P.2d 730 (1974).

It is not within the authority of the reviewing panel to terminate a teacher's employment. Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Witthaus, 30 Colo. App. 41, 490 P.2d 315 (1971).

The authority to dismiss a teacher rests with the school board by statute, and it may not delegate this power to another body. Nordstrom v. Hansford, 164 Colo. 398, 435 P.2d 397 (1967); Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Witthaus, 30 Colo. App. 41, 490 P.2d 315 (1971).

The sole function of the reviewing panel is to review the evidence presented, make findings and conclusions, and report the same to the school board, so that it may make proper disposition of the particular case. Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Witthaus, 30 Colo. App. 41, 490 P.2d 315 (1971).

The duties of the panel are limited to reviewing the evidence presented, making findings, making a recommendation to retain or dismiss, and reporting the same to the board. Robertson v. Bd. of Educ., 39 Colo. App. 462, 570 P.2d 19 (1977).

In a proceeding for disciplinary action against a tenured teacher, hearing officer did not abuse discretion in denying teacher's motion for discovery and refusing to grant a continuance of the proceedings pending the outcome of criminal action against teacher. Rosenberg v. Bd. of Educ., 677 P.2d 348 (Colo. App. 1983), aff'd, 710 P.2d 1095 (Colo. 1985).

When informed that charges are made, a teacher has the right to request that a review panel be established to hold hearings on the substance of the charges. Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Witthaus, 30 Colo. App. 41, 490 P.2d 315 (1971).

Once a review panel is established, evidence proving the charges must be presented and the teacher must be given an opportunity to rebut and offer evidence in his own behalf. Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Witthaus, 30 Colo. App. 41, 490 P.2d 315 (1971).

It is illegal for the superintendent of schools to appoint a panel member. Nordstrom v. Hansford, 164 Colo. 398, 435 P.2d 397 (1967).

But it does not call for a new panel and hearing where there could be no different result. The member ostensibly representing the board being illegally appointed by the superintendent of schools, his participation in the selection of the third member was tainted with his own disqualification; nevertheless, where there could be no different result, even if a rehearing were granted under a duly constituted panel, it would be a useless and meaningless procedure involving an inordinate waste of time and further delay to remand the action back for further hearing before another panel. Nordstrom v. Hansford, 164 Colo. 398, 435 P.2d 397 (1967).

Panel's ultimate findings of fact not binding on board. Basic evidentiary facts found by the panel are binding on the board if supported by competent evidence in the record, however, any ultimate findings of fact are not binding on the board because it, not the panel, has the power to determine what facts constitute the statutory grounds for dismissal. Blair v. Lovett, 196 Colo. 118, 582 P.2d 668 (1978); Suley v. Bd. of Educ., 633 P.2d 482 (Colo. App. 1981).

Ultimate facts are stated in terms of the statutory standard, and an ultimate finding may be and usually is mixed with ideas of law or policy. The ultimate finding is a conclusion of law or at least a determination of a mixed question of law and fact. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

Subject to judicial review, the board, not the hearing officer, has the power to determine what facts constitute the statutory grounds for dismissal. Ware v. Morgan County Sch. Dist. RE-3, 719 P.2d 351 (Colo. App. 1985).

Findings of basic facts are by panel. The panel's findings of basic, or evidentiary, facts, if supported by competent evidence, are binding on the board of education, and the board may not disregard those findings nor substitute its own findings; if the board determines that the panel's findings are insufficient to enable the board to make its final decision, it must remand the matter for more specific findings by the panel which heard the evidence — it may not simply review the record and issue its own findings. Blair v. Lovett, 196 Colo. 118, 582 P.2d 668 (1978).

The hearing panel alone has "basic" or evidentiary fact-finding authority, and, if supported by competent evidence, these evidentiary findings of fact are binding on the school board.

Hudson v. Bd. of Educ., 655 P.2d 853 (Colo. App. 1982).

The findings of the hearing panel are binding on a board of education if supported by substantial and competent evidence in the record and furnish the sole basis for the board's findings of ultimate facts. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

Finding that evidence insufficient to terminate is one of ultimate fact. A panel finding that the evidence is insufficient to terminate a teacher is a finding of ultimate fact, and thus is not binding on the board. Suley v. Bd. of Educ., 633 P.2d 482 (Colo. App. 1981).

It is immaterial that some hearsay evidence is admitted at the hearing where there is wholly competent evidence more than sufficient to establish the charges, and the teacher himself also introduces hearsay evidence. Fahl v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 116 Colo. 277, 180 P.2d 532 (1947).

Insufficient findings by panel remedied by remand. If a hearing panel's findings of basic fact are insufficiently explicit or detailed to enable a school board to make findings of ultimate fact, the proper remedy is a remand to the panel for more specific findings. A board may not review the record to answer unanswered questions or supply omitted information. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

A nonpublic meeting of the panel to "review the evidence and testimony" which was received at a prior public hearing is not a violation of either § 29-9-101 or this section. Robertson v. Bd. of Educ., 39 Colo. App. 462, 570 P.2d 19 (1977).

Although the panel must adopt its findings and recommendations in an open session, there is no equivalent requirement that the panel's review of the evidence occur at a public meeting. Robertson v. Bd. of Educ., 39 Colo. App. 462, 570 P.2d 19 (1977).

C. Board of Education.

The duties of the school board are to receive the report of the findings and conclusions made by the reviewing panel and then make an independent evaluation of the proper course of action to take, either concurring with or rejecting the panel's recommendations. Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Witthaus, 30 Colo. App. 41, 490 P.2d 315 (1971).

The school board has the sole power to determine what disposition should be made if a finding has been made that grounds exist entitling the board to dismiss the teacher under this section. Lovett v. Blair, 39 Colo. App. 512, 571 P.2d 731 (1977), aff'd, 196 Colo. 118, 582 P.2d 668 (1978).

Board to act on findings of majority of panel. The report of the panel is and must be the report of the majority of the panel, and the findings of the majority of the panel are the findings of the panel that are binding on the board. Cordova v. Lara, 42 Colo. App. 483, 600 P.2d 105 (1979).

Board not to rely on recommendations of school staff. Where members of a school board voted for discharge of a teacher at least partially based on the recommendations of the school staff, consideration of this information was improper. Cordova v. Lara, 42 Colo. App. 483, 600 P.2d 105 (1979). But see Willis v. Widefield Sch. Dist. No. 3, 43 Colo. App. 197, 603 P.2d 962 (1979).

Preliminary inquiry by board. This section contemplates a full and impartial hearing by the panel and review by the board. The board may therefore make such preliminary inquiry as is not inconsistent with its later ability to make an impartial review of the evidence adduced by the panel. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

A board may properly conduct a limited preliminary inquiry to determine if there is any real substance to a charge against a teacher. The formal hearing process can be both time-consuming and costly, and may subject a teacher to great embarrassment. These adverse consequences may be avoided by a measure of pre-hearing familiarity with the case. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

This section authorizes a board of education which has been asked to discipline or dismiss a tenured teacher to conduct a limited preliminary inquiry to determine if there is any real substance to the charges against the teacher. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

Board must do nothing in preliminary inquiry that would serve to remove appearance of fairness from its eventual determination. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

Such as presence of board's attorney. A school board's attorney, who has taken part in the adversary proceedings in the role of prosecutor, should not be present during the board's deliberations. Weissman v. Bd. of Educ., 190 Colo. 414, 547 P.2d 1267 (1976).

School board must consider findings, rather than just conclusions, of appointed panel, for statutory authority to dismiss teacher rests exclusively with board by statute. Dugan v. Bollman, 31 Colo. App. 261, 502 P.2d 1131 (1972).

The board's failure to consider findings would be unlawful delegation of its power to the panel. Dugan v. Bollman, 31 Colo. App. 261, 502 P.2d 1131 (1972).

Board bound by panel's findings of fact. A school board is bound by the findings of evidentiary fact made by the hearing panel if those findings are adequately supported in the record of the panel's proceedings. A board may not usurp the panel's exclusive authority to find evidentiary facts by basing its conclusions of ultimate fact in whole or in part on raw evidence gleaned from its review of the hearing transcript. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

The board of education may not make additional findings of evidentiary fact to supplement the hearing officer's written findings. But, such additional findings constituted harmless error where there were sufficient facts in the hearing officer's findings to support the board's decision to dismiss. Bd. of Educ. of West Yuma v. Flaming, 938 P.2d 151 (Colo. 1997).

If supported by competent evidence. Although a school board may not conduct a full review of the record intended to supplement or supersede the hearing panel's findings of basic fact, it may review the record for the limited purpose of determining whether the panel's basic factual findings are supported by competent evidence. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

While the board may not review the panel's full evidentiary record and make its own findings of fact, it may review the record to ascertain that the panel's findings are supported by the evidence. Suley v. Bd. of Educ., 633 P.2d 482 (Colo. App. 1981).

The board is not bound by the hearing officer's findings of ultimate fact. Ware v. Morgan County Sch. Dist. RE-3, 719 P.2d 351 (Colo. App. 1985).

And, subject to judicial review, the board, not the hearing officer, has the power to determine what facts constitute the statutory grounds for dismissal. Ware v. Morgan County Sch. Dist. RE-3, 719 P.2d 351 (Colo. App. 1985).

Finding ultimate facts is the exclusive prerogative of school boards. Because these boards have the responsibility of implementing and carrying out the educational programs of their respective communities, they must have the case-by-case authority to define the limits of such broad general grounds for dismissal as "incompetency" and "immorality" in the educational context. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981); Bd. of Educ. of West Yuma v. Flaming, 938 P.2d 151 (Colo. 1997).

And, for the same reasons, school boards must have the case-by-case authority to define the limits of the ground of dismissal of "neglect of duty" in the educational context. Blaine v. Moffat County Sch. Dist. Re. No. 1, 709 P.2d 96 (Colo. App. 1985).

Failure of board to make an ultimate finding as to the statutory basis for a teacher's dismissal prevents court from evaluating board's order and, thus, necessitated reversal of lower court decision upholding the dismissal. DeKoevend v. Bd. of Educ., 688 P.2d 219 (Colo. 1984).

Board is to consider only evidence adopted as finding of fact, and may not conduct a full review of the evidence. Thompson v. Bd. of Educ., 668 P.2d 954 (Colo. App. 1983).

Finding that the teacher's action in "tapping" a student on the head with a pointer was not unreasonable and inappropriate physical discipline was a conclusion of ultimate fact that the board was free to set aside. Bd. of Educ. of West Yuma v. Flaming, 938 P.2d 151 (Colo. 1997).

If a school board is unable to reach a decision based upon the "basic" findings of fact in the panel report, the board's proper remedy is to remand that report to the hearing panel for clarification. Hudson v. Bd. of Educ., 655 P.2d 853 (Colo. App. 1982).

Board's findings and decision are entitled to presumption of regularity, although this presumption is rebuttable. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

No independent judgment by the school board was exercised, where the brief cursory report of the reviewing panel merely stated a conclusion that plaintiff's employment should be terminated, the facts, evidence, and findings used to reach such a conclusion were absent, and the board merely gave formal ratification to the panel's recommendations. Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Withaus, 30 Colo. App. 41, 490 P.2d 315 (1971).

Reading of transcript of panel proceedings is not required. Where the panel in its report to board made extensive and detailed findings that specified and condensed four days of testimony, and these findings were explicit and solidly based on substantial evidence as shown by record, and members of school board were thoroughly familiar with findings, as well as conclusions, of panel before making their decision at open meeting, fact that they did not go beyond panel's findings and personally read entire transcript of proceedings before panel is not error and did not constitute delegation of power of dismissal to panel. Dugan v. Bollman, 31 Colo. App. 261, 502 P.2d 1131 (1972).

Grounds for dismissal must be those charged or related thereto. Two of the grounds upon which the board relied for dismissal, that the teacher had a class of problem children which were hard to manage and that the teacher's testimony impugned the financial integrity of the school district, bear no relationship to any of the charges filed, and since at the time of the hearing, she did not know of and was not required to meet any such charges, there was no authority in the law warranting a teacher's discharge on such grounds. Nordstrom v. Hansford, 164 Colo. 398, 435 P.2d 397 (1967).

Board's attorney not allowed to be present after prosecuting case. Where the school board's attorney who had prosecuted petitioner's case before the hearing officer was not only present during the board's deliberations, but also substantially influenced the decision of the board, the teacher is denied due process. Lockhart v. Bd. of Educ., 668 P.2d 959 (Colo. App. 1983), aff'd in part and rev'd in part on other grounds, 687 P.2d 1306 (Colo. 1984).

Board's attorney may make statements to school board when there is no unilateral exclusion of the teacher's attorney from the deliberative process of the board. Mondragon v. Poudre Sch. Dist. R-1, 696 P.2d 831 (Colo. App. 1984).

Presence during the board's deliberative process of school superintendent and principal who had substantial interest in the board's decision regarding dismissal violated teacher's due process right to a fair and impartial determination by the board. DeKoevend v. Bd. of Educ., 688 P.2d 219 (Colo. 1984).

Inclusion of exhibits in record not admitted in disciplinary hearing. Where nothing in the record indicated school board improperly considered the unadmitted exhibits, teacher failed to show prejudice by inclusion of exhibits in the record. Rosenberg v. Bd. of Educ., 677 P.2d 348 (Colo. App. 1983).

Absent gross abuse of discretion by the board, the courts will not interfere with its decisions on teacher dismissals. Ruger v. Knight, 104 Colo. 33, 88 P.2d 118 (1939); Engelbrecht v. Jefferson County Sch. Dist. R-1, 687 P.2d 985 (Colo. App. 1984).

Twenty-day period for filing notice of appeal commences to run when the board enters its final order. Cottman v. Aurora Pub. Sch. Bd. of Educ., 42 P.3d 31 (Colo. App. 2000).

D. Noncompliance.

Noncompliance with statutory procedures nullifies a teacher's dismissal. Where the school board fails to comply with the proper procedural steps in terminating the employment of a teacher plaintiff, its action in terminating the teacher's employment is a nullity. Sch. Dist. No. 26 v. McComb, 18 Colo. 240, 32 P. 424 (1893); Sch. Dist. No. 50 v. Witthaus, 30 Colo. App. 41, 490 P.2d 315 (1971).

Improper procedural steps in terminating teacher entitles the teacher to back salary. A teacher who was discharged by a school board after a hearing not complying with the requirements of this section was entitled to salary for the remainder of the school term for which he was employed, where he was unable to find other employment for the remainder of that term. Sch. Dist. No. 13 v. Mort, 115 Colo. 571, 176 P.2d 984 (1947).

The absence of oath or affirmation by the witnesses does not make a hearing ineffective. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Thompson, 121 Colo. 275, 214 P.2d 1020 (1950).

Order of dismissal valid even where non-compliance with statutory deadline where record indicates good cause for not complying with the time requirement, no prejudice to the teacher, and the order was correct. Engelbrecht v. Jefferson County Sch. Dist. R-1, 687 P.2d 985 (Colo. App. 1984).

Teacher not prejudiced by charges which were too brief. Though the charges against a teacher were too brief as originally filed, the teacher was not prejudiced thereby where the charges were supplemented by an additional communication from the school superintendent and by conferences at which full disclosures were made, and the opportunity was given to inspect the records and files of the school board before the hearing. Fahl v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 116 Colo. 277, 180 P.2d 532 (1947).

Where dismissal proceeding is dismissed by agreement of parties as not complying with this section, it is not "res judicata" in subsequent dismissal proceeding brought by school board pursuant to this section. Dugan v. Bollman, 31 Colo. App. 261, 502 P.2d 1131 (1972).

School board may nullify prior void proceedings by reconsideration in accordance with section. A school board may reconsider its action in dismissing a teacher; and, if the original proceedings were void for failure to give the teacher the requisite notice and hearing, the board may treat them as a nullity, and discharge the teacher after notice and hearing properly held. Snider v. Kit Carson Sch. Dist. R-1, 166 Colo. 180, 442 P.2d 429 (1968).

E. Dismissal.

School patrons may request the removal of a teacher and state grounds for removal to board in writing. Hoover v. Jordon, 27 Colo. App. 515, 150 P. 333 (1915).

The burden of proof is upon those making the charge against a teacher. Nordstrom v. Hansford, 164 Colo. 398, 435 P.2d 397 (1967).

Standard of proof in dismissal actions is preponderance of the evidence. Madril v. Sch. Dist. No. 11, 710 P.2d 1 (Colo. App. 1985).

Where it is alleged that a teacher broke a rule of the board of education, it was first required that there be proof of the school board rule and, secondly, that the teacher deliberately violated a rule of the board. Nordstrom v. Hansford, 164 Colo. 398, 435 P.2d 397 (1967).

A school committee may regulate a teacher's classroom speech if: (1) The regulation is reasonably related to a legitimate pedagogical concern and (2) the school provided the teacher with notice of what conduct was prohibited. A teacher is entitled to notice of what classroom conduct is prohibited, and a school district cannot retaliate against speech that it did not prohibit. Wilder v. Bd. of Educ., 944 P.2d 598 (Colo. App. 1997), aff'd, 960 P.2d 695 (Colo. 1998).

Where teacher was notified of charges against her and she and her counsel were aware of meaning of charges and presented adequate defense in her behalf and there was no evidence that she was prejudiced by absence of additional specifications, charges were adequate to put teacher on notice of evidence to be presented against her and motion for bill of particulars was properly denied. Dugan v. Bollman, 31 Colo. App. 261, 502 P.2d 1131 (1972).

Where there was no suggestion that the hearing actually afforded the teacher was only a "pretended hearing", and no challenge was made to the ultimate finding of the school board that good cause for dismissal did in fact exist, the dismissal after a hearing was lawful. Snider v. Kit Carson Sch. Dist. R-1, 166 Colo. 180, 442 P.2d 429 (1968).

A history of prior disciplinary measures has probative value in deciding whether dismissal for cause is warranted. Robertson v. Bd. of Educ., 39 Colo. App. 462, 570 P.2d 19 (1977).

Use of events occurring prior to first suspension as basis for subsequent dismissal. Where there is no evidence in the record that the suspension of a teacher or his subsequent reinstatement was intended as an adjudication on the merits of any charge against him, or that it was a disciplinary action by the superintendents, events occurring prior to the first suspension can be used as a basis for a subsequent dismissal. Robertson v. Bd. of Educ., 39 Colo. App. 462, 570 P.2d 19 (1977).

Findings sufficient to support dismissal on the ground of insubordination. Thompson v. Bd. of Educ., 668 P.2d 954 (Colo. App. 1983); Lockhart v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 735 P.2d 913 (Colo. App. 1986).

The occurrence of one incident does not substantiate a charge of insubordination or wilful violation of a board rule on which the board relies for its decision. Nordstrom v. Hansford, 164 Colo. 398, 435 P.2d 397 (1967).

Tenured teacher must be paid his or her salary until the board enters an order of dismissal. Harvey v. Jefferson County Sch. Dist. No. R-1, 710 P.2d 1103 (Colo. 1985) (decided under law in effect prior to 1983 amendment).

Because tenure is a vested and substantive right which cannot be impaired by the retrospective application of a statute, 1983 amendments to the act, which limited the accrual of salary during suspension and which were passed prior to the entering of an order on petitioner's dismissal, had no effect on the amount of back pay due petitioner. Lockhart v. Arapahoe County Sch. Dist. No. 6, 735 P.2d 913 (Colo. App. 1986).

III. JUDICIAL REVIEW.

The 1979 amendment of subsection (11) gives the court of appeals original jurisdiction for appellate review of all cases where a school board order in a dismissal proceeding has been entered prior to the effective date of the amendment. Suley v. Bd. of Educ., 633 P.2d 482 (Colo. App. 1981).

The change in the review procedure effected by the 1979 amendment to subsection (11) was procedural, and since there was no expressed intent to delay the effective date of the amendment, it became effective immediately. Suley v. Bd. of Educ., 633 P.2d 482 (Colo. App. 1981).

Court of appeals has original jurisdiction under the teacher tenure act to review the dismissal of a tenured teacher. Talbot v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 700 P.2d 919 (Colo. App. 1984).

General assembly provided for broad judicial review of any order of the board of education under this act. Umbertfield v. Sch. Dist. No. 11, 185 Colo. 165, 522 P.2d 730 (1974).

Judicial review is merely remedy for wrongful state agency action; it is not necessary for a plaintiff to await disposition of such a state action prior to the initiation of an action based upon 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Gilbert v. Sch. Dist. No. 50, 485 F. Supp. 505 (D. Colo. 1980).

Tenured teacher's action for review of his dismissal based upon federal civil rights statutes [42 U.S.C. § 1983] was properly brought in district court and the teacher was not required to exhaust administrative remedies before bringing an action based on the statute. Talbot v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 700 P.2d 919 (Colo. App. 1984).

Record on review. Although a school board's findings of ultimate fact must be sustained if warranted in the record, the record, for purposes of judicial review of those findings, consists solely of the formal findings of basic or evidentiary fact made by the hearing panel and forwarded to the board. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

While a reviewing court may scrutinize the transcript of the hearing before the panel to ascertain whether the panel's findings of basic fact are supported by substantial or competent evidence, it may not review the hearing record to determine whether the board's findings are warranted. Ricci v. Davis, 627 P.2d 1111 (Colo. 1981).

Standard of judicial review. In order for a reviewing court to find that an administrative tribunal has abused its discretion, the record must clearly show such abuse. Rosenberg v. Bd. of Educ., 677 P.2d 348 (Colo. App. 1983).

Denial of motion not final agency action. The denial of the motion to dismiss and motion for bill of particulars by the panel does not constitute final agency action which is subject to judicial review. Lovett v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 33 Colo. App. 434, 523 P.2d 152 (1974).

Where there had been no hearing on the merits of the charge of incompetency nor findings made by the panel and no final action had been taken by the board, to allow judicial review at this state of the proceedings would result in piecemeal review of the tenure act proceedings. Lovett v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 33 Colo. App. 434, 523 P.2d 152 (1974).

No basis for judicial review. Where teacher was discharged from her job by letter and not by order of the board of education, there is no final order within meaning of the statute for the court of appeals to review. Snyder v. Jefferson Cty. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 707 P.2d 1049 (Colo. App. 1985).

Issues never presented to or ruled upon by the hearing officer are not preserved for appellate review. Appellate court will decline to consider issues raised for the first time on appeal. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Cornish, 58 P.3d 1091 (Colo. App. 2002).

Where tenured teacher received actual notice of termination, action for review of the dismissal was barred as untimely where it was not filed within the 45 days during which the teacher was required to seek review pursuant to this section and § 24-4-106 (11). Talbot v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 700 P.2d 919 (Colo. App. 1984).

As reenacted, this section authorizes teachers to appeal only school board decisions of dismissal. This section does not give jurisdiction to the court to consider appeals of school board decisions placing a teacher on probation. Holdridge v. Bd. of Educ., 881 P.2d 448 (Colo. App. 1994).

The court of appeals shall determine in all cases governed by this section whether the board of education's conduct in ordering dismissal of a teacher was arbitrary, capricious, or legally impermissible regardless of whether or not the board's decision is consistent with the hearing officer's recommendation. Adams County Sch. Dist. 50 v. Heimer, 919 P.2d 786 (Colo. 1996); Bd. of Educ. of West Yuma v. Flaming, 938 P.2d 151 (Colo. 1997).

The court of appeals may review the entire record, including the hearing transcript and the hearing officer's findings and recommendation, in order to determine whether the hearing officer's findings were supported by substantial evidence. If that issue is not raised or if the court of appeals is satisfied that the record adequately supports the hearing officer's findings, then the court of appeals must shift its focus to determine if the board's decision is arbitrary, capricious, or legally permissible in light of the hearing officer's finding of fact. Adams County Sch. Dist. 50 v. Heimer, 919 P.2d 786 (Colo. 1996).

Attorney fees awarded to school district pursuant to subsection (10)(e) because teacher's appeal of dismissal "lacked substantial justification". Court applied the meaning of § 13-17-102 (2) and (4) and awarded attorney fees because: (1) Hearing officer found multiple grounds for dismissal; (2) teacher raised several issues for the first time on appeal; and (3) there was no justifiable legal basis to contest the hearing officer's conclusion of neglect of duty and insubordination. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Cornish, 58 P.3d 1091 (Colo. App. 2002).

IV. REMEDIES FOR WRONGFUL DISMISSAL.

If wrongfully dismissed, the teacher's remedy is an action for damages. Sch. Dist. No. 1 v. Carson, 9 Colo. App. 6, 46 P. 846 (1896).

Damages equal to remaining salary under contract. Where a teacher is discharged, without cause shown, as provided by this section, he is entitled to salary for the balance of the term of his contract. Sch. Dist. No. 25 v. Youberg, 77 Colo. 202, 235 P. 351 (1925).

School superintendent may receive damages. Where a school superintendent who is regularly employed, and who is ready, willing, and able to perform his duties, including teaching, but is denied the privilege by his employer, he is entitled to his damages thereby sustained. Cheyenne County High Sch. v. Graves, 87 Colo. 52, 284 P. 1026 (1930).

Damages may be minimized by showing amount teacher earned or could have earned during remaining period of contract. Where the teacher has made out a cause of action for wrongful discharge, which is supported by the evidence, the only thing left for the board of education to do, in order to prevent full recovery by the teacher for the remaining time under the contract, is to diminish the sum by introducing evidence, if it could, showing the teacher had earned other money during that period, or that he had remained idle and made no reasonable effort to find other employment, which facts, if proven, could be used by the board to minimize the loss for which it was liable. Sch. Dist. No. 3 v. Nash, 27 Colo. App. 551, 140 P. 473 (1914).

A school teacher, wrongfully discharged, and securing employment in a different locality, is entitled to an allowance for expenses reasonably incurred in seeking new employment and for an increase in his expenses, occasioned by the removal to the new locality; and he may show such increase in his expenses, without pleading it, but the expense of removing the teacher's family to the new locality cannot be considered unless specially pleaded. Sch. Dist. No. 3 v. Nash, 27 Colo. App. 551, 140 P. 473 (1914).

PART 4

Such salary schedule, salary policy, or combination schedule and policy shall be adopted in conjunction with or prior to the adoption of the budget for the following fiscal year. The schedule, policy, or combination schedule and policy shall remain in effect until changed or modified by the board. All teachers employed by the district shall be subject to such salary schedule, policy, or combination schedule and policy.

(3) The adopted salary schedule, policy, or combination schedule and policy shall not be changed or modified during the school year in a manner so as to reduce the salary of a teacher for such school year; but the reassignment of a teacher with a reduction in salary pursuant to section 22-63-206 (2) or (3) shall not be included within the limitations of this subsection (3).

(4) The salary or compensation of any teacher may be changed for any succeeding school year in accordance with the salary schedule, policy, or combination schedule and policy adopted by the employing board. There shall be no reduction in the salary of any classroom teacher unless there is a general reduction in the salaries of all teachers in the district according to the adopted salary schedule, policy, or combination schedule and policy.

- 22-69-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:
- (a) Teachers are a key component in the academic success of children;
  - (b) To support teachers, school districts should encourage innovative, creative, and high-quality teaching practices, and teachers who follow these practices and who promote excellent student performance should be rewarded;
  - (c) Promoting student performance and achieving teaching excellence is particularly difficult when dealing with the issues related to at-risk students;
  - (d) Consistent with the findings of the P-20 council, the state does not fully fund state mandates nor adequately meet the needs of school districts to attract, retain, and support the high-quality teachers needed to reach Colorado’s educational goals;
  - (e) Alternative teacher compensation plans can serve as a mechanism for rewarding teaching excellence and encouraging creative and innovative approaches to helping Colorado improve the academic performance of all students and meet its education goals that include, but are not limited to, decreasing the dropout rate, closing the achievement gap, and increasing the number of postsecondary degrees and certificates awarded to Colorado students; and
  - (f) Consistent with the recommendations of the P-20 council, the ultimate success of alternative compensation systems will require both significant increases in base pay and sustained, stable, and sufficient financial resources to ensure that meaningful, differentiated pay schedules can be supported over the long term.
- (2) The general assembly therefore declares that providing seed money through a competitive grant program to school districts that seek to develop alternative teacher compensation plans is a concrete way in which the state can further the goals of teaching excellence and high student achievement in the participating school districts.
- (3) The general assembly further finds and declares that, for purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, providing funding for the design and development of alternative teacher compensation plans is specifically included as an authorized use of moneys in the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution. Therefore, this article may be implemented with appropriations from the state education fund.

(III) How the alternative teacher compensation system will help to close the achievement gap; and

(IV) How the alternative teacher compensation system will help to increase students' attainment of postsecondary degrees and certificates.

Legislative declaration. The Colorado general assembly declares that, as a result of several years of active investigation and studies by groups such as the Colorado alliance for science, the Colorado teachers of mathematics, and industry-based groups, the general assembly recognizes that there exist in the state of Colorado unmet educational needs in the areas of mathematics, science, and the use of technology. The state has the responsibility to provide assistance to school districts that either have insufficient faculty resources to offer a full complement of mathematics, science courses, and the use of technology, including opportunities for advanced study, or have insufficient numbers of students to offer such courses. The state has the responsibility to assure that Pre-K-16 students are provided a curriculum of mathematics, science, and the use of technology that is consistent with contemporary standards. The state also has the responsibility to improve teacher training in mathematics, science, and technology. The general assembly further finds that increasing the mathematics, science, and technology educational opportunities for Pre-K-16 students and teachers fosters an educational system whereby the students and teachers of our state can acquire the needed problem-solving skills and the critical and creative thinking skills necessary for productive participation in an increasingly technological age. In order to meet the responsibilities described in this section, and to begin to improve the broader goals of the telecommunications advisory commission recommendations, the general assembly hereby finds that improved access to and use of telecommunications facilities is necessary.

22-81-104. Pre-K-16 mathematics, science, and technology education strategic plan. (1) The department of education and the Colorado commission on higher education, in cooperation and consultation with the telecommunications advisory commission, business, industry, and professionals in the fields of mathematics, science, technology, and engineering, shall develop a plan for improving Pre-K-16 mathematics, science, and technology education in the state of Colorado through the use of telecommunications networks and facilities. The department of education and the Colorado commission on higher education shall use existing resources and personnel to develop the plan and may collaborate with interested parties, including, but not limited to, those described in this subsection (1).

(2) At a minimum, the plan shall provide direction for program development including:

(a) Identification of curricular goals, which goals reflect the systemic change in the mathematics, science, and technology education curriculum so as to be consistent with the contemporary understanding and emerging patterns of content and pedagogy. Such goals shall also reflect current guidelines and standards, such as those defined by the national council of teachers of mathematics, the American association for the advancement of science, and the national science teachers association.

(b) Identification of essential teacher characteristics;

(c) A statement of desired levels of mathematics, science, and technology achievement by students;

(d) A description of recommended courses of action to improve educational programs, practices, and service;

The plan shall include goals for using telecommunications facilities as recommended by the telecommunications advisory commission.

(f) Pre-K-16 teacher training in mathematics, science, and technology; and

(g) Cost estimates.

(3) The plan should provide a framework that enables the teachers, school districts, and institutions of higher education to solve the stated problems as they deem appropriate. The plan should provide mechanisms and incentives to:

(a) Course providers and receivers at the Pre-K-16 and postsecondary levels to design and implement new curricula and to develop new course materials;

(b) Course providers and receivers for leveraging distance learning technologies and applying distance learning instructional design techniques, taking into consideration the work of the telecommunications advisory commission;

(c) Pre-K-16 teachers for taking graduate mathematics, science, and technology courses and degree programs. Such incentives may include a tuition matching program.

(d) Involve appropriate Colorado state agencies, federal agencies, professional organizations, public television stations, and business and industry in the development of the strategic plan; and

(e) Business, industry, and individuals for volunteering their time and community resources.

(4) The plan shall provide a mechanism for incorporating the cost for accomplishing these goals into the ongoing operating budget beginning in 1991.

PART 2

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY EDUCATION CENTERS

Cross references: For the legislative declaration contained in the 2001 act enacting this part 2, see section 1 of chapter 287, Session Laws of Colorado 2001.

22-81-201. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds that one of the greatest challenges facing schools and teachers is determining how to stimulate and engage students so that they actively seek learning experiences, especially in the areas of math and science and technology. The general assembly finds that too few students are interested in pursuing careers in math and science and technology and that this lack of interest has the potential for creating a shortage of persons who are interested in or capable of discovering the answers to the questions of increasing population, decreasing availability of resources, increasing loss of natural habitats, and decreasing effectiveness of antibiotics and other issues that challenge society's future. The general assembly further recognizes the inherent excitement of space exploration and the opportunity it provides for integrating math and science skills and the use of technology into real-life applications and stimulating students' natural curiosity and desire to learn. The general assembly therefore finds that facilitating the creation of opportunities for students to participate in science and technology education activities that center on simulated space exploration activities promotes the best interests of both students and the state.

22-81.5-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that:

(a) The use of information technology and digital electronics has achieved such a high level of pervasiveness in society that any person who is unfamiliar with or lacks knowledge in the use of technological or digital equipment or systems is at a distinct disadvantage both economically and in terms of available career opportunities;

(b) There is a growing likelihood of the creation of a “digital divide”, separating children whose socioeconomic situation limits their access to technological or digital equipment or systems from those children who use such equipment or systems on a regular basis;

(c) Creation of a digital divide may result in further suppressing the ability of children who are economically disadvantaged to improve their status and position in society, compounding and perpetuating the existing cycle of poverty experienced by some persons;

(d) Greater integration of information technology education into the public school curriculum will help combat the growing digital divide and provide technological and digital access for students who do not have access to such technology in their homes;

(e) Greater integration of information technology education into the public school curriculum will work to the benefit of all students, regardless of whether they anticipate going on to postsecondary studies after graduation or immediately embarking on a career;

(f) The field of high technology design, creation, maintenance, and application is one of the fastest growing industries in the United States;

(g) Colorado, due to the high concentration of information technology industry in the state, has experienced and continues to experience a shortage of well-educated, well-prepared persons in the information technology field;

(h) It is therefore appropriate and in the best interests of the students and businesses in Colorado to provide financial incentives to assist public schools in achieving a greater integration of information technology education in the ninth-grade through twelfth-grade curriculum.

(2) It is the intent of the general assembly that, for purposes of this article, any school that provides educational services to students who are placed in an eligible facility or state-operated program and receives a portion of the state average per pupil revenues shall be considered eligible under this article.

Source: L. 2001: Entire article added, p. 834, § 1, effective June 1. L. 2010: (2) amended, (HB 10-1013), ch. 399, p. 1915, § 45, effective June 10.

22-81.5-104. Colorado information technology education grant program - created - rules. (1) There is hereby created the Colorado information technology education grant program to provide moneys to school districts, charter schools, and facility schools to use in integrating information technology education into the public school curriculum for grades nine through twelve. The department shall administer the grant program through the acceptance, review, and recommendation of applications submitted pursuant to section 22-81.5-105. The state board shall select the grant recipients based on the department's recommendations.

(2) Grants awarded through the grant program shall continue for two fiscal years and may be renewed as provided by rule of the state board. Grants awarded through the grant program shall be paid out of any moneys appropriated or credited to the information technology education fund created in section 22-81.5-107. A school district, charter school, or facility school shall use any moneys obtained through the grant program to integrate information technology education into the ninth-grade through twelfth-grade curriculum. In the case of a school district, such integration shall be accomplished in one or more public schools in the district. It is the intent of the general assembly to allow flexibility to school districts, charter schools, and facility schools in determining how to integrate information technology into the curriculum and the degree of integration. The school district, charter school, or facility school may contract with one or more private entities for assistance in integrating information technology education into the curriculum. In addition, school districts, charter schools, and facility schools are encouraged to partner with businesses for assistance in integrating information technology education into the curriculum.

(3) The state board shall adopt rules for the administration and implementation of the grant program as provided in this article. The first grants shall be awarded through the grant program for the 2002-03 academic year, so long as moneys are appropriated to the information technology education fund for implementation of the grant program. Grants shall be awarded annually thereafter, based on available appropriations.

(b) The current level of information technology education integration at the charter school, facility school, or recipient schools;

(c) The school district's, charter school's, or facility school's plan for integrating information technology education into the ninth-grade through twelfth-grade curriculum, including any specific method or program to be used, and any entities with whom the school district, charter school, or facility school plans to contract or cooperate in achieving the integration;

(f) Any other information that may be specified by rule of the state board.

(2) In recommending and awarding grants through the program, the department and the state board shall consider the following criteria:

(a) The degree to which information technology education is already integrated into the curriculum of the applying school district, charter school, or facility school to ensure that those school districts, charter schools, and facility schools with the least degree of integration receive the grants first;

(b) The degree to which the applying school district's, charter school's, or facility school's proposed plan for using the grant moneys will result in integration of information technology education into the curriculum and the scope of the information technology education to be integrated;

(c) Any other financial resources available to the applying school district, charter school, or facility school for integrating information technology education into the curriculum;

(d) The degree to which the applying school district, charter school, facility school, or proposed recipient school is cooperating or partnering with businesses to improve the availability and integration of information technology education in the curriculum. The department and the state board shall apply this criteria with the goal of encouraging such partnerships.

(e) The validity, clarity, and measurability of the goals established by the applying school district, charter school, or facility school and the validity of the proposed methods for measuring achievement of the goals;

(f) Any other criteria established by rule of the state board to ensure that grants are awarded to school districts, charter schools, and facility schools that demonstrate the greatest need and the most valid, effective plan for integrating information technology education into the curriculum.

(3) In awarding grants through the grant program, the state board shall ensure, to the extent possible, that the grants are awarded to school districts, charter schools, and facility schools in all areas of the state.

(4) If a facility school receives one or more grants pursuant to this section and the facility school subsequently ceases operations, any hardware or software purchased using the grant moneys received shall revert to the school district in which the facility school was located.

(5) Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit or otherwise affect any school district's ability to enter into an agreement with or receive funds from any private entity.

The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not revert or be credited or transferred to the general fund nor be transferred to any other fund. Any interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited to the general fund.

(2) The department shall seek and apply for any available grant moneys for implementation of the grant program. 22-82.6-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(a) It is in the best interests of Colorado's children, farmers, ranchers, food processors, manufacturers, and communities to develop a more robust and self-sustaining agricultural sector that promotes healthy foods at schools and to encourage regulated child care programs to increase their use of local farm and ranch products in their food service programs, especially the school meal programs, in order to improve child nutrition and strengthen local and regional agricultural economies;

(b) Because a child can receive up to fifty-five percent of his or her daily nutritional requirements from school breakfast and lunch programs, it is important to encourage children to eat a healthy diet of fresh foods at school;

(c) While children receiving inadequate nutrition are at risk of lower achievement in school, research shows an improvement in student behavior, academic performance, and health scores when nutrition is improved; and

(d) Therefore, in order to encourage healthy and lifelong habits of eating fresh, minimally processed, and nutritious local foods as well as to foster relationships among farmers and school children, school personnel, and other adults in the Colorado community and to promote the sale of agricultural products produced in the state, it is in the best interests of the state to develop a farm-to-school program.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that a successful statewide farm-to-school program will require the creation of an interagency farm-to-school coordination task force with resources, expertise, and collaboration of a variety of state agencies, including the department of education, the department of agriculture, the department of public health and environment, and school districts.

Plan for Improving Achievement

22-83-102.	Pre-K through 12 and post-secondary mathematics, science, and technology education improvement plan.		technology education improvement plan fund - creation.

22-83-101. Legislative declaration. The general assembly finds that state programs instituting comprehensive statewide systemic initiatives designed to broaden the impact, accelerate the pace, and increase the effectiveness of and achieve significant improvements in science, mathematics, and technology education in pre-K through 12 and postsecondary levels are essential to student improvement and achievement in the 1990’s and beyond. The general assembly further finds that a statewide structure for systemic change in pre-K through 12 and postsecondary mathematics, science, and technology education should be designed which takes full advantage of the unique opportunities available in Colorado including, but not limited to, a decentralized educational system that supports creative reform initiatives beginning in the classroom, a concentration of expertise in the space sciences and technological fields, and a plan for improving such education through the use of a statewide comprehensive telecommunications system under the “Pre-K-16 Mathematics, Science, and Technology Improvement Act of 1990”, article 81 of this title. The general assembly finds that the Colorado mathematics-science-technology commission appointed by the governor intends to facilitate and assist with developing plans for the restructuring of mathematics, science, and technology programs in pre-K through 12 and postsecondary education. The general assembly finds that the goals of such structure for systemic change should be to increase the knowledge of science and mathematics acquired by all students at all grade and ability levels, to afford every student the maximum opportunity to acquire the habits of mind and critical thinking skills that characterize the effective use of mathematics and science essential for engineering and technology, to assure the emergence of Colorado as the national leader in student achievement and participation in science, mathematics, and technology, particularly by those groups which are traditionally underrepresented, and to participate actively in achieving the president's and the nation's governors' goal of making American students the first in the world in mathematics and science achievement by the year 2000.

(f) The proposed development of a network of unique schools to develop and refine systemic change in mathematics, science, and technology education with an ultimate purpose of increasing the effectiveness for children;

(g) Long-term commitments to action specifically describing the commitment made by the officers, offices, agencies, groups, and systems making up the statewide partnership;

(h) The past and planned efforts made to increase public awareness and understanding of the urgent need to support improvements in mathematics, science, and technology education;

Source: L. 2003: Entire article added, p. 2475, § 31, effective August 15.

22-87-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Use of the internet in the public schools of the state provides an extraordinary, unique, and unparalleled educational resource;

(b) Reasonable measures must be adopted and implemented to protect the children who use internet services in public schools from access to material that is harmful to their beneficial development as responsible adults and citizens.

(2) It is the intent of the general assembly by enacting this article that public schools be required to adopt and enforce reasonable policies of internet safety that will protect children from access to harmful material without compromising either the use of the internet as an educational resource or responsible adult use of internet services in such schools.

(3) The general assembly favors the adoption by public libraries across the state of policies for children's internet protection that mirror the policies for public schools required to be adopted pursuant to the provisions of this article. Recognizing that limited state resources as of August 15, 2003, preclude an appropriation to expand the requirements of this article to include public libraries, the general assembly urges public libraries to, and hopes such libraries will, adopt the policies specified in this article on their own initiative.

- 22-91-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:
- (a) A student's level of education attainment will directly influence the student's level of achievement and success throughout the rest of his or her life;
- (b) The national center for education statistics reports that, in comparing employment rates and levels of education attainment across the country, in 2005, the unemployment rate for persons who dropped out of high school was seven and six-tenths percent, compared to an overall average unemployment rate for all education levels of four percent. The unemployment rate for persons who graduated from high school and attained an associates degree was three and three-tenths percent, and the unemployment rate dropped to two and three-tenths percent for persons who attained a bachelor's degree.
- (c) The Colorado department of education reports that the graduation rate for Colorado school districts in the spring of 2006 was seventy-four and one-tenth percent;
- (d) In 2003, approximately forty-nine percent of the students who graduated from a Colorado public high school enrolled in a public institution of higher education in Colorado;
- (e) As recently as 2006, statistics showed that there is a forty percent probability that a student who is enrolled in ninth grade in Colorado will be enrolled in postsecondary education when the student is nineteen years of age, and thirty-four percent of the persons in Colorado who are eighteen to twenty-four years of age are enrolled in postsecondary education;

(f) Studies show that school counseling and postsecondary preparation can have a significant effect on students in assisting them to begin as early as seventh or eighth grade to identify their post-graduation goals and to begin planning to achieve them. This is especially true for African-American and Hispanic students, low-income students, and students whose parents have no direct experience with postsecondary education.

(g) Studies further show that strategic partnerships among school counselors, properly trained administrators, teachers, and community-based postsecondary service providers result in improved attendance, improved academic performance, and increased postsecondary success for students from low-income families and students whose parents have no direct experience with postsecondary education;

(h) Studies also show that a significant factor in assisting a student to remain in school and to graduate is the creation of a strong personal relationship with at least one adult in the school, and in many cases that adult is a school counselor;

(i) Professional school counselors are trained to provide comprehensive programs that facilitate the development of the whole child in the areas of academic, career, and personal and social needs;

(j) For the 2006-07 school year, the student-to-counselor ratio in Colorado public schools was approximately five hundred to one, which is double the ratio recommended by the American school counselors association as an average statewide ratio; and

(k) Reducing the student-to-counselor ratio in Colorado's public secondary schools is a positive move toward achieving the goals of closing the achievement gap, decreasing the dropout rate, and increasing the number of students who matriculate into postsecondary education without the need for remediation.

(2) The general assembly concludes, therefore, that it is in the best interests of the students in the state to encourage and support school districts, boards of cooperative services, and charter schools in increasing the number of school counselors available in middle, junior high, and high schools and in improving the level of school counseling services provided to students by enacting the school counselor corps grant program.

22-91-103. School counselor corps grant program - created - rules. (1) There is hereby created in the department the school counselor corps grant program to provide funding to education providers to increase the availability of effective school-based counseling within secondary schools with the goal of increasing the graduation rate within the state and increasing the percentage of students who appropriately prepare for, apply to, and continue into postsecondary education. An education provider that receives a grant under the program shall use the moneys to increase the level of funding the education provider allocated to school-based counseling prior to receiving the grant and not to replace other funding sources allocated to school-based counseling. The department shall administer the program as provided in this article and pursuant to rules adopted by the state board.

(2) The state board shall adopt rules, pursuant to the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., for implementation of the program, including but not limited to rules regarding:

- (c) Any criteria for awarding grants in addition to those specified in section 22-91-104 (3); and 22-91-104. School counselor corps grant program - application - criteria - grant awards. (1) An education provider that seeks a grant from the program shall submit an application to the department in accordance with the rules adopted by the state board. The department shall review each application received from an education provider and make recommendations to the state board concerning whether a grant should be awarded to the education provider and the recommended amount of the grant. If the department determines an application is missing any information required by rule to be included with the application, the department may contact the education provider to obtain the missing information.

(2) At a minimum, each grant application shall specify:

- (a) The intended recipient secondary schools, the number of secondary school counselors employed by the education provider prior to receipt of a grant, and the ratio of students to school counselors in the secondary schools operated by or receiving services from the education provider;
- (b) Whether the education provider has adopted standards for school counselor responsibilities, as recommended by a national association of school counselors;
- (c) Whether the education provider has entered into, or has committed to establishing, one or more partnerships with institutions of higher education or postsecondary service providers in Colorado to support and increase the capacity and effectiveness of the counseling and postsecondary preparation services provided to secondary school students enrolled in or receiving educational services from the education provider;
- (d) The education provider's plan for use of the grant moneys, including the extent to which the grant moneys will be used to increase the number of school counselors at recipient secondary schools and to provide professional development for school counselors and professional development to enable other faculty members to provide counseling and postsecondary preparation services at recipient secondary schools;
- (e) The education provider's plan for involving leaders at the recipient secondary schools and in the surrounding community and the faculty at recipient secondary schools in increasing the capacity and effectiveness of the counseling and postsecondary preparation services provided to secondary school students enrolled in or receiving educational services from the education provider;
- (f) The extent to which the education provider has developed or plans to develop partnerships to serve the postsecondary needs of all of the secondary students enrolled in or receiving educational services from the education provider;

(g) The education provider's use of district-level, or school-level if the education provider is a charter school, needs assessments that identify challenging issues in the district or school in terms of student learning and success and identification of any programs initiated or services provided by the education provider to secondary students that have helped to increase graduation rates and the level of postsecondary success among graduates;

(h) The attendance, grade-retention and promotion, and grading policies implemented by the education provider;

(i) Whether the education provider intends to provide matching funds to augment any grant moneys received from the program and the anticipated amount and source of any matching funds; and

(j) The education provider's plan for continuing to fund the increases in school counseling services following expiration of the grant.

(3) In reviewing applications and making recommendations, the department shall apply the following criteria in addition to any other criteria adopted by rule of the state board:

(a) The dropout rate at the intended recipient secondary school or schools and, if the education provider is a school district, at all of the secondary schools within the school district. The department and the state board shall give priority to education providers that intend to use the grant moneys to assist secondary schools at which the dropout rate exceeds the statewide average.

(b) The percentage of students enrolled in the intended recipient secondary school or schools who are eligible for free or reduced-cost lunch. The department and the state board shall give priority to education providers that identify intended recipient secondary schools with a high percentage of said students.

(c) The percentage of students enrolled in the intended recipient secondary school or schools and, if the education provider is a school district, in the school district, who graduate and enroll in postsecondary education within two years after graduating from high school;

(d) Whether the education provider has adopted, or has demonstrated a commitment to adopting, standards for school counselor responsibilities, as recommended by a national association of school counselors; and

(e) The likelihood that the education provider will continue to fund the increases in the level of school counseling services following expiration of the grant.

(4) The department and the state board shall consult with experts in the area of school counseling, including but not limited to school counselors, persons who provide education and professional development in the areas of school counseling and career counseling, and higher education admissions officers, in establishing any additional criteria for awarding grants and in reviewing applications and selecting grant recipients.

(5) Subject to available appropriations, the state board shall award grants to applying education providers pursuant to this section. The state board shall base the grant awards on the department's recommendations. Each grant shall have a term of three years beginning in the 2008-09 budget year. In making the award, the state board shall specify the amount of each grant.

(6) The department may expend no more than three percent of the moneys annually appropriated for the program to offset the costs incurred in implementing the program.

(7) The department shall seek and may accept public or private gifts, grants, or donations to assist in funding the program.

(8) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that, for purposes of section 17 of article IX of the state constitution, awarding grants to education providers to use in increasing the availability of school counselors and the level of school counseling services provided in secondary schools and to thereby increase the graduation and matriculation rates and decrease the need for remediation in postsecondary education is an important element of accountable education reform and may therefore receive funding from the state education fund created in section 17 (4) of article IX of the state constitution.

(a) Colorado's school districts face a perennial struggle with tight budgets, and their financial difficulties are worsened by volatile energy prices that often lead to high utility bills;

(b) A small but growing number of school districts have responded to these difficulties by beginning to produce their own energy with renewable energy sources;

(c) By producing their own energy with renewable energy sources, some school districts have reduced their energy costs while promoting energy independence and environmental responsibility and have provided students with an opportunity to understand this burgeoning technology; and

(d) Some school districts have also reduced their energy costs by improving the efficiency of their existing energy sources.

(2) The general assembly further finds that section 3 of article IX of the state constitution authorizes the general assembly to adopt laws establishing the terms and conditions upon which the state treasurer may make loans to school districts in order to assist public schools in providing necessary buildings, land, and equipment.

(3) Now, therefore, the general assembly determines and declares that it would serve the best interests of Colorado schools for the state to make available loans to support the efforts of school districts that choose to undertake renewable energy projects or energy-efficient bus projects. Furthermore, to ensure that the best interests of Colorado schools are being served, the legislative service agencies of the general assembly shall conduct a post-enactment review of this act and report their conclusions to the education committees of the house of representatives and senate, or any successor committees. The review shall include consideration of the following information:

(a) The name and location of each qualified school district that has applied for a loan from the loan program;

(b) The number of loans that have been awarded to qualified school districts from the loan program;

(c) The name and location of each qualified school district that has been awarded a loan from the loan program;

(d) The amount of each loan that is awarded to a qualified school district from the loan program;

(e) The terms of repayment for each loan that is awarded to a qualified school district from the loan program;

(f) The rate of interest that is being charged on each loan that is awarded to a qualified school district from the loan program; and

(g) Any other information that the legislative service agencies determine may be helpful to the education committees of the house of representatives and senate, or any successor committees, in evaluating the effectiveness of the loan program.

22-92-104. Renewable energy and energy efficiency for schools loan program - created - applications - permissible uses of loans. (1) There is hereby created the renewable energy and energy efficiency for schools loan program to fund renewable energy projects and energy-efficient bus projects at qualified school districts. A qualified school district may, with the written authorization of the school district board of education, apply to the Colorado energy office, in accordance with procedures and deadlines established by rules promulgated by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-92-105, to receive moneys through the loan program. The office shall administer the loan program as provided in this article and pursuant to the policies adopted by the office.

(2) If a qualified school district applies for a loan from the loan program pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, and the state treasurer authorizes a loan for the school district pursuant to section 22-92-107, the school district shall not accept the loan unless the school district has first determined what financing terms are available to it from at least two banks.

(b) A qualified school district that receives a loan through the loan program for a renewable energy project may use the moneys received to finance the acquisition of a renewable energy project.

(4) A qualified school district that applies for a loan through the loan program for a renewable energy project shall contact its local electrical utility and allow the utility, at the utility's discretion, to place a representative of the utility on the school district's renewable energy project team.

(5) A qualified school district may apply for a loan from the loan program for a renewable energy project or an energy-efficient bus project that is located at a charter school of the school district.

22-92-105. Renewable energy and energy efficiency for schools loan program - rules - awarding loans. (1) On or before October 15, 2009, the state board of education, in consultation with the Colorado energy office, shall promulgate rules establishing policies and procedures for the administration of the renewable energy and energy efficiency for schools loan program. At a minimum, the rules shall include:

(a) Policies specifying the procedures by which a qualified school district may apply for a loan, the form of the loan application, the information to be provided by an applicant, and the criteria used by the office for awarding and denying loans;

(b) The requirements that the office shall require of loan applicants, which requirements shall include, but need not be limited to a requirement that a loan applicant submit with its application:

(I) An energy rating for the facility for which the loan is intended that demonstrates that the facility qualifies for the federal energy star label, which rating has been issued as a result of an audit performed by a qualified energy efficiency auditor; or

(II) An energy efficiency plan that is created in consultation with the office, which plan includes:

(A) Cost-effective energy-saving measures and programs that the applicant will implement; and

(B) Actions that the applicant will take to implement, monitor, review, and revise the plan.

(2) (a) The Colorado energy office shall review each loan application received from a qualified school district pursuant to section 22-92-104 (1), evaluate the renewable energy project or energy-efficient bus project described therein, and make a recommendation to the state treasurer as to whether to award the loan and the amount of the loan. If the office determines an application is missing any information required by the office's policy to be included with the application, the office may contact the applicant to obtain the missing information.

(b) In reviewing loan applications for renewable energy projects and energy-efficient bus projects pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), the Colorado energy office shall consider, at a minimum, whether a qualified school district would reduce its energy costs by the implementation of the renewable energy project or energy-efficient bus project that is the subject of each loan application.

(3) The state treasurer is authorized to require each qualified school district that receives a loan from the loan program to pay to the Colorado energy office a fee that reflects the direct and indirect costs incurred by the state treasurer in administering loans pursuant to section 22-92-107. If the state treasurer elects to impose a fee pursuant to this subsection (3), he or she shall notify the Colorado energy office and the state board of education of the decision to impose the fee. 22-92-107. Loans from public school fund authorized. (1) As authorized under the provisions of section 3 of article IX of the state constitution, the state treasurer may make loans to school districts to assist them in providing necessary buildings, land, and equipment, including renewable energy projects and energy-efficient bus projects as described in this article. Loans made pursuant to this article shall not be subject to the provisions of section 24-36-113, C.R.S., that require the state treasurer to secure the maximum rate of interest on investments of state moneys. The procedures for the making of loans shall be determined by the state treasurer subject to the following:

(a) No loan shall be authorized for any renewable energy project or energy-efficient bus project that has not been evaluated by the Colorado energy office pursuant to section 22-92-105 (2) (a).

(b) No loan shall be authorized in an amount exceeding the amount recommended by the Colorado energy office pursuant to section 22-92-105 (2) (a) unless the Colorado energy office approves the change in the loan amount.

(c) No loan shall be authorized unless the method for repayment of the loan is specified in the application.

(2) (a) Subject to the limitations described in this section, the state treasurer shall determine the amount of the permanent school fund that may be loaned out pursuant to this section, which qualified school districts shall receive loans, the amount of each loan, the terms of repayment of each loan, and the rate of interest to be charged on loans. The average rate of interest charged on loans made in any calendar year must exceed the average book yield earned by the fund in the most recently completed quarter. Payments of the principal of and interest on all loans shall be returned to the public school fund.

(3) The general assembly shall appropriate money from the general fund to restore moneys to the public school fund, together with interest, that are lost by reason of the failure of any school district to repay a loan made pursuant to this section.

(4) Administrative costs that will be incurred by a qualified school district as a result of the renewable energy project or energy-efficient bus project that is the basis for the loan may be included in the amount of the loan.

23-1-106.3. Duties and powers of the commission - capital construction projects - federal mineral lease revenues fund - higher education institutions lease-purchase cash fund. (1) (a) As soon as possible after May 12, 2008, the commission, after consultation with the appropriate governing boards of state-supported institutions of higher education, shall submit to the office of state planning and budgeting and to the capital development committee of the general assembly, established pursuant to section 2-3-1302, C.R.S., a prioritized list of capital construction projects at the state-supported institutions of higher education to be constructed using lease-purchase agreements funded through the higher education federal mineral lease revenues fund established pursuant to section 23-19-9-102 (1) and referred to in this section as the "revenues fund". As soon as possible after receipt of the list from the commission, the office of state planning and budgeting shall submit to the capital development committee a prioritized list of capital construction projects at state-supported institutions of higher education to be constructed using lease-purchase agreements funded through the revenues fund.

(b) (I) As soon as possible after receipt of the prioritized list from the office of state planning and budgeting, the capital development committee shall review the prioritized lists submitted by the commission and the office of state planning and budgeting and shall submit to the joint budget committee of the general assembly a prioritized list of capital construction projects at state-supported institutions of higher education to be constructed using lease-purchase agreements funded through the revenues fund.

(II) As soon as possible after receipt of the prioritized list from the capital development committee, the joint budget committee shall review the prioritized list submitted by the capital development committee and shall sponsor a joint resolution specifying a prioritized list of capital construction projects at state-supported institutions of higher education to be constructed using lease-purchase agreements funded through the revenues fund. The resolution shall contain a listing of the maximum amount of principal to be raised through lease-purchase agreements to be paid from the revenues fund, the minimum amount of principal to be contributed by the institution, and the total anticipated cost of the project.

(III) If approved by the general assembly, the joint resolution shall be presented to the governor in accordance with section 39 of article V of the state constitution.

(IV) The anticipated annual state-funded payments for the principal and interest components of amount payable under all lease-purchase agreements on the projects listed in the joint resolution adopted and approved pursuant to this paragraph (b) entered into during the fiscal year commencing July 1, 2008, shall not exceed an average of sixteen million two hundred thousand dollars per year for the first ten years of payments and sixteen million eight hundred thousand dollars per year during the second ten years of payments.

(V) To the extent that any projects on the prioritized list contained in the joint resolution introduced and approved pursuant to this subsection (1) are not the subject of lease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to subsection (3) of this section and to the extent that the state treasurer determines that there is sufficient money in the revenues fund to enter into an additional lease-purchase agreement or agreements during the fiscal year commencing July 1, 2009, the remaining projects on the prioritized list in the joint resolution shall be the prioritized list for lease-purchase agreements entered into during the fiscal year commencing July 1, 2009.

(2) (a) On or before August 15, 2009, and on or before August 15 each year thereafter, the state treasurer shall notify the commission, the office of state planning and budgeting, the capital development committee, and the joint budget committee of the amount of money in the revenues fund and whether the treasurer determines that there are sufficient moneys in the revenues fund to enter into additional lease-purchase agreements to be funded from the revenues fund.

(b) After the notification required by paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) is received, and the treasurer has determined that there are sufficient moneys in the revenues fund to enter into additional lease-purchase agreements, the commission, the office of state planning and budgeting, the capital development committee, and the joint budget committee, pursuant to the procedures established in subsection (1) of this section, may promptly consider a new prioritized list of capital construction projects at state-supported institutions of higher education to be constructed using lease-purchase agreements funded through the revenues fund. A joint resolution introduced pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall also include a statement of the maximum average anticipated state-funded payments under all lease-purchase agreements to be authorized through the joint resolution.

(3) (a) (I) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 24-82-102 (1) (b) and 24-82-801, C.R.S., the state of Colorado, acting by and through the state treasurer, is authorized to execute lease-purchase agreements each for no more than twenty years of annual payments on the projects listed in the joint resolution adopted and approved pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section or paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section. The lease-purchase agreements authorized pursuant to this paragraph (a) may be for the total amount of the project cost as reflected in the joint resolution. A state-supported institution of higher education may either contribute the full amount of its share of the cost of the project at the commencement of the project or may have its share of the cost of the project included in the lease-purchase agreement. Based upon the total amount of money that one or more lease-purchase agreements is able to raise, the treasurer shall enter into lease-purchase agreements in the order of the prioritized list contained in the joint resolution; except that, if, after funding all previous projects on the list, the amount of money is insufficient to fund the entire project that is next on the list, the treasurer may enter into a lease-purchase agreement on the next project or projects on the list that may be completely funded.

(II) The state treasurer shall ensure that each state-supported institution of higher education submits a certificate of completion no later than August 1, 2012, for each project funded in whole or in part by the lease-purchase agreement entered into by the state treasurer in 2008 pursuant to this section. After such certificates of completion are received by the state treasurer, the state treasurer and the state controller shall calculate the amount of unspent proceeds raised through the 2008 lease-purchase agreement. The state treasurer and the state controller shall also calculate the amount of the unspent institutional shares of the total project costs. The state treasurer and state controller shall provide these amounts to the capital development committee in writing no later than August 15, 2012. No later than thirty days after receiving such amounts, the capital development committee shall hold a public meeting during the interim between the second regular session of the sixty-eighth general assembly and the first regular session of the sixty-ninth general assembly to decide, by majority vote, what the unspent proceeds raised through the 2008 lease-purchase agreement and the unspent institutional shares of the total project costs should be used to fund. The capital development committee's decision shall be limited to funding capital construction projects at state-supported institutions of higher education or, so long as such projects are identified as eligible by bond counsel, controlled maintenance projects at state-supported institutions of higher education. The capital development committee shall communicate the decision to the state treasurer in writing, and the state treasurer shall ensure that the approved project or projects are funded from the unspent proceeds raised through the 2008 lease-purchase agreement and the unspent institutional shares of the total project costs as soon as possible.

(b) (I) The state of Colorado, acting by and through the state treasurer, at the state treasurer's sole discretion, may enter into one or more lease-purchase agreements authorized by paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) with any for-profit or nonprofit corporation, trust, or commercial bank as a trustee, as lessor, including but not limited to the Colorado educational and cultural facilities authority created pursuant to section 23-15-104.

(II) (A) Any lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) shall provide that all of the obligations of the state under the agreement shall be subject to the action of the general assembly in annually making moneys available for all payments thereunder. Payments under any lease-purchase agreement shall be made from the revenues fund and any money in the higher education institutions lease-purchase cash fund established in subsection (4) of this section.

(B) Each agreement shall also provide that the obligations of the state shall not be deemed or construed as creating an indebtedness of the state within the meaning of any provision of the state constitution or the laws of the state of Colorado concerning or limiting the creation of indebtedness by the state of Colorado and shall not constitute a multiple fiscal-year direct or indirect debt or other financial obligation of the state within the meaning of section 20 (4) of article X of the state constitution. In the event the state of Colorado does not renew a lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3), the sole security available to the lessor shall be the property that is the subject of the nonrenewed lease-purchase agreement.

(III) Any lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) may contain such terms, provisions, and conditions as the state treasurer, acting on behalf of the state of Colorado, may deem appropriate, including all optional terms; except that each lease-purchase agreement shall specifically authorize the state of Colorado or the governing board of the applicable state-supported institution of higher education to receive fee title to all real and personal property that is the subject of the lease-purchase agreement on or prior to the expiration of the terms of the agreement. Any title to such property received by the state on or prior to the expiration of the terms of the lease-purchase agreement shall be held for the benefit and use of such governing board.

(IV) Any lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) may provide for the issuance, distribution, and sale of instruments evidencing rights to receive rentals and other payments made and to be made under the lease-purchase agreement. The instruments may be issued, distributed, or sold only by the lessor or any person designated by the lessor and not by the state. The instruments shall not create a relationship between the purchasers of the instruments and the state or create any obligation on the part of the state to the purchasers. The instruments shall not be notes, bonds, or any other evidence of indebtedness of the state within the meaning of any provision of the state constitution or the law of the state concerning or limiting the creation of indebtedness of the state and shall not constitute a multiple fiscal-year direct or indirect debt or other financial obligation of the state within the meaning of section 20 (4) of article X of the state constitution.

(V) Interest paid under a lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3), including interest represented by the instruments, shall be exempt from Colorado income tax.

(VI) The state of Colorado, acting through the state treasurer and the governing board of the institutions of higher education, is authorized to enter into ancillary agreements and instruments as are deemed necessary or appropriate in connection with a lease-purchase agreement, including but not limited to deeds, ground leases, sub-leases, easements, or other instruments relating to the real property on which the facilities are located or an agreement entered into pursuant to subsection (5) of this section.

(c) The provisions of section 24-30-202 (5) (b), C.R.S., shall not apply to a lease-purchase agreement authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) or any ancillary agreement or instrument entered into pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (3). The state controller or his or her designee shall waive any provision of the fiscal rules promulgated pursuant to section 24-30-202 (1) and (13), C.R.S., that the state controller deems to be incompatible or inapplicable with respect to said lease-purchase agreements or any such ancillary agreement or instrument.

(4) (a) A local government or the governing board of a state-supported institution of higher education may pay to the state treasurer an amount to assist the state in making payments on any lease-purchase agreement entered into pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section. State-supported institutions of higher education, including but not limited to the Auraria higher education center and its constituent institutions, are authorized to transfer moneys to the state treasurer pursuant to this subsection (4) for the projects for which the state treasurer executes a lease-purchase agreement pursuant to subsection (3) of this section without an appropriation from the general assembly. The state treasurer shall credit any moneys received pursuant to this subsection (4) to the higher education institutions lease-purchase cash fund, referred to in this subsection (4) as the "fund", which fund is hereby created in the state treasury. Except as provided in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section, moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to the state treasurer to make payments on lease-purchase agreements executed pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section. Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of this section shall be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (4), any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or another fund.

(b) (I) Within thirty days of the state treasurer's receipt of the certificate of completion for the academic building on the Craig campus of Colorado Northwestern community college, the state treasurer shall transfer no more than two million one hundred thousand dollars of such institution's cash assistance payment to the Colorado community college system.

(II) Within thirty days of the state treasurer's receipt of the certificate of completion for the science building addition and renovation at the Auraria higher education center, the state treasurer shall transfer no more than one million dollars to the Auraria higher education center.

(5) (a) Prior to executing a lease-purchase agreement pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, in order to protect against future interest rate increases, the state of Colorado, acting by and through the state treasurer and at the discretion of the state treasurer, may enter into an interest rate exchange agreement pursuant to article 59.3 of title 11, C.R.S. A lease-purchase agreement entered into pursuant to subsection (3) of this section shall be a proposed public security for the purposes of article 59.3 of title 11, C.R.S. Any payments made by the state under an agreement entered into pursuant to this subsection (5) shall be made solely from moneys made available to the state treasurer from the execution of a lease-purchase agreement or from moneys appropriated from the revenues fund or the higher education institutions lease-purchase cash fund created pursuant to subsection (4) of this section.

(b) Any agreement entered into pursuant to this subsection (5) shall also provide that the obligations of the state shall not be deemed or construed as creating an indebtedness of the state within the meaning of any provision of the state constitution or the laws of the state of Colorado concerning or limiting the creation of indebtedness by the state of Colorado and shall not constitute a multiple fiscal-year direct or indirect debt or other financial obligation of the state within the meaning of section 20 (4) of article X of the state constitution.

(c) Any moneys received by the state under an agreement entered into pursuant to this subsection (5) shall be used to make payments on lease-purchase agreements entered into pursuant to subsection (3) of this section or to pay the costs of the project for which a lease-purchase agreement was executed.

(b) An institution of higher education shall submit a proposal for a new program to the department. In program discontinuance, the commission shall consider balance among institutions. (h) Establish systemwide policies concerning administrative costs.

(1.5) (a) On or before September 1, 2012, the commission shall develop and submit to the governor and the general assembly a new master plan for Colorado postsecondary education. The commission shall collaborate with the governing boards and chief executive officers of the state institutions of higher education in developing the master plan. In addition, the commission shall take into account the final report of the higher education strategic planning steering committee appointed by the governor. In drafting the master plan, addressing the issues specified in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1.5), and establishing the goals as described in paragraph (c) of this subsection (1.5) for the state system of higher education, the commission shall also take into consideration the data collected pursuant to subsection (1.7) of this section.

(b) At a minimum, the commission shall address the following issues in developing the master plan:

(I) The needs of the state with regard to the system of higher education and the top priorities for the state system of higher education in meeting those needs;

(II) Alignment of the state system of higher education with the system of elementary and secondary education and increasing the rate at which students who graduate from Colorado high schools enroll in and complete postsecondary and career and technical education;

(III) Accessibility and affordability of the state system of higher education, including consideration of methods to reduce the student debt load and increase need-based financial aid funding;

(IV) Funding for the state system of higher education and strategies for stabilizing and sustaining an adequate funding level;

(V) The role and mission of the state institutions of higher education and the governance structure of the state system of higher education;

(VI) The role of two-year and four-year junior colleges and area vocational schools in helping to address the workforce and economic development needs of the state within the system of higher education; and

(VII) The importance of private and proprietary institutions with regard to higher education in the state, although consideration of said institutions in the plan in no way implies control or state authority over their operations.

(c) The commission shall design the master plan to achieve, at a minimum, the following goals:

(I) Increasing the overall number of baccalaureate degrees, associate degrees, and career and technical education certificates issued by the public institutions of higher education in the state, while maintaining accessibility to the institutions, to provide support for economic development and a well-educated workforce for the business community in the state;

(II) Implementing systemic approaches, including coordinated and proven transitional programs, that strengthen the continuity of public education from elementary and secondary through postsecondary education for traditional and nontraditional students;

(III) Ensuring the long term fiscal stability and affordability of the state system of higher education and ensuring the efficient allocation of available state resources to support institutions of higher education while protecting the unique mission of each institution. The allocation shall take into consideration, but need not be limited to, tuition capacity, tuition rates relative to competitive institutions, the state resources available to institutions, funding for high-cost programs, the student and family incomes of students enrolled at institutions, enrollment levels, geographic access to educational opportunities throughout the state, and other issues deemed relevant by the commission.

(IV) Reducing the educational attainment gap between majority and underrepresented populations throughout the state;

(V) Reducing the geographic disparities in access to and opportunity to complete a broad array of quality higher education and career and technical education programs;

(VI) Addressing opportunities for students with disabilities, including intellectual disabilities, to participate in postsecondary education;

(VII) Implementing strategies that strengthen the link between higher education and economic development and innovation in the state; and (VIII) Improving and sustaining excellence in career and technical education and undergraduate and graduate degree programs.

(d) (I) The commission shall ensure that the master plan prepared pursuant to this subsection (1.5) specifically addresses providing coordinated and proven programs that support and help ensure the success of students who graduate from Colorado high schools and are enrolling as first-time freshmen students and meet one or more of the following criteria:

(A) The student's family is low-income and the student is likely to incur significant student debt in attending an institution of higher education;

(B) The student's parents did not attend postsecondary education and may not have graduated from high school;

(C) The student is a member of an underrepresented population; or

(D) The student has limited access to technologies to support learning.

(II) Programs that may be addressed in the master plan include but need not be limited to:

(A) Providing student support services including counseling or tutoring;

(B) Implementing measures to reduce student debt by making effective use of financial assistance and assisting in fee payments and textbook costs; and

(C) Providing assistance in obtaining access to technology.

(e) Prior to submitting the master plan to the governor and the general assembly, the commission shall distribute a draft of the plan to the governing boards for comment. Each governing board shall submit to the commission its comments and any suggested revisions within thirty days after receiving the draft plan. The commission shall discuss and consider any revisions suggested by the governing boards to the draft master plan.

(f) (I) The commission shall ensure that the master plan is implemented through the performance contracts authorized pursuant to sections 23-5-129 and 23-41-104.6 by negotiating with the governing boards individualized goals and expectations for the public institutions of higher education, which goals and expectations support achievement of the statewide goals identified in paragraph (c) of this subsection (1.5) and in the master plan. The commission and the governing boards shall ensure that the institutions' renegotiated performance contracts are finalized no later than December 1, 2012.

(II) In fulfilling the requirements of paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of this section, the commission shall refer to each institution's role and mission and service area, as necessary, to interpret jointly with the institution's governing board the implications of the role and mission and service area on the academic, financial, and student services elements of each institution's performance contract.

(1.7) The commission, working with the department, the governing boards, and the institutions of higher education, shall collect data, including but not limited to research conducted by national policy organizations and agencies or institutions of higher education in other states, as necessary to support development and implementation of the master plan pursuant to subsection (1.5) of this section and to use in negotiating the performance contracts pursuant to sections 23-5-129 and 23-41-104.6. The commission shall take into consideration the costs to the governing boards of collecting and reporting any data the commission may request from the governing boards or the institutions of higher education pursuant to this subsection (1.7).

(1.9) (a) (I) On or before December 1, 2013, the commission shall create a performance-based funding plan to appropriate to each governing board, including the governing boards for the junior colleges and area vocational schools, a portion of the performance funding amount for the applicable state fiscal year based on the success demonstrated by the institutions under each governing board's control in meeting the goals and expectations specified in the institutions' respective performance contracts.

(II) The commission's performance-based funding plan shall specifically address the manner in which the appropriation of performance-based funding will affect the college opportunity fund stipends authorized in section 23-18-202 and the fee-for-service contracts authorized in sections 23-1-109.7 and 23-5-130. In fulfilling the requirements of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a), the commission shall analyze the effect of modifying the college opportunity fund stipend amounts for purposes of improving student retention, facilitating the success of transfers between institutions and between degree programs, and providing incentives for the timely completion of academic degrees. The modifications may include, but need not be limited to, differentiating stipend amounts based on each student's status as a freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior. In addition, the commission shall analyze the effect of limiting the amount of funding for credit hours earned in excess of one hundred forty credits for a baccalaureate degree, or seventy hours for an associate degree.

(III) The commission shall ensure that the performance-based funding plan distributes the performance funding amount on the basis of an institution's performance in meeting the negotiated goals and expectations specified in its performance contract. The distribution of the performance funding amount shall not take into account additional revenues that may be available to the institution, including but not limited to local property tax revenues received by the junior colleges and area vocational schools.

(IV) The commission shall recommend to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, the statutory changes necessary to implement the performance-based funding plan specified in the master plan.

(b) After the 2015-16 state fiscal year, in each state fiscal year in which the general assembly appropriates the restored level of general fund appropriations for the state system of higher education, the commission, based on the performance-based funding plan adopted in the master plan, shall recommend to the joint budget committee the portion of the performance funding amount to be appropriated to each governing board, including the governing boards for the junior colleges and the area vocational schools, based on the demonstrated performance of the institutions that are under the governing board's control in meeting the institutions' goals and expectations specified in the institutions' respective performance contracts.

(c) For purposes of this subsection (1.9):

(I) "Performance funding amount" means twenty-five percent of the amount by which the general fund appropriation for the state system of higher education, excluding any amount appropriated for student financial aid, exceeds six hundred fifty million dollars.

(II) "Restored level of general fund appropriations" means an amount of general fund appropriations for the state system of higher education, excluding any amount appropriated for student financial aid, that equals or exceeds seven hundred six million dollars.

(III) "Student financial aid" means the state program of financial assistance established by the commission pursuant to section 23-3.3-102.

(2) The commission shall develop criteria for determining if an institution should be consolidated or closed and, after consultation with the appropriate governing board, shall make recommendations to the general assembly for closure or consolidation of campuses which meet such criteria.

(3) The commission shall develop, after consultation with the governing boards of institutions, cooperative programs among state-supported institutions of higher education.

(4) The commission shall convene periodically the chief executive officers of the campuses for the purpose of evaluating and discussing statewide policy issues.

(5) The commission shall establish programs to develop and improve governing boards concerning statewide educational policy issues.

(6) The commission shall report annually to the governor and the general assembly on institutional and board performance and responsiveness to statewide objectives set by the commission in its master plan.

(7) (a) The commission shall establish, after consultation with the governing boards of institutions, and enforce statewide degree transfer agreements between two-year and four-year state institutions of higher education and among four-year state institutions of higher education. Governing boards and state institutions of higher education shall implement the statewide degree transfer agreements and the commission policies relating to the statewide degree transfer agreements. The statewide degree transfer agreements shall include provisions under which state institutions of higher education shall accept all credit hours of acceptable course work for automatic transfer from an associate of arts or associate of science degree program in another state institution of higher education in Colorado. The commission shall have final authority in resolving transfer disputes.

(b) (I) A student who completes an associate of arts or associate of science degree that is the subject of a statewide degree transfer agreement and who transfers from the state institution of higher education that awarded the degree to a four-year state institution of higher education shall, if admitted, be enrolled with junior status. Successful completion of an associate of arts or associate of science degree does not guarantee the degree holder admission to a four-year state institution of higher education.

(II) A state institution of higher education that admits as a junior a student who holds an associate of arts degree or associate of science degree that is the subject of a statewide degree transfer agreement may not require the student to complete any additional credit hours of lower-division general education courses; except that the institution may require the student to complete additional lower-division general education courses if necessary for preparation in the degree program in which the student enrolls so long as the additional courses are consistent with published degree program requirements for native students and do not extend the time to degree completion beyond that required for native students in the same degree program.

(c) (I) Beginning July 1, 2010, the commission, in collaboration with the governing boards and the council convened pursuant to section 23-1-108.5 (3) (a), shall negotiate statewide degree transfer agreements and shall ensure that there are at least four statewide degree transfer agreements in place no later than July 1, 2012, and that, by no later than July 1, 2016, there are a total of at least fourteen statewide degree transfer agreements.

(II) The governing boards shall recommend to the commission the degree programs that would be most appropriate for statewide degree transfer agreements based on student demand and the workforce needs of the state.

(d) The existence of statewide degree transfer agreements does not preclude or restrict a state institution of higher education from awarding nontransfer associate of arts or associate of science degrees, applied associate degrees, or general liberal arts associate of arts or associate of science degrees.

(e) Nothing in this subsection (7) shall be construed to:

(I) Prevent or otherwise interfere with the ability of a state institution of higher education to fulfill its statutory role and mission;

(II) Prohibit one or more state institutions of higher education from entering into memoranda of understanding for the transfer of degrees among the agreeing institutions;

(III) Impair any memoranda of understanding between or among institutions of higher education in effect prior to August 11, 2010; or

(IV) Require the transfer of course credits earned during or applicable to a student's junior or senior year.

(f) On or before October 1, 1993, the commission shall establish and enforce student transfer agreements between degree programs offered on the same campus or within the same institutional system. Governing boards and state institutions of higher education shall implement the agreements and commission policies relating to the agreements. In accordance with the provisions of section 23-5-122, the agreements shall provide that:

(I) If, not more than ten years prior to transferring into an undergraduate degree program, a student earns credit hours that are required for graduation from the undergraduate degree program, the credit hours shall apply to the completion of the student's graduation requirements from the undergraduate degree program following the transfer;

(II) A student who transfers into an undergraduate degree program shall not be required to complete a greater number of credit hours in those courses that are required for graduation from the undergraduate degree program than are required of students who began in the undergraduate degree program, nor shall there be any minimum number of credit hours required post-transfer other than the normal degree requirements for nontransferring students; and

(III) The grade point average that is required for a student to apply for and be fully considered for transfer into an undergraduate degree program shall be no higher than that which is required for graduation from the undergraduate degree program.

(g) As used in this subsection (7), unless the context otherwise requires:

(I) "Native student" means a student who begins and completes an undergraduate degree program at a single state institution of higher education.

(II) "State institution of higher education" means a public postsecondary institution that is governed by:

(A) The board of governors of the Colorado state university system;

(B) The board of regents of the university of Colorado;

(C) The board of trustees of the Colorado school of mines;

(D) The board of trustees of the university of northern Colorado;

- (E) The board of trustees of Adams state university;
- (F) The board of trustees of Western state Colorado university;
- (G) The board of trustees of Colorado Mesa university;
- (H) The board of trustees for Fort Lewis college;
- (I) The board of trustees for Metropolitan state university of Denver;
- (J) The state board for community colleges and occupational education; or
- (K) The board of trustees of a junior college district organized pursuant to article 71 of this title.

(III) "Statewide degree transfer agreement" means an agreement among all of the state institutions of higher education for the transfer of an associate of arts or an associate of science degree. A statewide degree transfer agreement applies to common degree programs and specifies the common terms, conditions, and expectations for students enrolled in statewide degree transfer programs.

(8) The commission shall prescribe uniform academic reporting policies and procedures to which the governing boards and their institutions shall adhere.

(9) The state-supported institutions of higher education shall provide the commission with such data as the commission deems necessary upon its formal request, including but not limited to any data requested pursuant to subsection (1.7) of this section. Data for individual students or personnel shall not be divulged or made known in any way by the director of the commission or by any commission employee, except in accordance with judicial order or as otherwise provided by law. Any person who violates this subsection (9) commits a class 1 misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S. Such person shall, in addition thereto, be subject to removal or dismissal from public service on grounds of malfeasance in office.

(10) The commission may enter, on behalf of the state of Colorado, into agreements with another state or with the western interstate commission for higher education on behalf of another state for the granting of full or partial waivers of the nonresident tuition to residents of such other states who are postgraduate or professional students at or are eligible for admission as postgraduate students to any of the state-supported institutions of higher education in Colorado if the agreement provides that, under substantially the same circumstances, such other state will grant reciprocal waivers to residents of Colorado who are postgraduate or professional students of universities or colleges in such other states. The commission, in consultation with the affected Colorado institutions, shall establish regulations governing the administration of agreements and the granting of waivers. In 1996 and in each subsequent even-numbered year, the commission shall report to the governor and the general assembly on these programs.

(11) Repealed.

(12) (a) The commission shall establish fee policies based on institutional role and mission, and the governing boards shall set fees consistent with such policies.

(b) For fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2016, the commission shall establish tuition policies based on institutional role and mission, and the governing boards shall set tuition consistent with said policies.

(13) (a) It is the intent of the general assembly that academic degree programs at state-supported institutions of higher education be designed and implemented to assure and emphasize that undergraduate students have the maximum range of opportunities and assistance to complete their course of study and obtain their degree in a reasonable amount of time. The general assembly therefore directs the commission, within existing resources, to implement and revise appropriate policies, including financial incentives, to assure that students at state-supported institutions of higher education complete their academic degree programs in the most efficient, effective, and productive manner. The policy implementation and review shall include:

(I) Academic advising and counseling at such institutions and consideration of methods for the improvement of early and continuous availability of such academic advising and counseling in order to assist students with the completion of degree programs;

(II) The frequency and availability of courses essential to completion of degree programs at such institutions and evaluation of what changes may be necessary to assure that the course scheduling for degree programs by such institutions maximizes the opportunities for students to complete their course of study efficiently, effectively, and productively;

(III) Measures for minimizing and eliminating the restrictions against automatic transfer of credit hours of acceptable course work between such institutions and whether the provisions of transfer agreements between two-year and four-year institutions and among four-year institutions entered into pursuant to subsection (7) of this section are directed at easing such transfer restrictions;

(IV) Methods for minimizing the loss of credit hours when a student changes degree programs at such institution and assurance that such credit hours are transferred or substituted for appropriate course work in the other degree program;

(V) The review of possible solutions for access of nontraditional and part-time students to complete programs within the student's time frame goals;

(VI) What effect, if any, the reduction of degree programs would have on the increased availability of classes within existing degree programs;

(VII) What effect increases in educational costs may have on the average length of time for a student to complete a degree program; and (VIII) The implementation of core curricula as a measure for assisting students to graduate.

(b) Repealed.

23-1-108.5. Duties and powers of the commission with regard to common course numbering system - repeal. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that, for many students, the ability to transfer among all state-supported institutions of higher education is critical to their success in achieving a degree. The general assembly further finds that it is necessary for the state to have sound transfer policies that provide the broadest and simplest mechanisms feasible, while protecting the academic quality of the institutions of higher education and their undergraduate degree programs. The general assembly finds, therefore, that it is in the best interests of the state for the commission to oversee the adoption of a statewide articulation matrix system of course numbering for general education courses that includes all state-supported institutions of higher education and that will ensure that the quality of and requirements that pertain to general education courses are comparable and transferable systemwide.

(2) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Council" means the council convened pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of this section.

(b) "Course numbering system" means the statewide articulation matrix system of common course numbering for general education courses adopted by the commission pursuant to paragraph (c) of subsection (3) of this section.

(c) "General education courses" means the group of courses offered by an institution of higher education that every student enrolled in the institution must successfully complete to attain an associate's or bachelor's degree.

(d) "Higher education institution" means a state-supported institution of higher education.

(3) (a) On or before July 1, 2001, the commission shall convene a council consisting of representatives from each of the higher education governing boards and each of the four-year higher education institutions, a representative sample of the two-year higher education institutions, and a representative of the commission. The commission shall consult with the governing boards when convening representatives from the higher education institutions. By July 1, 2011, the council shall create a process through which it shall seek input from and consult with various higher education student organizations for each articulation agreement and for the review of general education courses and the course numbering system as required in paragraph (c) of this subsection (3).

(b) The council shall recommend to the commission a statewide articulation matrix system of common course numbering to which the general education courses for each higher education institution may be mapped.

(c) (I) On or before October 1, 2002, the council shall recommend to the commission a list of general education courses to be included in the course numbering system. In identifying said general education courses, the council shall review the course descriptions, and may request summaries of course syllabi for review, focusing first on lower division general education courses. The commission shall review the council's recommendations and adopt a statewide articulation matrix system of common course numbering for general education courses, including criteria for such courses, on or before January 1, 2003.

(II) The council shall annually review the list of general education courses and the course numbering system, including the criteria, adopted by the commission and recommend such changes as may be necessary to maintain the accuracy and integrity of the course numbering system. The council's annual review shall include consideration of the course descriptions, and the council may request summaries of course syllabi for further review.

(d) Repealed.

(e) This subsection (3) is repealed, effective July 1, 2016. Prior to such repeal, the council of higher education representatives shall be reviewed as provided for in section 2-3-1203, C.R.S.

(4) (a) Following adoption of the course numbering system, each higher education institution shall review its course offerings and identify those general education courses offered by the institution that correspond with the courses included in the course numbering system. The higher education institution shall submit its list of identified courses, including course descriptions and, upon request of the commission, summaries of course syllabi, for review and approval by the commission on or before March 1, 2003.

(b) Beginning with the fall semester of 2003, each higher education institution shall publish, and update as necessary, a list of course offerings that identifies those general education courses offered by the institution that correspond with the courses included in the course numbering system.

(5) All credits earned by a student in any general education course identified as corresponding with a course included in the course numbering system shall be automatically transferable among all higher education institutions upon transfer and enrollment of the student. All higher education institutions in Colorado shall participate in the course numbering system. The commission shall adopt such policies and guidelines as may be necessary for the implementation of this section. Each governing board shall modify its existing policies as may be necessary to accept the transfer of these credits.

(6) (a) The council shall devise and recommend to the commission procedures for exchanging information to document students' success in transferring among higher education institutions. The commission shall adopt and implement such procedures.

(b) The commission, in consultation with the governing boards and the higher education institutions, shall design and implement a statewide database to implement the provisions of this section.

(7) The commission may accept any public or private gifts, grants, or donations given for the purpose of implementing this section. Any such gifts, grants, or donations shall be credited to the course numbering fund, which fund is hereby created in the state treasury. Moneys credited to the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the commission for use in offsetting the costs incurred by the commission in implementing this section and for allocation to the governing boards to offset the costs incurred by the governing boards in implementing this section. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the course numbering fund shall be credited to said fund. Any amount remaining in the course numbering fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in said fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or to any other fund.

23-1-109. Duties and powers of the commission with regard to off-campus instruction. (1) The general assembly declares its intent that the state-supported institutions of higher education may engage in instruction off the geographic boundaries of their campuses.

(2) The commission shall define, after consultation with the governing boards of institutions, the geographic and programmatic service areas for each state-supported institution of higher education. No such institution shall provide instruction off-campus in programs or in geographic areas or at sites not approved by the commission, unless otherwise provided by law.

(3) The general assembly declares its intent that all instruction at two-year institutions, including the first two years of instruction at Adams state university and Colorado Mesa university, shall be funded throughout the institutions' commission-approved service area on the same basis as on-campus instruction.

(4) The department shall administer any centralized, statewide extension and continuing education program of instruction that may be offered by any state-supported baccalaureate and graduate institution. All instruction offered outside the geographic boundaries of the campus, including instruction delivered by television or other technological means, shall be a part of this program unless exempted by policy and action of the commission.

The commission may include funding for those courses and programs in its systemwide funding recommendations to the general assembly.

23-1-109.3. Duties and powers of the commission with regard to student data - memorandum of understanding. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 22-2-111 (3) (a), C.R.S., the commission shall enter into a memorandum of understanding on or before September 1, 2006, with the state board of education to adopt a policy to share student data. At a minimum, the policy shall ensure that the exchange of information is conducted in conformance with the requirements of the federal "Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974", as amended, 20 U.S.C. sec. 1232g, and all federal regulations and applicable guidelines adopted in accordance therewith. The policy shall additionally require the department, upon request, to share student data with qualified researchers. 23-1-112. Tuition - reciprocal agreements. Except as provided in section 23-1-108 (10), the commission shall identify those circumstances where the waiving of the nonresident differential in tuition rates, on a reciprocal basis with other states, would enhance educational opportunities for Colorado residents. Relative to such identified circumstances, the commission shall negotiate with the other states involved with the objective of establishing reciprocal agreements for the waiving of the nonresidential differential for Colorado residents attending state institutions of higher education in other states in exchange for Colorado state institutions of higher education waiving the nonresident differential for residents of the other states. Agreements negotiated between Colorado and other states shall provide for an equal number of resident and nonresident students to be exchanged between the states. Upon successful completion of such negotiations, the commission may identify the numbers of Colorado residents by grade level whose educational opportunities would be enhanced and the numbers of nonresident students by grade level for whom the nonresident differential is to be waived by the Colorado state institutions of higher education and may direct that the state institutions of higher education grant such waivers. The commission shall establish regulations for the administration of this section, based on the application of the closest college concept, and for the reporting to the general assembly of the numbers of students to whom the waivers are given.

23-1-113. Commission directive - admission standards for baccalaureate and graduate institutions of higher education - policy - definitions. (1) (a) The commission shall establish and the governing boards shall implement academic admission standards for first-time freshmen and transfer students at all state-supported baccalaureate and graduate institutions of higher education in the state. The commission shall establish and may subsequently review and amend the standards after consultation with the governing boards of institutions. The academic admission standards for students who do not have in-state status, as determined pursuant to section 23-7-103, shall equal or exceed those established for determining admission of in-state students.

(b) The standards established for first-time admitted freshman students shall use a combination of high school academic performance indicators and national assessment test scores for eligibility criteria. The academic performance indicators may include, but are not limited to, grade point average, class rank, and content standard performance level assessments. The criteria established and the specified performance levels shall be consistent with the role and mission established for each state-supported institution of higher education. In considering the high school academic performance indicators, the commission and the governing boards may take into account the rigor of a student's high school academic preparation and the academic content of the courses taken. In lieu of the established statewide criteria, each governing board may use additional criteria for up to twenty percent of the freshmen students annually admitted to each institution under the governing board's control. Students who meet the minimum criteria for admission are not guaranteed admission to the institution to which they have applied, but they are eligible for consideration.

(c) The standards established for transfer students shall use college academic performance indicators as the eligibility criteria for admitted transfer students. The academic performance indicators may include, but are not limited to, grade point average, credit hours completed, and successful completion of basic skills courses, if required and as appropriate considering the role and mission of the receiving institution. In lieu of such criteria, additional criteria may be used for up to twenty percent of the admitted transfer students. The academic admission standards and policies established for transfer students shall be consistent with the student transfer agreements established by the commission pursuant to section 23-1-108 (7) (f). Students who meet the minimum criteria for admission shall not be guaranteed admission to the institution to which they have applied, but they shall be eligible for consideration.

(d) Repealed.

(1.5) (a) (I) The commission shall establish and the governing boards shall implement a policy pursuant to section 23-1-113.3 to identify matriculated students who need basic skills courses in English and mathematics and standards and procedures whereby state institutions of higher education may offer basic skills courses as provided in section 23-1-113.3. The commission, in consultation with the governing boards, shall ensure that the policy aligns with the admission policy adopted pursuant to subsection (1) of this section. In identifying the standards for basic skills, the commission may differentiate requirements for mathematics based on the prerequisite skills needed for required courses within a student's declared program of study.

(II) As part of the policy established pursuant to this paragraph (a), the commission may authorize a state institution of higher education to provide supplemental academic instruction even though the institution is not authorized to provide basic skills courses pursuant to section 23-1-113.3. The institution may receive stipend payments from the state pursuant to section 23-18-202 on behalf of an eligible undergraduate student, as defined in section 23-18-102 (5), who is enrolled in a college-level course that includes supplemental academic instruction.

(b) Each governing board shall adopt policies and procedures that are aligned with the policy established by the commission pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (1.5) and that ensure that, to the extent required by the commission policy, each matriculated student takes or has taken basic skills placement or assessment tests in English and mathematics. The institution that enrolls the student shall select which tests to use from among those that meet the standards established in the commission policy and shall administer the tests. The commission, in consultation with the governing boards, shall ensure the comparability of the placement or assessment tests for the purpose of providing consistent reporting data as such data are required by section 23-1-113.3 (4).

(c) Students identified by institutions as needing basic skills courses based on their test scores shall complete the appropriate basic skills courses by the time the student completes thirty college-level credit hours. The commission, in consultation with the governing boards, shall ensure that each student identified as needing basic skills courses receives written notification identifying which state institutions offer basic skills courses and the approximate cost and relative availability of the basic skills courses, including any on-line courses.

(2) Repealed.

(3) (a) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2004, p. 201, § 16, effective August 4, 2004.)

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 96, p. 1236, § 78, effective August 7, 1996.)

(4) The commission shall work with the state board of education to align the academic admission standards established pursuant to this section with the guidelines for high school graduation requirements developed pursuant to section 22-2-106 (1) (a.5), C.R.S. Any revised academic admission standards shall be implemented no later than the selection of the freshman class of fall 2012.

(5) (a) On or before December 15, 2009, pursuant to section 22-7-1008, C.R.S., the commission shall consult with the state board of education, and the commission and the state board of education shall negotiate a consensus and adopt the description of postsecondary and workforce readiness.

(b) On or before July 1, 2015, and on or before July 1 every six years thereafter, the commission and the state board of education may adopt revisions to the postsecondary and workforce readiness description.

(6) (a) On or before December 15, 2010, pursuant to section 22-7-1008, C.R.S., the commission and the state board of education shall negotiate a consensus and adopt one or more postsecondary and workforce planning, preparation, and readiness assessments for use by school districts, boards of cooperative services, district charter high schools, and institute charter high schools. The commission and the state board of education also shall negotiate a consensus and adopt scoring criteria to indicate a student's level of postsecondary and workforce readiness, as provided in section 22-7-1008, C.R.S.

(b) Every six years after the adoption of the postsecondary and workforce planning, preparation, and readiness assessments pursuant to section 22-7-1008, C.R.S., the commission and the state board of education may negotiate a consensus and adopt revisions to such assessments. The commission and the state board of education may also revise the scoring criteria for the postsecondary and workforce planning, preparation, and readiness assessments, as necessary.

(7) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, a student who graduates with a high school diploma that includes a postsecondary and workforce readiness endorsement based on criteria adopted by the state board and approved by the commission and the governing boards of the state institutions of higher education pursuant to section 22-7-1009, C.R.S., shall be guaranteed:

(a) To meet minimum academic qualifications for admission to, and to be eligible, subject to additional institutional review of other admission and placement qualifications, for placement into credit-bearing courses at, all open, modified open, or moderately selective public institutions of higher education in Colorado; and

(b) To receive priority consideration, in conjunction with additional admissions criteria, and to be eligible, subject to additional institutional review of other admission and placement qualifications, for placement into credit-bearing courses, at all other public institutions of higher education in Colorado. The additional admissions criteria shall be determined by each institution of higher education.

(8) (a) On or before December 15, 2013, based on adoption of the description of postsecondary and workforce readiness, the commission shall, if necessary, revise the minimum academic admission standards for first-time freshmen at all state-supported baccalaureate and graduate institutions of higher education in the state to ensure that the minimum academic admission standards are aligned with the description of postsecondary and workforce readiness adopted by the commission and the state board of education.

(b) On or before December 15, 2013, the commission shall review the policy established pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1.5) of this section and the basic skills placement or assessment tests administered pursuant to subsection (1.5) of this section to ensure that the policy and tests are aligned with the postsecondary and workforce readiness description.

(c) Consistent with any revisions adopted pursuant to this section to the description of postsecondary and workforce readiness, the commission shall, if necessary, adopt revisions to the minimum academic admission standards, the policy established pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1.5) of this section, and the basic skills placement or assessment tests to ensure continued alignment with the postsecondary and workforce readiness description.

(d) In revising the minimum academic admission standards, the policy established pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1.5) of this section, and the basic skills placement or assessment tests pursuant to this subsection (8), the commission shall consult with the governing boards of the state institutions of higher education.

(9) On or before February 15, 2012, and on or before February 15 each year thereafter, the department of higher education shall submit to the state board of education, the department of education, and the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, a report, subject to available data, concerning the enrollment, placement and completion of basic skills courses, first-year college grades, and types of academic certificates and degrees attained at all postsecondary institutions in Colorado and the United States for the high school graduating classes of the preceding six academic years. The department of higher education shall report the information disaggregated by high school and school district of graduation, to the extent practicable, and by ethnicity, gender, financial aid status, and any other characteristic deemed relevant by the commission. The department of higher education and the department of education shall also make the report available on their respective web sites.

(10) On or before February 15, 2009, and on or before February 15 each year thereafter, the department of higher education shall submit to the department of education the unit records used for its reporting purposes under this section to enable the department of education to evaluate the effectiveness of the alignment of the preschool through postsecondary education systems in preparing students who demonstrate postsecondary and workforce readiness and subsequently succeed in postsecondary education and to enable the department of higher education to disseminate the unit records to the appropriate school districts.

23-1-113.2. Department directive - admission standards for students holding international baccalaureate diplomas. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(I) It is in the best interests of the state to encourage the development and adoption of innovative and effective curricula for high school students;

(II) The international baccalaureate diploma program is an established and well-respected program designed to provide innovative curricula world-wide;

(III) In most other Western educational systems, secondary education includes the equivalent of a thirteenth grade, and the international baccalaureate diploma program conforms to this approach with its rigorous course of study over two years;

(IV) A student who has successfully completed the international baccalaureate diploma program is viewed as a highly attractive student by institutions of higher education due to the student's ambition, work habits, and scholarship;

(V) Nationwide, institutions of higher education recognize the high level of academic sophistication of international baccalaureate students and many offer considerable college credit as an inducement for those students to attend their institutions;

(VI) Many Colorado international baccalaureate students leave the state to attend institutions of higher education that provide attractive offers of credit; and

(VII) It is in the best interests of Colorado to retain the state's best and brightest students who can establish permanent residency and subsequently contribute to the intellectual and economic vitality of the state.

(b) It is therefore the intent of the general assembly in enacting this section that Colorado institutions of higher education be required to adopt comprehensive and reasonable policies to offer credit to international baccalaureate students.

(2) (a) The department shall ensure that each governing board of a state-supported baccalaureate and graduate institution of higher education in the state adopt and implement, for each of the institutions under its control, a policy for the acceptance of first-time freshman students who have successfully completed an international baccalaureate diploma program.

(b) Each governing board shall report the policy adopted and implemented pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) to the department and shall make the policy available to the public in an electronic format.

(c) Each governing board shall set the number of credits the institution may grant to a student who has successfully completed an international baccalaureate diploma program. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (d) of this subsection (2), the number of credits granted by an institution shall be, at a minimum, twenty-four semester credits or their equivalent. Each governing board shall identify the specific general education or elective requirements that the student satisfies by having successfully completed the international baccalaureate diploma program and shall outline the conditions necessary to award the credits.

(d) Each institution may determine the level of student performance necessary to grant the credits, as measured by a student's exam performance in the specific courses constituting the international baccalaureate diploma program. An institution may only grant less than twenty-four semester credits or their equivalent if the student has received a score of less than four on an exam administered as part of the international baccalaureate diploma program, in which case the number of semester credits or their equivalent granted by the institution shall be reduced accordingly.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any institution of higher education that has entered into a performance contract with the commission as an exemplary institution of higher education.

(b) The department shall disseminate the analysis to each school district and to public high schools within each district.

Commission directive - resident admissions. (1) It is the intent of the general assembly that all state-supported institutions of higher education operate primarily to serve and educate the people of Colorado. The general assembly therefore directs the commission to develop admission policies to ensure that, beginning with the fall term of 1994 and for the fall term of each year thereafter, not less than fifty-five percent of the incoming freshman class at each state-supported institution of higher education are in-state students as defined in section 23-7-102 (5). Commencing with the fall term of 1995, this requirement shall be met if the percentage of in-state students in the incoming freshman class for the then current fall term and the two previous fall terms averages not less than fifty-five percent. Such fifty-five percent requirement shall also apply to the percentage of incoming freshmen students who are admitted based on criteria other than standardized test scores, high school class rank, and high school grade point average pursuant to section 23-1-113 (1) (b). In addition, the commission shall develop admission policies to ensure, beginning with the fiscal year which begins July 1, 1994, and for each fiscal year thereafter, that not less than two-thirds of the total student enrollment, including undergraduate and graduate students, at each campus of each state-supported institution of higher education, except the Colorado school of mines, are in-state students as defined in section 23-7-102 (5) and that not less than sixty percent of the total student enrollment, including undergraduate and graduate students, at the Colorado school of mines are in-state students as defined in section 23-7-102 (5). This requirement shall be met if, commencing with the fiscal year that begins July 1, 1995, the fraction of in-state students, as defined in section 23-7-102 (5), enrolled at each state-supported institution of higher education, except the Colorado school of mines, averages not less than two-thirds of the total fiscal year student enrollment for the then current fiscal year plus the two previous fiscal years. For the Colorado school of mines, this fraction of in-state students shall be not less than three-fifths. Such policies shall be implemented no later than July 1, 1994.

(2) (a) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section regarding the fraction of students who are in-state students attending the Colorado school of mines shall also apply to western state Colorado university.

(b) Repealed.

(c) After one hundred percent of all qualified Colorado applicants have been accepted by Adams state university, Colorado Mesa university, and Western state Colorado university, the provisions of subsection (1) of this section regarding the fraction of students who are in-state students shall cease to apply to said three state institutions of higher education.

(d) After one hundred percent of all qualified Colorado applicants have been accepted by Adams state university, Fort Lewis college, Colorado Mesa university, and Western state Colorado university, the provisions of subsection (1) of this section regarding the fraction of students who are in-state students shall cease to apply to said four state institutions of higher education.

(3) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section regarding the fraction of students who are in-state students at institutions of higher education do not apply to any native American student who attends Fort Lewis college. The calculation of the fraction of students at Fort Lewis college who are in-state students shall exclude any native American student attending the college.

(4) (a) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section regarding the percentage and fraction of students who are in-state students, as defined in section 23-7-102 (5), shall not apply to the university of Colorado system or to Colorado state university if the following requirements are met:

(I) The percentage of incoming freshmen admitted to the institution who are in-state students calculated on a three-year rolling average and excluding foreign students, is not less than fifty-five percent;

(II) The fraction of students enrolled at each campus of the university of Colorado system or at Colorado state university who are in-state students is not less than two-thirds of the total student enrollment at the campus or at Colorado state university, respectively, including undergraduate and graduate students, calculated on a three-year rolling average and excluding foreign students;

(III) The institution continues to admit one hundred percent of all Colorado first-time freshman applicants who meet the guaranteed admissions criteria;

(IV) The percentage of in-state students admitted to each campus of the university of Colorado system or to Colorado state university based on criteria other than standardized test scores, high school class rank, and high school grade point average pursuant to section 23-1-113 (1) (b) does not fall below the average of the percentage admitted to the campus or to Colorado state university, respectively, for the three preceding academic years; and

(V) The total number of foreign students enrolled at each specific campus of the university of Colorado system or at Colorado state university does not exceed twelve percent of the total student enrollment, including undergraduate and graduate students, enrolled at the campus or at Colorado state university, respectively.

(b) The university of Colorado and Colorado state university shall annually report to the commission information demonstrating that qualified in-state students are not displaced or denied admissions as a result of the provisions of this subsection (4) and that any increase in the enrollment of foreign students at a specific campus of the university of Colorado system or at Colorado state university is a result of increased capacity at the campus or at Colorado state university, respectively.

(c) For purposes of this subsection (4), "foreign student" means a student who is counted as foreign and present in the United States on a nonimmigrant visa.

23-1-113.7. Commission directive - nursing programs - employer-based gift and scholarship fund - legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly recognizes the need to provide a high quality trained workforce necessary for the delivery of quality care to seniors and other individuals. The general assembly further recognizes that limiting the number of students participating in nursing programs in the state-supported institutions of higher education frustrates the goal of delivering quality care to the number of those in need.

(2) The commission shall develop admissions policies for nursing programs at state-supported institutions of higher education that, subject to the availability of funds through the more nurses for Colorado fund created pursuant to subsection (4) of this section, allow for a greater number of students to be admitted to nursing education programs on or after July 1, 2002, who would otherwise not be admitted because of the limit on the number of students that the institution accepted in its nursing program prior to July 1, 2002.

(3) The commission shall direct the governing boards of state supported institutions of higher education with nursing programs to allow additional students of nursing to be admitted when there are sufficient funds available through the more nurses for Colorado fund created pursuant to subsection (4) of this section to support the increased costs associated with such students.

(4) There is hereby created in the office of the state treasurer the more nurses for Colorado fund. Such fund shall consist of gifts, grants, and donations from private entities and shall be continuously appropriated by the general assembly. Such moneys shall be used by the commission solely to support the development of additional capacity to allow a greater number of students to be admitted to the nursing programs in the state-supported institutions of higher education. Such moneys shall constitute gifts for the purposes of calculating fiscal year spending pursuant to section 20 of article X of the Colorado constitution.

(5) It is the intent of the general assembly that no general fund dollars be appropriated for the purposes of implementing the requirements of this section.

As used in this section, "programs of excellence" means any academic program or consortium of programs of a state-supported institution of higher education that directly enrolls students and is distinguished by the quality of the educational experience that it offers and by the quality of the faculty and students it can attract.

(2) The commission, after consultation with the governing boards, shall develop and employ criteria for identifying programs of excellence in state institutions of higher education. Employing the criteria adopted, the commission shall designate programs and centers of excellence, which shall number not more than five percent of the academic programs offered in state-supported institutions of higher education. Programs of excellence designations shall be reviewed annually by the commission.

(3) The criteria employed by the commission shall take into account, for graduate programs, undergraduate programs, and both respectively, the following:

(a) For graduate programs, existing national prominence or a governing board-approved academic and financial plan to achieve such national prominence in the field within a specified period of time;

(b) The level of institutional commitment to the program measured in terms of the allocation of existing resources to the support of the program;

(c) Contribution to the future development of the state's economy including improvement in the business climate, growth of the state's employment base, development of professional and business leadership, and employment competence as a result of the program or center of excellence;

(e) Demonstrated capacity to attract and sustain financial support from sources independent of state appropriations;

(f) Consistency with academic master plans;

(g) Such additional criteria of excellence in higher education as the commission may determine to be appropriate.

(4) Employing the criteria established pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the commission shall compile an initial list of programs to be designated programs of excellence and shall provide to the general assembly a plan for the support and enhancement of said programs. The plan shall include an analysis of projected funding requirements together with funding recommendations and a planned program for awarding increased funding to designated programs. Program nominations by the governing boards shall be submitted to the commission at a time to be prescribed by the commission. The list of programs and plans for financial support required by this section shall be delivered to the house and senate committees on education annually, on or before January 1.

(5) (Deleted by amendment, L. 96, p. 1237, § 81, effective August 7, 1996.)

(6) (a) For the support and enhancement of programs of excellence as provided in this section, the general assembly may appropriate annually, and the commission shall fully allocate annually to the governing boards, subject to available appropriations, an amount not greater than one percent of the total annual department of higher education general fund appropriation.

(b) As to programs of excellence which relate to advanced technology, the commission, subject to available appropriations, shall allocate funds to the governing boards. The commission shall determine the proportion of the total appropriation made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (6) that shall be allocated to programs of excellence concerned with advanced technology.

23-1-119. Department directive - transition between K-12 education system and postsecondary education system. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that, in order for students to succeed at state-supported institutions of higher education, the Colorado public system of elementary and secondary education must have provided students with the skills and abilities necessary to make the transition to the postsecondary system. The general assembly further recognizes that the establishment of goals and standards for providing transition skills and abilities is the prerogative of the elementary and secondary public education system. The general assembly recognizes that, in establishing these goals and standards, the elementary and secondary education system should be in communication with the postsecondary education system regarding the skills and abilities that are needed to succeed in higher education. It is therefore the intent of the general assembly that the department, in consultation with the department of education, adopt necessary policies and procedures to facilitate the transition for students between the two systems.

(2) In consultation with the state board of education, appropriate school boards, and governing boards of state-supported institutions of higher education, the department and the governing boards shall adopt necessary policies and procedures to promote the establishment of a mechanism for postsecondary institutions to report back to the secondary public education system concerning:

(a) The skills and abilities, and the level of proficiency thereof, that first-year students at such postsecondary institutions need to have in order to succeed;

(b) The level of proficiency in such skills and abilities currently exhibited by first-year students;

(c) The level of achievement currently exhibited by first-year students; and

(d) Any other information that will provide a better transition for students between the two education systems.

(3) In consultation with the state board of education, governing boards of state-supported institutions of higher education, and appropriate school district boards, the department shall aid the elementary and secondary public education system and the postsecondary public education system in establishing a network to connect the faculty of postsecondary institutions with the teachers in school districts for the purpose of exchanging information.

(4) For purposes of this section, "postsecondary" means related to instruction of students over the age of seventeen years who are not enrolled in a regular program of kindergarten through grade twelve in a public, independent, or parochial school.

23-1-120. Commission directive - incentives for improvement initiative grants.

(1) The general assembly finds that state encouragement would contribute to improving the quality and efficiency of the postsecondary education system in Colorado. Therefore, the general assembly finds and declares that an incentives for improvement initiative grant program should be implemented to encourage initiatives at state institutions of higher education demonstrating innovative solutions and successful approaches to increasing efficiency, productivity, quality, and diversity in the Colorado postsecondary education system through a system of competitive matching grants to such institutions.

(b) The level of institutional commitment to the initiative measured partially in terms of the reallocation of existing resources to the support of the initiative;

Employing the criteria established pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, the commission shall designate an initial list of initiatives to be designated incentives for improvement and shall provide to the general assembly such list, an analysis of the projected funding requirements of the initiative, the proposed grants, and a plan for the support and enhancement of said initiatives. The list of initiatives and proposed grants shall be delivered to the general assembly annually, on or before January 1, commencing January 1, 1993. Initial grants may be awarded to the governing boards of such institutions for the implementation of such programs on or before July 1, 1993. Incentives for improvement designations shall be reviewed annually by the commission.

(4) (a) (I) The department, in conjunction with the department of education, shall review each educator preparation program offered by an institution of higher education as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (4) and shall establish a schedule for review of each educator preparation program that ensures each program is reviewed as provided in this section not more frequently than once every five years.

(II) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1476, 16, effective May 28, 2008.)

(III) An institution of higher education that chooses to offer a new educator preparation program or modify an existing program, either by significantly modifying the content or modifying the geographic area in which the program is offered, shall submit the new or modified program to the department for review pursuant to this section. The commission shall adopt policies and procedures for the review of new and modified programs.

(b) Each program review conducted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) shall ensure that the program meets the minimum requirements adopted pursuant to subsections (2) and (3) of this section and the requirements of section 23-1-108 and any policies adopted pursuant thereto. In determining whether to initially approve or continue the approval of an educator preparation program, the commission shall consider any recommendations made by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-2-109 (5), C.R.S., concerning the effectiveness of the program content. If the state board of education recommends that a program not be approved, the commission shall follow the recommendation by refusing initial approval of the program or placing the program on probation.

(c) The department shall work cooperatively with each institution of higher education that offers an educator preparation program to obtain any data requested by the department to determine the admission and enrollment patterns, completion rates, and effectiveness of educator preparation programs offered by the institution. In addition, each institution of higher education shall, upon request from the department, prepare and submit an annual report to assist the department in reviewing the educator preparation programs pursuant to this section. The department shall collaborate with representatives from the governing boards of each institution of higher education that offer educator preparation programs in specifying the information to be included in the annual report.

(d) Following review of an educator preparation program, if the commission determines that the program does not meet the requirements specified in paragraph (b) of this subsection (4), it shall place the program on probation. The commission shall adopt policies specifying the procedures for placing a program on probation and for subsequently terminating a program, including a procedure for appeal. A program that is placed on probation shall not accept new students until the commission removes the program from probationary status. If the commission determines that termination of the approval of a program is necessary, the program shall be terminated within four years after said determination. If the commission places a program on probation based on the recommendation of the state board of education, the commission shall consult with the state board of education in determining whether the program should be reapproved or whether approval should be terminated.

(e) The commission shall adopt policies and procedures, including a procedure for appeal, to discontinue any educator preparation program at an institution of higher education that has not had any candidate successfully graduate during the previous five years.

(5) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2011, (SB 11-245), ch. 201, p. 842, § 2, effective August 10, 2011.)

(6) The department shall annually prepare a report concerning the enrollment in, graduation rates from, and effectiveness of the review of educator preparation programs authorized by the commission. In addition the report shall include data on the outcomes of graduates of educator preparation programs pursuant to section 22-68.5-102, C.R.S. The report shall also state the percentage of educator candidates graduating from each program during the preceding twelve months that applied for and received an initial license pursuant to section 22-60.5-201, C.R.S., and the percentage of the graduates who passed the assessments administered pursuant to section 22-60.5-203, C.R.S. For purposes of completing the report required pursuant to this subsection (6), as well as the report required pursuant to section 22-68.5-102.5, C.R.S., the department of higher education and the department of education shall share any relevant data that complies with state and federal regulations with the other agency. The department shall provide notice to the education committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, that the report is available to the members of the committees upon request.

(7) The general assembly encourages the department to collaborate with national accrediting bodies of educator preparation and to offer concurrent and joint site visits to educator preparation programs at institutions of higher education to the extent feasible.

(8) On or before December 30, 2013, the commission shall review the provisions of this section and any associated commission policies and make recommendations for a new system to review, evaluate, and assist educator preparation programs regarding the requirements of Senate Bill 08-212, enacted in 2008, Senate Bill 10-191, enacted in 2010, House Bill 09-1065, enacted in 2009, and Senate Bill 10-036, enacted in 2010.

23-1-121.7. Commission directive - paraprofessional programs. (1) The general assembly finds that:

(a) The number of paraprofessionals who assist teachers in the classroom has increased in recent years both in absolute numbers and as a proportion of all instructional staff;

(b) Paraprofessionals are a valuable asset to school districts, providing many hours of additional instructional time for students, especially as public schools are called upon to provide increasing services for children with disabilities and children for whom English is a second language;

(c) As parents are requesting and school districts are attempting to provide smaller class sizes, the prudent use of well-qualified paraprofessionals to maximize individualized instruction provides school districts with a means to reach every student and to assist every student in reaching his or her full potential;

(d) In passing the "No Child Left Behind Act of 2001", Public Law 107-110, congress has expressed the intention that all paraprofessionals working in Title I programs be highly qualified;

(e) A paraprofessional working in a Title I program may demonstrate that he or she is highly qualified in several ways, including completion of at least two years of postsecondary study, obtaining an associates or higher degree, or successfully taking an assessment selected by the state or by the employing school district that meets state and federal standards and that demonstrates knowledge of and the ability to assist in instruction of reading, writing, and mathematics;

(f) Because state and federal laws identify specific criteria for paraprofessional qualification and school districts retain flexibility for using paraprofessional instructional support services, further regulation of paraprofessionals, including certification or licensing, is not required;

(g) To assist school districts in identifying highly qualified paraprofessionals, community colleges and four-year institutions of higher education are strongly encouraged to provide education paraprofessional preparation programs, and it is useful to create a procedure for approval of education paraprofessional preparation programs.

(2) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires, “paraprofessional” means a person who is trained to assist a licensed teacher or special services provider.

(3) Repealed.

(4) At a minimum, an approved education paraprofessional preparation program shall:

(a) Be aligned with federal and state standards for paraprofessionals;

(b) Consist of courses designed to convey to a student knowledge in reading, writing, mathematics, and science, and the skills necessary to assist a licensed teacher in teaching reading, writing, mathematics, and science;

(c) Be aligned with statewide transfer agreements.

23-1-125. Commission directive - student bill of rights - degree requirements - implementation of core courses - competency test - prior learning. (1) Student bill of rights. The general assembly hereby finds that students enrolled in public institutions of higher education shall have the following rights:

(a) Students should be able to complete their associate of arts and associate of science degree programs in no more than sixty credit hours or their baccalaureate programs in no more than one hundred twenty credit hours unless there are additional degree requirements recognized by the commission;

(b) A student can sign a two-year or four-year graduation agreement that formalizes a plan for that student to obtain a degree in two or four years, unless there are additional degree requirements recognized by the commission;

(c) Students have a right to clear and concise information concerning which courses must be completed successfully to complete their degrees;

(d) Students have a right to know which courses are transferable among the state public two-year and four-year institutions of higher education;

(e) Students, upon completion of core general education courses, regardless of the delivery method, should have those courses satisfy the core course requirements of all Colorado public institutions of higher education;

(f) Students have a right to know if courses from one or more public higher education institutions satisfy the students' degree requirements;

(g) A student's credit for the completion of the core requirements and core courses shall not expire for ten years from the date of initial enrollment and shall be transferrable.

(2) Degree requirements. The commission shall establish a standard of a one-hundred-twenty-hour baccalaureate degree, not including specific professional degree programs that have additional degree requirements recognized by the commission.

(3) Core courses. The department, in consultation with each Colorado public institution of higher education, is directed to outline a plan to implement a core course concept that defines the general education course guidelines for all public institutions of higher education. The core of courses shall be designed to ensure that students demonstrate competency in reading, critical thinking, written communication, mathematics, and technology. The core of courses shall consist of at least thirty credit hours but shall not exceed forty credit hours. Individual institutions of higher education shall conform their own core course requirements with the guidelines developed by the department and shall identify the specific courses that meet the general education course guidelines. Any such guidelines developed by the department shall be submitted to the commission for its approval. In creating and adopting the guidelines, the department and the commission, in collaboration with the public institutions of higher education, may make allowances for baccalaureate programs that have additional degree requirements recognized by the commission. If a statewide matrix of core courses is adopted by the commission, the courses identified by the individual institutions as meeting the general education course guidelines shall be included in the matrix. The commission shall adopt such policies to ensure that institutions develop the most effective way to implement the transferability of core course credits.

(4) Competency testing. On or before July 1, 2010, the commission shall, in consultation with each public institution of higher education, define a process for students to test out of core courses, including specifying use of a national test or the criteria for approving institutionally devised tests. Beginning in the 2010-11 academic year, each public institution of higher education shall grant full course credits to students for the core courses they successfully test out of, free of tuition for those courses.

(4.5) Prior learning. Beginning in the 2013-14 academic year, each public institution of higher education shall adopt and make public a policy or program to determine academic credit for prior learning.

(5) Nonpublic institutions of higher education. (a) (I) A nonpublic institution of higher education may choose to conform its core course requirements with, or adopt core course requirements that meet, the general education course guidelines developed by the department pursuant to subsection (3) of this section and identify the specific courses that meet the general education course guidelines. The nonpublic institution of higher education may require all of the students enrolled in the institution to take the core course requirements that are conformed or adopted as provided in this paragraph (a) or may require only those students who are concurrently enrolled, pursuant to article 35 of title 22, C.R.S., in a high school and in the nonpublic institution of higher education to take said core course requirements.

(II) The core course requirements that a nonpublic institution of higher education conforms or adopts pursuant to this paragraph (a) shall comply with the number of credit hours required by the department and shall include courses in each of the subject areas identified by the department. The nonpublic institution of higher education shall submit to the department a description of its core course requirements with the initial review fee established pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (5), and the department shall determine whether the nonpublic institution's core course requirements comply with the department's general education course guidelines. If the department determines that the nonpublic institution of higher education's core course requirements comply with the guidelines, then the nonpublic institution's core course credits shall be transferable to public institutions of higher education, and the nonpublic institution of higher education shall accept transfers of core course credits from the public institutions of higher education.

(b) A nonpublic institution of higher education that chooses to seek transferability of its core course credits pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) shall, prior to the beginning of each academic year in which it seeks transferability, allow the department to review its general education core course requirements and its general education courses to ensure that they continue to meet the general education core course guidelines. The department may assess a fee as provided in paragraph (c) of this subsection (5) to offset the costs of the annual review.

(c) The commission, in consultation with the department, shall establish the amounts of the initial review fee and the annual review fee of a nonpublic institution of higher education's general education core course requirements and core courses, which amounts shall not exceed the direct and indirect costs incurred by the department in initially reviewing and in annually reviewing the nonpublic institution's general education core course requirements and core courses. The department is authorized to collect the fees from nonpublic institutions of higher education as provided in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection (5).

(d) On or before March 1, 2016, the commission shall submit to the education committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, a report concerning the implementation of this subsection (5). At a minimum, the report shall include:

(I) The names of the nonpublic institutions of higher education that are participating in the general education core course requirements;

(II) The number of students who have transferred core course credits to or from a nonpublic institution of higher education;

(III) Any issues that have arisen in the course of implementing this subsection (5); and

(IV) Any recommendations for changes to this subsection (5).

(e) As used in this subsection (5), "nonpublic institution of higher education" means an educational institution operating in this state that:

(I) Does not receive state general fund moneys in support of its operating costs;

(II) Admits as regular students only persons having a high school diploma or the recognized equivalent of a high school diploma;

(III) Is accredited by an accrediting agency or association approved by the United States department of education;

(IV) Provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor's degree or a graduate degree;

(V) Is authorized by the department of higher education to do business in Colorado pursuant to section 23-2-103.3;

(VI) Maintains a physical campus or instructional facility in Colorado; and

(VII) Has been determined by the United States department of education to be eligible to administer federal financial aid programs pursuant to Title IV of the federal "Higher Education Act of 1965", as amended.

(2) On and after August 4, 2004, a higher education institution in the state may offer one or more elective courses in American sign language.

23-1-130. Department duty to report on workforce needs and credential production - repeal. (1) This section shall be known as the "Skills for Jobs Act".

(2) To the extent practicable within available resources and subject to the availability of data currently collected by and accessible to state agencies, the department, in consultation with the department of labor, the department of regulatory agencies, and any other entity the department deems appropriate, shall produce an annual report regarding state workforce need projections and credential production. The report shall:

(a) Indicate the state's anticipated workforce needs and the number of degrees, certificates, and other credentials that public and private institutions of higher education, private occupational schools, local district colleges, and area vocational schools expect to issue;

(b) To the extent provided by sources external to the department, indicate the state's anticipated number of degrees, certificates, and other credentials that high school vocational programs, apprenticeship programs, and other public or private workforce training programs expect to issue;

(c) Identify any workforce needs, including areas of specialization within a particular vocation, that may not be met by the education, training, and apprenticeship programs; and

(d) Identify institutions, public or private, that may meet projected workforce needs. The department, by January 15 of each year, beginning in 2013, shall provide a copy of the report to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, to the economic and business development committee of the house of representatives, or any successor committee, to the business, labor, and technology committee of the senate, or any successor committee, and to the governor.

(4) This section is repealed, effective July 1, 2016.

Source: L. 2012: Entire section added, (HB 12-1061), ch. 74, p. 251, § 1, effective August 8.

23-1-131. Commission directive - associate degree completion program - legislative declaration - definitions. (1) (a) The general assembly finds and declares that, due to the demands of a global economy, the state and the nation have an increasing need for individuals with a postsecondary credential or degree. Many students begin their postsecondary education in a two-year institution and transfer to a four-year institution prior to receiving an associate degree. Some students who subsequently accumulate the credit hours necessary for an associate degree while at the four-year institution, or who leave the four-year institution prior to completing a bachelor's degree, would benefit from the award of an associate degree. The award of an associate degree not only rewards the student's efforts in attaining postsecondary education but also recognizes the investment of financial resources in postsecondary education by both the student and the state.

(b) Therefore, the general assembly declares that the state's two-year and four-year institutions should work in collaboration with the commission to develop a process that reduces a potential barrier to degree completion by providing students with information about the student's eligibility for an associate degree.

(2) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Associate degree" means an associate of arts or associate of science degree.

(b) "Four-year institution" means a state-supported institution of higher education that is authorized to grant baccalaureate degrees.

(c) "Two-year institution" means a state-supported institution of higher education, or a local district college, that is authorized to grant associate degrees.

(3) (a) The commission shall collaborate with the governing boards of the two-year and four-year institutions to develop and coordinate a process to notify students concerning eligibility for the award of an associate degree. The notification process shall apply to students at a four-year institution who have accumulated seventy credit hours at a four-year institution and who transferred to the institution after completing the residency requirements for an associate degree at a two-year institution. The notification process developed pursuant to this section shall specify the role of the student, the department, and the two-year and four-year institutions in the process, with the role of the four-year institutions limited to providing contact information for eligible students. The notification process shall be implemented no later than the beginning of the 2013-14 academic year.

(b) The two-year and four-year institutions shall agree upon the contents of the notification to eligible students. At a minimum, the notification shall include the requirements for the degree audit by the two-year institution and information concerning the process for a student to be awarded an associate degree in the future if the degree requirements are not met or the student declines the associate degree at the time of the notification.

(c) Nothing in this section limits the ability of the governing boards of two-year and four-year institutions to develop reverse transfer agreements that are consistent with the intent of this section.

(4) Each two-year and four-year institution shall provide students with information concerning the process developed pursuant to this section.

The department shall not recommend and the commission shall not approve an application from a private college or university that, in the two years preceding submission of the application, has had its accreditation suspended or withdrawn or has been prohibited from operating in another state or that has substantially the same owners, governing board, or principal officers as a private college or university that, in the two years preceding submission of the application, has had its accreditation suspended or withdrawn or has been prohibited from operating in another state.

(2) To operate in Colorado, a private college or university shall be institutionally accredited on the basis of an on-site review by a regional or national accrediting body recognized by the United States department of education; except that a private college or university may operate for an initial period without accreditation if the commission determines, in accordance with standards established by the commission, that the private college or university is likely to become accredited in a reasonable period of time or is making progress toward accreditation in accordance with the accrediting body's policies. The commission may grant a provisional authorization to a private college or university to operate for an initial period without accreditation. The private college or university shall annually renew its provisional authorization and report annually to the commission concerning the institution's progress in obtaining accreditation.

In addition, the institution shall immediately notify the department if the institution's accrediting body is no longer recognized by the United States department of education.

(4) To operate in Colorado, a seminary or religious training institution shall apply for and receive authorization from the department and establish that it qualifies as a bona fide religious institution and as an institution of postsecondary education, as defined by rules promulgated by the commission. (II) A seminary or religious training institution that continues to meet the minimum operating standards specified in this section is presumed qualified for renewal of authorization, and the department shall recommend that the commission renew the institution's authorization for three additional years.

(c) If a private college or university or seminary or religious training institution cannot demonstrate that it meets the minimum operating standards specified in this section or section 23-2-103.8, if applicable, the department shall recommend that the commission deny the institution's application for renewal of the authorization. If, within six months after receiving the notice of denial of the application for renewal, the institution corrects the action or condition that resulted in denial of the application for renewal, the institution may reapply for renewal of the authorization. If the institution does not correct the action or condition within the six-month period, it may submit a new application for authorization after correcting the action or condition.

(d) If a private college or university is under a sanction from its accrediting body at the time it files an application for renewal of authorization to operate in Colorado, the department may recommend that the commission renew the institution's authorization or that the commission grant a probationary renewal of the institution's authorization. If an institution receives a probationary renewal of its authorization, the institution shall reapply for renewal of its authorization annually until the accrediting body lifts the sanction, and the institution shall annually report to the commission concerning the institution's progress in removing the sanction.

(e) If the department recommends that the commission grant a probationary renewal of authorization or deny an application for renewal of authorization, the commission shall notify the private college or university or seminary or religious training institution concerning the recommendation, and the department and the commission shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(IV) The institution annually provides to the commission audited financial statements for the most recent fiscal year that demonstrate that the institution maintains positive equity and profitability;

(V) The institution maintains a composite score of at least 1.5 on its equity, primary reserve, and net income ratios, as required in 34 CFR 668.172; and

(VI) The institution meets or exceeds the pro rata refund policies required by the federal department of education in 34 CFR 668 or, if the institution does not participate in federal financial aid programs, the institution's refund and termination procedures comply with the requirements of the institution's accrediting body.

(3) (a) Each private college or university that is not exempt from the requirements of this section pursuant to subsection (1) of this section and cannot demonstrate financial integrity as provided in subsection (2) of this section, as determined by the commission, shall file evidence of surety in the amount calculated pursuant to subsection (5) of this section prior to receiving authorization to operate in Colorado. The surety may be in the form of a savings account, deposit, or certificate of deposit that meets the requirements of section 11-35-101, C.R.S., or an alternative method approved by the commission, or one bond as set forth in this section covering the applying institution. The commission may disapprove an institution's surety if the commission finds the surety is not sufficient to provide students with the indemnification and alternative enrollment required by this section.

(b) If a private college or university files a bond, the bond shall be executed by the institution as principal and by a surety company authorized to do business in this state. The bond shall be continuous unless the surety is released as set forth in this section.

(4) The surety shall be conditioned to provide indemnification to any student or enrollee, or to any parent or legal guardian of a student or enrollee, that the commission finds to have suffered loss of tuition or any fees as a result of any act or practice that is a violation of this article and to provide alternate enrollment as provided in subsection (7) of this section for students enrolled in an institution that ceases operation.

(5) The amount of the surety that a private college or university submits pursuant to subsection (3) of this section is the greater of five thousand dollars or an amount equal to a reasonable estimate of the maximum prepaid, unearned tuition and fees of the institution for the period or term during the applicable academic year for which programs of instruction are offered including, but not limited to, programs offered on a semester, quarter, monthly, or class basis; except that the institution shall use the period or term of greatest duration and expense in determining this amount if the institution's academic year consists of one or more periods or terms. Following the initial filing of the surety with the department, the private college or university shall recalculate the amount of the surety annually based on a reasonable estimate of the maximum prepaid, unearned tuition and fees received by the institution for the applicable period or term.

(6) (a) A student or enrollee, or a parent or guardian of the student or enrollee, who claims loss of tuition or fees may file a claim with the commission if the claim results from an act or practice that violates a provision of this article. The claims that are filed with the commission are public records and are subject to the provisions of article 72 of title 24, C.R.S.; except that the department shall not make the claims records public if the release would violate a federal privacy law.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (6), the commission shall not consider a claim that is filed more than two years after the date the student discontinues his or her enrollment with the institution.

(7) (a) If a private college or university ceases operation, the commission may make demand on the surety of the institution upon the demand for a refund by a student or the implementation of alternate enrollment for the students enrolled in the institution, and the holder of the surety or, if the surety is a bond, the principal on the bond shall pay the claim due in a timely manner. To the extent practicable, the commission shall use the amount of the surety to provide alternate enrollment for students of the institution that ceases operation through a contract with another authorized private college or university, a community college, an area vocational school, or any other arrangement that is acceptable to the department. The alternate enrollment provided to a student shall replace the original enrollment agreement, if any, between the student and the private college or university; except that the student shall make the tuition and fee payments as required by the original enrollment agreement, if any.

(b) A student who is enrolled in a private college or university that ceases operation and who declines the alternate enrollment required to be offered pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (7) may file a claim with the commission for the student's prorated share of the prepaid, unearned tuition and fees that the student paid, subject to the limitations of paragraph (c) of this subsection (7). The commission shall not make a subsequent payment to a student unless the student submits proof of satisfaction of any prior debt to a financial institution in accordance with the commission's rules concerning the administration of this section.

(c) If the amount of the surety is less than the total prepaid, unearned tuition and fees that have been paid by students at the time the private college or university ceases operation, the department shall prorate the amount of the surety among the students.

(d) The provisions of this subsection (7) are applicable only to those students enrolled in the private college or university at the time it ceases operation, and, once an institution ceases operation, no new students shall be enrolled therein.

(e) The commission is the trustee for all prepaid, unearned tuition and fees, student loans, Pell grants, and other student financial aid assistance if an authorized private college or university ceases operation.

(f) The commission shall determine whether offering alternate enrollment for students enrolled in an authorized private college or university that ceases operation is practicable without federal government designation of the commission as trustee for student loans, Pell grants, and other student financial aid assistance pursuant to paragraph (e) of this subsection (7).

(8) For claims made pursuant to this section that do not involve a private college or university that ceases operation, the commission shall conduct a hearing to determine whether there is loss of tuition or fees, and, if the commission finds that a claim is valid and due the claimant, the commission shall make demand upon the surety. If the holder of the surety or, if the surety is a bond, the principal on the bond fails or refuses to pay the claim due, the commission shall commence an action on the surety in a court of competent jurisdiction; except that the commission shall not file an action more than six years after the date of the violation that gives rise to the right to file a claim pursuant to this section.

(9) The authorization for a private college or university is suspended by operation of law when the institution is no longer covered by surety as required by this section. The department shall give written notice to the institution at the last-known address, at least forty-five days before the release of the surety, to the effect that the institution's authorization is suspended by operation of law until the institution files evidence of surety in like amount as the surety being released.

(10) The principal on a bond filed under the provisions of this section is released from the bond after the principal serves written notice thereof to the commission at least sixty days before the release. The release does not discharge or otherwise affect a claim filed by a student or enrollee or his or her parent or legal guardian for loss of tuition or fees that occurred while the bond was in effect or that occurred under any note or contract executed during any period of time when the bond was in effect, except when another bond is filed in a like amount and provides indemnification for any such loss.

(11) Each private college or university that files a surety pursuant to subsection (3) of this section shall provide annual verification of continued coverage by surety as required by this section in a report to the commission due by January 1 of each year. The commission may disapprove a surety if it finds that the surety is not adequate to provide students with the indemnification and alternate enrollment required by this section.

(12) If a private college or university that is exempt from the provisions of this section or that demonstrates financial integrity pursuant to subsection (2) of this section ceases to operate in this state, the state attorney general may file a claim against the institution on behalf of students enrolled in the institution at the time it ceases operation to recover any amount of unearned, prepaid tuition that may be owed to the students.

(13) A seminary or religious training institution is not subject to the requirements of this section.

23-2-104. Administration of article - complaints - injunctive proceedings. (1) The department shall administer this article pursuant to statute and appropriate policies adopted by the commission.

(2) (a) The commission shall specify procedures by which a student or former student of a private college or university or seminary or religious training institution may file a complaint with the department concerning the institution in which the student is or was enrolled. If a former student files a complaint, he or she must do so within two years after discontinuing enrollment at the institution. The department may investigate complaints based on a claim of a deceptive trade practice as described in subsection (4) of this section. The department does not have jurisdiction to consider complaints that infringe on the academic freedom or religious freedom of, or question the curriculum content of, a private college or university or seminary or religious training institution; except that the department has jurisdiction to consider a complaint that pertains to the general education core course requirements of a private college or university or seminary or religious training institution, or to any of the specific core courses included in said requirements, if the private college or university or seminary or religious training institution chooses to seek transferability of its general education core courses pursuant to section 23-1-125 (5).

(b) Upon receipt of a complaint, the department shall verify that the complaint warrants investigation under the guidelines established by the commission and as a deceptive trade practice. A complaint will warrant investigation only when the student has exhausted all complaint and appeals processes available at the institution. The department shall dismiss a complaint if it does not warrant investigation under the commission's guidelines and is not a deceptive trade practice. If the complaint warrants investigation, the department shall first forward the complaint to the institution for a written response. The institution shall have thirty days to respond in writing to the department and to forward a copy of the response to the student. During the thirty-day period, the institution may attempt to resolve the complaint with the student, and the department shall assist in the efforts to resolve the complaint. If the department determines at any time that a complaint no longer warrants investigation, the department shall dismiss the complaint.

(c) If a complaint is not resolved during the thirty-day period, the department may dismiss the complaint based on the institution's response, investigate the complaint further, or recommend that the commission evaluate the merits of the complaint. If the commission finds the complaint is meritorious, it may recommend that the private college or university or seminary or religious training institution take appropriate action to remedy the complaint.

(d) If the private college or university or seminary or religious training institution does not take the action recommended by the commission, the commission may forward the complaint and findings to the attorney general.

(3) The commission, acting through the attorney general, may proceed by injunction against any violation of this article, but an injunction proceeding or an order issued therein or as a result thereof shall not bar the imposition of any other penalty for violation of this article.

(4) It is a deceptive trade practice for:

(a) An institution or agent to make or cause to be made any statement or representation, oral, written, or visual, in connection with the offering of educational services if the institution or agent knows or reasonably should have known the statement or representation to be materially false, substantially inaccurate, or materially misleading;

(b) An institution or agent to represent falsely or to deceptively conceal, directly or by implication, through the use of a trade or business name, the fact that an institution is a school;

(c) An institution or agent to adopt a name, trade name, or trademark that represents falsely, directly or by implication, the quality, scope, nature, size, or integrity of the institution or its educational services;

(d) An institution or agent to intentionally and materially represent falsely, directly or by implication, that students who successfully complete a course or program of instruction may transfer the credits earned to any institution of higher education;

(e) An institution or agent to intentionally and materially represent falsely, directly or by implication, in its advertising or promotional materials or in any other manner, the size, location, facilities, or equipment of the institution; the number or educational experience qualifications of its faculty; the extent or nature of any approval received from any state agency; or the extent or nature of any accreditation received from any accrediting agency or association;

(f) An institution or agent to provide prospective students with testimonials, endorsements, or other information that has the tendency to materially mislead or deceive prospective students or the public regarding current practices of the institution;

(g) An agent representing an out-of-state school to represent, directly or by implication, that the school is authorized by the state of Colorado or approved or accredited by an accrediting agency or body when the institution has not been authorized, approved, or accented;

(h) An institution to designate or refer to its sales representatives by titles that imply the sales representatives have training in academic counseling or advising if they do not.

23-3-102. Legislative declaration. The general assembly finds and declares that the provision of a higher or vocational education for all residents of this state who desire such an education and are properly qualified therefor is important to the welfare and security of this state and nation and, consequently, serves an important public purpose and that many qualified students are deterred by financial considerations from completing their education, with a consequent irreparable loss to the state and nation of talents vital to welfare and security. The number of qualified persons who desire higher or vocational education is increasing rapidly, and the physical facilities, faculties, and staffs of the institutions of higher education operated by the state will have to be expanded greatly to accommodate such persons, with an attendant sharp increase in the cost of educating such persons. A system of financial assistance through guaranteed loans for qualified residents of college age will enable them to attend qualified institutions of their choice.

(a) To arrange for the guarantee by nongovernmental organizations of loans of money by private lenders to persons who are residents of this state and who have been accepted for enrollment or who are in good standing at colleges or vocational schools in this state or elsewhere in order to assist them in meeting the expenses of their education. Any agreement entered into by the commission to effect such arrangement shall require that any such nongovernmental organization hold the funds received from the commission in a reserve fund to be expended only upon the certification to it by such a private lender that any such loan is in default and only upon the assignment to such organization of the promissory note in default. Such funds then may be applied to reimburse said lender the principal amount of the loan and accrued interest thereon remaining unpaid. Such agreement shall contain provisions for termination upon thirty days' written notice of either contracting party. Upon the effective date of such termination, such organization shall refund to the state such portion of the reserve fund as may exceed the total amount of loans guaranteed by the organization pursuant to such agreement and remaining unpaid. As additional repayments of loans are reported to it by a private lender, the organization shall refund such portion of the reserve fund then remaining as from time to time exceeds the total loans remaining unpaid.

(b) To enter into contracts with the United States government, or any department, agency, or office thereof, or any nongovernmental organization for the purpose of receiving funds or services therefrom or providing for the administration of the program thereby or in connection with any acts necessary or incidental to the performance of its powers or duties under this article;

(c) To adopt rules and regulations governing the guarantee loan program;

- (d) To secure commitments from private lenders to make loans to students under the program;
- (e) To participate in any federal government program for guaranteed loans or subsidies to students and to receive, hold, and disburse funds made available by any agency of the United States for the purpose for which they are made available;
- (f) To perform such other acts as may be necessary or appropriate in connection with the guarantee loan program;
- (g) To provide that there shall be no fee or other charge made to the applicant for loans for processing and periodic review of the qualifications for such loans.
- (2) The commission shall be under the following limitations:
- (a) It shall not itself lend any moneys under the program.
- (b) It shall not become responsible for or guarantee any debt, contract, or liability of any other person, company, or corporation under the program.
- (c) It shall not expend funds under the program greater than the amounts appropriated to it by the general assembly and available to it as a result of contributions.

(b) The loan guarantees shall not obligate the state, directly, indirectly, or contingently, nor empower the state or the general assembly to levy or collect any form of taxes or assessments, to create any indebtedness payable out of taxes or assessments, or to make any appropriation for their payment, and any such appropriation, levy, or collection is prohibited. Nothing in this part 1 shall be construed to authorize the division to create a debt of the state within the meaning of the constitution or statutes of Colorado or to authorize the division to levy or collect any form of taxes or assessments.

Through the prepaid expense program, all or part of tuition or other costs, as determined by the authority, may be paid in advance of or accumulated toward enrollment at institutions of higher education.

(2) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2000, p. 1278, § 8, effective May 26, 2000.)

(3) No purchaser or qualified beneficiary participating in the prepaid expense program shall be classified as a resident for tuition purposes as a result of such participation. Purchasers and qualified beneficiaries shall be required to establish residency status based on the requirements of the state institution at which the qualified beneficiary is seeking to enroll.

(4) The selection by a purchaser in an advance payment contract of a particular state institution shall not in any way constitute a promise or guarantee that a qualified beneficiary will be admitted to any particular state institution or other institution of higher education or allowed to continue enrollment in or graduate from any state institution or other institution of higher education.

(5) (a) The Colorado prepaid postsecondary education expense trust fund is hereby created. The prepaid expense trust fund shall consist of moneys remitted by purchasers, moneys acquired from governmental and private sources, and general fund appropriations, if any. In addition, the prepaid expense trust fund may include any moneys transferred or loaned thereto pursuant to section 23-3.1-205.4. All income derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund shall be credited to the fund. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund. On May 26, 2000, the prepaid expense trust fund, and all moneys in said fund, including all interest and earnings in said fund shall be transferred with the authority as provided in section 23-3.1-205.3. All moneys remitted by purchasers and other moneys received by the authority in connection with the prepaid expense program shall be transmitted by the authority to the state treasurer and credited to the prepaid expense trust fund. The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund based upon the direction of the authority and shall make disbursements from the prepaid expense trust fund in connection with the prepaid expense program based upon the direction of the authority and in a manner appropriate to carry out the prepaid expense program. All income derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund shall be credited to the fund. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2000, p. 1278, § 8, effective May 26, 2000.)

(c) The state treasurer shall maintain on behalf of the authority the prepaid expense trust fund as a separate fund. The state treasurer shall credit all moneys remitted to the state treasurer by the authority as provided in paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) to the prepaid expense trust fund.

(d) (I) The authority shall evaluate the actuarial soundness of the prepaid expense trust fund if, on the last day of the fiscal year, the aggregate amount of moneys of the prepaid expense trust fund invested in any of the following forms of investment exceeds ten percent of the market value of investable assets of the prepaid expense trust fund:

(A) Common or preferred stock; or

(B) Corporate bonds, notes, or debentures that are convertible into common or preferred stock; or

(C) Investment trust shares.

(II) The authority may contract with a private consultant or consultants to perform an actuarial evaluation of the prepaid expense trust fund and to provide financial advice to the authority in connection with the prepaid expense trust fund. Any actuarial report and written financial advice shall be provided by the authority to the state treasurer. If, based upon an actuarial evaluation, the authority determines that the prepaid expense trust fund is not actuarially sound, the authority may direct the state treasurer to distribute the available assets of the prepaid expense trust fund in a manner permitted by outstanding advance payment contracts. In connection with the evaluation of the prepaid expense trust fund, a calculation based on key assumptions approved by the board shall be made by or on behalf of the authority to determine whether an excess amount exists in the prepaid expense trust fund. If, based on this calculation, the authority determines that an excess amount exists in the prepaid expense trust fund, the authority shall calculate, by dividing such excess amount by the total number of expected tuition units in the prepaid expense trust fund, the portion of such excess amount that would be attributable on a pro rata basis to each such expected tuition unit. At the time the value of any tuition units under an advance payment contract is disbursed from the prepaid expense trust fund during the academic year immediately following such calculation, the portion of the excess amount attributable to such tuition units as a result of the calculation made pursuant to this paragraph (d) shall be paid as part of such disbursement. The excess amount shall otherwise remain in the prepaid expense trust fund as a part of the stabilization reserve.

(e) (I) All expenses of the authority incurred in developing and administering the prepaid expense program shall be payable from the prepaid expense trust fund. The authority may use moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund to reimburse the expenses of the authority incurred in connection with the development and administration of the prepaid expense program. In no event shall annual administration expenses of the authority exceed one percent of the contract price. Any recovery of development costs by the authority shall not include interest or finance charges, but may include moneys transferred from the collegeinvest fund to the prepaid expense trust fund under section 23-3.1-205.4 (4). Any moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund that are not needed for immediate use by the authority shall be invested by the state treasurer in accordance with paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) and with the actuarial report provided by the authority and in investments permitted by section 23-3.1-216 (1) and (3). The authority shall determine the amount of moneys in the fund that shall be invested and shall notify the state treasurer in writing of the amount.

(II) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2000, p. 1278, § 8, effective May 26, 2000.)

(6) and (7) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2000, p. 1278, § 8, effective May 26, 2000.)

(8) If, at any time, the authority determines that the prepaid expense program, or any aspect thereof, is not financially sound, the authority may discontinue permanently or for a period of time the prepaid expense program or that particular aspect of the program and the execution of additional advance payment contracts. The state treasurer shall continue to invest moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund based upon the direction of the authority and shall continue to make disbursements from the prepaid expense trust fund in connection with the prepaid expense program based upon the direction of the authority for the benefit of existing purchasers and qualified beneficiaries except as otherwise authorized.

(3) The board shall adopt any policies necessary for the implementation and administration of the Colorado collegeinvest scholarship program, which shall include but need not be limited to implementing the program for the high school graduating class of 2008, providing awards to both part-time and full-time students, and specifying that a scholarship under the program shall only be paid to a student for up to five academic years. The notes may be authorized, sold, executed, and delivered in the same manner as bonds.

(2) Any resolution authorizing notes of the authority or any issue of such notes may contain any provisions which the authority is authorized to include in any resolution authorizing bonds of the authority or any issue of bonds, and the authority may include in any notes any terms, covenants, or conditions which it is authorized to include in any bonds.

(3) All such notes shall be payable from the proceeds of bonds or renewal notes or from the revenues of the authority or other moneys available for such payment and not otherwise pledged, subject only to any contractual rights of the holders of any of its notes or other obligations outstanding at the time of issuance of such notes.

23-3.1-208. Bonds. (1) (a) The authority may issue from time to time its bonds for its purposes as provided in this part 2, including but not limited to purchasing or making student obligations or making institutional loans. The authority may not undertake the financing of the making or purchasing of student obligations unless, prior to the issuance of any bonds or notes, the board finds that there is insufficient access to student obligations from normal private market sources and that the financing will help alleviate such insufficient access.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2004, p. 568, § 17, effective July 1, 2004.)

(c) In anticipation of the sale of its bonds, the authority may issue bond anticipation notes and may renew the same from time to time. Such notes shall be paid from any revenues of the authority or other moneys available for payments and not otherwise pledged or from proceeds of the sale of the bonds of the authority in anticipation of which they were issued. The bond anticipation notes shall be issued in the same manner as bonds. Such notes and the resolution authorizing them may contain any provisions, conditions, or limitations which a bond resolution of the authority contains.

(2) (a) All bonds issued by the authority shall be payable solely out of the revenues and receipts of the authority as designated in the resolution of the authority under which the bonds are authorized to be issued or as designated in a trust indenture authorized by the authority which shall name a bank or trust company as trustee or out of other moneys available for payments and not otherwise pledged.

(b) Bonds may be executed and delivered by the authority at such times, may be in such form and denominations and include such terms and maturities, may be in fully registered form or in bearer form registerable either as to principal or interest or both, may bear such conversion privileges, may be payable in such installments and at such time or times not exceeding forty years from the date thereof, may be payable at such place or places whether within or without the state of Colorado, may bear interest at such fixed or variable rate or rates per annum as determined by the authority or in accordance with methods approved by the authority without regard to any interest rate limitation appearing in any other law of this state, may be evidenced in such manner, may be executed by such officers of the authority, including the use of one or more facsimile signatures so long as at least one manual signature appears on the bonds, which may be either an officer of the authority or an officer of the trustee authenticating the same, may be in the form of coupon bonds which have attached interest coupons bearing the facsimile signature of an authorized officer of the authority, and may contain such provisions not inconsistent with this part 2, all as provided in the resolution of the authority under which the bonds are authorized to be issued or as provided in a trust indenture authorized by the authority.

(3) If deemed advisable by the authority, there may be retained in the resolution or the trust indenture under which any bonds of the authority are authorized to be issued an option to redeem all or any part of said bonds as may be specified in such resolution or in such trust indenture, at such price or prices and on such terms and conditions as may be set forth in such resolution or in such trust indenture. Nothing in this part 2 shall be construed to confer on the authority the right or option to redeem any bonds except as provided in the resolution or in such trust indenture under which they are issued.

(4) The bonds or notes of the authority may be sold at public or private sale for such price or prices, in such manner, and at such times as determined by the authority, and the authority may pay all expenses, premiums, and commissions which it may deem necessary or advantageous in connection with the issuance of bonds or notes. The power to fix the date of sale of bonds and notes, to receive bids or proposals, to award and sell bonds and notes, and to take all other necessary action to sell and deliver bonds and notes may be delegated to the executive officer by resolution of the authority. Pending preparation of the definitive bonds, the authority may issue interim receipts or certificates which shall be exchanged for such definitive bonds.

(5) (a) Any outstanding bonds of the authority may be refunded or advance refunded at any time and from time to time by the authority by the issuance of its bonds for such purpose in a principal amount determined by the authority, which may include interest accrued or to accrue with or without giving effect to investment income and other expenses necessary to be paid in connection with such issuance.

(b) (I) Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded have then matured or will mature thereafter, either by sale of the refunding bonds and the application of the proceeds of such sale for the payment of the bonds to be refunded or by the exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds to be refunded with the consent of the holders of the bonds to be so refunded, regardless of whether or not the bonds proposed to be refunded are payable on the same date or different dates or are due serially or otherwise.

(II) The proceeds of any such bonds issued for the purpose of refunding outstanding bonds may be applied, in the discretion of the authority, to the purchase or retirement at maturity or redemption of such outstanding bonds either on their earliest or any subsequent redemption date or upon the purchase or at the maturity thereof and, pending such application, may be placed in escrow to be applied to such purchase or retirement at maturity or redemption on such date as may be determined by the authority. Any such escrowed proceeds, pending such use, may be invested and reinvested in securities meeting the investment requirements established in part 6 of article 75 of title 24, C.R.S., maturing at such time or times as are appropriate to assure the prompt payment as to principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of the outstanding bonds to be so refunded. The interest, income, and profit, if any, earned or realized on any such investment may also be applied, in the discretion of the authority, to the payment of the outstanding bonds or notes to be so refunded or to the payment of principal and interest on the refunding bonds or for any other purpose under this part 2. After the terms of the escrow have been fully satisfied and carried out, any balance of such proceeds and interest, income, and profits, if any, earned or realized on the investments may be returned to the authority for use by it in any lawful manner.

(c) All such refunding bonds shall be subject to the provisions of this part 2 in the same manner and to the same extent as other bonds issued pursuant to this part 2.

(6) The proceeds of any bonds, notes, bond anticipation notes, or other obligations may be used and applied to the payment of financing costs, including legal, underwriting and investment banking, accounting, and other similar costs; the funding of any reserve funds deemed necessary or advisable by the authority; interest on such bonds, notes, bond anticipation notes, or other obligations for a period not to exceed three years; and all other necessary and incidental costs and expenses.

Security for bonds and notes. (1) (a) The principal and interest on any bonds or notes issued by the authority may be secured by a trust indenture by and between the authority and a corporate trustee. Such trust indenture or the resolution providing for the issuance of such obligations may pledge or assign all or any part of the revenues or assets of the authority, including, without limitation, student obligations, student obligation commitments, institutional loans, moneys deposited or pledged by or on behalf of one or more institutions of higher education, moneys deposited or pledged by the division, temporary loans, contracts, agreements, and other security or investment obligations, the fees or charges made or received by the authority, the moneys received in payment of student obligations and institutional loans and interest on such moneys, including the proceeds of insurance on such obligations and loans and any other moneys received or due to be received by the authority.

(b) Such trust indenture or resolution may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the holders of any of the bonds or notes as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the authority in relation to the purposes to which proceeds of the bonds or notes may be applied, the disposition or pledging of the revenues or assets of the authority, the terms and conditions for the issuance of additional bonds or notes, and the custody, safeguarding and application of all moneys. Any such trust indenture or resolution may set forth the rights and remedies of the holders of any bonds or notes and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by any such holders.

(c) In addition, any such trust indenture or resolution may contain such other provision as the authority may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the holders of any bonds or notes, including but not limited to provisions for insurance, letters of credit, standby credit agreements, take-out commitments, or other forms of credit insuring against default or guaranteeing timely payment with respect to student obligations, institutional loans, or bonds. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of such indenture or resolution may be paid from the revenues or assets pledged or assigned to the payment of the principal of and the interest on bonds or notes or from any other funds available to the authority.

(2) (a) Any pledge made by the authority, by one or more institutions of higher education, by a nonprofit corporation acting on behalf of one or more institutions of higher education, or by the division shall be valid and binding from the time when the pledge is made. The revenues and moneys so pledged and thereafter received by or otherwise credited to such pledging parties shall immediately be subject to lien of such pledge without any physical delivery, filing, or further act, and the lien of such pledge shall have priority over any and all other obligations and liabilities of such pledging parties, subject to any contractual covenants by the pledging parties and any prior pledges and liens, and shall be valid, binding, and enforceable against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract, or otherwise against such pledging parties, irrespective of whether such claiming parties have notice of such lien. Neither the resolution nor any other instrument by which a pledge is created need be recorded. Each pledge, agreement, and indenture made for the benefit or security of any of the bonds of the authority shall continue to be effective until the principal of and interest on the bonds for the benefit of which the same are made has been fully paid or provision for such payment duly made.

(b) In the event of default in any such payment or in any agreements of the authority made as part of the contract under which the bonds were issued, whether contained in the resolution authorizing the bonds or in any trust indenture executed as security for such bonds, said payment or agreement may be enforced by suit, mandamus, or either of such remedies.

(3) Any bank or trust company that may act as depository of the proceeds of bonds or of revenues or other moneys may furnish such indemnifying bonds or pledge such securities as required by the authority.

23-3.1-213. Payment of bonds and advance payment contracts - limited liability of state. (1) Bonds and notes issued by the authority shall be payable solely from the funds provided for in this part 2 and shall not otherwise constitute or become an indebtedness, a debt, or a liability of the state, nor shall the state otherwise be liable on such bonds and notes, nor shall such bonds or notes constitute the giving, pledging, or loaning of the full faith and credit of the state. The issuance of bonds or notes under the provisions of this part 2 shall not obligate the state or empower the authority, directly, indirectly, or contingently, to levy or collect any form of taxes or assessments, to create any indebtedness payable out of taxes or assessments, or to make any appropriation for their payment, and such appropriation, levy, or collection is prohibited.

(2) Nothing in this part 2 shall be construed to authorize the authority to create a debt of the state within the meaning of the constitution or statutes of Colorado; and all bonds issued by the authority pursuant to the provisions of this part 2 are payable and shall state that they are payable solely from the funds pledged for their payment in accordance with the resolution authorizing their issuance or with any trust indenture executed as security for such bonds and are not otherwise a debt or liability of the state of Colorado.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this part 2, advance payment contracts and the benefits due thereunder shall be payable solely from the moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund, and shall not otherwise constitute or become an indebtedness, a debt, or a liability of the state, nor shall the state otherwise be liable on such advance payment contracts, nor shall such advance payment contracts constitute the giving, pledging, or loaning of the full faith and credit of the state. Advance payment contracts and the benefits due thereunder shall be payable by the authority solely from moneys in the prepaid expense trust fund and are not payable from or secured in any way by other moneys or accounts of the authority.
